THE EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

The Interstate Teams' Match is gradually taking shape. The contest promises to develop into one of the most popular events in the shooting calendar. The Tasmanians have already finalised arrangements. The Tasmanian section of the match will take place at Hobart grounds—the only club with a two trap set-up in the Southern State—on September 27. On that date an all-day shoot will be held. A qualifying event at 20 birds will be held early in the day, with the top ten high-guns going into the Tasmanian team. Later during the same day the team members will shoot the State section of the Interstate contest at 50 birds from 16 yards, double-barrel. Victoria has already agreed on qualifying conditions and these will be published as soon as ground permission and other details have been completed and approved. Other States are reminded that the competition is required, by Executive Committee direction, to be completed on or before the first week-end in October. Preliminaries should be now under review and plans for team arrangement and actual shooting should be put in hand with the minimum of delay.

In the centre pages of this issue are published the rules of the Australian Clay Pigeon Trap Shooting Association. These rules have been legally revised in accordance with decisions arrived at during annual meetings of the past few years. There have been many enquiries for the Association constitutional rules, and it was therefore decided to publish these through the official journal of the Association in a position where easy reference is available, or if so desired, pages could be removed and filed for future reference. The rules as published should not be confused with the Association's shooting rules, which are quite another matter. The shooting rules have also been revised and, through courtesy of Messrs. I.C.I.A.N.Z. Ltd., will be published in the usual book form. It will be some months before the new booklet is available for distribution.

Shooters, and particularly club officials, are requested to thoroughly peruse the Rules as published and so make themselves conversant with the Constitutional Rules as they apply to Association requirement.

A further point on the matter of "immediate handicapping" has been raised during the past month. The shooter under review found brilliant form in the matter of a couple of weeks and maintained his newly found good form. Prior to his sudden development he was a front-marker. His own club officials were concerned regarding his successes, particularly on his visits to other clubs, and they felt that little could be done until the immediate future issue of "News". A position such as the one outlined is easily overcome. When a shooter develops and maintains brilliant form without previous warning and officials feel his mark should be altered without delay, the remedy is simple. All that is required is for the club, his home club for preference (but not necessarily), should advise the Association by letter within three days of the decision that the shooter's mark needs urgent revision. Reasons for the revision should be outlined in the application to the Association. If the Association accepts the recommendation, the shooter's handicap will be revised accordingly and the club notified and the new handicap mark will appear in the first subsequent issue of "News". This method overcomes any possibility of the "awkward situation" which can arise when happenings such as mentioned take place.

The question or, it may be said, query, regarding the possibility of conducting a "Club Handicap Championship" has again been raised through an Interstate club. This matter was dealt with in this column in a previous issue. As mentioned on that occasion, a "Handicap Championship" cannot, by any stretch of imagination, be classified as a "Championship". Shooting a championship under handicap conditions merely reverts the event back to an ordinary handicap event—calling such a contest a championship does not bring it into the category of a title match. The suggestion made earlier should be given a trial; that is, in clubs where a few outstanding shooters make the regular down-the-line titles more or less a foregone conclusion, it is recommended that an "Intermediate" championship be instituted. This event could be restricted to shooters whose club handicap does not exceed 15 or 16 yards. Such a condition would at once eliminate the few back-markers and make for most interesting competition. Another idea is for the clubs interested in the class of event under review to stage a title event in sections; that is, one section for 12/14 yarders, another for 15/17 yarders, and a further section for back-markers from, say, 20 yards. Points scoring could be adopted. After each section had completed its stage a final section, again under points scoring, could be shot, with the stage winners competing from either 16 or 18 yards. Back-markers would be by no means "certainties" under this scheme; in fact, it would strongly favour the medium and middle-marker.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR . . .

Dear Bill,

In a recent issue of "News" there is an item taken from an overseas publication about the "Thistle". In course of that article it states that the Scotch thistle doesn't grow in Scotland, and that it is not known why the Scots adopted it as their national emblem. Now I will tell you why the Scots adopted the Thistle as their national emblem. Many hundreds of years ago the Danes waged a war against England and completely over-ran her. When the fighting was over, the King of the Danes said to his General, "Well, Yohansen, now we have done the Poms over, what say we go up and do these porridge-eating so and so's in Scotland over?" So off they set. Eventually they reached Scotland, and the Scots were waiting for them. The night before the battle the two armies camped within half a mile of each other. Both armies went to sleep early so as to be rested for the battle on the morrow, but the Danes were a bit uneasy and not too confident of victory, so they decided to attack in the night. So as to sneak on the Scots without waking them, they took their boots off. Well, they were getting along well until one Dane stepped fair on a thistle with his bare foot, and not expecting attack from that direction, he let out a yell. The Scots sentries heard the yell and immediately knew what was on, and they woke up their men and attacked the Danes and completely routed them. From that day the thistle was adopted as Scotland's national emblem.

Now, Bill, would you post my July and on to December issue of "News" to my address in Scotland, as I am booked to sail the first week in July and back about the end of January, 1953.

Cheerio for now. Hope to see you when passing through Melbourne. (I will bring you back one of those Scotch thistles that do grow in Scotland.)

Sincerely,

DAVE MACKAY.

"Tips" and "Tails"

The Mount Gambier club in the South-East of South Australia intends purchasing an automatic trap and including a most up-to-date lay-out for clay pigeon shooting. The club is long established and has provided many first-class trapshooters over the years. It is expected the club will later become an affiliated unit of the A.C.P.T.S.A.

The Surat Club in Southern Queensland will hold a two-day meeting over the dates July 26 and July 27. The South-Western Queensland double-barrel championship and a 20-bird trophy shoot are principal events on the opening day. The similar single-barrel title event and a £100 handicap will be the highlight attractions of the final day. Full details of the shoot are advertised in this issue. Immediate enquiry application should be made to Ken. Bassett, club secretary, "Ventura Downs", Surat (Phone 30H), or club President, L. Stewart, "Teddington", Surat (Phone 26S). Should the hotels be unable to cope with visitors, arrangements have been made for some club members to handle this detail.

Many shooters throughout the Commonwealth will regret that the popular Scottish-born sportsman, Dave Watson ("Doch-an-Doris" to most of us), has been indisposed for some weeks and has been an inmate of Heidelberg Repatriation Hospital. Despite his removal to the confines of the hospital ward, Dave has by no means lost his cheerfulness. In a recent note he advised "you can bet your last Icil I will be shooting them again within a month." At least Dave has something in his favour, in addition to his cheerful outlook, we note that he occupies Bed 10 in Ward 10 at Heidelberg — that sounds like the "double possible" to us.

The Casino Gun Club (N.S.W.) will shoot the North Coast of N.S.W. single-barrel championship on Friday, August 8, commencing at 11 a.m. Venue of the shoot is the South Casino Racecourse. Minor events are listed prior to the title event; these will start from 9.30 a.m. The fixture is advertised in this issue. W. Richardson, Court House, Casino, is club secretary and all enquiries should be directed to that official.

The Mumbannar Club in Western Victoria has formed up for the first time since pre-war. The club is already affiliated with the A.C.P.T.S.A. C. B. Jones, of Mumbannar, is one of the main sponsors of the present organization.

The premier New South Wales title, the double-barrel championship, will be shot under the supervision of the Young Gun Club (Solferino-Young is the correct name of the club) on the local grounds on September 6. A £50 handicap is on the same programme. The following day the club will continue when a £100 handicap and a £25 trophy shoot are among the main events. Shooting will commence at 10.30 a.m. each day. Full details are as advertised in this issue. All enquiries should be directed to the club secretary, A. C. Ashley, Box 46, Young, N.S.W.

The Alexandra Gun Club in the Victorian mountain district will conduct its club single-barrel championship at 15 birds from 16 yards on Saturday, August 23. Club membership is open to all registered shooters at a very nominal fee and the usual warm welcome awaits all visitors who can make the trip. Good trophies are promised, including a first and second best visiting shooters' score as well as local shooters not filling any of the main placings. Shooting will start at 1 p.m., with the main event at 2.45. Afternoon tea and cartridges will be available.

Narromine Club (N.S.W.) will hold a two-day shoot over the dates August 2 and 3. The opening day main event is a £25 handicap. The Central Western District Double-rise and a £50 handicap are chief attractions on the final day. Minor events will be shot both days, time permitting. Full details are as advertised. All enquiries to club secretary, E. J. Pay, Oakleigh, Narromine. Phone 110 I, Narromine.

Sale Club (V.) President, Lou Bourbaud, is highly delighted with the exhibition given by 12-year-old son, Neil, at a recent charity shoot at Heyfield in the Sale district a few weeks ago. Young Neil won a £25 wireless set, defeating a field of over 20. The young sportsman looks likely to follow in his father's footsteps and perhaps be a "bit better than the old chap". No one would be more pleased than Lou if he did. Young Neil adds to the already mounting number of smart young clay pigeon shots arising throughout the Commonwealth. The enthusiasm displayed at Heyfield charity shoot will probably result in a club being formed at that centre.

Mungindi Celtic Gun Club (N.S.W.) is a recent new affiliation with the A.C.P.T.S.A. The club secretary is Mrs. E. Rowland, adding another unit to the continually growing number of women secretaries of gun clubs. In pre-war years the former Mungindi Gun Club functioned up to the period of the outbreak of hostilities—the secretary in those days was L. S. Meek.

Future programmes of the Coburg Club appear in the advertising section. The club will shoot on July 19 (Club double-rise title), August 2, August 16 and August 30. The club has changed the original programme arranged for August 2—the programme on that day will now comprise a 10-bird D.B. pool, to be followed by a £100 handicap at 30 birds, double-barrel from Association handicaps. The main event on Aug. 16 is a 20-bird single-barrel mixed marks event. The club's annual meeting will take place on July 29 in the Coburg Town Hall. All offices will become vacant.

The Coburg Club's new pavilion was opened recently. It is of modern design and is one of the best in the metropolitan area of Melbourne. The designers have taken care to ensure that the building is an all-weather structure, where the comfort of competitors and spectators has been studied carefully. It is understood that the club also intends to have its ground surveyed with the object of allowing for a four shooting ground lay-out.

A recently made Australian moving picture which had its premiere in main cities largely portrayed Australia as a land of wild creatures. Mention of habitues of "the wild" recalls the fact that wolves were at one time a source of danger to the people of England—hard to believe in these days of massed populations. By order of Henry VII, reports have it that the wolf was completely exterminated throughout England during the early years of the 16th century. We know of a few shooters whose properties carry sheep who would like to hear of the dingo having a similar fate.

Roma club secretary and Association Executive Committee-man, Colin Fletcher, has, since the recent Commonwealth championship meeting at Roma, had a session in the local hospital. His indisposition is possibly due to having somewhat overtaxed his energy in connection with the club's big carnival. In a letter written from his hospital bed, Colin mentions that the Roma shoot was an all-time record for the club, 74 shooters taking part in almost every event. He adds that young John Bryant, who won the major title, shot brilliantly, did not miss a bird throughout the day of the Commonwealth championship and on the day was completely unbeatable. The success of this young shooter at Roma, coupled with his brilliant 97/100 high gun for Australia in the 1952 International Match, plus his additional successes through South Queensland in recent weeks, undoubtedly make him the outstanding Australian shooter of the year. Due to Colin Fletcher's indisposition, no full report is as yet available on the Commonwealth meeting at Roma, but it is expected this will be available for the August edition of "News".

Association President, Jock Wilson, visited Roma and several other South Queensland clubs last month and has brought back glowing reports of enthusiasm and well conducted clubs in that area. Our reports (unofficial) are that he appeared to be having a very good time from "all ports of call". From his refreshed and holiday "complexion" on his return to Melbourne, this would entirely be an apt summing up. The Queensland sunshine no doubt did much to blow Victorian cobwebs and wet weather to the four-winds. He has promised to give a brief report on his tour for next issue.

By courtesy of the C.O., R.A.A.F. Station at Laverton (V.), an invitation shoot was held at that Station during a recent week-end. Inclement weather almost wiped out shooting, but the cordiality and hospitality of the mess did much to relieve the disappointment experienced on the shooting area. Three events were decided. The first, a five birder, regarded more as a trial event, brought forth many possibilities. From the best of these teams of six were selected from Officers, R.A.A.F. and civilian guests. Match conditions for this contest were ten birds per man from rear marks. Due to laxity in the appointment of referees—two civilians were appointed—the match ended without either team knowing which team won. The referees referred to gave a brilliant exhibition of "how not to referee clay bird shooting." Both gave ridiculous decisions. For instance, first barrel "kills" were frequently given as lost, the referees claiming they "did not see it". "No bird" calls were given for no apparent reason, cat-calling from the rear was permitted and often shooters engaged in mild argument both with the referees and spectators. It was also observed that the referees gave such calls as (after the shooter had smashed the bird): "You beaut", "Whacko", "That's ours", "Back to the bush", "Yours for the cactus" and similar expressions. The scorer had extreme difficulty in understanding how these decisions could be recorded—finally he threw the score sheets in the air and declared the match a draw. The R.A.A.F. cheered the civilians as winners, the civilian guests (led by the two masterly referees) immediately booed the decision and called for cheers for the R.A.A.F. as winners. The final event, a miss-out single-barrel sweepstake, with the "dough" in, brought forth 33 nominations. The match was shot from the back-mark and went to the 5th round and a division by Wing-Cdr. Lloyd Davies, Luke Doyle (Alexandra), Clem Mudford (Pres-ton) and W. McCullough, each 5/5. The awards won during the day were later presented to winners by Association President, Jock Wilson. These were made to the accompaniment of bursting crackers, and expressions such as "the age of miracles has not yet passed if he can win anything" and the like. The hospitality of the mess was extended very fully to all present and a most enjoyable clay pigeon shoot concluded. Many thanks, R.A.A.F.

Break badges are issued to shooters in Great Britain who register runs of 50 and 100 straight, or skeet scores of 20, 40 and 60 straight. Among the rules of issue are the following: (1) For these badges, all long runs will count from the first bird of any stage or round of the competition and be continuous until the figure of 50 or 100 has been reached at "Down-the-Line" shooting, or 20, 40 or 60 in successive rounds of skeet, at any one meeting. No "Bob-tail" or broken runs can be accepted, or kills made in practice rounds. (2) The badges may be won in any order. (3) A competitor may win each badge only once.

The Gidginbung Gun Club (N.S.W.) will decide the North-Eastern Riverina Double-rise championship, a $25 Handicap and minor events in an all-day shoot on Saturday, October 11. The ground location is 8 miles along the Temora-Barmedman Road. R.

The club now uses the title of "Australian Gun Club"—certainly an easier name to handle.

The Newcastle Club (N.S.W.) advertises a preliminary announcement of its Newcastle District Mixed Birds Championship meeting set down for September 20. Full details will be published later. F. Hodges, 88 Jersey Avenue, Argenton, is club secretary.

A country club in Victoria recently gave us the following enlightening information. It appears an "old-timer" was admiring the shooting qualities of a slick new under and over weapon. In reply to a comment that he was smashing them well, the proud owner vouched, "It's this little beauty that does the trick—when I get a high bird I just pull the top barrel, and when a low one springs out, I pull the bottom barrel—there's really nothing to it." The "old-timer's" come-back is reported to be unprintable.

The Hobart Club in Southern Tasmania will conduct its July fixture on July 26 with the State Walk-up Championship on the Brighton (Tas.) grounds. A special handicap is included in the programme, the prize for which is a donated .410 gun. Other events are as advertised. The fixture for the club's August meeting on August 30 is also advertised this month. Main interest will be centred around the Tasmanian Southern Districts D.B. Championship. Four events are listed for the day. The club is making great preparations for the holding of the Tasmanian section of the first Interstate Teams' match which will be decided on the Hobart club shooting area on Saturday, September 27. This will be an all-day shoot, commencing at 10 a.m. The Tasmanian

ANNUAL OVERHAUL

Halting the car at our country post office, I found that my gun had returned from its yearly visit to the gunsmith and so I was able to save the postman its extra burden on his long climb up our hill. The gun in its case weighs fifteen pounds, which is somewhat surprising seeing that it is a light twelve-bore, but the stout case weighs more than the gun which it protects and contains. I never grudge the gunsmith's fee for this annual overhaul, for, though it is not difficult to strip and clean a gun, provided that one has the necessary tools and has been shown how to use them, there are sure to be minor shortcomings, the result of a year's usage, that only an expert's eye can detect and his skill put right.

There may be small dents to raise, the action to tighten, a spring to replace or an insidious spot of rust to eradicate. In the matter of overhaul it is marvellous what a good gunsmith can do to a battered but intrinsically sound sporting gun. A neighbour back from Canada was about to scrap an American magnum that had seen many duck seasons on a prairie lake, but his son, for sentimental reasons, reprieved the rusty weapon and sent it to a gunmaker's for rejuvenation. In due course, back it came, smart as paint, smoothly working and proofed into the bargain. This for a charge not exceeding the cost of two hundred long cartridges.—H.M.

GERALDTON (W.A.).—The Geraldton Club installed its automatic trap for the most recent fixture of the club. Skeet shooting will probably be introduced later. B. Teakle and L. Jones each scored a "possible" (5/5) in the opening event. The second event, a 10-bird Single Barrel Sweepstake, was won by Teakle after a shoot-off with W. Mellows, L. Shephard and N. Mellows, all four having registered a score of 7/10.

A 10-bird Single Barrel Sweepstake was contested in two divisions — one for the high gun from the 12 yards mark and the other for high gun at greater distances. K. Gamble and K. Shephard, with 7/10 each, led the field of 12 yarders, but Gamble, registering a "possible" (5/5) in the shoot-off proved a little better than his opponent, who was facing the traps for the first occasion. N. Mellows and L. Jones, with a score of 8/10 each, shot off for high gun of the back-markers and the former, with 5/5, proved the victor.

STONEHENGE (N.S.W.).—Stonehenge held their annual S.B. Trophy from Handicap marks on 14/6/52. A gale was blowing and at times very heavy rain, but 20 enthusiastic shooters took it in their stride. The main event, 15-bird Single Barrel, was won by W. Hanley; second money went to R. Sonter and A. Johnson; G. Henderson and W. Read div. third money. Cup and £5 cash went to the winner, with cash for second and third. The £5 D.B. Point Score went to R. Sonter with 18/20 points; W. Hanley, 17 points, second, with W. Read, 16 points, third. Four lady members, Mrs. Mick Smith, Mrs. Sarks, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Edenburgh put up a very fine performance, considering the terrible weather, and show promise of good scores

CHARTERS TOWERS (Qld.).— Shoot, 14th and 15th June, 1952. An attractive programme brought shooters from several North Queensland clubs to attend the shoot at Charters Towers Gun Club, held on June 14th and 15th, 1952, with the main event to be the North Queensland Double Barrel Championship.

Saturday, June 14th, brought what has been a rarity in Charters Towers —rain! However, Roy Knuth (President), Harry Peace (Committee-man) turned up, just in case a few hardy shooters turned up, including Jim Smith, Mick Pryor, Frank Claussen (Junior and Senior) and Joe Casalegno, all from Burdekin Gun Club. We held four events — in light showers, but this did not reduce the shooters' accuracy. In one event, a 5-bird D.B., no less than 9 scored the possible, and it needed six rounds on a miss-out basis to find the winner, Joe Casalegno.

Saturday's events and results were: No. 1, 5-bird S.B.: E. Landsberg, H. Peace, J. Casalegno, J. Smith, R. Knuth (div.). No. 2, 5-bird S.B.: R. Knuth, J. Smith, F. Claussen (Jnr.) (div.). No. 3, 5-bird D.B.: J. Casalegno. No. 4, 5-bird S.B.: F. Claussen (Snr.), H. Peace, F. Claussen (Jnr.), J. Smith, R. Knuth, E. Pryor (div.).

Sunday, June 15th. Sunshine, few scattered clouds, little wind, a veritable shooters' day! Fred Blackman, the genial secretary of Townsville Gun Club, also arrived with visitors, Gavin Blackman (Fred's son), J. Longworth, E. McKimmon, R. McKimmon and A. Edwards.

The opening event, a 5-bird D.B., saw 18 score the possible. Nominations for the big event attracted 29 shooters. The first round left the issue in doubt. Round two made a few changes, but round three showed Sam Ball, and Jim Smith each with 15/15. We were looking forward at this stage to a mighty shoot-off between two gun experts. However, Jim dropped one to score 19/20. Ball, shooting beautifully, scored 20/20 to become the 1952 North Queensland D.B. Champion. The other major event of the day, a £20 Handicap

STOP PRESS . .

1952 INTERNATIONAL RESULTS

Just prior to going to press, cabled advice from London indicated that England won the 1952 International Match with the good score of 1645. Scotland followed, 1588; then Australia, 1525; Wales, 1490, and Ireland, 1487.

10-bird S.B., saw J. Treveton, W. Carrington and R. Berryman score the possible to take off the major share and divide the prize equally instead of shooting-off. Thus came to a conclusion a pleasant week-end's sport. Many thanks go to our visitors whose attendance helped in such a great measure to make the shoot a successful and, I felt, a very enjoyable one.

Detailed results, June 15th: No. 1, 5-bird D.B. (div.): C. Archer, P. McDonald, A. J. Anthony, C. Walker, E. Landsberg, J. Longworth, E. McKimmon, L. McKimmon, A. Edmondson, F. Blackman, W. Carrington, H. Peace, S. Ball, R. Knuth, F. Claussen (Snr.), F. Claussen (Jnr.), J. Casalegno, J. Smith. No. 2, 5-bird S.B. (div.): F. Claussen (Snr.), P. McDonald, E. McKimmon, W. Carrington, C. Archer, F. Blackman, A. Edmondson, R. Knuth, J. Treveton, W. Baxter. No. 3, N.Q. Double Barrel Championship: 1st, S. Ball; 2nd, J. Casalegno; 3rd, J. Smith. No. 4, 10-bird S.B. £20 Handicap (div.): J. Treveton, W. Carrington, R. Berryman. No. 5, Deauville Doubles: J. Treveton and E. McKimmon.

WEIR RIVER (Qld.).—Results of shoot held on April 27. The shooting conditions were ideal, and there was a good attendance of both competitors and spectators. There were six events, the main ones being the £50 Weir River Handicap, for which there were 50 nominations, and a Single Barrel Trophy Shoot. The Weir River Handicap was won by J. Warner (Weir River) with 30 birds straight; P. Warner (Weir River), second, and J. Bayliss (St. George), third. The Trophy shoot was won by P. Warner, who incidentally shot 50 birds straight.

Working bees formed by members have made several improvements to the club in the form of cement walk-ups, a nomination and Secretary's room and Bar, and other appropriate appointments. We were most grateful for the support and interest given by members of neighbouring clubs, and for the excellent lunch provided by the ladies, and we hope to hold another shoot in the near future.

(P. M. Warner, Hon. Sec.)

ALEXANDRA (V.). — Visitors were present at the shoot on June 10th from Yea, Woods Point and Terip. A good day's sport was enjoyed by all present. The ladies' committee is greatly assisting the club by serving afternoon tea at all shoots. Shooting was not quite as good as usual.

BATHURST (N.S.W.).—Results of shoot at Panorama 24/5/52. One of the worst afternoons we have had this winter. Cold westerly winds and drizzling rain. No doubt this was the cause of the poor attendance. However, 16 of the boys faced the blizzard and tried to smash a few of the elusive clays. One outright winner for the afternoon was Harry Jaques' hot pies. Noticed Chas. Campbell downing a few of these.

Event 1, 3 birds: H. Jaques, C. Campbell, J. Ryan, S. Bressington, 3/3. Event 2, 5 birds Walk-up: H. Jaques, J. Ryan, S. Bressington, 4/5. Event 3, 5 birds Walk-up: C. Campbell, S. Bressington, 4/5. CROYDON (V.).—Results of our shoot 31/5/52, which was President's Day (Mr. J. McArthur). The weather was fair for the start and finish, but in the middle it poured for about 20 minutes; anyway, a grand day was had by all; even the Alexandra Club, who turned up in force and took our trophies away, had a good time, thanks to Luke Doyle, their great President, his sons, Leo and Barry, Lin Cummings, R. Williamson, R. Nicholson and G. Cookson. Come again, chaps, or perhaps we will see you first.

CHARLEVILLE (Qld.). — The Charleville Club staged a successful shoot over 13th, 14th and 15th June, 1952, the weather being good except for the last day, when rain fell. This caused some delay in the early part of the day, but luckily it fined up in the afternoon. The early arrivals lined up on Friday afternoon, 13th, for a try-out in various sweeps. W. Moore (Dalley) broke his first 35 clays before missing, and should have a nice break, as he had an unfinished run going at the conclusion of the Roma shoot. It was very pleasing to welcome shooters from distant clubs, especially those from Melbourne, Sydney, Warwick, Goondiwindi and other centres, plus the closer clubs, some of which were marred from being well represented by the uncertain weather.

Mr. Jock Wilson, the A.C.P.T.S.A. president, was one of the Melbourne visitors, and he presented the club with a cheque for £25, for a trophy to be shot for later in the year. This generous gesture was very much appreciated by our club here. We are sure his visit here will give that extra impetus to clay target competition in this area of Queensland. The two grounds were in use on the advertised dates, number two ground mainly being used for sweeps, except on the last day. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bauman, of Brisbane, presented the many trophies to the winners. The scoring was well done by Mrs. J. W. Raleigh, Mrs. D. McKerrow and Mrs. Flood (of Goondiwindi). The country women did catering buffet style.

The main event, the J. M. Bauman Trophy Shoot at 30 birds D.B. Handicap, resulted in four possibles, N. Thomas, T. Akers, A. Seis, A. Armstrong. Owing to failing light the shoot-off was deferred overnight. N. Thomas finished with 45/45 to win. He lost a break badge by missing on the other grounds. T. Akers was second with 44/45, and A. Seis was third with 39/40. The sectional trophies went to the following: 12 yarder, A. Armstrong, 34/35; 13/14 yarder, T. Stone, 29/30; 15/16 yarder, L. Haseler, 34/35; 17 yarder and above, B. Schooley, 39/40. The first trophy in this shoot was valued at 75 guineas, donated by J. M. Bauman (Brisbane).

The main event the last day was the £100 Handicap (at 30 birds D.B. Point, 3-2): 1st and 2nd prize shared by Tom Akers and B. Schooley, 88/90 pts.; 3rd prize shared by A. Seis, W. Chandler and John Raleigh, 87/90 pts.; best 12 yarder's prize went to E. Geary, 76/90. Results of other events:

13th June. No. 1 Event, 5-bird D.B., 5 possibles: shared by J. Bryant, O. Smith, W. Moore, E. Parry, J. Flood, 5/5. No. 2 Event, 5-bird

HOBART (Tas.)—The Club Walk-up Championship was won by the Bridgewater shooter, S. Marshall, at the Hobart Gun Club's shoot on June 28. Marshall's score of 12/15 was a creditable showing, under extremely adverse weather conditions. The attendance at the meeting was good, and a feature of the shoot was the very promising performances of J. Taylor (Campbell Town) and D. J. Tubb (Cressy), who gained second and third placings respectively in the championship. At the close of the second visit to the track in the title event, Marshall led the field with a score of 9/10 from J. Taylor, 8/10; B. Bailey and T. Cannon were "three down", 7/10. In the closing five rounds Marshall added "three", making 12/15; Taylor got only "two"—his tally being 10/15. Bailey and Cannon both shot poorly and were eliminated. D. J. Tubb made a showing when he registered "four", bringing his previous score to "ten", necessitating a shoot-off with Taylor. Final results were: Taylor, 13/20; Tubb, 12/20.

Details: Championship: S. Marshall, 12/15, 1st; J. Taylor, 13/20, 2nd; D. J. Tubb, 12/20, 3rd; R. C. Tubb, B. Bailey, T. Cannon, J. McKenzie, A. Burchall, 9/15; W. ## The 28-Bore and its Possibilities . . .

BY G. W. SPEARING

of Arthur Conyers & Sons, Gun-makers, Blandford, Dorset.

Ever since my apprenticeship in the gun trade I have wondered why we make such little use of the 28-bore. It is a fact that all the smaller bores, except the .410, have been on the decrease of late years. The percentage of cartridges sold tell us that. Twenty years ago, in Dorset at any rate, one sold quite three times as many 16-bores and 20-bores as one does now, and four times as many twenty-eights.

At the present time, while the actual total number of cartridges sold in the course of a year remains about the same as it was then, the percentage of 2½ in. 12-bores is higher than ever before. There are a few 2 in. twelves about, but not many, and also a few chambered for 3 in. and 2½ in. cartridges, but the present trend seems to indicate a standardisation of the shotgun to the 2½ in. twelve. There are hardly any new small bore guns of the 16, 20, and 28 sizes being made just now. With the trade in its present state, manufacturing gunmakers can get more than enough orders for 12-bores alone, and the difficulty of getting small bore tubes makes them stick to these.

While this is, perhaps, a very good thing for the cartridge retailer, it would be a great pity for the shooting fraternity to be cut down to this one size of gun, with the one possible alternative size of .410-bore to be used as a miniature with which to start the boys off on a shooting career.

We have already dropped such sizes as the 14, 24 and 32-bores from the guns available to the shooter, and no one laments them very much, but it would be a pity to drop too many. I should be sorry, for instance, to see the 28-bore fade out altogether.

For the benefit of those who have never had the opportunity of examining a 28-bore gun, here are the particulars of the gun and cartridge as compared, on the one hand, with a normal double 12-bore, 2½ in. game gun, and on the other, with an English made 2½ in. double .410. For the purpose of comparison, by the way, the cartridge I take is the 2½ in. Four-long and not the 2-in. Four-ten.

Weight in lbs.

12-bore, 6½ to 6¾; 28-bore, 5 to 5½; .410-bore, 4½ to 4¾.

Diameter of Bore in inches.

12-bore, .729; 28-bore, .550; .410-bore, .410.

Service load of Shot in ozs.

12-bore, 1-1/8; 28-bore, 5/8; .410-bore, 7/16.

N.B.—The Service load is the maximum permissible load of shot to be used in conjunction with the full load of powder. It will be found stamped on the flats of the barrels with the proof marks. It is the practice in all sizes but the .410 to use a load of shot for normal game shooting rather below this maximum. In "low velocity" loads when the weight of the shot charge is increased beyond the "service amount", the load of a "33-grain" or "bulk" powder is reduced slightly or a slower burning type of powder is employed, so that the breech pressure developed by the cartridge is kept within safe limits.

Normal Game load of Shot in ozs.

12-bore, 1-1/16; 28-bore, 9/16; .410-bore, 3/8 to 7/16.

From the foregoing particulars it will be seen that the 28-bore, firing a charge of shot rather more than half the 12-bore's load as against the .410-bore, which fires well under a half, has much greater possibilities as an effective game gun compared with the .410. Indeed the bare figures give nothing like an adequate indication of its real superiority.

I know that there are some .410-bore enthusiasts who swear that they can kill consistently at ranges of up to 40 yards. Although this can be done occasionally with a fully choked barrel, the combination of man and gun capable of it must be very rare. The average .410-bore has a practical range of no more than 30 yards.

In any case, it is not very sporting to attempt to kill game at ranges beyond the real capability of the gun. On the other hand, with a 28-bore—it should be at least half-choked, by the way—one can kill regularly at 40 yards if one can place the pattern, which is, of course, smaller than that of a twelve, accurately enough.

If you want to test the real difference between the two, have a go at Down-the-Line clays from the full 16 yards. I venture to prophesy that you will not break many with the .410 bore, unless you are very good indeed—one or two in ten, perhaps. You can, however, if you can shoot, average six or seven with a good 28-bore.

You might say that this is all very well, but second-hand twenty-eights are not so easy to come by, and one may or may not get a new one made, which would, of course, have to be specially ordered. Moreover, it wouldn't be exactly cheap these days, to say the least of it.

There is one way of trying for yourself the shooting power of one of these small guns without spending a lot of money on it—a converted rifle. It will probably be a hammer gun and it will weigh more than it normally should, but it will give you a lot of pleasure, and it may set you searching for a 28-bore in real earnest.

Many people still have old double rifles of the smaller "Express" sizes. These were made in fairly large numbers by most of the best gunmakers towards the end of the last century. All of them were well made—a poor quality double rifle is worse than useless—and some of them were very good indeed, besides being beautifully engraved.

The larger bores are, of course, much too heavy to convert into anything else, but some, round about the .400 and .450 sizes, can be bored out to make serviceable 28-bores.

Admittedly they will be on the heavy side. On first thoughts it would appear impossibly so—a .450 for the 3 in. straight taper cartridge weighs about 8½ lbs., but the boring out alone will remove a surprising weight of metal, and the barrels can be shortened slightly and the top rib reduced in thickness towards the muzzle, which also helps.

The stocks of these old rifles were left very thick; 1½ in. or more, with a cheek piece, probably, into the bargain. A lot of this wood can be removed and the stock thinned down to more modern proportions by the gunmaker carrying out the conversion. It may be necessary, as the boring out and shortening of the barrels may make the gun balance muzzle light. Each case will require individual treatment to get the best out of it.

The weight of the finished job may be as little as 6 lbs.—not too bad against the possible 5½ lbs. of the 28-bore that was made as such.

It may be thought that the lightening of the barrels by boring out, etc., will upset their property of shooting together—that is to say, both patterning on the spot aimed at. The fact that the recoil of the little 28-bore shot cartridge is very much less than that of the original rifle cartridge will be found to largely compensate for the loss of weight. For all practical purposes the barrels will shoot as nearly together as those of an ordinary double shotgun. After the boring out, however, it is just as well to check this by firing against a plate before lightening the rib, just in case they have started to shoot a little wide. By shooting wide I mean the left barrel patterning slightly left of the point aimed at and the right barrel slightly right—it will only be an inch or so at the most. If this is found to be so, any further lightening should be refrained from, as it will increase the error.

It should not be inferred from the foregoing remarks that a converted double rifle makes a 28-bore that can rival one that was made as such in the first place by a good gunmaker in lightness and handiness. It is simply suggested that a certain type of double rifle can find a new lease of life as a small bore gun instead of being just kept about till the owner gets tired of renewing the certificate, and scraps it.

The photograph produced herewith shows a 28-bore that started life as a .440 "Express type rifle by Alexander Henry of Edinburgh." It is one of the most beautiful pieces of gunmaking that I have ever seen. I can find no fault whatever with the workmanship of any part of it. It now makes a very handy little gun to take round on a late summer evening to get a rabbit or two for the pot. It has the advantage that its charge of 9/16 oz. of shot cuts the rabbit up hardly at all, even if shot rather close—a consideration, if one is going to eat it oneself!

In any case, there are individuals of whom I am one, who get a certain pleasure out of using a gun that is really beautifully made—even if it is nearly an antique.

Battle of the Stares

(By F. H. Ganett in "Shooting Times")

There is an account in the annals of Cork of an extraordinary battle of starlings (called "stares") which took place on or about October 7, 1621. On that morning there was brilliant sunshine, and then, suddenly, the sky was obscured by what appeared to be a dark cloud. People in the town and the adjacent countryside were terrified by the great noise which proceeded from the cloud.

After a short time the cloud appeared to divide, one part moving towards the east, the other to the west. It soon became evident that the "cloud" was a huge flock of birds.

The Record.

The old M.S. continues: "After both parties put themselves in order, making in their flying such motions, and keeping in their ranks as if they passed muster and intended to engage in battle. At different times some new parties came and joined themselves with the rest, their noise was quite otherwise than usual; they were seen to divide themselves in troops, and twenty or thirty of them fled from the east and west side of the city, as if they were sent out for intelligence. When they came near to each other, they made an uncommon noise, and approached as if they were disputing together.

"When this had continued some time, they separated, each party went to the place from whence they came, and thus continued for five or six days successively. At last, when both sides found themselves complete, on Saturday, October 12, both armies of stares made a prodigious outcry, which, however, did not last long, for in an instant all the birds were seen to arise in the air and rushed at each other with such terrible rustling that the people stood amazed. In a short time after they were engaged many came tumbling down into the city and in the fields. Some had their wings broken, others their necks, others their legs, a great many had their eyes picked out, and others were wounded in the breast. Several times they renewed the fight, and felled at each other with fresh courage. The number of dead in this battle was countless; the battle lasted till night, after which each party retired to their camps on the east and west marshes of the city.

"The next day, October 13, they renewed the fight, so that thousands of them were tumbling in the streets, insomuch that they were carted away in heaps! In their last battle it was found that a crow, a hawk and a raven had fallen in with the stares, but all three were torn in pieces, and fell to the ground."

A Bad Omen.

The battle of the birds was regarded as an omen, for the following May there was a disastrous fire in which hundreds of people lost their lives. It is said that, during a fierce thunderstorm, lightning set fire to the flimsy houses, which were built of mud or timber and roofed with thatch.

The writer of a document, preserved in The British Museum, compares Cork to Sodom and Gomorrah. He hastens to explain that the sins of Cork were not the sins of these cities, but adds: "... the Citizens and Inhabitants of Corke have been taxed and noted for usury (the cheerful daughter of covetousness) to exceed any Citty in the King's Dominions, except some Citties in England, which as they are far greater in quantity, so I feare they do as much exceed in quality of the same sinne."

Hatred is a boomerang which is sure to hit you harder than the fellow you throw it at.

It's well to have a train of thought but don't forget to have a terminal.

There is no security on this earth. There is only opportunity.

HUMOUR

"Somebody said the other day that bread contains alcohol."
"You don't tell me! Shall we drink a little toast?"

"How dare you speak to me, sir? I don't know you from Adam!"
"You should do: I'm dressed differently."

The harassed parent was trying to induce her reluctant offspring to eat his spinach. "You've no idea of how good it is for you, Johnny," she urged. "It will put firm, white teeth in your mouth."

"That so?" asked Johnny, dubiously. "Then, why don't you give Grandpa a plateful?"

"Women don't interest me. I prefer the company of my fellow man."
"I'm broke, too."

"So you loved and lost, eh, old chap?"

"On the contrary, I came out a winner."

"How was that?"
"She returned my presents and accidentally put in some of the other fellow's."

Grocer (to applicant for job): "If I buy an article at 3d. a lb. and sell it at 6d. a lb., what percentage of profit shall I make?"

Agitated Applicant: "One per cent."

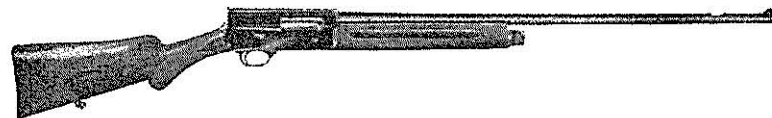

Grocer: "You start on Monday."

"John, I've been lying awake for hours waiting for you to come home from that wretched club."

"If that isn't just like a woman. And I've been at the club for hours waiting for you to go to sleep."
