Personal Qualities:

I meet the eligibility requirements to be a director.
I am retired, so I have the time available to focus on the role of Director of ACTA.
In my personal and professional life, I practise ethical decision making and understand the necessity and limits of confidentiality and professional and personal boundaries.

I understand that the organisation must exist and grow and believe that I can execute my duties as director to responsibly manage the resources of the ACTA, facilitate compliance of statutory regulations, manage risk and stand accountable for the decisions that must be made to facilitate the growth and development of the ACTA.

I have excellent written and oral communication skills, have very sound interpersonal skills and I am an accredited NSW Community Justice Model mediator. I listen to understand the point of view of others and not just listen to respond. I accept that the majority may adopt a position that I may oppose, but I will endeavour to fully support that decision and its implementation, without being critical of the organisation or individual members. I will make every effort to portray a public face that is in line with the ACTA's mission statement and corporate goals.
