THE EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

The Interstate Teams' contest, the various sections of which will be completed prior to the next issue of this publication, is proving of great interest throughout the Commonwealth. The match, it is expected, will ultimately rival in importance the annual International Match, which has done so much to put the sport of clay pigeon shooting well on the sporting stage in Australia. Clubs conducting the Interstate sections are advised to ensure that the rules are obeyed in every detail, as per the directions issued by the Executive Committee and promulgated by circular to all clubs concerned and Association Executive officials. If the slightest doubt exists in regard to a proposed team member's eligibility on the day of the shooting of the match, it would be better in the interest of the competition to discard the proposed team membership of the shooter under review. In this regard it is important to remember that all team members must have resided in the State for which they will shoot for at least the preceding twelve months.

Interstate Teams' competition is undoubtedly an additional step forward in the development of clay pigeon shooting in Australia—may the best team win the inaugural contest.

Recently a northern State club official wrote to the Association seeking information as to whether his club could stage a District title, that is institute a new District championship, without reference to the governing body. For the information of all club officials who may think in the same direction, it is mentioned that "the Association controls all championships, whether Commonwealth, State or District." This is a direction which has existed since the inception of the Association. These titles are allocated annually by the Executive Committee. Rules for the conduct of events are also laid down by the Association. Dates for the holding of open championships must be approved by the Association before the events are publicised. Club championships are not included in this direction. Club titles are entirely the domestic affair of the clubs concerned and the Association does not direct the conduct of these in any way, other than always expecting affiliated units to ensure that normal shooting rules are observed.

On occasions individual shooters write to the Association seeking review of their handicaps. Shooters are advised that the Association cannot accept advice from an individual shooter regarding his mark. Any request for a review of handicap should come through an affiliated unit of the Association, which is an affiliated club.

The A.C.P.T.S.A. is indebted to two well wishers of the Association for contributions which appear in other sections of this issue.

The article "Hints to Referees", prepared by Queensland legal attorney and ace referee, Douglas M. Pack, should prove of great value to those contemplating entering this section of the sport. Chief requirements of a referee have been outlined carefully by the contributor and prepared in easily understood style.

The Welsh International Team Captain and Great Britain representative at the Helsinki Olympic Games, Enoch Jenkins, very kindly forwarded full details of his experience in Finland together with scores of those who took part. It is expected that pictures will be available for publication in a later issue. A remarkable feature of the Games shooting at Helsinki is the fact that no American trapshots took part. This has caused some wonderment on two sides of the world. Doubtless there will be some explanation forthcoming. When this is available, report will be published. Many thanks to Messrs. Pack and Jenkins.

Brilliant U.S.A. shooter Arnold Riegger, of Seattle (Washington), reposes on a "few" empties at the Spokane Gun Club. Riegger's averages for 1952 to June last are: .9856 on 5,500 targets from 16 yards, and .9167 on 3,450 targets from 25 yards. Doubles about .94.

Hints for Referees

(By Douglas M. Pack, Roma, Qld.)

These hints are designed to assist referees in the practical application of the rules and to introduce some method into the art of refereeing.

Constant study and revision of the rules of shooting is absolutely essential to good refereeing.

THE TRAP.

Before shooting commences in any competition a referee should check the trap to ascertain that the pigeons are thrown—

- (a) at the correct height,
- (b) for the correct distance, and
- (c) within the prescribed angles.

Due allowance must be made for "wind" conditions in making these checks.

If undue variations in height, distance or angles occur during any event, shooting should be stopped and the trap corrected.

SQUADS.

The referee should be provided with a list of competitors in each squad and their handicaps in handicap events.

As soon as the squad is due at the traps, marshal the shooters to their correct tracks and call any laggards promptly.

Make sure both the puller and scorer are ready for action before shooting commences.

In championship events keep all competitors on their correct shooting marks and in handicap events only permit them to retire on their own tracks to the mark of the back marker in each squad.

Take particular note of the competitors on tracks Nos. 1 and 5 before shooting commences. You will then know that the squad must change tracks when No. 5 has had his shot and when No. 1 competitor shoots from No. 5 track, it is the last round of the squad.

Order the squad to "change" at the end of each round, or two rounds as the case may be.

No shooter should be allowed to leave his shooting track until the whole squad has finished shooting.

THE COMPETITOR.

It is particularly the referee's duty to see that the competitor is standing within the limits of his bounds. He should stand behind his shooting mark and within eighteen inches on either side of it.

Concrete tracks are usually 24 inches wide and this will not allow a competitor to shoot with both his feet off the concrete track.

As each competitor commences to shoot, check the position of his feet and if he is standing outside his bounds, call a "No bird" if his shot breaks the pigeon, otherwise call "Lost."

After checking the position of the competitor's feet, focus your attention upon the top of the trap house and listen intently for the call of "Pull."

After each shot make certain the competitor breaks his gun or opens the breach before turning round.

If any competitor is drunk, disorderly or handles his gun in a dangerous manner he should be sharply reprimanded and if his bad conduct continues, he should be disqualified on the spot by the referee (under the rules).

Do not during any competition—

- (a) Offer any advice to a competitor to correct any mistakes he may be making, or
- (b) Make any comment on the flight of the pigeons whatever the cause.

It is the competitor's task to cope with the conditions of wind, weather and the like and unfair to others to assist him.

A competitor has no right to "bar" a bird whatever the cause. He may claim a "balk", but the referee must make the decision.

LOADING.

A competitor must load his gun only when at the firing point facing the trap.

When inexperienced shooters are at the traps and in handicap events when the competitors in a squad are on different marks, insist upon a competitor loading only when it is his turn to shoot.

Experienced referees who are really confident of their ability to control a squad may, in championship events and in handicap events where all competitors in the squad are shooting from the same mark, permit one competitor to be shooting, the next one to be loaded, and the next one to be loading provided they are all on their marks facing the trap. It will speed up the shooting, but safety should not be sacrificed for speed, and it is best to be cautious.

In single barrel shooting, permit only one cartridge to be loaded and do not permit any dummy cartridge or empty shell to be inserted in a second barrel under any circumstances.

It is the competitor's responsibility to fire the correct barrel.

THE REFEREE'S POSITION.

Where should a referee stand? The best position is about one yard behind the shooting mark of the competitor and not more than two tracks away from him, but in no circumstances should the referee stand in a position where his presence is likely to distract the attention of the competitor.

A referee must be constantly alert and listening for "fizzers" (faulty ammunition), the click of a misfire, simultaneous discharge from both barrels and the like, but if he is not in close proximity to the competitor, the chances are that he will miss these occurrences particularly on grounds where more than one trap is operating at the same time.

No one can referee effectively from an armchair or the scorer's table or while engaged in conversation with anyone.

THE BIRD.

A referee's vision should be riveted on the top of the trap house before the competitor calls "pull". He should be ready to make any one of three calls—"No Bird", "Kill" or "Lost".

If the pigeon is too high, too low, too wide or broken on release, the call "No Bird" should be made promptly whether the competitor takes the pigeon or not, but if a competitor scores a "kill" on a difficult pigeon before it is declared a "No Bird", give him the benefit of his good shot. On the other hand, if the pigeon is too easy, it should be declared a "No bird", whatever the result of the competitor's shot.

Every pigeon except those "killed" should be watched right to the ground. It sometimes happens that a pigeon, particularly a "dusted" one, will break close to the ground and a referee should not therefore be too hasty with his call of "Lost". It is best to time the call "Lost" to coincide with the pigeon striking the ground and if the pigeon should break, the decision can be altered immediately without inconvenience to the scorer.

THE GUN AND AMMUNITION.

A thorough knowledge of loading, trigger and firing mechanisms and of safety catches on all types of guns is most desirable.

Carelessness in loading will sometimes result in a misfire which is not a mechanical fault and a referee must be very smart to pick it. Watch second barrel shots with automatic guns particularly.

In double barrel guns (including under and over guns) with a single selective trigger and in automatic guns, the failure of a shooter to release the trigger after the first shot will cause a "misfire" in the second barrel and such is not due to any mechanical fault. The test is simple: Take the shooter's gun, which must remain pointed over the trap with mechanism untouched, pull the trigger. If it discharges, there could be no mechanical fault and the bird must be "lost".

A smart shooter may deceive an unwary referee in the matter of the safety catch, by flicking it off before the referee comes to investigate and claiming a misfire. Apply the same test.

The wads, particularly in some of the imported cartridges, can be very clearly seen and it is often difficult to tell the difference between a wad and a piece broken from the pigeon. In such cases give your decision as you see it—not as the spectators think. A referee's decision is final on such points and very few competitors will complain if a referee is conscientious and efficient.

Always remember that the referee who never made a mistake doesn't exist.

GENERAL CONTROL.

The greatest asset in controlling a squad is a loud and distinct voice and clear, crisp decisions. Every referee should learn to "throw" his voice properly—the sounds should come from the roof of the mouth rather than deep down in the throat.

Voices vary in their quality and carrying power and those with weak voices should try to improve them by practice. The competitor, the scorer and the spectators all want to hear your decisions.

Do not allow the spectators or any bookmakers to distract the competitors. If they do, stop the shooting and ask them for their co-operation.

A call of "No bird" if a competitor misses a pigeon when a bookmaker behaves in such a manner as to distract the competitor's attention will usually curb the bookmakers, and a referee has full authority to make such a decision.

Direct the competitors to change at the end of each round or two rounds, as the case may require, inform them when the squad is finished and instruct them to check their scores before leaving the tracks. Call the next squad to the tracks while the preceding squad is retiring and marshal them into their correct positions.

Concentrate on the job all the time—you cannot be a good referee unless you do so. So many things can happen and a referee must be constantly alert.

Do not wear dark glasses when refereeing—you may miss those fine pieces broken from the pigeon if you do.

Make your decision and stick to it. Carry the "Rules of Shooting" in your pocket to settle any arguments if your decision is queried, but do not allow any competitor to argue with you while a squad is shooting. The right time is when the squad finishes.

Good referees rarely have any arguments.

QUESTIONS.

If you have any questions to ask on the interpretation of the rules of shooting or their practical application, let the Association Secretary have them so that rulings may be obtained and others may benefit from your experiences.

An amusing cull from an English paper has been forwarded by a shooter interested in this column. The cutting reads, "In Chicago a Mrs. Rum charged her husband with habitual drunkenness, obtained a divorce and resumed her maiden name of Miss Cork. To writers of humorous pars the world over, it has been a matter of keen regret that the proceedings did not disclose the fact that Miss Cork was of Scotch extraction."

A new club is contemplated at Mincha between Kerang and Pyramid Hill in Victoria. Main sponsor is C. F. Mills. The new organization is likely to become an affiliated unit of the Association.

Another new club is also under consideration at Tyrenderra, beyond Portland, towards the South Australian border. C. Burrows of Portland is an interested sponsor.

We do not receive many communications from J. C. "Pee-Wee" Thompson of North Star, N.S.W., and former member of the St. George Club in Southern Queensland. "Pee-Wee" produced an interesting note last month and among other matters mentioned, "A lot of water has passed by since we last met, Bill, but I hope to see you in Melbourne next March, as I am going to get into the International Team, single or double makes no difference, so I can tell you one man that will be in the team. If I do not make the team, I will at least see all my old friends of pre-war days, so here's hoping, Bill." ("Pee-Wee" hasn't changed since he dashed into Melbourne for the 1939 Champion of Champions meeting at Bentleigh. Like many others, 1939 was his last appearance in Melbourne, he donned a uniform soon afterwards. His appearance will be most welcome in the Southern city.—Ed.).

Programmes for coming shoots conducted by the Coburg Club (V.) are as advertised. On September 13 the club will supervise the Victorian section of the Interstate Teams' Match; this will be followed by two 10 bird and a 20 bird series on September 27 and two 20 birders on October 11.

The Australian Club at East Burwood will conduct a holiday shoot on Melbourne Show Day holiday, September 25, commencing at 12 noon. Two 20 birders are main attractions. Clay sparrow shooting will be tried on September 20 and October 4, including the club clay sparrow championship on the latter date. Full details are advertised.

The Victorian Deauville Doubles championship will be decided under the supervision of the Footscray Club on the No. 2 ground at Tottenham on September 20. This will be followed on October 4 with the Metropolitan Skeet title. Programmes for both days and October 18 appear in this issue.

The Queensland section of the Interstate Match will be decided on the spacious grounds of the Townsville Club with a week-end shoot, extending over Saturday, September 27, and Sunday, September 28. The opening day will be set aside for minor contests, with the elimination event and Team performance on Sunday, September 28. Full details of programme for both days are as advertised. All enquiries should be directed to Fred Blackman, club secretary, at Box 415, Townsville, or President, W. J. (Willo) Hanran at 28 Macrossan St., Townsville.

Pat. Gibbons, the genial sportsman who runs affairs so well at Ganmain (N.S.W.), is all set for Saturday, October 25, when the Ganmain Club will hold the Southern Riverina Double-rise championship, a £10 handicap and a £30 handicap as well as minor events. the not far distant future. If the club eventuates, a triangle of good shooting venues will be available for northern shooters at Cairns, Atherton and Innisfail. As a preliminary to possible formation at Innisfail the Atherton Club is co-operating with the Innisfail Turf Club and an all-day shoot will be held in conjunction with the racing club's fixture. The shoot will take place on October 26 on Innisfail Racecourse, commencing at 9.30 a.m. Seven events are listed, including a £50, £100 and £20 handicap. Other events both days in detailed programme advertised. Reg Akers, "Spring Hill", Charleville, Qld., is club secretary.

The Lower Macquarie Championship under single-barrel conditions, with a £25 handicap, are main events for an all-day shoot to be conducted by the Warren Gun Club (N.S.W.), commencing at 9.30 a.m. on Saturday, September 27. Due to the excessively wet weather and flooding of the shooting grounds, the Captain's Flat Club has been inactive for some time. Intentions are to get moving again with an open shoot on the local ground on Monday, October 6, commencing at 10 a.m. A £50 handicap is the main event. All details are as advertised this month. The club was formerly known as the Lake George Club, but it now functions under the more appropriate title of Captain's Flat. E. G. Croker (phone 33) will be pleased to assist with all enquiries.

Mumbannar Club, right on the Victorian/South Australian border, is coming along very well according to President, C. L. Lovell. Many trophies and donations have been received. Mr. Lovell concludes, "Well, Mr. Editor, I hope in the near future to see many more shoots here in Mumbannar and I sincerely hope to see our club expand to such an extent that we may have our name in the 'Good Old News', so that every shooter may hear of us." (Forward news and it will certainly be included.—Ed.).

W. J. (Willo) Hanran, the Townsville Club President and Association Hon. Vice-President, mentions in a recent note, "Congrats. on all your presentations of 'News'. Read them always with unfailing interest." (Thanks for appreciative comment, W.J.H.—Ed.).

St. George Club (Qld.) will conduct the Balonne championships on November 1 and 2. Details of programme will appear in October issue of "News".

Finley Club in the N.S.W. Riverina district will shoot the Southern Riverina single-barrel championship, followed by Deauville Doubles on Saturday, October 25. Details are as advertised. Len Baker has recently taken over the Presidential chair at Finley. Mrs. N. Rourke is club secretary.

Derrinallum Club in Victoria's western district has been thwarted in recent weeks in efforts of members to instal an automatic trap. It seems that on every occasion which appear favourable for the pouring of concrete, the skies have opened and Derrinallum has "copped the lot". However, Ivor Wilson, club secretary, and his assistant workers are expecting improved conditions with the advent of spring. Immediately the new trap is installed, the club intends sponsoring a first-class shoot.

Information from Trundle in N.S.W. suggests that a new club is likely at that centre. Thomas M. Capell of "Lal Lal", Trundle, is one of the chief organizers.

James Paddon, the former world champion sculler, is a recent registration through the Richmond River (formerly Casino) club. Although a front-marker as yet, reports have it that with practice his efforts with the gun will equal that of his oarsmanship of former years—if this proves correct, there will be some keen competition in the northern river clubs. Paddon lives at Evans Head, which is 37 miles from his home club.

The recent annual meeting of the Footscray Club was largely attended. Bob Wray, who has held the presidential office for some time, made way for J. H. (Jack) Headland. The retiring President, Bob Wray, was elected a Life Member of the club. Other officials appointed were: Vice-Presidents, Messrs. J. Bryant Senr., L. Evans, C. Bound, R. Kilcullen, R. G. Wray; Committee, Messrs. E. L. Kilcullen, A. Stewart, S. Chisholm, H. Greenham, J. Bardin Senr., P. Sheridan; Secretary-Treasurer, Lindsay Pollard. The club's balance sheet showed the club to be in a very strong position.

The New South Wales Premier, Mr. Cahill, was an interested spectator at the Richmond River (Casino) club's championship shoot on August 8. The winner of the title was Clarrie Lee, a local member. Cyclonic weather during the previous day affected attendance, although the afternoon of the shoot turned out perfectly.

Dubbo Club (N.S.W.) will shoot on Sunday, October 5, and Monday, October 6. The N.S.W. Mixed Birds Championship is main event on opening day, with a £100 handicap and other events listed for second day. Details are as advertised. Enquiries to club secretary, K. S. Gordon, 175 Wingewarra Street, Dubbo.

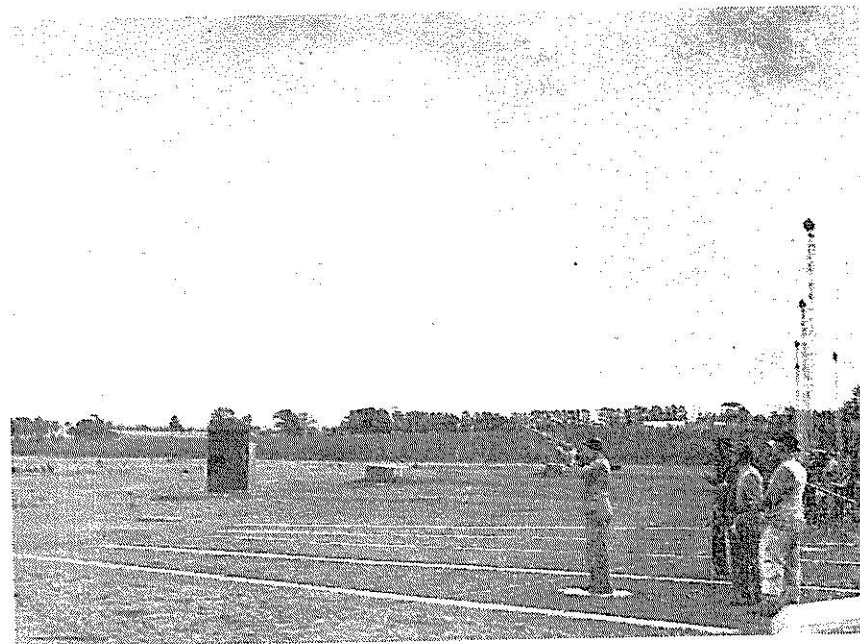

Duck shooting will be permitted on the rice areas of New South Wales in future as from September to January. This news will be welcomed by growers and also visitors to shooting competitions at clubs around the areas mentioned. Veteran shooter and one time Griffith Club secretary, "Pop" Muir, has been good enough to forward details of the welcome information, as it was received in his district.

Frank Clausson, The Burdekin Club's dental surgeon President, in a recent note mentions that the duck season "up north" this year has been very poor in comparison with last year. The drought conditions which prevailed in many parts of Queensland, doubtless had much to do with the indifferent supply of birds. He mentions also that his club has plenty of clays, but insufficient cartridges to hold many shoots. Frank concludes "Your News is always welcome up this way among the boys and is well thumbed over by the members when it comes along."

CHARLEVILLE (Qld.).—Charleville Diggers Gun Club held a shoot in aid of the Charleville branch of the C.W.A. here on the 3rd August last, which was very successful. The success was due to the unstinted support everyone gave the club in raising money, and the generous shooters who returned their prize money. Phillott, the president of the local C.W.A. Branch, presented the various trophies. Below are results of shoots:

12/15. No. 3, 10 birds D.B.: W. Bray, 10/10. (The last event was shot at clay sparrows.) Results shoot August 23: No. 1, 10 birds, D.B.: div. W. Willard (Finley, N.S.W.): L. Murphy, L. Small, H. Phillips, R. Hering and D. Mansell, 10/10. No. 2, £125 Handicap, £75 gun first prize: F. E. Brown (Dandenong), 20/20; tie shoots for remaining prizes, F. Johnson, 24/25 (2); S. Power, 23/25 (3); J. Garlepp, 22/24 (4); "Nyla", 19/21 (5); T. R. Brown, 29/31 (6); L. Mitchell (Moe), 28/31; 13/14 ydr., G. H. Stainton, 24/27; 12 yarder, J. Jones, 25/28.

The Club Single Barrel Championship was conducted at East Burwood on Aug. 9. Jim Lowe ("Browning") placed a five on the board early and it looked like a bright star on a dark night among the poor scores registered at that stage, but the wind-driven birds in the following two rounds proved a match for Jim and he took his place among his many friends. The champs and budding champs could not register a possible and best efforts came from 14 yarder Frank Johnson and 17 yarder Hugh Phillips, 14/15. They carried the tie shoot to the 25th round, when Phillips missed a fast bird, giving Johnson the title. Frank's win was most popular. In the tie shoot for 3rd place Jack Bryant and Barbara Biggs failed to cover their first release, Mansell and Didier failed at the 21st round, giving Andy Tie 3rd place. Allan Mansell won the special 15/16 yard trophy kindly donated by the firm Evans & Balfour, while the late Secretary, Aub. Johnson, who shot 4/5 on every visit to the track throughout the day, collected the 12/14 yard Trophy.

Aug. 23 and the £125 Handicap event, with £75 Gun for 1st Trophy. This was won by Frank Brown of Dandenong, who out of 70 shooters registered the only possible 20/20. Close up with 19/20 were Frank Johnson, S. Power, J. Garlepp, "Nyla", Roy Brown, Les Mitchell (Trafalgar); 13/14 yd., G. Stainton; 12 yd., M. Jones. Finishing the tie shoot in this order, Johnson received £15, Power £10; other placings, £5 each; Front Markers, £2/10/- each. After the shoot members and friends adjourned to the famous packing shed, where a buffet tea was prepared by that culinary expert, Mrs. Vic Fankhauser. Dagwood sandwiches in the left, a glass of hops in the right, seemed to be the fashion, while Mrs. Biggs, Mrs. Allan Nolan, and Mrs. Byers attended to tea requirements.

Then came three films in technicolour with sound track, including one of Hugh Phillips' recent hunting expedition to the crocodile country on the northern reaches of the Queensland coast. Tidal rivers, mangrove swamps, coral islands, game of all description and rare tropical beauty were unfolded in this search for crocodiles. He was there, so was Ron Didier, sitting on a bed of oysters. A running commentary by Hugh Phillips of the various incidents made the film more interesting. In another film shown, shots from Gun Clubs visited by Hugh were shown; these included Deniliquin, Hay, and Champion of Champions match at Australian Grounds. If you have the opportunity of viewing these films, my advice is, do not miss them.

ALEXANDRA (V.). — Heavy rain on the morning of August 23rd kept some intending visitors from travelling to the Club Single Barrel Championship shoot. However, the attendance was good and the afternoon pleasant. Shooters from as far away as Wentworth, N.S.W., competed, and as usual the day was a very happy one for all. Welcomed in the visitors' list were shooters and ladies from Camberwell, Croydon, Wentworth, Woods Point, Chiltern, Euroa, Yea, Homewood and Eildon. Geoff Cookson convincingly won the Single Barrel title with the possible 15/15. This follows his Double Barrel Club title won last February. One of the mainstays of the club, Geoff was a popular winner and deserves great credit, as the only times he left the secretary's office was to take his place on the tracks. All present were thanked by the President for co-operation and assistance, with a special word of thanks to the Ladies' Committee.

Clay Pigeon Shooting at Helsinki

Mr. Enoch Jenkins, Welsh International Champion trapshot and captain of the Welsh Team, was a member of the British Team which took part in the XV Olympia, clay pigeon shooting section, at Helsinki recently.

Mr. Jenkins wrote to the A.C.P.T.S.A. Secretary under date of August 1, and his impressions, which are of great interest to shooters on this side of the world, follow. He writes:

"Having just returned from the Olympic Games Trapshooting contest at Helsinki, and as that section of the Games will no doubt come under your leadership in Melbourne in 1956, I thought perhaps you would be pleased to receive a report and full scores of the shoot.

The shooting contest was held at Huopilahli, on the shooting grounds of Mr. Conrad Huber, the well-known Finnish shot, on July 25 and 26, over one set of traps. I am pleased to say that the shoot was carried out in a very efficient manner and to the satisfaction of shooters and all concerned, although the weather was not too kind.

One set or range of traps consists of 15 single traps, set in a straight line, one after the other and divided into 5 groups of 3 traps, the distance between the centre trap in each group is 5 metres (about 5½ yards). The traps are placed in a sheltered trench with roof, the upper edge of which must not be more than 20 inches.

The shooting stations, 1 to 5, are placed behind the centre trap of each group and level with the trap trench roof.

At the commencement of the shooting 5 shooters must be ready to shoot, one at each station. The sixth shooter must be ready to take his place on No. 1 station counting from the left.

When the shooter on No. 1 station has fired at the first target he must move to No. 2 stand as soon as No. 2 has fired, and so forth, until 25 birds each are shot.

The shooting conditions, as at all Olympic Games, were difficult. Fast targets travelling approximately 80 yards at all elevations and angles, and the background consisting of fir trees and granite rock (as most of the Finnish landscape does) with changing light and occasional showers, made smashing the black yellow capped targets far from easy.

Arriving from England on July 20, instead of July 17, as previously arranged, I missed one of my allotted days for practice, that with changing loads and one barrel to heavy loads and two barrels was not to my advantage. Being drawn No. 1, I had the honour of opening the shoot, which commenced at 9.0 a.m., 8.0 a.m. British summer time. At that time the light was bad and I could not really get going, although a finishing score of 89 could not be considered bad in the circumstances. After the first day's shooting I felt very confidant and turned in a better score and wished I could have had the first over again. There were 40 shooters at Helsinki, two per team, compared with 150 in Berlin in 1936 with six men per team and two sets of traps.

Originally in other Games in which I have competed—in 1920 at Antwerp, and 1924 in Paris—5 men completed a team, with three reserves. The three high-gun men in each team to compete for the Individual Prize.

As usual, I found all the shooters a grand lot of fellows. A number of them had been to the World's Championship meeting in Oslo and were in very good form. Several of them I had met previously in Berlin and Paris. The Olympic Village, where approximately 4,000 competitors were housed, was very comfortable, with all conveniences. Feeding arrangements were excellent, with a plentiful supply of delicious food, and it was really amusing to see some of the heavy men consume a meal equal to two or three weeks of our English ration.

The Stadium when full, with the colours of the competing nations splashed all around, was a wonderful sight. I would like to say here, 'Bravo Australia', you sent some wonderful athletes, especially Marjorie Jackson, who brought back memories of Jack Donaldson the "Blue Streak". I met Jack many times and shot over traps with him on Cardiff Racecourse many years ago.

As soon as I receive photographs from Helsinki I will forward same to you.

While shooting my second 25 birds on Saturday, July 26, at Helsinki, No. 6 trap broke down. Instead of the trapper hoisting a flag, I was horrified to see a lady's face appear at the end of the trench, when I had my gun covering No. 1 trap; it just shook me up.

My 183 was the same score as I put on in Berlin during the first two days, and that won the Reichsportfeuers Gold Medal.

I have just received news that my friend Tommy Hughes has met with an accident while motoring to his native town, Cardigan. The accident happened at Llandovery, 20 miles from Cardigan, and Tommy is in hospital suffering from cuts and shock.

Kind regards and best wishes to you and all Australian trap shooters."
