Executive Director's Notes

Hot on the heels of last month's column which was on the subject of fair play, two State Associations are expressing concern at the lack of courtesy a growing number of competitors show for referees.

If one watches television at all, it will be very obvious that ours is not the only sport in which the problem exists. Nevertheless, clay target shooting IS the sport where we can do something about the problem.

Referees are a vital part of our sport, and are used to ensure that each competitor receives one or two fair shots, whichever the case may be, at his target.

Being human, referees occasionally make mistakes. Such occasions are not sufficient reason for the abuse we hear directed at referees.

Is it co-incidence that, in the main, such criticism comes from competitors who rarely take a turn at refereeing — in theory, their lack of involvement in refereeing activities disqualifies them from the right to an opinion.

Admittedly, there have been occasions where refereeing standards have not been of a standard required — in those cases, club managements are required to take immediate action.

No way have such occasions been frequent and when they have arisen, prompt action by the host club has limited the consequences.

The Association because of the number of different types of clay busting it controls, administers a complex set of rule, which tends to make the referee's problems more difficult.

In part, some of the anomalies are being removed in the present redraft of the rules.

State Associations are also able to play a role in improving the confidence of new referees by conducting regular discussion sessions. These sessions can be most valuable in allowing groups of referees to share experiences, an exercise which also results in more consistent decisions on the shooting tracks.

I reflect my comment of last month — we must not let the desire to win override the enjoyment of participation. This will become increasingly important as our sport develops still further.

1980-81 Federal Budget

The 1980-81 Federal Budget announcement became something of a non-event because of the substantial leak that occurred three days before "budget day".

BRISBANE GUN CLUB MAKES TV COMMERCIAL

(Staff Writer)

As a direct result of the rapport which has recently developed between the Brisbane Gun Club and QTQ Channel Nine television network, a full colour television commercial depicting Brisbane Gun Club has been produced.

The commercial was used to promote the Club's annual two-day "Exhibition Tournament" which is conducted in August to co-incide with the Brisbane Exhibition.

A large viewing audience was exposed to the feature, and the club Publicity Officer Tom Meadows has reported a measurable increase in the number of spectators visiting the ground.

The relationship between the Brisbane Gun Club and the television industry goes back two years, when Ron and Muriel Porter donated a perpetual trophy to be used in a match known as the "Challenge of the Channels".

This year, three television channels took part in the match, which was attended by over 100 people.

At a time when clay-busting is crying out for publicity, the Brisbane Gun Club is to be commended for its initiative. All clubs whether located in the city or the country, have an opportunity to copy the Brisbane idea — all that is needed is EFFORT!

However, sports people had to wait until the detailed budget papers were released before they discovered that an amount of $2.885 million had been allocated to the Sports Development Program. This is an effective increase of $885,000 over the allocation of $2 million in 1979-80.

Of particular importance is the allocation of $500,000 to assist athletes, who were selected to compete, but did not attend the Moscow Olympics, to compete in alternative high level international competition.

A further $115,000 has been allocated for special pre-event training in connection with the 1982 Commonwealth Games.

Shortly, National sporting associations should know what their share of the total will be. In the case of clay target shooting, we are already in receipt of a grant of $5000, part of which has been used to offset the expenses incurred in sending a three man team to Great Britain and the balance will be used to assist the Association to field a squad at an international match in Bangkok, later this year.

One of the most important omissions in the Federal Budget, in my opinion, is the total lack of assistance for sporting facilities of international standard. (It could be argued that the $2.5 million allocated to the 1982 Commonwealth Games facilities comes into this category).

Clay target shooting is one of the few sports in Australia where facilities have been established — with rare exceptions — exclusively from funds developed within the sport.

As we develop more and more activities directed at filling community needs — for example, the student training scheme, then greater pressure must be placed on all levels of government, as the keepers of the public monies, to make a larger contribution.

Before leaving the subject of the Federal Budget, one should report that the newly formed Australian Institute of Sport, located in Canberra, has been allocated $902,000 to assist in its establishment.

The Institute is an exciting concept, and provided it develops along the stated guidelines, the shooting sports should work long and hard to gain acceptance within the Institute.

Good shooting,
NOEL J. SOUTHEY
Executive Director.

Melbourne Accommodation Getting Short

(By Staff Writer)

With the 1981 Australian Trap and Skeet Championship shaping up as the largest shooting tournament ever seen in Australia, conveniently located accommodation is already in short supply.

The following is a list of hotels and motels situated in Melbourne's eastern suburbs (convenient to Melbourne Gun Club) where, at the time of writing, limited accommodation is still available.

Whitehorse Hotel, 274 Whitehorse Rd, Nunawading. 3131. (03) 878 5533 - Rates: Single $13, Double $20, Triple $24.

Bayswater Hotel, Mountain Highway, Bayswater. 3153. (03) 729 6144 - Rates: Single $22, Double $29, Triple $35.

California Motor Inn, 138 Barkers Rd, Hawthorn. 3122. (03) 818 0281 - Rates: Single $29, Double $32, Triple not quoted.

Maroondah Motel, 768 Whitehorse Rd, Box Hill. 3128. (03) 89 0517 - Rates: Single not quoted, Double $26, Triple $30.

Motel Ringwood, 442 Maroondah Highway, Ringwood. 3134. (03) 870 3222 - Rates: Single $20, Double $25, Triple $29.

All rates quoted are room only, and are current. Almost certainly, higher rates will apply prior to the championships in 1981.

PESTA SUKAN 1980 — SINGAPORE

(Staff Writer)

- CRIKIS MAKES IT THREE IN A ROW
- BLACKMORE SHOWS GOOD FORM IN SKEET
- BUDD STARS IN TRENCH

The 1980 Pesta Sukan Shooting Festival attracted a large attendance and provided first class competition. The match was held at the range of the Singapore Gun Club which must surely be the most difficult shooting range in the world,

A large Australian contingent attended and included teams entered by Melbourne Gun Club and the Australian Clay Target Association.

The entry included teams from Indonesia, Johore, Thailand and Singapore, plus an individual entry from New Caledonia.

The trap (Olympic Trench) match attracted a capacity field of 48 shooters and the skeet field numbered 24.

The organizers introduced a new innovation when skeet and trap segments were held on alternating days. In general, although the Singapore Shooting Association is to be commended for its willingness to try fresh ideas, competitors indicated that they would prefer to complete one match before commencing the next. This was particularly the case in instances where competitors had entered both skeet and trap matches.

The range itself comes as something of a shock to competitors seeing it for the first time. It is located in a valley, with the skeet ground super-imposed over the trap field. Jungle grows right to the boundaries of the skeet field, and forms a most difficult background.

The shooters' problems are further aggravated by rapid changes in the light, especially during the first few squads each morning.

The Australian party arrived in Singapore in two parts, one having travelled direct from Australia and the other arriving from Jakarta after having spent six days holidaying in Indonesia.

Customs and police formalities were quietly dispensed with, mainly due to the work done by Singapore Shooting Association Secretary Stephen Yap and his colleagues.

After leaving the airport, the Australian group was taken to the Holiday Inn, which was to become 'home' for the next eleven days.

The standard of the accommodation was up to international specification, and the shooters arose on the first day of practice feeling fully refreshed.

While general practice was in session, Max Vipond and Merv Whitelaw represented Australia and Melbourne Gun Club respectively at a team captains' briefing meeting.

Teams were named, and the following list shows details of the Australian entry:

	AUSTRALIA	MELBOURNE GUN CLUB
SKEET —	Mervyn Whitelaw	Brian Bond
	Max Vipond	Graham Guy
	Tom Lucas	Alan Blackmore
	Terry Budd	Alex Crikis
		Peter Blackmore
TRAP —	Terry Budd	Peter Blackmore
	David Menck	Graham Guy
	Mal Briggs	Alan Blackmore
	Mervyn Whitelaw	Tom Lucas
	Max Vipond	Brian Bond
	Alex Crikis

The hosts found it a little confusing to see Mervyn Whitelaw in the Australian list, when he was the official captain of the Melbourne Gun Club squad, but it all went to prove the good comradeship that existed in the Aussie camp.

Early favourites in the teams' matches were Thailand to win the skeet and Singapore to win the trap. In individual events, the Thai skeet champion Somchai was highly favoured, while the trap event was fairly open.

The Aussies were quietly confident that they could upset some of these early predictions and worked very hard during practice.

The first competition day was skeet, and shooters in the first three squads suffered incredible vision problems due to the bright sunlight. Graham Guy was probably worst affected and recorded a 12, while Whitelaw could only manage a 19, and Peter Blackmore 17.

Somchai and Viroj, both of Thailand made a good start, carding 21 and 22 respectively. Pichit (Thailand) started badly with 18 but shot a brilliant second round to score 25, one of the only three recorded during the entire competition.

Targets continued to be elusive through the second and third rounds of skeet, and at the close of the first day, the scoreboard read:

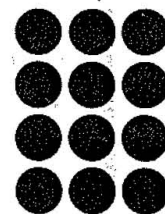

Crikis (Aust)	66
Lo Yun Vui (Sing)	65

THE ELEY REPORT

NEW APPOINTMENTS

There have been some changes in the ELEY organisation resulting in promotions for Peter Peacock, Bruce Southgate and Geoff Kilgour. Geoff was Victorian Sales Manager and now moves onto the National payroll as National Distribution Manager and Sales Controller; Bruce has been appointed Victorian Sales Manager in his stead.

Over in the West, there has also been a change.

After 12 years with ELEY, David Henthorn has left us for an overseas appointment and Peter Peacock has accepted the post as State Manager in the sunny climes of W.A.

We are all very pleased with these appointments as new blood never hurt any organisation and each of the executives approaches his position with top-class qualifications.

BARBOUR - FINEST WATERPROOFS IN THE WORLD

The legendary name in waterproof clothing is "Barbour". Established 100 years ago, the Barbour organisation has concentrated entirely upon the manufacture of clothing which will protect their wearers in all conditions. "Barbour" jackets have been handed down from father to son so renowned has been their reputation and so excellent their quality.

All Barbour jackets are designed for comfort and truly waterproof - with internal and external pockets, styled superbly and tailoring and quality of materials that have made the Barbour name famous the world over.

All materials used by Barbour are manufactured exclusively to their high specifications and are not available to any other manufacturer.

ELEY has now been appointed exclusive Australian agents for the Barbour range in Australia. Barbour is not cheap, yet, when the costs are divided by the years of use and satisfaction, there is no more economically priced shooting/hunting gear on the market.

Certainly they are well worth a look if only to satisfy yourself that old-fashioned quality still exists.

ACCESSORIES

Whilst discussing additions to the ELEY range in the accessories department, we should add a reminder of the other products in the range.

Silencio Ear Protection: U.S.A's best selling and finest range of hearing protectors and muffs.

Lead Shot and Nobel Powder: World-renowned Nobel powder and lead shot dropped in Australia's only high tower.

Norton Ear Plugs: Patented ear plugs for both the range and field.

Cartridge Belts and Gun Covers: The famous Lyrebird range of belts and covers.

Recoil Reducers: The newcomer to the range. U.S.A's most popular design. Shipment is on the way and expected to be in all retail outlets by mid-October.

NEW PRODUCTS

In next month's report complete details of an exciting new range of products will be released - news which we are sure will be of the greatest interest to all shooters.

PESTA SUKAN, 1980 (Cont'd)

Pichit (Thai)	65
Viroj (Thai)	64
Gan Teck Lee (Sing)	64
Lee Kum Cheok (Sing)	63
Blackmore P (Aust)	63
Somchai (Thai)	62

The real surprise of the first day was Melbourne Gun Club's Peter Blackmore who recovered from his disastrous first round to score 22 and a brilliant 24 to close on 63, only three targets off the pace.

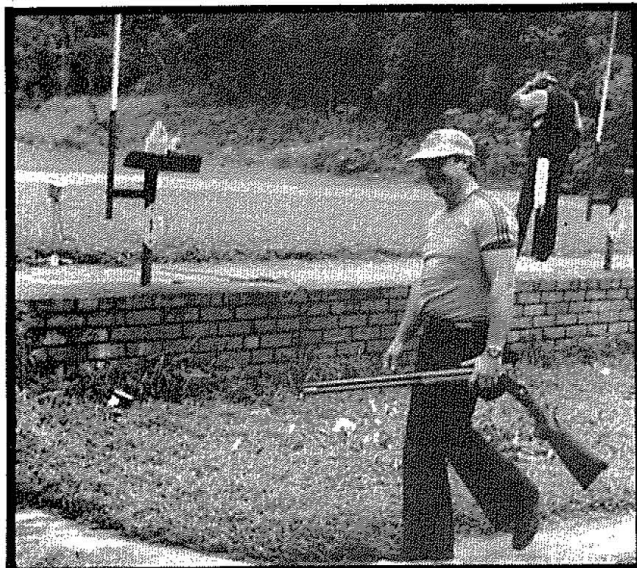

Lo Vun Vui performed very well with a gun he had taken delivery only a day prior to the tournament. His 20, 24 and 21 put him in equal second slot after the first day.

Crikis was already showing the form which had taken him into the winner's circle in the event for the two previous years, and carded 21, 22 and 23 to lead on 66/75.

The second day of skeet was overcast, with thundery showers and wind gusts adding to the shooters' difficulties.

Somchai was quickly into gear and showed that good scores were possible by carding 24 in his first visit. Lee Kum Cheok (Singapore) also started well with a 23, slipped to 19 in the second and then returned an amazing 25 to finish his 150 with a score of 130.

Lo Vun Vui lost concentration momentarily and started the second day on 21, recovered to a 23 and then slipped again to 20 to close on 129.

● Graham Guy, of Melbourne, finds a smile as he walks from five to one at the trench range.

Meanwhile, Peter Blackmore was showing tremendous skill and tenacity and carded 23, 22 and 23 to finish the day on 131. This left him only one target behind defending champion Crikis, who had scored 23, 22, 21 during the day's shooting.

It was becoming quite obvious that the shooter who could perform consistently was going to be successful. Graham Guy had been shooting very well with 23, 20 in the first two rounds on the second day. However, his 13 in the third round was a disaster and wrecked any chance that the Melbourne Gun Club team may have had for the gold medal.

Program scores at the end of the second day of skeet (150 targets) were:

Alex Crikis (Aust)	132
Peter Blackmore (Aust)	131
Somchai (Thai)	130
Lee Kum Cheok (Sing)	130
Lo Vun Vui (Sing)	129
Pichit (Thai)	128

Viroj, of Thailand, who had been in equal third place after the first day, had withdrawn. His departure severely weakened the Thailand team's chances, and it eventually finished in third place with a score of 448/600.

The real surprise was the performance of the Singapore team. Traditionally Singapore has been strong in trap but its skeet team of Lee (130) Lo (129), Gan (126) and Tang (120) amassed a winning score of 505/600 to win the teams' gold medal. Melbourne Gun Club finished twenty four targets behind on 481/600, and secured the silver medal.

The final 50 targets of the individual match were shot under brutally hot and humid conditions.

Overnight leader Crikis was in an early squad and carded a comfortable 23 to keep plenty of pressure on the competitors still with a chance. Lo and Lee of Singapore destroyed their winning chances with scores of 21 each, and Somchai retained a small chance for the gold by recording 22.

● David Menck, of NSW Gun Club, is grateful for the sun-umbrella while he does line referee duty.

Peter Blackmore, who at the start of the match was unknown internationally, was showing wonderful skill and mental strength. However the "seventh round horrors" got hold of him. After staying clean to station four, Blackmore's nerves caught up with him and he crashed to an 18, leaving Crikis comfortably clear of the field.

The last round became something of a formality with Crikis firing a 24 to take the gold medal with a score of 179/200. Although seven targets lower than his ground record set in 1979, it was a very creditable performance and confirmed his position as one of the top ISU Skeet shooters in the Pacific Basin.

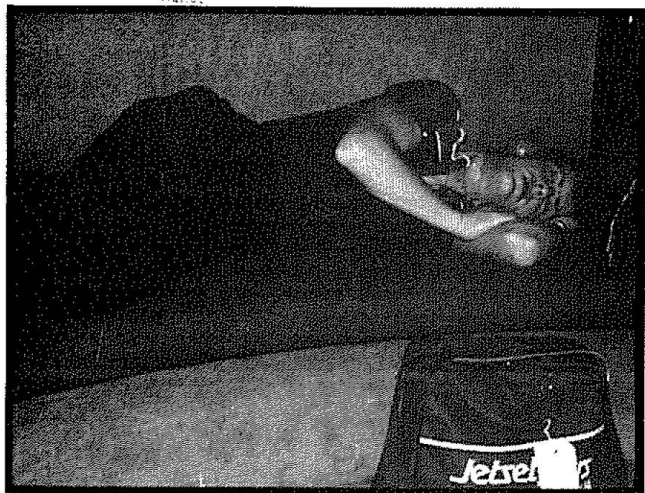

Peter Blackmore recovered to fire a 22 in his last round for an aggregate of 171 to fill fourth place overall.

Somchai scored 23 in his last round to win the silver medal with a total of 175/200. Third place was filled by Lo Vun Viu, who scored 172/200.

The trap match was destined to be as full of surprises as the skeet match, with shooters experiencing great difficulty in producing consistent scores.

With 75 targets being shot on each of the first and second days, the organizers found it necessary to commence shooting at 7.45 a.m. This was due to the size of the field.

● Pavitr of Thailand, receives congratulations after firing the winning shot in the Pesta Sukan Olympic Trench Match.

David Menck (of New South Wales Gun Club) competing for Australia, was the first shooter in the first squad. He started well, and carded a 19, for the round. Jaques Brisson of New Caledonia recorded a similar score.

Other Australians to get a confident start in the trap match were Terry Budd, Max Vipond and Alex Crikis, all of whom shot 21's.

The 'veteran' Thai shooter Pavitr, gave an early warning signal to all competitors when he shot a 24, and his team captain Dr Tipp recorded 23.

By the end of the first 75 trap targets, Pavitr had stormed to the head of the field to close on 71/75 (24, 23 and 24). Lying in second place overnight was Lee Kum Cheok of Singapore on 66 (22, 24, 20) just ahead of Terry Budd on 65 (21, 23, 21).

In the Melbourne Gun Club team, Alan Blackmore (20, 19, 21) and Brian Bond (19, 21, 20) both overnighted on 60's.

Dr. Tipp had been unable to sustain his strong start, and aggregated 59, after a third round score of 15.

The second day of trap was again full of weather problems. The light changed dramatically, due to passing storms, and scores fluctuated wildly.

Gilbert of Indonesia assembled three consistent rounds — 21, 22, 21 — to score 64 for the day for a progressive score of 119.

Singapore's trap ace, Lee, slipped to a 19 in the third round to give him 60 for the day and a progressive of 126.

Dr Tipp experienced mixed fortunes and carded 20, 22 and a magical 25 to close on 126, but was still 11 targets behind Pavitr who appeared to be coasting.

Terry Budd was in second place at the 150 mark, sitting on 131, but still six targets off the pace.

The teams match was won comfortably by Thailand, which scored 497/600. However, the fight for silver medal honours between Singapore and Australia was extremely tight. In fact the Aussies are quite convinced that it was some sort of Yap "black magic" that gave Singapore victory by a margin of one target. (Stephen Yap is the Secretary of the Singapore Shooting Association and was acting as manager of the Singapore trap team.)

The last 50 targets, which were to decide the individual medal winners, were contested on the final day of the competition.

Budd started shakily with a 20, which appeared to leave him no chance of catching Pavitr.

However, in one of the tournament's major shocks, Pavitr shot a 19, which suggested to a number of observers that he was feeling the pressure.

● The popular Thai skeet champion, Somchai, with his wife Ampie.

Budd entered the last round, looking like a man with a mission. He was middling every target, and impressed the big gallery with his concentration. During the round he experienced a trap failure which severely tested his concentration.

He was a very determined shooter, and reached the last target with a clear score, only to experience a premature release. The repeat target continued to the boundary unbroken and it was a very dejected Terry Budd who signed the score sheet that showed 24.

This gave Budd a match aggregate of 175, and meant that Pavitr had to fire a 19 to tie on 20 or better to win.

After a sound start, Pavitr "stumbled" in the middle of the round to drop two targets in three, but recovered to card a 23, leaving him the 1980 Pesta Sukan Trap Champion with a score of 178.

• Trench medal winners, Pavitr of Thailand, first; Terry Budd of Australia, second; and Lee of Singapore, third.

In his first ever overseas competition, Terry Budd performed extremely well and his Silver Medal created great excitement in the Australian camp.

Lee of Singapore won the Bronze Medal with a final aggregate of 167.

Meanwhile, a great tussle was going on in the Melbourne Gun Club trap team for the medals which are awarded for individual performances within the team.

Alan Blackmore, Tom Lucas and Brian Bond had all experienced changing fortunes throughout the match. The final results showed Brian Bond as the team's top competitor — he finished with a score of 159, to close six targets ahead of Tom Lucas. Alan Blackmore was a further three targets in arrears.

The tournament concluded with a most enjoyable Presentation Dinner with all teams dressing in team uniforms for the occasion.

After an opening address from Singapore Shooting Association President, Mr Milton Tan, the trophies and awards were presented by Mrs E.W. Barker, the vivacious wife of Singapore's Minister for Law, Science and Technology, the Hon E.W. Barker.

The function was held at the high class Equatorial Hotel, and it was extremely well supported.

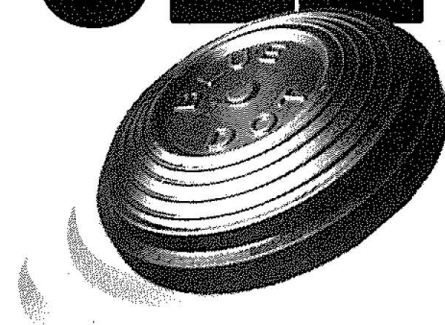

The Australians featured regularly in the presentation of awards, and Terry Budd received a tremendous ovation when presented with his Trap Silver Medal.

As a token of the solid relationship that has developed between Singapore and Australia, the Australian Clay Target Association presented Mr Milton Tan with a piece of Queensland petrified wood, on which an appropriate inscription appeared. The Melbourne Gun Club's team captain Mervyn Whitelaw also made a presentation.

The six-day tournament had been marked by excellent organization. However, good scores were elusive, both in trap and skeet, thus again proving that the Singapore range is a most difficult ground to shoot on.

'The Bushranger' Shoot - Darwin, N.T.

• Geoff Mark (on left, with Victorian suntan) Kel Primmer (Katherine) Carol Crute (Top End) Ewan Rankin (Arnhem) watch Peter Lorman preparing for a low house 2 target with a massive 25ft x 8ft SKB backdrop.

Fifty-seven visitors more than outnumbered a disappointing roll up of 37 local shooters at the Darwin Gun Club's 5th Annual 3-Day Shoot held on August 2, 3 and 4.

However, records fell in every department except shoot-offs and breaks. Over 25,000 clays were thrown during the three days. The 73 shooters in the N.T. Skeet C'ship more than doubled the previous record. Calcutta trophy money soared to $1175, although the Calcutta pool of $3300 was a poor result for 86 shooters who were auctioned in a marathon effort by Katherine's John Fitzner assisted by Charlie Selke of 'Isa' fame; trophy value exceeded $8500, and as a result of this, 20 backwards movements in handicaps were recorded, including a 1 metre penalty which made Kevin Bowring the Territory's first 25 metre shooter. Well done, K.B.

Meibourne's Howard Warner and the ACTA's Acting President, Laurie Connors, arrived early to see the sights, and Foster's Ted Lowery came prepared with a port that carried everything including two jumpers and an object that was unidentifiable to many locals when produced — a raincoat. As Ted said later: "If I knew then what I know now, I'd have packed a briefcase and still had room for a case of shells!"

More shooters turned up Thursday and Friday, and some travelling times bear comparison: where Melbourne shooters flew up in six hours, some of the shooters from Alice Springs, Tennant Creek and Mt Isa were behind the wheel for more than 16 hours. A particularly good entry of 10 shooters from Mt Isa left their prized North West Queensland and Northern Territory Shield in Darwin Gun Club's hands, but went away far from empty-handed, at least six sharing in the trophies on offer.

As the shoot got under way on Saturday it became obvious that squads would have to be pushed through to complete the program on time. In the first event, 71 shooters lined up for half a round of skeet, and 13 came in with possibilities to share the sweepstakes in a compulsory divide.

Phil Crute, from the Top End Gun Club won the second event outright when he posted the only possible in the TAA-NT Skeet C'ship which had a record 73 entries. In one of the last squads to go on, John Doyle (Darwin Gun Club) appeared to be on the way to another possible, but had to watch in agony as his 24th target in the second round, the 'gimme' Station 8 low house sailed on unscathed. He and four other shooters, Tom Kittilla and the deliberate Jim Storch from Mt Isa, Kevin Bowring (Darwin) and W (for Wally, Willy, or Wayne, whatever you like) Growcott from Tennant Creek took to the walks for 2nd and 3rd place shoot-offs. After another round, only Doyle, Storch and Growcott remained, but Doyle left the walks two stations later and the shoot-off was concluded when Storch missed his high house 4 target. Both Storch and Growcott posted 50 breaks in the event.

The Skeet Teams event was held over until Sunday to allow event 4, the TAA-NT, Cont. PS C'ship to be completed before dusk. In this event, Storch continued his run and posted an unbeatable 88-90 in the 30 ft event. Peter Telford, Mt Gambier, shot the lot for an 86 point total and 2nd, and 'The Godfather' Greg Chan, came in 3rd on 85. In the 11-14 metre group, Ian Scobie, in a very early round in the event put up 82, which was enough to give him the minor metreage trophy. He was penalised a metre for his efforts, until a nameless eagle-eyed spectator over two metres high from Top End whispered, 'novelly event'.

Saturday night's social was completely taken up with the Calcutta auction, but the dinner was excellent and the grog was free. Top price of the night was local David Bowring who brought $120, the on-ly shooter to go over the ton.

The Interstate Skeet Teams event started bright and early on Sunday, simultaneously with the five target DB E/O off 16 metres. Kevin Bowring showed the way to do it with a fine 50-50. Barry Munt and 'Stretch' Draper, Top End team mates and Wayne Growcott fought out 2nd and 3rd with 49's (in the resultant shoot-off, held over until Monday, Munt came in 2nd ahead of Draper after a two station shoot-off). Phil Crute dropped first round high house 2 and low house 6 for his 48. Phil Grove steadied also on 48. Greg Chan and Dave Peter Close made light work of his recent hospitalisation to score 45 in his third successive team appearance, and the 10th place was fought out by Ernie Rayner and 'Slug' Winstanley (Katherine) and Horrie Mills (Alice Springs) all on 44. The team total was a best-ever for the Territory.

Eight years before Abraham Lincoln became President of the Union, craftsmen gunsmiths of Smith & Wesson were test-firing the latest hand guns to be designed in North America. And the hand guns they built created a legend that lives on to this day. The same skill in quality manufacturing, from inspection of raw materials to test firing, has been faithfully maintained in today's fine range of sporting guns carrying the Smith & Wesson brand logo — from air guns to handguns to rifles to shotguns. And there's a model to suit you — at reasonable cost.

THE BUSHRANGER SHOOT (Cont'd)

Many complaints were heard about the method of shooting off five target E/O events, Territory style. Everyone starts Indian file, on walk 3, on a miss and out basis. Survivors on the middle walk move back three metres to 19 on walk 4, then to 22 on walk 5, and so on. However, after 20 minutes, the 31 possible shooters were off the walks, and Merv Holden, Coolamon, had a case of cartridges for 1st placing. Bill Horner, Darwin's President, was 2nd, and Tom Kittila took 3rd. As with most events on the program the shoot-off's drew considerable spectator interest.

The SKB Tournament, 30 tgts DB from 16 metres event, saw the most possibles shot in a serious event, when five shooters scraped together the 30-30. Fourteen targets later, Barry Munt, after an all-night shift at his workplace, was the only one left in. Willy Growcott, 43-44, kept Tennant Creek smiling, and Peter 'Petal' Bowring showed what he is capable of with 42-44 for 3rd. Jim Storch and Tom Kittila for Mt Isa dropped out of contention in their 3rd and 9th targets. A family double resulted in the event when Mary Stacey shot 20-30 for the Ladies' trophy, and son Glen took the Juniors' award. Alec Jamieson, President of Corowa Gun Club, was a popular winner of the Veterans' section, with 27-30.

The Calcutta was the next event, and in a field of 90 shooters, not one possible was shot in the 30 tgt DB event. This also is some sort of a record. Twelve first round 15's were on the board, and before the event was called off until Monday morning, only one 29 was up. It was said on the next day that Bob Reeves from Guyra had not had a restful night, having spent it shooting his 3rd target in the 2nd round over and over again.

Squad 13 saw fellow Guyra shooter Doug Ellis drop his 11th clay in the 2nd round to equal Reeves. Ellis' effort was particularly noteworthy, as he was back on the relatively distant mark of 21. Barry Munt in the same squad off the same mark, but with another 'doggo' shift behind him dropped his 9th target, and shoot his head soon after when a right quarterer escaped to give him 28-30. Paul Witte, an 11 metre shooter from Katherine, with team mate Col Hanna, local shooter Noel Waugh, Ian Scoble, Mick Milera and Glen Stacey, Dave Bowring, Peter Baile, SKB representative from South Australia, Don Stevens from Gove, Max Leaford from almost everywhere in the Territory and S.A., Peter Telford and veteran Ray Viney also came home for 28's. Fifteen targets extra saw all shoot-offs completed.

Reeves, previously 15 metres was on 17 and over $2000 richer, having had the perspicacity to buy himself in the Calcutta for $30. Ellis was 2nd and almost a similar amount in front, having also purchased himself for a song. He gladly took two metres. Third placegetter was Glen Stacey, 13 years old, who showed older and more experienced shooters the value of concentration. Ian Scoble, Tennant Creek, finally retreated the metre that had eluded him on the first day, when he took $50 for 11-14 metres grouping.

Ray Viney showed 'the youngsters' of 14-17 metres the way to go when he took the honours in this group, Barry Munt went to 22 for a win in the 18-21 range, and Tom Kittila was 'all but' on 24 with his 22-25 metres win. Mary Stacey won the Ladies' award, but stayed put on her handicap, as did veteran Alec Jamieson who took this trophy when Ray Viney won his metreage trophy. Master Evans, from Alice Springs, retreated to 12 for his Juniors' win.

The N.W. Qld and N.T. Shield was hurriedly held just on dusk, and the 10 tgt P/S event was won by Darwin No. 1 team of 'Scrubby' Joiner, his son Steve, Kevin Bowring, Peter Lorman and Phil Grove, with a not very remarkable score of 132-150, just one point ahead of • Bob Reeves (Guyra) receives sash and cash (over $2000) from Laurie Connors, while Bill Horner weeps silently.

Katherine No. 1 team of Paul Farnan, the Stacey trio of Len, Mary and Glen and Ian 'Slug' Winstanley. Titleholders, Mt Isa No. 1, comprising Charlie Selke, Tom Kittila, Jim Storch, Nev Byrne and Nev Power finished 3rd on 129. Thanks must go to all the visitors who refereed and pencilled this event.

With all the serious shooting over for the day, the office staff expected most people to enjoy the barbecue with pigs and sheep on spits as well as the customary 'steak and snags' rather than shoot the novelty event, but nominations for the event totalled 66, and some spectacular shooting resulted. The course was 10 targets from the automatic trap on layout one, ten targets on layout two from all or any of DTL trap two, high house skeet and low house skeet, and ten low targets ISU speed from trap three. The lack of lights on track one caused some comment on safety, but when all precautions were observed, and Glen Stacey posted a 27-30 in the first squad, everyone settled down.

A light touch was approved by shooters when if a broken target was thrown on the first trap, it was automatically scored as three. Layout two caused confusion when both trap and skeet targets were released, but many shooters managed to score on both. Only layout three was taken seriously, and necessarily so. If you blinked, the bird was over the gully and gone. In the words of Col Smith, "Fastest birds I've never seen."

• Shoot off — Darwin style! Some 30 shooters receive last-minute instructions from Greg (The Godfather) and Doug Chan and Pam Horner.

When all was totalled, John Doyle had taken 1st with 75-90, ever-reliable Tom Kittila 2nd with 74, and one point away 3rd, Laurie Connors. Raelene Joiner scored a trophy with a record 20 continuous misses in the event, and Wally Buchanan and Glen Stacey took beer steins away for lucky squad spot prizes.

Monday saw many shooters a little ragged around the edges, and quite a few scratchings resulted from shooters wanting to get away early for the trip 'down the track'.

The Top End 2000, another 30 tgt event, handicap graded from 16 metres, saw veteran shooter Charlie Selke shoot like a machine until his second-last target, which got away from the shot much to the disappointment of the gallery. Charlie easily took out the Veterans' section. Peter Bowring, 28-30 grabbed the Juniors' trophy, and Mary Stacey again came out with the Ladies' award with 24.

The 11-14 metres group went to Kel Primmer (Katherine) who was pleased with the Franchi automatic, but not so happy with the two metres, ahead of Howard Warner on 28 and Nev Byrne of Mt Isa on 27. Warner and Byrne also collected a metre. Local shooter Doug Chan kept the home flag flying when he came out victorious in another mini shoot-off, this time of three tgts. Paul Farnan (Katherine) collected his 300 cartridges for 2nd, and another metre, and Gary 'Stretch' Draper took 200 crackers away for 3rd with a short speech to Ray Mack at the presentation: "Thank God they're not bloody GT's" — Mr Mack was not impressed. The 20-25 metre group put on the longest shoot-off of the carnival when Jim Storch shot 52-52 for the automatic, pipping Kev Bowring 51-52, and that man again Tom Kittila on 45-46.

The final event, the Grand Handicap 30 tgts DB off hcp resulted in every trophy winner except Peter Bowring (Junior) and Ray Viney (Veteran) getting either one or two metres. Pam Horner, shooting only one event in the program made sure of the Ladies' section with a fine 28-30. Kev Bowring gained the magic 25 metre mark with a win in the 22-25 metre group, Ted Lowery took 18-21, Wally Buchanan won 14-17, and Col Hanna, after a weekend of just missing out on everything took 11-13. Overall winner, newcomer to shooting from Mt Isa, off 21 metres, Nev Power, scored the possible and a colour TV. His was the only 30-30 recorded, 2nd place going to Noel Waugh, another 12 metre shooter, with a nerve-racking 43-44 shoot-off with David Bowring 42-44.

Overall High Gun for the Carnival saw an upset win to David Bowring who came from nowhere on the last day to edge out his father Kevin by one point 207-218 to 206. Jim Storch 205, Peter Telford and Tom Kittila 204, and Wally Growcott 203, kept competition keen, but the disappointment was Barry Munt, who was leading by the country mile on Sunday but dropped 20 of his last 60 targets in an uncharacteristic display probably induced by lack of sleep over the shoot. Peter Telford took Trap High Gun honours with 147-155, Carol Crute with steady shooting gained the Ladies' High Gun with 152, Peter Bowring was untroubled in the Juniors' section with 191, and Alec Jamieson took Veterans honours with a fine 193-218.

Trophies were presented by Darwin Gun Club President Bill Horner, and Laurie Connors, with assistance from TAA representative Peter Atkinson, SKB representatives George Rath from Melbourne and South Australia's Peter Baile, and Eley's Ray Mack.

The visitors received an added bonus when a magpie goose shoot was organised for the Tuesday morning. A six o'clock start saw a score of shooters score a score of geese, almost losing Geoff Mark in the process. Geoff who insisted on walking into bottomless bogholes, was not Kev Bowring's favourite son when KB's shoes (on Geoff's feet) were 'gobbled up by the goop'. With 'bottomless' in mind, another Melbourne visitor had a 'ripping' time when tight trousers and large steps resulted in destruction of duds and a nasty sight for shooters. Ask Ted Lowery the story. Howard Warner, a glutton for punishment, insisted on returning to the swamp on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning also to 'get a few for the blokes at home to sample!'

All in all, it was a highly successful shoot, though pushed for time throughout, and the word is out that next year's Sixth Annual Three Day Shoot on Picnic Day Weekend in Darwin is going to be bigger and better than ever. See you there!

Winchester Australia recently hosted the Victorian Independent Schools Clay Target Championships.

The match was run at Geelong Clay Target Club, which has proven to be most co-operative whenever requested for this sort of assistance for student training activities.

Western district schools were well represented at the match, with Hamilton College and Monivae College, also of Hamilton, being amongst the leading contenders.

The senior section was won by Darren Storer with a score of 20/20.

Other Hamilton shooters to do well included Peter Rizzo, who was placed second in the junior section, and Peter Sharp, who was third. Rizzo won his second placing after a shoot-off when both Peters tied on 16/20.

MACK THE MEDIA MAN

by Pat Browne

● Sporting Editor of South Australian daily "The News", Geoff Roach, prepares to take a low 8 under the watchful eye of Eley's Ray Mack.

Newspaper sporting editors, television personalities and leading footballers got a taste of the joys of clay target shooting at South Australian Gun Club on Tuesday, July 7.

The exercise, set up by Eley Ammunition state manager Ray Mack, was aimed at familiarising the media to the game and its benefits to the community.

Sporting Editors from both "The Advertiser" and "The News" accepted the invitation together with the anchorman from "Channel 9 News".

Leading sporting personalities from the major league football clubs were also there.

All were impressed with scope of clay target shooting as a disciplined sport.

Speaking to Ray Mack about the day, he said: "We had a couple of people not come along, but generally speaking we have quite a few identities here, particularly from the press and football world".

"Notable football personalities, Neil Kerley, John Cahill and Barry Robran are here together with the sporting editors from both daily papers, Geoff Roach (The News) and Merv Agars (The Advertiser). Channel 9 news anchorman Roger Cardwell has arrived and football commentator Wally May is also here. Wally is a keen shooter anyway and he has been a big help".

When asked how the visitors had reacted to the game, he said: "They were delighted at the opportunity of being able to have a go. Most of them had never seen clay target shooting before and they were impressed with the facilities here at S.A.G.C. and the safety aspects of the sport".

It was obvious from the roars of delight when targets were broken that the game had certainly caught their fancy as they ran the full gamut of DTL and Skeet shooting.

In fact quite some rivalry developed between the various league football teams as their coaches tackled this new sport.

During proceedings, State Coaching Director Peter Quire outlined to the media men the various facets of the clay target shooting sports, complete with plenty of facts and figures.

They were most interested and surprised that the sport had such a big following throughout Australia.

Geoff Roach from the "News" was so impressed that he devoted his whole sporting column on August 7 to the day.

He wrote of the sport in glowing terms, pointing out that shooters: "are not an irresponsible covey, blazing away at everything in sight".

He went on to say that club shooting could be an enjoyable family sport, as safe and rewarding as say golf. "Now in my case", he added, "it was not going to be easy to convince me. I have always regarded guns with the same mixture of fear and loathing as I have snakes".

It was an unashamed exercise in public relations, one that had a fair measure of success.

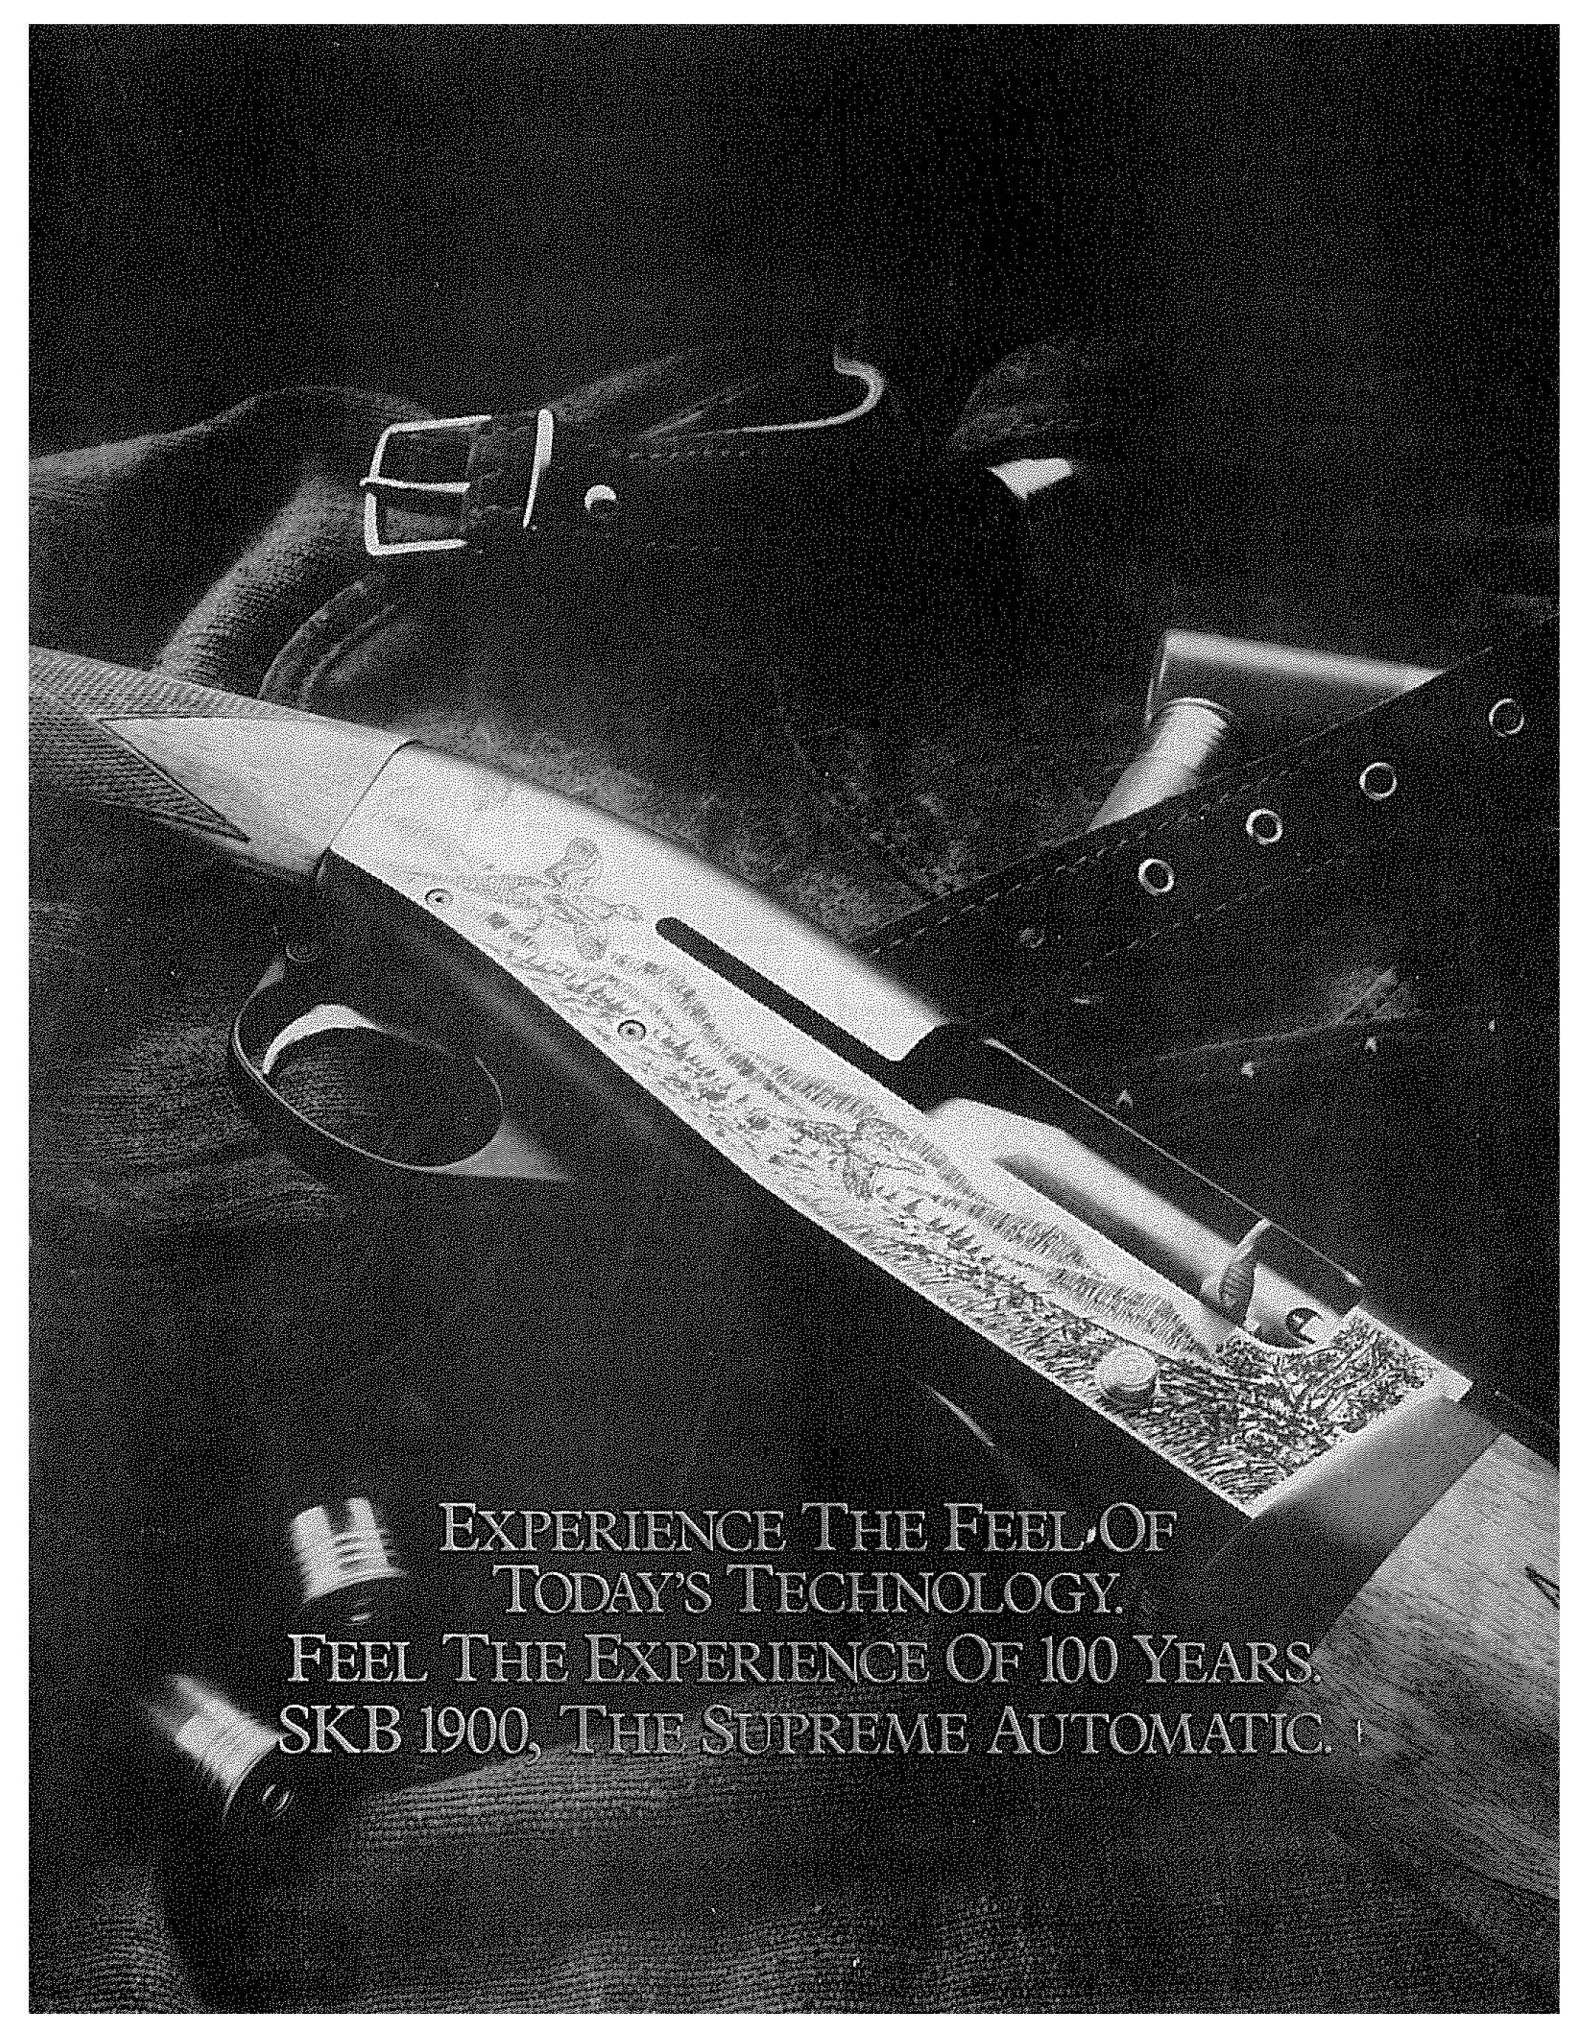

"I think that our future growth in this sport depends on introducing outsiders to the sport. You only have limited growth amongst your own people, so the more outside influences you can get in, the better it will be, and there is no doubt about it, people enjoy it when they come along", said Ray Mack at the conclusion of the day.

It is his intention to run another such day as soon as time and circumstances permit.

ROYAL JOHOR MATCH TO AUSSIES

• Patron of the Royal Johor Shooters, Association, and host for the International match, His Highness, Tunku Mahkota.

As a follow-on to the Pesta Sukan tournament, the Royal Johor Shooters' Association had programmed a two-day international trap and skeet match.

Johor is the most southern Malaysian state, and shares a common border with Singapore. The host association is led by Dr. E. Leonard, and has as its Patron, His Highness the Tunku of Johor, Tunku Mahkota.

The organisers had arranged buses to transport the international competitors from their base in Singapore, to the shooting grounds — a distance of about 60 kilometres.

The Australians had great difficulty in adapting to the weather, which was incredibly hot and humid on the first day and wet and windy on the second day.

The second day was further complicated by a massive traffic jam on the causeway which connects Malaysia with Singapore — a religious festival and a public holiday precipitated a major "retreat" from Singapore. This delay caused the late arrival of competitors at the shooting ground, which in turn delayed the start of the second day's program by about two hours.

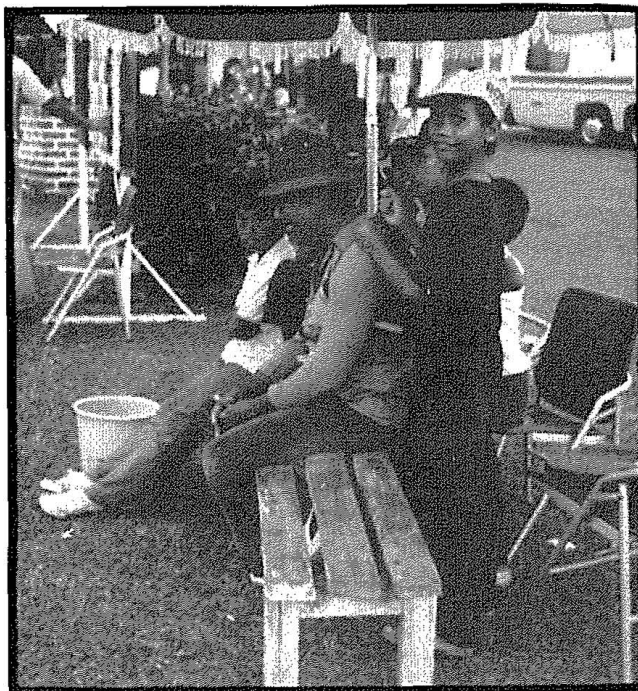

The club facilities were extremely good, and the ground was presented in immaculate condition (a second Melbourne Gun Club). The skeet and Olympic Trench fields are superimposed, so the organisers had their hands full getting the program completed.

Still hot from successes in Singapore, Alex Crikis dominated the skeet and his score of 96 paved the way for an Australian runaway victory in the teams' event.

• It was the sort of day that Terry Budd of NSW Gun Club needed the broad brimmed hat to keep the sun AND rain off.

(Staff Writer)

• Muslimin of Indonesia gets some "treatment" before facing the traps at the Johor shooting range.

Once again Somchai of Thailand was closest to Crikis, but his two 21s on the second day did nothing to maintain pressure on Crikis who produced a magnificent 25 in his last round to win by 7 targets. Gideon of Indonesia was the surprise of the event. He performed remarkably consistently to aggregate 88 to take the individual Bronze Medal.

In the trap (O.T.) event, Pavitr of Thailand copied Crikis' example to win the individual Gold Medal very comfortably — his score of 90 left him seven targets clear of the other placegetters.

Melbourne Gun Club carded a very good score in the trap teams event to take a Silver Medal after the Australian team was severely depleted by the withdrawal of Max Vipond. Max had collapsed in the hotel the previous night, and had all of his team mates very worried. (Latest reports are that Max Vipond, following extensive medical checks after his return to Australia, is quite O.K.)

The MGC team finished on 316 (Crikis 82; A. Blackmore 81; Lucas 71; Bond 82.) to trail Thailand by 10 targets, with the Australian team (Budd 76; Menck 78; Briggs 71; Whitelaw 81) a further 10 targets behind on 306 to take the Bronze Medal.

The presentation of trophies was done during a lavish party at the Istana (the Royal Palace) on the final night. Alex Crikis and Pavitr (Thailand) were presented with beautiful gold watches, complete with the Royal Crest in gold inlay, for the individual wins.

Other trophy winners received their medals in front of a large crowd which included many influential Malaysian "neighbours" of the Tunku.

The presentations were made by Her Highness Princess Hajah Shiriah (wife of Tunku Mahkota), who has been tremendously hospitable to the Australians on each occasion they have visited Johor.

And so the international trap and skeet circuit of South East Asia came to a close.

The Aussies performed very well, with the official teams representing Melbourne Gun Club and the ACTA being accepted as first class competitors.

Equally as important, the exercise proved to be very worthwhile from a public relations point of view. All participants promoted Australia and clay target shooting in the best possible light.

Congratulations, fellas, you did a great job.

CAP HUNTING IN SE ASIA

(Staff Writer)

• Mervyn Whitelaw shows off one of his collection of caps.

Over the past few years Mervyn Whitelaw of Melbourne Gun Club has become a regular visitor to SE Asia. He is an avid buyer of shooting caps, and is known to become sometimes over-enthusiastic.

During his most recent visit, which took him and a party of twenty Australians to the Pesta Sukan Tournament in Singapore, he was able to convert others to his strange ritual.

For example, during a brief stop-over in Bali, Merv and a few of his team mates were taken "in tow" by three young girls, who toured the streets of Denpasar looking for caps for Merv to add to his collection.

After two hours, he had purchased eight different types of caps, but more importantly for the economy of the area, had started others on the trail.

Two days later, on a busy thoroughfare in Jakarta, the party's coach was forced to stop when Merv and his followers spotted a row of street stalls featuring the biggest range of peaked caps that one could imagine.

In spite of the traffic chaos that was caused — readers can imagine what the traffic is like in a city of 6 million people right on 5 p.m. — Whitelaw, Tom Lucas and Terry Budd led the rush to obtain the best examples.

Because bargaining is the order of the day in the area, it took the fellows some little time to get to a "mutually agreeable price", usually about $A1.30.

As the party left Jakarta for Singapore, the stock count of caps was a mammoth forty.

Mervyn Whitelaw, the Indonesians should create a monument to recognise the contribution your initiative has made to the economy of the area.

Near-perfect Shooting with Winchester Super X Wins International Skeet

In 1974 Winchester Scandinavia introduced a Marathon Skeet Competition in order to promote new products in Scandinavia. Four shooters were picked, each to shoot 1,000 skeet clay targets (international Skeet) during a one-day competition starting at 7 o'clock in the morning. They were required to use either the Winchester Super-X Model 1 automatic shotgun or the Winchester Pigeon Grade over-and-under shotgun and Double AA skeet shells.

The winner that first year scored 964 out of 1,000 and the shooting world in Scandinavia was amazed.

"The event showed exactly what was desired — that Winchester products can stand the toughest tests with top performance," said Mats Waektare, who was then managing director of Winchester Scandinavia and is now director of marketing for Winchester Europe.

Over the years the competition has become very popular in northern Europe and in 1979 a first international Winchester Marathon competition was held. The winner was Ole Justesen from Denmark. He scored 977, losing only 7 during the last 500. Later during the year he won the world championship in skeet.

"This year, 1980, Mr Justesen did what we all thought was impossible," said Mr Waektare. "He improved his score from last year by winning the Winchester Scandinavian International Marathon with 980 out of 1,000, losing only 4 birds in the last 500. Look at his score over the entire 1,000:

24-24-23-24-23-24-25-25-25-24-25-24-24-25-25-23-25-24-23-25-25-25-24-25-25-25-24-25-25-25-25-25-25-24-25-25-24.

"The competition took a total of 8 hours and 15 minutes," said Mr Waektare. "Mr Meyer from West Germany was 2nd with 957, Mr Bjork from Sweden was 3rd with 950, and Mr Loftum from Norway was last with 937."

Mr Waektare summarised: "We are talking about international skeet, which is the most difficult skeet discipline with very fast targets. The result shows again that Winchester products help make top performance."

ANNUAL METROPOLITAN Vs S.A.G.C. TEAMS MATCHES

Story and Pics by Pat Browne

Annual teams clash fairly even.

Annual teams' competition between S.A.G.C. and Metropolitan Clay Target Club provided some close competition with the honours about even.

The Victorian visitors provided teams in Tower, Skeet and Trap. They journeyed to Adelaide by bus on Friday, August 15. The events are traditionally shot at S.A.G.C.'s Anniversary shoot in August.

"It was a good trip over", said Henry Weitzel who has been making the trip since 1961. "We had a 45 seater bus with just 12 passengers so we took it easy and arrived in Adelaide about 8.00 am on Saturday morning".

Speaking to him before the events he said that Metro had some strong teams in all the disciplines with the trap team being led by Tom Spence - a 20 year veteran of these interstate teams matches between the clubs.

According to Bob Mules, President of S.A.G.C. the interchange between the two clubs has been going on for 35 years with a break during the war years.

Competition started with Tower, a 20 target match for teams of five from each club, shot on the Saturday.

It was a cliff hanger with the result going to S.A.G.C. by one target.

The S.A.G.C. Team of John Byrnes (19), Ray Kimber (20), Bernie Hansen (20), Maurie Ralston (19) and Brian Hill (19) ran a 97/100 in excellent conditions.

Metro, represented by Tom Spence (20), Joe Michelini (18), Paul Thompson (20), Ray Burrill (19) and Henry Weitzel (19) was just the one target short at 96-100.

The resulting shoot-off for teams High Gun between Spence, Thompson, Kimber and Hansen went to 41/41 for Paul Thompson, the eventual winner. Paul has been in good form this year running second in the N.Z. National Mini's championship some months ago.

Fine shooting from the South Australian's John Hutchings (25), Ray Kimber (24), Bob Mules (23), Rod Dwyer (25) and Phil Mules (24) set a cracking pace in the Skeet Teams Match.

Their score of 121/125 was too much for the Metro team of Henry Weitzel (24), Joe Michelini (23), Ray Burrill (23), Des DeCarolis

● Ray Burrill and Henry Weitzel ponder the fine scores recorded by SAGC in the skeet teams' match.

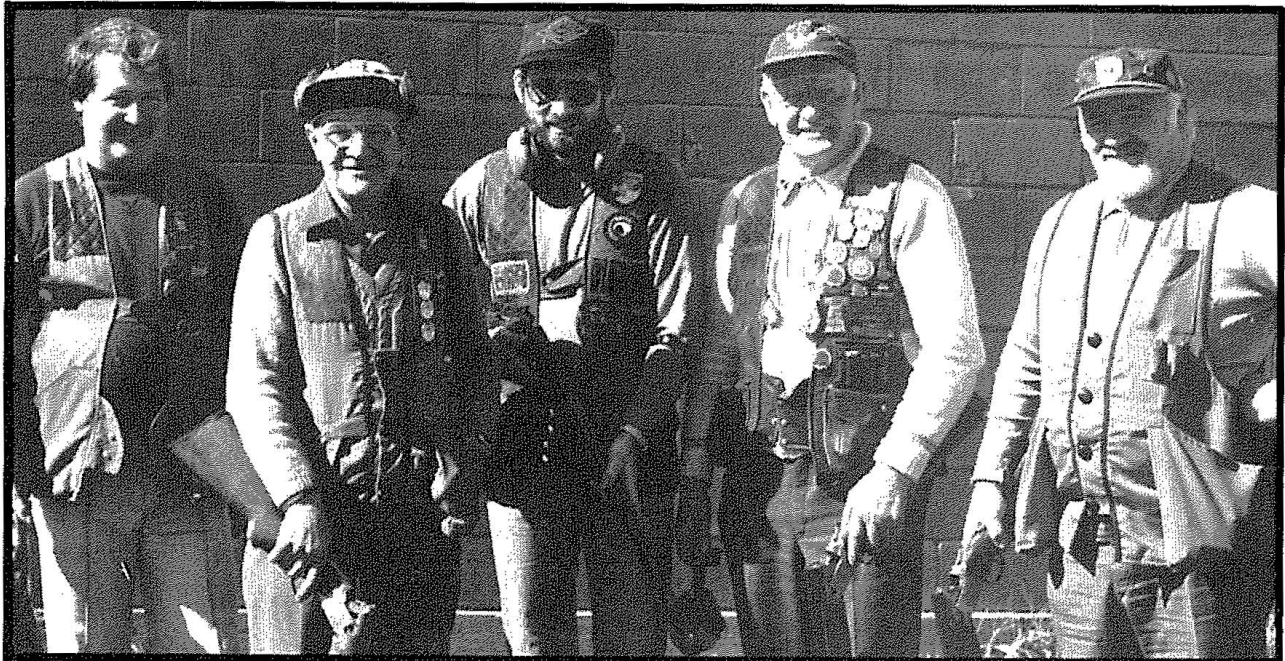

(24) and Peter McVicar (24). Their 118/125 was a good score but in fact the match was over on station 4 when the fifth target was missed.

Team high gun honours were with John Hutchings who went another 5000 words and 12 targets with Rod Dwyer for a score of 37/37.

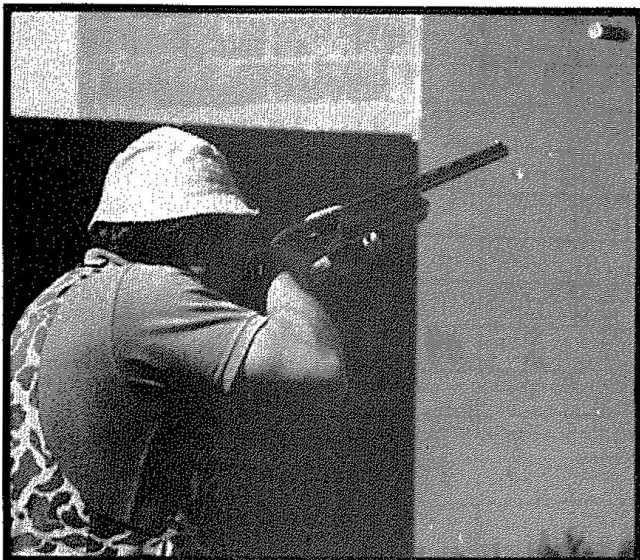

At this stage in the proceedings things were looking decidedly bleak for the visitors, but the trap team was to save the day.

Led by veteran Tom Spence (29) and supported by Joe Michelini (30), Paul Thompson (27), Ian Emery (28) and Mike McVicar (28), their team score of 142/150 was too good for the South Australians.

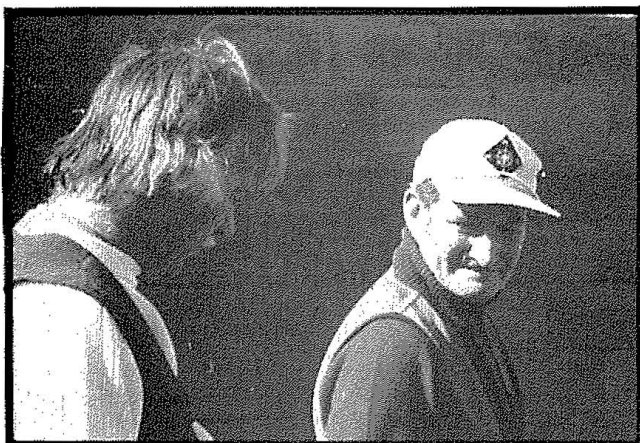

There were no possibles in the S.A. team of Ray Kimber (28), Phil Mules (27), John Byrnes (29), Bo Bob Cook (27) and Brian Hill (28) and their score of 139/150 fell three targets short of the mark.

Paul Thompson was the only possible amongst the ten team members and so took the teams' high gun.

Over 100 shooters attended the Sunday shoot and helped to entertain the visitors right royally. In 1981, the teams matches will be conducted at Metropolitan Clay Target Club in Melbourne.

INTERNATIONAL DISCIPLINE SCENE IN AUSTRALIA

The Australian entry of three trap (O.T.) and one skeet competitor in the First Asian Clay Pigeon Championships, to be conducted in Bangkok in December is seen as a major breakthrough for the international disciplines in this country.

To date, Australia's clay target shooters — certainly those with international competition aspirations — have been hamstrung by a total dependence on the South Pacific Shooting Federation for what may be called "local international competition".

Membership of the SPS Federation is restricted to New Guinea, New Zealand and Australia. Competition between these three countries has always been good, and matches have been of a high standard.

But one can never quite get rid of the feeling that one is competing in his own backyard.

In recognition of this factor, the ACTA recommended to the Australian Shooting Association that Australia seek affiliation with the Asian Shooting Federation — in this way, not only would a greater competitor depth be developed, but ACTA management felt that something extra could also be offered to the Asians. In other words the suggestion was seen to have benefits each way.

The ASA threw the idea out, and asked all its affiliates to more actively support the South Pacific Shooting Federation, to develop it to a position of greater strength.

The ACTA responded to this request — to the point where it offered to provide secretarial service in an attempt to improve the slow moving communications system within the SPS Federation.

The offer was declined, but the ACTA is still TRYING to play a role in the strengthening of the SPSF. As evidence of this, clay target events have been a most important part of all recent South Pacific Championships — Australia has acted as host in two out of the last three years, and will again be host in 1981.

Notwithstanding all of the above, the Association's International Sub Committee realised that a new competition theatre was required — one which provided a worthwhile standard of competition, but conveniently located in terms of cost and accessibility.

South East Asia fills the specification, and negotiations for official access commenced in 1979. Bob Buchan of Melbourne Gun Club and a member of the ACTA Administrative Unit had personal discussions with Stephen Yap, Secretary of the Singapore Shooting Association (and one of the most senior shooting sports administrators in the Asian area) and officials of the Skeet and Trap Association of Thailand.

A full report was presented to the ACTA Executive Committee, including a recommendation that Australia actively seek acceptance in Asian shooting tournaments.

Such has now come about, at least insofar as national associations are concerned. No official request has yet been made to join the entry list for the top level Asian Games.

The ACTA is taking the opportunity offered by competitions in Asia to "blood" some of its rising stars. In other words, instead of sending shooting athletes to World Championships for their first taste of overseas competition (where a poor performance destroys their confidence!), up-and-coming competitors are now being offered a worthwhile opportunity to gain international competition hardening, but still in their own league.

Turning now specifically to the Bangkok competition, Australia has chosen Graeme Boyd of Albury to represent it in skeet. Boyd performed incredibly well in the 1979 World Championships held at Montecatini Italy when he scored 147 in the first six rounds of the skeet match, only to suffer from the "seventh round jitters," which destroyed his medal chances!

Trap representatives include Ray Collinson of Townsville, who is considered by many to have been most unlucky not to have gained selection in 1979, John Maxwell of Woolongong and Greg Long of Melbourne, both of whom competed in the 1980 South Pacific Championships in Christchurch.

The team will leave Australia on December 1 and return on December 15.

New South Wales Training Squad

Good news department — Kevin Loy, Terry Budd and David Menck, with the support of other OT and ISU Skeet enthusiasts have jolted the NSWCTA into accepting a proposal to create a state training squad in the international disciplines.

A series of qualifying events is to be held during October and November, after which the nucleus of the squad will be named. Early planning suggests that squad members will be encouraged to form a state team to compete in the National titles, to be held at Cunderdin Gun Club, W.A. in mid November.

Host clubs will include NSWGC, Downside International and possibly Taree-Wingham. Interested shooters should watch the NSW section of CTSN for details and dates of events.

When the state squad is formed, New South Wales will join Victoria as the two states with the foresight to provide some sort of incentive for competitors in international disciplines.

1980 National Titles — W.A.

Competitors intending to contest the National Olympic Trench and ISU Skeet Championships being held in Western Australia in November have very little time to book their air travel, if they are planning on using concession fares.

An approach to your local Ansett sales office will show that the Super Apex fare offers travellers a 40% discount — however, the number of seats available is limited and the traveller must also comply with certain conditions.

An alternative means of travel is by coach. Operators from the east coast of Australia include Pioneer (an Ansett operation) Greyhound and Olympic East West Express.

Fares quoted by Olympic at May 1, 1980 were:

One Way Return

Sydney - Perth	Melbourne - Perth	Adelaide - Perth
$95      $180	$85      $165	$75      $145

An Olympic Sales office will be found in Sydney at Sundowners, 75 King St, Sydney (Phone 02 291511); in Melbourne at Caulfield Travel Agency, 47 Koornang Road, Carnegie (Phone 03 5721135); in Adelaide at Lakis Travel Agency, 112 Hindley Street, Adelaide (Phone 08 512759).

The National office will arrange for firearms permits to be issued for interstate visitors, PROVIDED THAT competitors name and address, make, model and serial number of firearm are sent to the ACTA office in Melbourne immediately!

The Western Australians are anxious to again demonstrate their organizing ability — this time on what is reputed to be the most modern international discipline facility in Australia. ○

MACKINTOSH TEAM CONDITIONS TO ALTER IN 1981

The Clay Pigeon Shooting Association of Great Britain had advised that conditions relating to team size in the Mackintosh International Teams' Match have been altered.

Commencing in 1981, the number of competitors to be included in the team has been reduced to 20 (previously 30) and the best 15 scores will be used to calculate the national score.

Each team member will still shoot at 100 targets from 16 yards, and scoring will be 3 points for a break on the first barrel and 2 points for a break on the second barrel.

The total possible score for any team will be 4500 points.

The new format will be first used in Australia during the 1981 Trap and Skeet Championships to be held in Melbourne, during Easter. ○

WHY DOES A SHOOTER EXPERIENCE A SORE FACE WHEN COMPETING?

This is a relatively common question and was specifically raised in a letter which recently arrived on my desk.

It occurred to me that the answer may be of interest to readers and so arrangements were made with the Editor to reprint it, as follows:

"I am sorry to hear of the problems you have when shooting your Brno O & U shotgun when fitted with the 28" barrels.

There are many reasons for a gun hurting a shooter's face but I will start with the most common, that of holding a gun incorrectly.

When a gun with a standard, not Monte Carlo, comb is fired, the front of the comb being higher than the rear, it is progressively higher as the recoil shifts the gun to the rear, consequently engaging the cheek bone on the way back, causing bruising and sometimes even breaking the skin.

If this is your problem, you should try to mount the gun as far in onto the shoulder as possible. In other words, get more square to the gun, practising putting up the gun one-handed will help here. When the gun is on the shoulder, lift the face and place the chin against the stock, then run the face down the comb picking up a little cheek-flesh on the way as padding. If you can feel the comb hard against your cheekbone it is incorrect and you should try again.

Another cause is altering the angle of the head to the comb - forward or back in trying to look flat along the rib. This is a common fault, particularly where the shooter pulls his chin back allowing the cheekbone to bear directly on the comb.

A shooter should look down on the rib, not flat along it. When shooting clay targets one should have at least the width of two twenty cent pieces above the breech where the line of sight crosses it. I shot for thirty years with my line of sight crossing the height of my little finger when laid on the breech!

Too much positive (up) or negative (down) pitch can also be a cause of the problem. This is because the gun muzzle will throw upwards with too much positive pitch making the comb more progressive as it comes back. In reverse, too much negative pitch will allow the butt to slide upwards on firing, consequently also bumping the cheek bone.

Get a friend to watch the muzzle of your gun when you fire, the muzzle should come back in a straight line or depress slightly. If it (the pitch) is correct it (the muzzle) should not have any exaggerated up or down movement.

Placing the gun too low on the shoulder is another cause of a bruised face. The shooter has to lower his face into the comb and the head being on an angle to it (the comb) allows the cheekbone to lie directly on it with painful results.

I would like you to work on the above and see if any of the items given help your particular case. If they do not, come back to me and we will take the matter further."

TRADE TOPICS

When one visits South East Asia, the relative freedom of Australian firearms dealers and users is brought into stark relief.

The experience of Australia's entry in the recent Pesta Sukan tournament in Singapore makes interesting reading.

Before the team could even consider taking their own shotguns with them, an import licence had to be obtained from the Singapore Police Department, and then had to be presented to Customs on arrival at Singapore Airport.

Then, after processing through Customs, the shotguns were loaded into a locked van and, under police escort, were taken direct to the armoury of the Singapore Gun Club. Apart from use during practice and competition, the guns were not able to be removed from the armoury until the team was due to depart from Singapore. Again, the transfer was only approved if done with a police escort. Meanwhile the sale of cartridges is very restricted, with local shooters and visitors being totally dependent upon imports.

Strict control on import licences has a very limiting effect, although the range of brands available is reasonably extensive.

The Australians had a choice of Remington or Focchi — other brands used by competitors included Winchester and KFC (Japan).

Many other Asian nations are similarly affected by rigid police and customs controls. As a further example, take the case of Indonesia. Competition shooters here are able to shoot only one or two rounds of trap and skeet weekly in practice, to preserve their meagre allocation of targets and shotshells for competition.

The message surely is that manufacturers, importers, dealers and users in Australia must continue to act in a responsible fashion, if the present acceptable legislative position is to be preserved.

It seems that actions such as the importation of replicas of current specialised military automatic and semi-automatic weapons is NOT in keeping with such an attitude. One wonders whether such importers will be the first to scream when public pressures force the legislators to jump on the "controls" bandwagon again.

Perazzi Spares Service

Following recent changes in the distribution of Perazzi firearms, Bill Hailes — who represents the current Australian agents — has advised that Evans and Balfour of Melbourne has a most comprehensive range of Perazzi spare parts.

Mr Les Turner, M.D. of Evans and Balfour can be contacted on 03 637841.

The Eley Sales Manager in South Australia, Ray Mack, recently made a worthwhile contribution to the promotion of shooting and hunting sports, when he hosted a "media day" at South Australian Gun Club.

The day was well supported and directly resulted in extensive TV and newspaper reporting of the project.

ELEY STAFF MOVES

In a major reshuffle of senior sales staff, Eley General Manager, Ron Clark has announced several new changes.

Geoff Kilgour who has been sales manager for Victoria and Tasmania for the past two years, has been appointed National Distribution Manager and Sales Controller. With Eley following a policy of centralised warehousing activities, this will be a most challenging position, and Geoff Kilgour's 28 years in the Eley machine will provide a firm base for his activities.

Bruce Southgate will fill the vacancy created by Mr Kilgour's promotion. He was originally recruited from Evans and Balfour in 1975, and has been one of Eley's most enthusiastic and productive outside sales staff in recent years.

Meanwhile, popular Peter Peacock is heading west to fill the vacancy created by the sudden resignation of David Henthorn, who had been Eley's W.A. sales manager for the last five years.

Peacock has been with Eley for a number of years, and has filled many sales posts including his most recent appointment as Product Manager - Rimfire.

Henthorn's resignation came as a shock to Eley, but as Ron Clarke says, "...new blood never hurt any organisation..."

Co-inciding with the staff changes, a number of new products have appeared on Eley's sales range. These follow the instant success of the Nikko firearms range, and include Norton ear protection products (which supplement the existing Silencio range), Eley shooting glasses, and a new 12 gauge cartridge known as "Trainer".

The 65mm (2½") cartridge is made in Great Britain and consists of a two piece plastic hull, with low steel head. It is loaded to give good velocity with light recoil, and contains one ounce of shot.

It has specifically been introduced to assist in the development of community training projects in the safe handling of firearms, hence the name "Trainer".

The shooting glasses are multi-lens sets, each frame being supplied in a heavy duty cover with three sets of lens — green, yellow and vermilion are the standard colors. The frames are supplied with arms that clip around the ears — a must for competitors in windy conditions — but causes no discomfort.

The fitting of the lens is a simple but effective press-in arrangement, and changes can be made quickly. The lens are large, and comfortable fitting, a must for competition use.

The product is available through Eley dealers, with a recommended price tag around $20.

Australia's Mackintosh Trophy After Scores Mix-Up!

The Clay Pigeon Shooting Association of Great Britain has announced the results of the 1980 Mackintosh International Teams' Postal Match.

The announcement was made at the conclusion of the 40th Annual British Open Championships, a match which for the first time had an official Australian team in attendance.

New Zealand was announced as the winner of the Mackintosh Trophy with a score of 7357 points. However, a subsequent recheck of the scores showed that errors had been made in the New Zealand records.

Consequently, a revised results listing was issued by Mr A. P. Page, Director of the CPSA, which showed the following placings:

1.	Australia	7353 points ex 7500
2.	England	7314
3.	New Zealand	7313

5.	Scotland	7260
6.	South Africa	7170
7.	Wales	7167
8.	Canada	7098

EXPANDER CLEANING ROD

Story by Pat Browne

Latest thing in cleaning rods.

From Norway and via Eurocut in Sydney comes the EXPANDER cleaning rod for shotguns, described as the ultimate in 'complete shotgun cleaning systems'.

Modern shotguns, with their sophisticated choking, better chambering and accurate forcing cones, together with a preoccupation with better target breaking patterns, demand care in cleaning.

Ordinary cleaning rods have difficulty handling the various diameters one encounters in the bore of a modern shotgun.

The EXPANDER rod consists of a steel cored, one piece plastic tube shaft 100mm in diameter. The 12 gauge version available in Australia is 100cm long with a useable shaft length of 86cm allowing the cleaning of barrels up to 84 cm in length.

The cleaning end consists of several spacing collars and a couple of soft rubber rings that expand under the influence of a wheel in the handle at the other end.

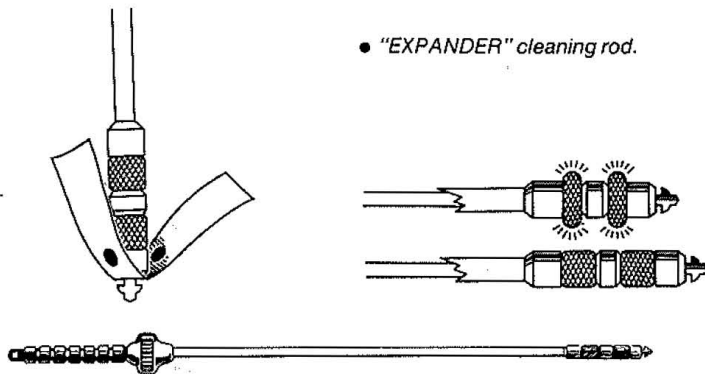

Expandable jags are not new but it is claimed that this system is the first to have control of this feature from the handle end.

Pre-cut cleaning strips are supplied with the rod. There are two varieties, a cloth strip and a cloth backed fine steel wool strip. Both are pre-punched in three places to allow maximum use.

Fine steel wool is the very best method of removing accumulated leading and plastic fouling from a barrel and this strip method is a lot more efficient than wrapping wads of steel wool around a jag.

The strips are held in position by a soft plastic cap that prevents them from dislodging in the barrel. Supplies of the strips we are told will be readily available.

With this one rod you can scrub the chambers and forcing cone, do the bore properly and then the chokes without changing the tip or jag. For the modern skeet gun with 'jugged' or 'recessed' chokes, this rod is a must.

• "EXPANDER" cleaning rod.

• Clem, a young farm hand, was a quiet, good-looking man. Strong, healthy, honest, intelligent — and married to a girl who didn't fit his image in any way.

Clem's wife was everything he was not — course, ugly, shapeless, stupid. A real sloth.

Clem's best friend eventually got around to asking the big question: "What happened?" he asked. "What happened to make you marry a bag like that?"

Clem sighed. "I'll never forget that night," he said. "That warm, summer night. The perfume of the honeysuckle around the porch. The soft breeze playing in her hair. The sound of a night bird in a bush nearby. But most of all I will never forget the moonlight — the gentle, silvery moonlight — glinting on the barrel of her father's shotgun."

Australian Shooting Assn. President's Policy Statement

In view of the controversy surrounding the entry of two Australian small-bore rifle shooters in the Moscow Olympics after the Australian Shooting Association had officially withdrawn the shooting team, ASA President Peter Papps set out the chronological sequence of events for the information of the Confederation of Australian Sport.

The following is the text of Mr Papp's letter:

Just prior to the departure of the Australian Olympic Team to Moscow, the Australian Shooting Association went through a period of challenge from one of its affiliates, the Australian Small Bore Rifle Association.

The Australian Shooting Association, after many meetings and much soul searching, decided to heed the call of the Australian Government to boycott the Games and came to a decision to withdraw its nominated team from participation at the Olympic Games.

It is of great concern to us, as the parent body for shooting in Australia, that the effect of this challenge might have far reaching repercussions throughout the whole sporting movement in Australia. The concern that unity must be protected is shared by all of the other affiliates of this Association.

The following is a brief account of the events which lead to the inclusion in the Australian Olympic Team, of two small-bore rifle shooters, Mrs Yvonne HILL and Mr David HOLLISTER.

Following the Australian Olympic Federation decision, in late May 1980, to send an Australian Team to Moscow, the Australian Clay Target Association and the Amateur Pistol Shooting Union of Australia requested that a special meeting of the ASA be held, to discuss the position regarding the ASA's attitude to the Australian Government's request for a boycott of the Games.

At the conclusion of the ASA Seminar "The Shooting Sports Through the Eighties", which was being held in Canberra from 6-7 June 1980, a Special Meeting of the ASA with representatives of all the affiliates present, was convened on 8 June 1980.

At the end of this long and protracted meeting the following press statement was issued by the President, Mr Peter Papps.

"An extraordinary meeting of the Australian Shooting Association was held on June 8th 1980 to discuss the decision of the Australian Olympic Federation in relation to the Moscow Olympic Games.

After careful consideration of this most complex matter, it was resolved that the Australian Shooting Association inform the Australian Olympic Federation that the Shooting team is withdrawn from the Australian Olympic Team, with the exception of Yvonne Hill.

The Association received copies of documents shortly before the meeting, indicating that Yvonne HILL has obtained an order in the Supreme Court of South Australia, which appears to have the effect of restricting the Association from withdrawing her from the Olympic Team. The Association is taking legal action and will act accordingly.

The members of the council share the disappointment of all team members but call upon them to understand this difficult decision."

On the Thursday preceding this meeting the ASA had a writ issued against it through its Public Officer, Mr David Hillan, in Adelaide. The President was informed of this action on the Friday when it was too late to arrange representation at court and on that same day the Supreme Court of South Australia issued a temporary injunction against the ASA which prevented them from interfering with the nomination of Mrs Yvonne HILL to the Australian Olympic Federation.

This writ was the reason why Mrs HILL was the only shooting member who was excluded from the withdrawal of the team by the ASA.

During the following week there were several media reports on television, radio and through newspapers in which both Mrs Yvonne HILL and Mr David HOLLISTER, the two small-bore rifle nominees, were featured. Neither of these two people sought advice from the ASA during this period, although they had both been contacted by the Section Manager and informed of the current situation.

The following Friday, June 13, 1980, the Australian Small Bore Rifle Association issued a further writ on the ASA which was to restrain the ASA from interfering with either of the two small-bore nominees to the Olympic Games, Mrs Yvonne HILL and Mr David HOLLISTER.

This second writ was presented in court the same day, but the ASA sought a deferment to the following Monday, 16 June 1980. The writ was heard in front of Mr Justice Mohr in the Supreme Court Chambers and not in the normal Supreme Court manner. The ASA was represented by the President and one other but both were prevented from presenting any evidence on behalf of the ASA. There was no reporting from that hearing and Mr Justice Mohr handed down a mandatory interlocutory injunction, which basically restrained the ASA from interfering with the two small-bore nominees.

Meanwhile, time rolled on and the date for departure of the team to Moscow was drawing close. A decision had to be made immediately. All of these extra problems placed a great strain on the resources of the ASA and those of several affiliates and many, many hours were spent by the honorary members of the ASA. Whether it was convenient or not, several of the officers of the ASA made sacrifices of their time and private jobs to follow this matter through.

Mrs HILL's case has still not been heard, so that the injunction that was handed down by Mr Justice Mohr took precedence over her original injunction that was placed against the ASA. The ASA was left in the position of having one of its affiliates, the Australian Small Bore Rifle Association, claiming action by invoking one of the clauses of the ASA Constitution which states—

"Any of the constituent organisations may refuse to accept a resolution relating in whole, or in part, to its own field of interest, and shall not then be bound by such resolution."

The ASA was then faced with the dilemma of determining whether the ASA would contest the decision handed down by Mr Justice Mohr, or whether the Association should decline to carry the matter any further as far as the court was concerned. The decision to seek further legal advice and go back to the South Australian court and appeal against the decision of Mr Justice Mohr was taken.

That appeal was heard before the Chief Justice of South Australia and was not granted because of the lack of time involved before the team departure for Moscow.

The only option then left open to the ASA was to take the matter to the High Court in Canberra and have the matter brought before Mr Justice Mason. However, before such action was initiated, the ASA would have to seek the approval of all the affiliates.

A further Special Meeting of the ASA was then convened in Sydney on 28 June 1980, with delegates present representing all the affiliates. All aspects of seeking further legal action were discussed, including the financial problems associated with such a procedure. Several of the affiliates indicated that they were not able to do so but indicated that they agree in principle to the matter.

When the matter was put to a vote the motion was lost and the ASA ceased to take any further action.

That Special Meeting also saw a change in the ASA Secretary position when the resignation of Mr David Hillan was accepted.

The Australian Shooting Association remains concerned that such actions by one of its affiliates has caused considerable unrest amongst its other affiliated bodies. Of particular concern is the retention of the ASA as the nominated parent body to the Australian Olympic Federation and other like organisations and the repercussions which such decisions, handed down against the ASA, might have to other parent sporting organisations.

Amateur sport in Australia is at a threshold and needs the security and backing of the Australian Government for all such matters.

Yours sincerely,

Peter L. Papps, PRESIDENT.

GLADSTONE GUN CLUB— AUGUST MATCH

(from Club P.R.O.)

Continuing his dominance in open competition this year, Gladstone shooter, Danny Casagrande added yet another major trophy to his collection when he took out the Queensland Double Barrel Continental Points Championship at Gladstone Gun Club on August 24.

The event was one of the features of the two day program which this year carried a tremendous range and variety of prizes and trophies, mainly due to the generous contributions from local jeweller, Phillip Sbizziri of Kin Kora Jewellers and well known National company, Sheaffer pens.

Visiting shooters from Geraldton in West Australia, Jeparit in Victoria, Mt Isa, Townsville, Rockhampton, Gemfields, Bundaberg and Mundubbera competed in perfect fine and warm Central Queensland Winter weather.

Other features on the smooth running, eight event program were the Port Curtis and District Deauville Doubles Championship which was won by the combination of Gladstone's Jim Elliot and Mt. Isa's Gus Beuchler. These two shooters teamed up in similar events in New Zealand earlier this year. Elliot received his second sash for the weekend when he shot his way to overall winner in the District Double Rise Championship.

During the lunch break on Sunday, selected teams from Gladstone and Rockhampton took to the tracks to shoot for the Vic Summers' Memorial Shield. At the end of the second and final round both teams were on equal scores which necessitated shooting an extra round. The Gladstone team led by Rick Hannah emerged the victors by one point.

Following the team shoot, competitors lined up for the blue ribbon event, the 50 target Kin Kora Jewellers Calcutta Handicap - eventual winner was visiting shooter, young Steven Hounsell from Jeparit, certainly a boy to watch in the future.

During the lengthy trophy presentation it was announced that Gladstone shooter, Laurie Tselepy, had generously donated a Central Zone Champion of Champions trophy which will be shot for at the Queensland Central Zone Titles to be held at Dysart later this month (October).

• Steven Hounsell (left) is congratulated on his win in the Kin Kora Jewellers match by runner-up, Bradley Busted.

Talk About Travel

A happy group of clay busters has just returned from South East Asia after sharing in a Jetset Tours — Australian Clay Target Association travel project.

The group toured Bali, Jakarta, Singapore and Malaysia, with a smaller party taking an optional four day visit to Northern Sumatra.

A total of twenty people participated in the project, the feature of which was the Pesta Sukan Shooting Festival in Singapore, and an international trap and skeet tournament conducted by the Royal Johor Shooters' Association. (Both these events have been reported elsewhere).

The driving force behind the project was Mervyn Whitelaw of Melbourne Gun Club. He is a veteran of five visits to Pesta Sukan, and is dedicated to sharing the sheer enjoyment of the match with as many other Australian clay busters as possible.

It is difficult to identify any particular highlight of the tour, as various people react differently to changing circumstances.

• The Aussies took an autographed boomerang to Singapore to present to the host Association. A moment of drama developed when the boomerang went missing during a public demonstration. The picture shows Peter Blackmore (nearest camera) and Merv Whitelaw mounting a search.

However, the three days spent on Bali were sufficient to prove that the island is idyllic — many of the group intend to return there privately at some later stage.

The party stayed at the Bali Beach International Hotel at Sanur, which is about six kilometres from Denpasar, Bali's capital city.

The traditional dancing was a feature of the visit, and the group sat entranced through performances of the Kechak Dance (the Monkey Dance) the Barong Dance (dance of good and bad spirits) and the Legong Dance, which was performed by a company of young girls, whose ages ranged from four to twelve.

The stay in Jakarta proved to be most interesting, and included a day tour to the mountain resort of Bogor. One of the main attractions at Bogor was the magnificent Botanical Gardens, which featured sections of horticulture from all over the world. The girls were left breathless by the display of orchids — literally, thousands of varieties.

The group was based at the Borobudur Inter-Continental Hotel for its sojourn in Jakarta — it proved to be a most satisfactory choice.

Then onto Singapore where the Holiday Inn Hotel was to be "home" for the shooters in the party for the next ten days.

During this time, the "tourists" flew to Medan, the capital city of Northern Sumatra. It was like entering an entirely different world, with European tourists still being a most unusual occurrence.

• A group of ACTA ladies inspects a native village on Samosir Island.

One of the prettiest spots in the world would have to be Lake Toba, which has formed in the crater of an extinct volcano, about one hundred and seventy kilometres from Medan.

In the centre of the lake is Samosir Island, the home of the Batak tribe, reputedly one of the most aggressive tribes in Sumatra. However, during the Aussies visit, the handcraft skills of the local people became the most outstanding feature.

Although the small touring party had originally intended to visit Padang (capital of Western Sumatra) before returning to Singapore, a cancelled flight, combined with messy re-scheduling, forced the group to return direct to Singapore.

The last few days were spent as guests of His Highness, the Tunku of Johor and the Royal Johor Shooters' Association.

Although the weather was a little unkind, the warmth of the hospitality more than offset the effects of rain and cold winds.

The stay in Johor culminated with a "party" at the Royal Istana (Palace), to which were invited about five hundred local identities and all the shooters and their families.

It is impossible to describe the standard of the surroundings, the food and the hospitality at this function — the nearest word that may be used is SUPERB.

The only real hassle of the trip occurred when the party was leaving Singapore Airport to return home.

Everybody had been over enthusiastic in their duty free shopping, which resulted in the baggage being a whopping 150 kgs over the limit. (This was AFTER Singapore Airlines had kindly agreed to carry the firearms at no excess!)

After a long tussle an acceptable rate of payment was established, and members of the group hurried on to the Singapore Airlines 747 jet which returned them to Australia.

USA INTEREST ENCOURAGING

The same enjoyment as that experienced by members of the group that travelled to South East Asia awaits members who join the ACTA group which will tour America and Hawaii for 30 days in July and August 1981.

One of the big advantages of joining a "common interest group" is that the traveller can get all of the convenience and economic benefits of group travel, but be assured of travelling with friends.

Until the dates for the 1981 Grand American Tournament have been announced — it is to be the feature of the ACTA tour — the tour itinerary cannot be finalised.

However, the price will be around the $3000 mark, which for 30 days and in times of dramatic airfare increase, is quite modest.

The size of the group will be limited — already a number of enquiries have been received. Have you sent your name to the National Office?

Central Zone Coaching & Administration Seminar - QCTA

(by Bev Grice)

At the Gemfields Gun Club over the weekend of August 2 and 3, 1980, the Central Zone Coaching & Administration Seminar was conducted, and once again the project proved highly successful.

Over 30 interested coaches and shooters attended on the Saturday, when the State Coaching Director Bill Stevens, and the Zone Coach Col Ennis, progressed thoroughly through the coaching manual. The seminar was opened by the Association's Vice President Ron Porter, and attendees were welcomed by Central Zone President Arthur Atcheson.

The shooters attending were very attentive during the sessions, and also participated fully in the question and answer segments. Four club coaches were recommended for accreditation by the zone coach. The QCTA is pleased to announce all four were successful. The club coaches were — Mr Norm Quince (Dysart), Mr Gavin Wright (Dysart), Mr George Cross (Gemfields), Mr Claude Pietzner (Eton-Mackay).

Saturday night, shooters enjoyed a social evening around the fire, following a superb meal. The ladies of Gemfields Club are to be congratulated on their catering during the weekend. It was super.

Sunday morning, the session commenced again with novices and experienced shooters arriving for tuition on the tracks. (The zone coach Col Ennis, formerly known as the "Mayor of Dysart" proved to be a super car salesman. On the way to the club, Col had the misfortune to be involved in a car accident — luckily no one was seriously injured. Col being in the right — for once — sold his wreck to the other motorist involved in the accident, hence the title Super Car Salesman).

While coaching progressed during the morning, Ron Porter and I, commenced the Administration Seminar. Once again those attending were to be commended on their attentiveness.

Our sincere thanks go to the Gemfields Gun Club committee, on hosting this weekend, and a special thanks to Mr and Mrs Ken Cross whose hospitality we shared over the weekend.

N.S.W.C.T.A. BREAKS DEADLOCK ON MAJOR TOURNAMENT DATES

(Staff Writer)

In one of the most telling administrative decisions for some time, the State Council of the N.S.W.C.T.A. has resolved to break the deadlock, which has existed in recent years in relation to the State Trap Carnival dates clashing with those for the Eastern States Guntree Championship.

The Eastern State Guntree Championship is a tournament which has been traditionally conducted by the Boggabri-Gunnedah Gun Club on the holiday weekend early in October for many years.

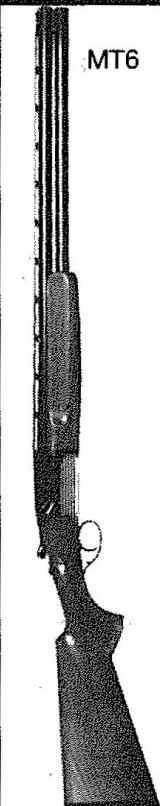

Since the formation of the N.S.W. Clay Target Association, and the consequent introduction of a State Trap Carnival, the Trap Carnival has been programmed for the same weekend, resulting in shooters in New South Wales having to decide to attend one or the other.

Despite many efforts to break the deadlock in relation to this clash of date, very little success has been realised up 'til recently.

The good news is that in 1982, the New South Wales Trap Carnival will be conducted during the Easter holidays. This move will result in all New South Wales shooters having the opportunity to attend the most enjoyable Eastern States Guntree Championship in the same year.

Leading administrators who have participated in this compromise solution to the problem are to be commended for the dedication they have shown to the progress of the sport.

Meanwhile, the 1981 State Trap Carnival will be conducted at Tamworth Gun Club, which has 5 trap fields and should accommodate the larger program adequately. Readers will be aware that for 1981, the State Championships have been extended to 50 targets.

CLUB NEWS

Hawkesbury Gun Club (NSW)

Club President, Mr Rex Gorling, has resigned due to the pressures being generated by his new business.

The Committee and members of the Hawkesbury Gun Club extend to Mr Gorling their best wishes, and wish to thank him sincerely for the great job he had done for the club.

The incoming President is Mr Joe Allotta, with Dean Feeney and Reg Clark as his Vice-Presidents.

The Club is currently installing a practice trap, which will be separate from the other shooting facilities the club offers, and will assist in the training of novices and other interested people.

The club had an exciting month during September when it promoted a major shooting tournament, substantially supported by Norman's Discounts and Toshiba.

A full report on this tournament will appear in the November issue of CTSN. Further information may be obtained from the club's publicity officer Mr Peter Hunter on (02) 9384964.

Albury/Wodonga Clay Target Club (NSW)

On October 11, the Albury/Wodonga Clay Target Club will conduct a major charity match, with the profits from the match being donated to the Albury/Wodonga Lifeline Charity Group.

This is an important charity and shooters are encouraged to support the match, which will commence at 12.30 pm.

Full details will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Werribee Gun Club (Vic)

Still on the subject of charity fund raising, the Werribee Gun Club will be conducting a major fund-raising shooting tournament on Sunday October 12.

The match will commence at 11.00 am and an extensive range of donated trophies will be offered.

Full details will be found in a full page advertisement which appears elsewhere in this issue of CTSN.

Dubbo Gun Club (NSW)

Disturbing news has been received from the Dubbo Gun Club that the President and Secretary have resigned from office.

The club has been directed by the very capable Bourke family for the last two years, and has shown remarkable growth during that time.

The announcement of the resignations — Austin Bourke was club President and his wife Robyn was Secretary — states that they become effective from July 7.

CTSN has not yet been advised of replacement office bearers.

Charleville Gun Club (Q'land)

The 1980 Annual General Meeting of the Charleville Gun Club resulted in the following persons being elected to office: President, Mr Jim Mahoney; Senior Vice-President, Mr Noel Gadsby; Secretary, Ken Eagle.

Bendigo Clay Target Club (Vic)

The recent Annual Meeting of this club resulted in Lindsay Jobling being re-elected for his second term as Club President. Glenn Woodhatch and Tony Woodcock were again elected as Secretary and Treasurer respectively.

These re-appointments emphasize the controlled growth and administrative strength by his club in recent years.

The club conducts tournaments on the first Saturday of each month, and a cordial welcome awaits any visitors to the club.

Port Lincoln Gun Club (A.A.)

Advice has been received of a change of Secretary at the Port Lincoln Gun Club. The new official is V.M. Docking, of 31 Angas Street, Port Lincoln, S.A. 5606.

Toowoomba Gun Club (Q'ld)

One of the most progressive clay target clubs in Australia, the Toowoomba Gun Club, recently conducted its 1980 Annual General Meeting.

Bob Donovan was returned to office for his second term as President, whilst long serving Secretary Ken Miller was also reappointed.

Club Captain is Don Wells, who completes a very able management team including Bob Donovan and Tom Robinson.

At the same meeting, the club announced the appointment of Mr Chum Cherry as an Honorary Life Member of the Toowoomba Gun Club.

Sunshine Coast Gun Club (Q'ld)

The club has introduced a tournament known as the Super Shoot, which is conducted over a period of 10 days each January.

ZONE CARNIVAL AT DALBY

(By Mrs R. Dean)

The third Trap Carnival conducted by the Western Zone of the Queensland Clay Target Association was held on July 19 and 20.

The host club was Dalby Gun Club, which proved to be a very popular venue. Sixty shooters attended on the first day, where the feature events were the Zone Double Barrel and Single Barrel Championships.

The Overall winner of the D.B. event was John Duyker who shot 69-69, to relegate Richard Dean to be winner of A grade on 68-69. Other grade winners were Bill Nioa B grade and D. Davidson C grade.

The S.B. event was won by Roger Knapp and the grade winners were: A grade Greg Woodbine; B grade John Kuyker; C grade N. Groth.

The second day attracted 90 entries, many of the new faces having appeared to contest the Eley Pointscore Trophy.

In this event, Doug Smith demonstrated once more how a new type of event really motivates him — when he won the event outright with the only possible, 90 points.

A grade winner was W. Stevens, B grade was won by K. Denyer and C grade was won by R. Bartley.

The best ladies performance was produced by Thelma Meadows, and the best 11 metres shooter was J. Sommerfield.

The Western Zone Champion of Champions Event was won by Richard Dean, after a brilliant performance.

The carnival was a resounding success, and the organizers wish to express their gratitude to Dalby Gun Club, for the way in which the grounds were presented, Eley Ammunition for sponsoring the major event, and Winchester Australia for the donation of the High Gun Award.

BRISBANE GUN CLUB 1980 "EXHIBITION SHOOT"

(from Tom Meadows).

Brisbane Gun Club traditionally conducts an annual two day tournament to coincide with Brisbane Exhibition Week.

This year, the match was advertised through television for the first time — a move which resulted in an increase of spectator interest at the club's Belmont range.

An extensive range of trophies, valued at $5000 was offered, and well over 100 competitors attended.

Trophy donors included: Barton's Boating; Winchester (Aust); Dunhill (Aust); Meadows Transport; Eley Ammunition and Imprint Printers.

The main event on the program for the first day was the Meadows Transport Service Medley, and attracted 110 entries.

The event included 15 targets off handicap marks, 15 targets point-score off 16 metres, giving a total possible score of 60.

Two shooters tied on 59-60, and the eventual winner was Greg Woodbine from Kallangur Gun Club.

Another large crowd attended the Sunday program, which included as the feature event the Dunhill Double Barrel Championship.

Many possibles were recorded but the grandfather of Queensland shooting (some say the Godfather!) in the person of Ron Porter, shot 62 to claim his third annual double barrel event.

A full results report will be found in the club summaries.

CLUB NEWS (Cont'd from page 34)

The dates for 1981 are Sunday January 11 through January 18.

Club members and interested visitors should list these details in their 1981 diaries.

Gulgong Gun Club (NSW)

Better known as the Ten Dollar Note Gun Club, the Gulgong Gun Club is experiencing very buoyant operating conditions.

The vivacious club Secretary, Mrs Pauline McIntosh has advised CTSN that the club is enjoying almost record attendances at its regular monthly matches.

It appears that shooters are still prepared to strongly support those clubs which offer a combination of well thought through programs together with nominations set at a reasonable level.

Keep it up Gulgong!

Guyra Gun Club (NSW)

Still on the subject of strong support for clay target shooting as a sport, it is interesting to note that three members of the Guyra Gun Club recently travelled to Darwin for that Club's annual 3 day shooting tournament.

On the same weekend, twenty members of the Guyra Gun Club attended a tournament at the Dorrigo club, which seems to be tremendous support from what is widely regarded as a small country gun club.

The Guyra members are to be commended for their enthusiasm, as are all the Association's members who show a similar desire.

Frankston/Australian Gun Club (Vic)

The retirement from the office of secretary of Mr Russell Learmonth has been announced by the Frankston/Australian Gun Club.

As a result, the committee has appointed Mr Bill McMahon to the position. Bill's address is 70 Eramosa Rd, East Somerville, 3912, Vic.

The club wishes to use the pages of CTSN to express its gratitude to Russell Learmonth for the job he has done during his term of office with the club, particularly during the last three years, which has seen the establishment and growth of the new combined club.

Charters Towers Gun Club (Q'ld)

Due to the resignation of Joan Cox, the club's efficient Secretary, Mr Bob Reed has been appointed as the new Secretary of Charters Towers Gun Club. Bob's address is Miner Street, Charters Towers, Queensland, 4820.

ELEY JUNIOR SHOOTING CHAMPIONSHIP FOR S.A.

by Pat Browne

An event open to girls and boys having junior status by A.C.T.A. rules and aimed at encouraging junior shooting within the S.A.C.T.A. has been introduced to South Australia by Eley Ammunition.

Announcing the event, Ray Mack, State Sales Manager for Eley said that the event had been enthusiastically accepted by the State Association.

In a letter to clubs he said that the competition was an ideal way to: 'advertise and run a junior promotion to encourage youngsters to participate in our sport.'

The format set down for clubs is that the event be run in conjunction with a normal double barrel contest or as a separate event on the program.

The final will be run in conjunction with the State Pointscore Championship. All club winners will be provided with two packets of shotshells to compete in this event.

The overall winner of the Junior Championship will receive a Sash and cheque for $50. Second place, a cheque for $30 and third, $20. Ties will be decided by count-back.

Shooters may only qualify once at any one club, but clubs may be represented by any number of qualifiers.

Clubs have been urged to make arrangements to shoot their qualifying rounds as soon as possible.

The years aggregate competition is being keenly fought with David Kevill marginally in the lead with 18 points followed by Bruce Hopkins 17, Roy Holtfreter 15.5, Geoff Way 14 and John Kevill 13.

The position with the aggregate High Gun Competition is not so close, David Kevill has a commanding lead with 35.5 points. There is however keen competition for second place. Roy Holtfreter has 16.5, John Kevill 16.25, Geoff Way 15.75 and Bruce Smart 10.5.

NORTHAM, 15, 16 & 17-8-80 — (55-96-165). Dist DB Chp Eley Air Fare, State DB Hcp Chp. Baillie Farm Field Chp: A very pleasing number of shooters attended the 3 day shoot, and apart from the unfortunate weather Sunday afternoon all events were concluded satisfactorily.

R. Pickard won the first event after a shoot off with J. Harris who won the A Grade section with David Kevill second.

Bruce Hopkins won the B Grade and J. Kevill runner up. D. Nowland won the C. Grade followed by F. Fairless.

Tim Catling added another "Air Fare" to his record by winning event 2 the "Eley Air Fare". A Grade was won by Wayne Pilkington with Robin Vailly 2nd. Max Bell won the B Grade with G Hyder 2nd. Brent Humphry took off the C Grade trophy. L. Patterson came second.

Event 3 was the State Double Barrel Handicap with a lot of qualifiers for the shoot off. This was eventually won by Kevin Hopkins with F. Fairless in second place and Eddie Humphry third.

The last event of the day, the State Walk-up was won by Robin Bailey after a shoot off from Murray Alexander with Wayne Pilkington in third place.

Sunday saw a change of scheme from the club grounds at Island Farm to Pam & Bruce Smarts property known as Baillie Farm.

At first it looked as if for once the weather would be kind, alas this was not to be, and around 2.30 pm the rain bucketed down accompanied by gale force winds, much to every ones discomfort. Unfortunate, but beyond our control.

Clayton Hyder put in two superb rounds to win the 1980 Baillie Farm Championship, which he won outright. Second and third place was left to Robin Bailey and Clive Shepherd to decide by shoot off. Robin Bailey eventually taking the second slot leaving Clive in 3rd place.

Other trophy winners were: 1st rnd P. Humphrey; 2nd rnd J. Harris, 'A' R. Eckersley, 'B' D. Holtfreter, 'C' E. Lewis., Skeet 0-2 M. Cubic, Skeet 3-5 Geoff Way, Skeet 6-10 M. Green, Lady Shooter Mrs D. Ireland, Jnr Shooter A. Charleson, Vet Shooter M. Madew.

Those who attended enjoyed the shoot. Michael Eddy won his first trophy, causing a few good natured remarks about the Eddy benefit shoot. Congratulations Michael!

We were all pleased to Bill Scimegour who has been away from clay target shooting for several years right back in the swing of things. Dean Ireland is to be watched as his shooting has been on a real up swing.

NEW SOUTH WALES

ALBATROSS, 2-8-80 — Fine windy night (11). 10t DR Hcp EO: J. McMillan, 3 shared 2nd B. Goodsell, A. Spillman, G. Crocker. 10pr Shoalhaven Dist DR Ch 16m: B. Goodsell, J. Perks, G. Crocker. 15t PS SS 16m: J. McMillan, 2 shared 2nd B. Goodsell, C. McDonald.

It was pleasing for the club to see so many spectators at a winter night shoot. This is but a small indication of the renewed interest shown in the sport of clay target shooting in the area.

ALBATROSS, 24-8-80 — Fine, ideal conditions (11). 10t DB EO: 1 possible Gary Crocker. Davies Newsagency PS Ch: J. McMillan 54-60. Shoalhaven Dist DR Ch: J. McMillan 15-20. Shoalhaven Dist DD Ch: J. McMillan & J. Perks 14-20. 10t Quail Shoot: Gary Crocker 9-10. Box Sweep: J. McMillan.

Due to a poor attendance the three championship events were amended to prizes for 1st only. Come on fellers, you can do better than that! Don't forget shooters, Sunday September 21 is the date for our big shoot, the Southern Zone Points Score Championship. A large contingent of shooters is expected to compete for the impressive list of prizes. Ian Rehbein (044) 24952.

ALBURY-WODONGA, 17-8-80 — Terrific (34). Mixed Tgts Ch: 'A' & OA Terry French 21-25, 'B' K. Hodge 20-25, 'C' G. Keir 20-25. 20t Hcp: K. Hodge 19-20, I. McGeoch 36-38, P. Birch 35-38. 5t SB Elim: 'A' S. Crisci 7-8, 'B' I. McGeoch 7-8, 'C' I. Burrows 11-12.

An excellent day for C Graders winning both Championships outright. Good to see Hodgey shooting well.

BARELLAN, 10-8-80 — Fine & sunny (40). 10pr DD EO: no possibles, 2pr shot 9-10 T. Salafia, A. Salafia, A. Poanne & N. McDermott. Nthrn Riv DD Ch: no possibles, M. Weymouth & M. Stanmore 18-20, A. After a very successful school children and novice shoot in the morning the club went on to the afternoon shoot with 8 new shooters. Unfortunately Barellan did not receive any sponsorship in the way of shells for the morning shoot, but many thanks to all who helped.

BATEMANS BAY, 17-8-80 — Fine (38). 10t DB Hcp CD: possibles G. Tweedie, J. Cole, J. Mitchell, J. Ford, D. Jordan, F. Quilter, P. Love, J. Topsfield, T. Mooney, J. # INTER-SCHOOL MATCH IN NORTH CENTRAL VICTORIA

(Staff Writer)

As further evidence of the growing interest in inter-school clay target competition in Victoria, the Wedderburn Gun Club recently promoted an inter-school clay target match for High Schools in the north-central region of Victoria.

Participating schools included Wedderburn, St. Arnaud, Charlton, Boort and Donald.

The day commenced with a safety talk by Mr Frank James, who is the north west Zone Coach for the Victorian Clay Target Association. His address was followed by a talk by Sergeant Brian Kinross of Bendigo Police, who emphasized the legal aspects of firearms use.

Then the representatives from the various schools moved out on to the shooting ground and competed at 20 targets single barrel from 16 metres.

The competition was of a high standard, with a number of the competitors showing the benefit of their previous coaching classes. The less experienced students received useful advice from Mr James, who was strongly supported by other members of the Wedderburn Gun Club.

When the results were posted on the board it was found that Boort High School had won the inter-school Shield with a score of 62-100 with Wedderburn High School in second place scoring 55-100.

The best schoolboy competitor was Wade Roberts from Wedderburn High School, and the best schoolgirl performance was produced by Pam Burge also of Wedderburn High School.

A spokesman for the North Central High Schools Sports Association spoke highly on the community benefit nature of the project, and commended the Wedderburn Gun Club for its dedication to improving the area of firearm safety within the secondary school system. He went on to explain that the cost to competitors had been kept to a minimum, mainly due to the generosity of gun club members.

SHOOTING A LINE PAT BROWNE

A very good friend of mine who shall remain nameless is a farmer in the mid-north of South Australia. He has little or no interest in clay target shooting. His son however over a number of years had been putting in some time as a trapper boy at the local gun club.

The young fellow, as he got older showed some interest in the game. It was not long before his couple of dollars earned from putting targets on the traps went towards the requirements of breaking targets coming out of the traps. Probably this sort of story can be repeated hundreds of times throughout this country.

Father, who only had an old rusty single barrel on the wall and a .22 rifle for vermin control could see that he was being lined up for a decent smoothbore for the boy. Being a cautious fellow as men on the land are known to be, the lad's grandfather's old side by side came off the top of the wardrobe as the first trap gun.

I happened to be there at the time of the presentation. Believe me, the look on that lad's face was worth a million words. The gun was no old clunker, but a mint condition Remington side by side trap gun, used by his grandfather in the good old days for you know what. It had been given tender loving care and it showed. I can also report that since it has been in the hands of the youngster, that care has continued.

Before long, the trapper boy from a year or two back became the junior shooter of today. Following his progress, I had noticed him shooting better and better scores. On my rather infrequent visits, I would listen to the stories of the gun clubs visited and the targets missed, of the good days and the bad. A junior version of us all.

He certainly worked hard on his game, the frequent phone calls for a couple of kilos of powder, shot, wads and primers to be put on the train attests that. He would spend hours at the loading press putting his shells together for a game that he had become very involved in.

Noticeable also was the fact that father and mother were taking to running him to the shoots and occasionally sticking around to watch him compete. The young fellow's shooting prowess suddenly started to bob up in conversations with them. I even started to get the odd phone call to tell me how he did at such and such a shoot.

Then, just before last Christmas, whilst on a visit, dad took me aside and asked me to get the youngster a new gun. He told me that the boy had spent the whole of his holidays on the header helping with the harvest and as he put it, never had he seen boy work harder. So, the brand new gun was to become a reality, but something that was earned the hard way.

Day was not sure what he wanted but he had overheard him talking about a pigeon grade something or other. That was enough for me and with some help from debonair Dick (Dick Ayres of Winchester Aust.) and Bob Fisher (of Fisher Firearms) the brand new Under & Over with some other goodies was duly dispatched to go under the Christmas Tree. I was not at the second presentation, but I am led to believe that it was as good as the first.

Well, it was if you had opened the barn door. That boy's shooting improved to a degree that was nothing short of amazing. The maturity was not there but by crikey could he hit targets. I settled back with that satisfying feeling that here was another kid growing up in the self disciplined world of clay busting and all was well.

Then I got a couple of phone calls. The first was two weeks ago. The young fellow was on the phone to tell me that he had shot 60 odd straight and had won a gun in the C grade division of a trophy shoot. I was a couple of hundred kilometers away but the excitement came through, he just had to share that triumph with somebody.

The second call came almost exactly to the minute, a week later. It was father, asking for some advice. At his local club, the lad had nominated in the junior shoot for the day. Three youngsters had shot 17-20, his boy being one of them. Come shoot-off time he was told he could not shoot on because he was 'too good'.

Dad wanted to know if this was allowed. My reply was that I doubted that it was, but I have since been informed by a referee examiner that clubs can do what they like at club level shoots. Oh well... It will give me something to think about, the words that is, when the youngster asks me WHY?

So, if there is anybody out there in the wonderful world of clay target shooting land who would like to buy a slightly used trap gun, drop me a line. I will put you onto a very disillusioned 14-year-old. Don't expect a bargain though, that lad has been through the mill. He worked damned hard for that gun and the success he had with it and it is very likely he will drive a hard bargain. What a shocking waste!

EDITOR'S MAILBOX

Dear Sir,

I am writing this letter in the hope the Association will consider giving Veteran shooters a better deal. By Veterans I mean shooters over the age of 60 who have been members of the Association and regular shooters for 25 years or more. My Father is one of those and I know how much he looks forward to going to clay target shoots, but his financial position now keeps him down to about one shoot every 5 or 6 weeks depending on the cost. My suggestions are...cut nominations for veterans to half and go a bit easy on the handicapping of them. When an oldie shoots a possible it is more good luck than management, so why not handicap them on performance over a period of say 100 or 200 birds from handicap marks, something like the 16 yard graded principle. Recently, my Dad won a gun from 16 yards and was immediately told he would go back to 19 yards as the gun was worth so much (Retail). He has since told us he would never be able to afford to shoot in handicaps again as it would be a miracle if he could hit 10 straight let alone 20 off his handicap now, he just cannot afford to throw $10 or $20 down the drain when he knows he has absolutely no chance of getting a cut by shooting a possible.

Hoping you can do something about it because a consistent old shooter must be worth something to the Association. There has been a lot said and written about the need to attract new shooters, which is a good thing, but you must know most new shooters only last a year or maybe two and you never hear or see them again, while the keen old shooter takes his punishment and keeps coming back for more.

Yours sincerely,

"A Shooter's Daughter".

(Ed. Note: From January 1, 1981, handicap alterations will be based on performance.)

Dear Sir,

I would like through your pages to congratulate the Sebastopol Gun Club on the innovation of half nominations for veterans (over 60 years). In my opinion this is very timely, as quite a few of our shooting friends have now attained that age, and are now retired from their normal avenues of employment and on reduced incomes.

If more clubs adopted the attitude of Sebastopol, I know that a lot of shooters in this age group would still like to participate in the sport without being inhibited by the relatively high cost of shooting these days. When you think of it, there aren't many sixty year olds fronting up in the winners circle these days.

I know of a couple of clubs who reduce nominations for sixty five year olds, but in my opinion this is too old, as most shooters begin stowing their guns around this age. The exceptions of course are the likes of that great shooter Geo. Biggs, who must surely be congratulated in his recent fine performance at Perth.

I again thank Sebastopol for their thoughtfulness and commend the idea to other clubs.

I am.

Yours faithfully,
J. BRENNAN
Bendigo.

Shoot with the accurate Australian.

Surprised? You shouldn't be. Winchester rimfire cartridges are made right here in Australia. Have been since 1967. Winchester knows what an Australian shooter demands. Power. And accuracy. The groupings below of comparable field rimfire rounds show that Winchester delivers just that. Five-10 shot groups were fired under laboratory conditions at 50 yards, with no room for human error.

(Under field conditions, of course, absolute accuracy is subject to human error.) Representatives were present from Sporting Shooters' Association of Australia, Victorian Field and Game Association, Small Bore Association and The Police Department, and verified all aspects of the test. Winchester was clear leader in both average and best 10 shot group (as illustrated).

When you specify Winchester, the accurate Australian, you give yourself an edge before you even start shooting.
