Australian Clay Target Association Inc.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT NOTES

It is with pleasure I bring to you my 1999 Annual Report. I believe the most significant step in the year was moving into our new National Office and the work that has been completed so far on the Complex to ensure the future of the ACTA and the sport of clay target shooting. To date our work is well within budgeted estimations and contrary to some rumours, we have not borrowed money, nor have we used any funds from the Legislation Account.

During the year we experienced some staff changes, with Graeme Brown finding the life in the country difficult to adjust to after living all his life in the City. Graeme resigned his position and Andrew Sanders was appointed Executive Officer. Deborah Brown left to take up a senior position with another Wagga Wagga company and with her went our best wishes. Rebecca Blair and Daniel Bond joined our staff as receptionist/typist and Accounts Clerk respectively, and we look forward to their time with us.

Our total membership for the year was 12,381. I believe this figure shows that the Association was able to maintain a significant number of the members who joined during the period of uncertainty in firearm ownership.

Again in 1999 our shooters continued to achieve outstanding results in all segments of our sport, both internationally and at home. In Down the Line our teams excelled at the World Championships in Wales with the Open, Veteran and Junior teams winning gold and our ladies team the silver. The most significant individual performance was the silver medal won by Terry Walls.

In ISSF events our shooters continue to lead the World. Our first gold medal for the year was won by Russell Mark in trap at the World Cup in Peru. Other medals won there were silver, in both the trap and double trap teams, and Clive Barton shot extremely well to win bronze in skeet. From the Cyprus World Cup we gained 1 silver and 1 bronze. On to Kumamoto, Japan, where Michael Diamond's efforts earned him the gold medal in trap and our team picked up silver. In double trap our men's team were the bronze medal winners.

Lonato, Italy in June and Tampere, Finland in July gave us a number of medals. Firstly, Lonato yielded 4 silver and 1 bronze, so it was to Tampere where we witnessed arguably the most outstanding individual performance for the year and the most significant team feat of all time. Michael's determination when all seemed lost came through and he finished with the World Championship title. His second gold medal came when, teaming with Russell and Glen Kable, we won our first ever World Championship gold. Suzie Trindall also shot extremely well at this event, winning bronze in the Junior Women, an excellent achievement.

New Zealand hosted the Third Commonwealth Championships and here Nidal Asmar, Craig Tilley, Nessa Jenkins, Suzie Balogh and Natalie Rahman all performed exceptionally well winning individual gold medals.

Many hours of tireless work is put in by our National Executive members to ensure the best for all. Our only Executive change for the year saw Bronte Evans return as the delegate for Northern Territory replacing Tony Brown. Welcome back Bronte and our thanks to Tony for his contribution whilst a member of the team.

Special thanks must be accorded to all our sub committees and their chairpersons for their positive input to the Association. It is unfortunate that often these members are subjected to unfair criticism, particularly the Rules sub-committee. We certainly welcome disagreement and debate, but always in a spirit of co-operation and, please, in the pursuit of a common goal.

To each executive member individually, I say thank you for your support and your work during '99. I must note a special thank you to my Vice President, and chairman of the Finance Committee, Bill Jones. Bill's judgement in both positions makes my task so much easier. Thank you Bill.

Let us remember with affection those among our numbers who passed away during the year. To their families left, we express our sympathy.

The Association is indebted to the Australian Sports Commission for their continued support. To our very valued sponsors, a very genuine and sincere thank you, your contribution is irreplaceable. We must also express our thanks to the City of Wagga Wagga and their council for the way in which they have assisted us in so many ways in our relocation to their city.

We have now moved into a new millenium and a new chapter in the Australian Clay Target Association. Let us all work for the betterment of our sport and our organization together. I firmly believe our future has never been brighter.

Glen Innes Gun Club

Hosting the Northern Zone Trap Carnival

Tony Schafer, Overall high gun winner

After months of preparation by the members of the Glen Innes Gun Club, the grounds were ready to host the NSW Northern Zone Trap Carnival.

During the previous month the Club had received notification from the landowners that its lease would not be renewed and the club would have to relocate.

The club grounds looked a picture with plenty of shade tents, flowers & shrubs in vases. Another innovation was members wives or daughters handing out pieces of fruit - (beat that Mick Shields!)

93 shooters nominated from Clubs as far south as Canberra, Orange, Sydney & SW QLD. The conditions were perfect for the first event which was a graded cash divide in which 39 possibles were recorded.

Event 2 was the Olympic Targets Northern Zone Double Barrel C'Ship and giving some indication of what was going to happen later on 30 possibles were squadded for the shoot off. Glen Innes had a reputation of being a hard Club to shoot a big break off. In fact John Farrell from Coffs Harbour held the ground record of 240 shot at a previous zone carnival. This shoot off was to continue into the next day to finalize overall & AA Grade with 3 contenders left - Tony Schafer, John Farrell & Brad Hooper. Brad was the first to miss with his 419 target. John Farrell missed his 506 target, giving victory to Tony Schafer from Cessnock with a great score of 506/506.

The Northern Zone Single Barrel C'Ship was started on Saturday afternoon once the Double Barrel shoot off was in 1 squad. Surprisingly there were only 2 possibles - Tony Schafer & Jim Hunter (who had driven 16 hours to attend this shoot). This event was also finalised on Sunday morning with victory going to Jim Hunter from Eromangai who shoots with the Scrubby Creek Gun Club, with a score of 86/86. Tony Schafer's break finally came to an end with his 85th target, giving him a long break of 611 - congratulations.

After the shoot offs the first event on Sunday morning was again another graded cash divide with 38 possibles sharing in the sweepstakes. The Northern Zone Point Score C'Ship was the next event and no possibles. Col Burt and Tony Schafer on 148/150 shot off for the Overall, which was over after only 2 targets, giving victory to Col Burt of Tamworth with a score of 154/156 from Tony Schafer 153/156.

The Zone Teams were finalised after this event and good luck to those competing against the other zones later on in the year.

The last event was the 50 Target Double Barrel Sapphire Coast event and after the 50 targets there were 15 possibles. A gusty head wind kept the shot off to a shorter version compared to the Double Barrel C'Ship. Ian Burey from Glen Innes claimed Overall victory with 114/114 from Brad Hooper of Kempsey with a score of 113/114.

No shoot offs were required for High Guns. Tony Schafer claimed Overall, Brad Hooper AA Grade, Ian Burey A Grade, Peter McGuire B Grade & Ian Thompson C Grade. The Ladies High Gun was won by Cindy McBean, the Junior by Scott Wallis and Les Kennedy was successful in the Veterans.

Some good scores were recorded and the secretary has placed orders for plenty of break badges and the handicapper assisted with thanks by Barbara Nash saw plenty of shooters break into higher grades.

Brad Hooper, AA high gun and Northern Zone winner.

The hard working band of wives in the kitchen assured us that lunch and afternoon tea were well catered for and many thanks for their dedication.

Full results of this shoot appear in the results section.

I was just putting the finishing touches to this report when I was advised of the sudden passing of Col Burt from Tamworth. No doubt there will appear tributes to Col from the Tamworth Gun Club, but I would like to say that to attend a shoot with Col be it from a club monthly shoot through to a Nationals, as I and many others have had the privilege of, we knew we would enjoy his company, competitiveness and his humor. The Club extends its condolences to his wife Jenny and to his family.

COMMONWEALTH BALL TRAP 2000

On Saturday 29 January 2000, at Nepean Clay Target Club, the Commonwealth Ball Trap Championship was contested in fine weather with a light breeze. This is normal for Nepean as the scores indicated.

At the end of the first 50 targets Peter Mills (Cerberus) 50/50 was ahead of Chris Carrol (Cerberus) and Craig Henwood (Melbourne) with 49/50, but they could not keep the pressure on and Peter finally won overall by two targets.

Scores:

AA: P Down 93/100, K Rose 91/100, C Henwood 90/100

A&O/A: P Mills 95/100, C Carrol 100/107, E Allison 99/107

B: L Howell 91/100, N Quick 89/100, M White 86/100

C: G Beckworth 87/100, D White 81/100, A Holloway 80/100

Burdekin Gun Club 100 Target Day Results

Sunday February 13th saw 52 shooters chasing the trophies at the Burdekin Gun Clubs Annual 100 Target Double Barrel Day. The day began with hot and sultry conditions in the morning and saw a slight breeze picking up after lunch. Traditionally this sort of weather produces outstanding scores at this club despite the oppressive humidity. This day was to prove no exception.

The day began with a 10 Target Pointscore sweeps to clear away the cobwebs. Then it was down to business in the first round of the 100 Target. 13 shooters managed to make the start they wanted by putting together the first 25. Nothing too outstanding in that, out of a field of around 52 shooters. The second round and 22 shooters managed the 25. At the half way mark nine shooters had the 50/50. Round three saw only 2 shooters fall by the wayside as 16 possibles were recorded.

Seven shooters made up of 2 AA Graders, 4 A Graders and 1 B Grader started the last round with a score of 75/75. In an exceptional performance all 7 held their nerve to shoot off the last 25 clean. With no Overall trophy on offer, Port Denison shooter Geoff Dalton could put his gun away and settled down to enjoy the shoot off safe in the knowledge the case of shells for B Grade was his. Burdekin members Ray Colinson and Max Nicolaides knew they were guaranteed a place as they went out to shoot off for AA Grade.

Max let the 41st target of the shoot off slip away and had to settle for the half case of shells.

A Grade was where all the pressure was, 4 shooters and only 2 places. First to drop out was Port Denison Junior Matt Gall who missed target 5, followed by the Burdekin Clubs House Manager, Steve Nixon at target 17. We were down to the serious business and local club president Glen Rea prevailed in the end with a score of 136/136, from another Burdekin member Robert Falco.

Second in B Grade saw Ian Turner of Charters Towers and Peter Giardino of Burdekin shooting off with 99/100. 37 Targets later and Ian was successful. Pat Dury from Townsville took first in C Grade with a score of 95/100. A score of 94/100 saw local members Mario Emmi and Dee Colls tied for second, Mario winning the shoot off when Dee missed her second target. The women's winner was Annette Vassalini with a very good score of 98/100.

The good scores saw five shooters go up at least one grade. Squad 7, which consisted of 5 shooters, shot a combined score of 249/250 over the last 50 targets. The only AA graded in the squad (and I won't mention your name Doug Killick) being the culprit on his third last target.

The day ended with some very tired shooters especially amongst the locals who not only had to shoot in the hot humid conditions, but also were involved in running the shoot.

The club would like to thank the visitors who travelled to help make this the successful event that it turned out to be.

There are two great events this month. The first being the ACTA Nationals, the other the wedding of Marivic Manalon to Karl Nasarenko and the wording of the ceremony would be like this.

Do you Karl take Marivic in squad 4 on lane 3 to be together as in Deauville Doubles and remember that in Deauville Doubles there is no malfunction.

Do you Marivic take Karl for better and never complain about your new handicap?

Best wishes and best of luck to both of you. Have a great lifetime together.

It reminds me of the young couple getting married and the groom to be said to his future wife, "We don't know a lot about this safety stuff and we don't want children straight away, so you go and see your mate in the chemist and she will give you good advice". So the next day the bride went to the chemist and talking to her girlfriend told her their position, getting married and not wanting children, etc. So the girlfriend showed her several gadgets and after thinking for a while she chooses something like balloons without blowing them up. So she said "How do you buy them" and her girlfriend said "Loose in packs and most colors". So then the bride to be said, "I will have blue, green and yellow packs".

So eight months after the wedding the wife returned to the chemist and asked her girlfriend could she fit her with a nursing brassiere and her friend said sure no trouble all I need to know is what bust? And the wife thought for a while and said it was the yellow one's that burst!

Best of luck to those off to the Nationals; hope you have good weather.

As I stated our website address is www.metc.org.au and our first correspondence was with Keith Miles USA and his dad kept in touch with Bill McCulloch who was Sec/Editor of Australian Clay Pigeon Shooting News in the fifties. His dad migrated from Wales to USA in 1909 and was enlisted in Washington State Trap Shooting Hall of Fame.

I am not up to all this website stuff as this is the work of Holly, our secretary, and talking about websites, a lady told me she puts her order on the web and has it the next day. I said fifty years ago the order man came in the morning and delivered that afternoon, I think we are going backwards.

On this day, Ted Turton received news that he had a leg in carrying the torch for Sydney 2000. Ted carried the torch in 1956, so he knows what it is all about. Ted isn't sure where his part of the run is yet but thinks it's on Fraser Island. Watch those dingoes Ted. Good luck Ted.

Today is Australia Day, and of course I am upset about not getting a place in the honour list. But wouldn't have been able to go out and accept it as today is the day to put out the rubbish bin and a super game of cricket.

31-1-00 The Day the Bible Came

They say the truth always comes out and that may be the case in MTB, which said Paul Anderson on the whisky, I said won the whisky, but I could be wrong. Also we have a new shooter, Gino Dollisson. I will have to see if he has paid up.

Bundaberg Presidents and Patrons Tribute Shoot. 30-1-00

You can't keep a good shooter down, as in the case with Graham, he said he was going to Bundy even if he had to walk. His wife wanted the car, Graham started walking from Rocky with his gun, ammo, ham sandwich and his book of dirty jokes, just before daylight, and was lucky going through Gladstone and saw Ray Wise and got a lift to Bundy.

Graham gave me a few jokes for MTB, and I put them in bleach overnight but they didn't come clean. Good to see you again Graham.

Talking to Cheryl in the kitchen and she has spread her wings and bought Dodd's Convenience Store out of Bundy. Congratulations Cheryl and best of luck. Not knowing what convenience really meant

I looked it up in the dictionary, which said 'ease, suitability. A lavatory'. I suppose it would be handy if your plumbing is stuffed up.

Well, visitors were Graham Rudd, Vic Hyde, (good to see you back shooting Vic), Jim Riggs, the story teller Graham Whitfield (Rocky), Ray Wise, Allen & Peter Purkis, Adam Healey (Gladstone), Tony Coco (Sarina), Barry Zimple (Mungungo), mum and son combination Beth & Ben Zillman, Frank Robinson (Central Burnett), Phillip Warren, Bruce Walker, Peter Pagliarino, Harry Walker and yours truly (Maryborough).

New shooters to join Bundy on the day were Stafford Smith and Malcome Dawson. Welcome to Bundy. Kitchen staff were Cheryl, Edie, LeeAnn and Auriel. Thanks for a great job, as we left early we took numbers on whisky quickly board and Auriel said if we won she would deliver it for a nip. So Monday morning and Stafford rang and told me I won the quicky board but instead of whisky, it was $20 and Auriel dropped it in my mailbox while shopping. So I was looking for its arrival, as Auriel couldn't get a nip of whisky I was willing to cut the corner of the $20 but she was too slick for me as I had the bible and most likely had my head in it. Thanks a lot Auriel, you would make a good posty. And I forgot to include Irvine Wynyard in the visitors who is from TLGC. Irvine and Peter Pagliarino are both shooting in the NZ Nationals, which should be over when this is out, best of luck and good shooting fellas.

The meat tray raffle was won by Graham Harriman and in the results, he is every where. Good shooting Graham.

Congratulations and welcome to Brian Goddard doing his first stint as Club president. A big improvement in the shoot, but I wasn't impressed in doing two events in sunshine and the last two in the rain. It's back to the drawing board with that idea Brian. Best of luck Brian. And Brian has Tony Clark Sec and Wal as treasurer, who will see you through "I think."

I asked Marivic and Karl if the wedding was still on course and Karl said he has to build up the dowry money before they could set a date.

Wilma and Neil Berry dropped in to see friends and said he was driving home from Norfolk island, I thought you had to fly to Norfolk but Neil must know a short cut!

Gary Forsythe from Tin Can Bay Game and Field had a shoot thanks to Yvonne and Marge in the kitchen. Craig Morris drew the jackpot but only shot three, better luck next time Craig. And lucky Glenda Post won the meat tray raffle, the Posts eat again!

MOUNT ISA GUN CLUB FEBRUARY SHOOT

The Mount Isa Gun Club held its shoot on Saturday night. Thank you to the shooters who came across from Cloncurry to the shoot. You offered some great competition to our shooters and it is good to catch up with you all. It was great to see Rino Zanette shooting 66 targets in a row without dropping any during the night. Rino also clean swept the prizes in "B" grade for down the line shooting, and Peter Bosel for "C" grade. Well Done.

The conditions for the shooters were very hot and humid in the afternoon. The clouds built up and there was lots of lightning in the distance and the rain held off. A breeze later in the evening made the conditions more pleasant for the shooters.

The first event of the day was the 25 Targets Skeet Handicapped. Dave Stitt won 1st place with 43/45 and second went to Kevin Streeter with 45/48 and third to Jamie Cameron with 34/39.

Second event was 25 Targets Skeet Graded. Mick McGill with a perfect score of 25/25 won "A" grade, "B" grade went to Kevin Streeter with 22/25 and "C" grade had to go to a shoot off to decide who was the winner. Mick Coleman won with 32/35 after defeating Jamie Cameron in a shoot off.

Event three was 25 Targets Skeet Doubles. Mick McGill with 23/25 won "A" grade, "B" grade once again went to Kevin Streeter with 19/25, and "C" grade again went to Mick Coleman with 18/25.

Once the sun went down it was time for event 4, 25 Targets Double Barrel Equal Score. In "A" grade Mick McGill and Rod Cusack both shot 25/25 and had to go out for a shoot off to decide the winner. McGill won out with 27/27. "B" grade also had Rino Zanette and Adrian Pope shooting 25/25. Zanette won the grade 27/27. Peter Bosel won "C" grade with 23/25.

Event 5 was 25 Targets Double Barrel Point Score off 15 metres. Once again two shooters Rod Cusack and Ted Matthews shot 24/25 and went in the shoot off which Cusack won with 98/99. Rino Zanette again won "B" grade with 74/75 and "C" grade once again went to Peter Bosel with 55/75.

The final Event on the program for the evening was 25 Targets Continental Single Barrel off 15 metres. "A" grade had Ron Power, Darryl Grant and Rod Cusack all shooting 25/25. Power won the grade with 24/27. Zanette again won "B" grade with 23/25 and "C" grade by Bosel with 19/25.

That concluded the days events.

Col Burt

Dear Members,

I write this vale with a very heavy heart, the loss of Mr Col Burt was a great shock to myself and all that knew him.

He was the epitome of what a true sportsman should be, kind, considerate, unassuming and always the true Gentleman.

I have only known Col for approx. 10 years but in that time considered him to be a friend and positive influence to all that met him.

Our sport can not afford to lose such a fine man as Col, but can only hope his influence and memory will live on in those who he touched throughout his long sporting career.

To his family and many friends, especially his beloved Tamworth club, we at Sydney CTC extend our deepest sympathy; he will be sadly missed by all.

Colin Burt

It has been our pleasure and privilege to have known and been associated with a true gentleman, sportsman and dedicated ambassador for the sport of Clay Target shooting in Australia.

My first memories of Col began many years ago while attending a New Year shoot at Coffs Harbour Gun Club. A couple of long haired surfy lads drove into have a look. They were soon talked into having a shot. Col was one of these lads and he participated in most of the shoot offs and eventually won several of the major events. Col in my opinion was one of the best coaches in Australia and had a gift for being able to communicate with junior and new shooters. With his easy going attitude and joking manner he could lift a shooters morale and have them achieve their best.

On Many occasions I have seen Col with a car load of junior shooters on board, driving to major shoots all over Australia. One memorable occasion was a trip to Darwin.

I am sure Col got tremendous joy and satisfaction watching his pupils compete and rise to higher and higher achievement. Col himself was one of the top shots in Australia, taking part in all disciplines of Clay Target shooting. He excelled in all.

We have lost a friend, gentleman and sportsman.

God bless you Col and thanks for your friendship.

Colin Laurence Burt

"Burty"

24-8-1952 - 14-2-2000

Eulogy as delivered by Ross Freestone at Colin's Funeral Service on 18th February, 2000

Please be patient whilst I read this as I felt it could not be condensed.

Jenny, firstly I wish to express my appreciation to you in requesting myself to perform this very honorable privilege.

Just before I proceed with Colin's Eulogy, I wish, on behalf of Jenny and the related families to express their sincere gratitude for your thoughtful and kind representation here today for the Celebration of Colin's life.

Burty, although it is difficult for us to accept and deal with the thought of your permanent absence, alternatively we will seek solace and calm from your givings and the indelible pleasant and rewarding memories that you have so naturally instilled within us. Our consoling factor is knowing that you are now in the hands of your maker in the tranquil and beautiful expanse of Heaven where you have been called Home to Rest.

Colin would not want his Funeral Service any other way than for you all to extract some further happiness that this may provide. The world has not enough of him in it although we must be extremely thankful for what we have had.

Well, it all commenced on 24-8-1952 at Inverell the 7th precious child and 4th son - named Colin Laurence to Robert and Nita Burt. Inverell High Scholl provided the culmination of Colin's secondary education prior to his joinery apprenticeship to Bill Baker of Mt Russell - which he completed in 1971. A move to Tamworth provided him an employment undertaking with Dickenson Constructions allowing him the opportunity to attain his certificate as Building Foreman and Clerk of Works which 1974 yielded for him.

His skill, imaginable foresight and workmanship standards in all facets of building construction was accurately superb with impeccable adherence to detail.

His serious shooting skill initialized at Inverell RSM Gun Club in 1972 and later when he packed his bags to move to Tamworth it came too. A shotgun was not his first involvement with firearms or the like - it was gunpowder, which reigned supreme. Whilst still at Inverell at the ripe old age of 23 he decided to give his then 10 year old nephew, Stephen a lesson in explosives.

So a 2lb tin of gunpowder was emptied down an ant's nest and he proceeded to throw matches until the entire thing blew up - spreading the ant and the ant bed into an area the size of a tennis court.

Anyway, he settled in Tamworth and turned up at Attunga where the local grounds were situated for his first local shoot - and Graham Wilson - that's Roo Wilson - thought who is this long haired lout - definitely not the polished look that Roo was! Col's blonde colour hair draped to shoulder length but gee could he shoot! He didn't need that second barrel much either - but when he did it didn't seem to work as well as it should have. We never checked that 2nd tube in that double barrel gun for straightness though. Roo and Col were responsible for the present location of the Tamworth Clay Target Club in excess of some 23 years ago. Col making the major decisions on its position, aspect and building design. With Colin's exceptional construction skills and Graham's father - The late Bill Wilson - donating the sawn timber from his property provided the necessary building materials. The slab was poured in the cold winter month and Colin's extreme concern of frost damage to the newly poured slab encouraged him to sleep on sit in a wheel barrow with a few bags for blankets - so he would be ready to light fires to keep the frost off the slab if necessary.

The bar was not constructed then however 6 packs had just reached vogue. Col never missed a working bee and always doubled the effort of any individual. He also carted the timber for that complex in his utility and about this time he was shortly elevated to Presidential status of the club and his self employed business - Centreline Building Constructions had well and truly evolved.

The Loomberah range was up and running, it is Skeet Carnival time and the boys have been having some pre shoot practice the day before. Adrian Cousens arrives in Tamworth for the first time - one thing leads to another and Adrian discloses his fancy of shooting targets from the hip - so Colin is summoned forward - unbeknown to Adrian of Col's harnessed skill within. Burty could shoot 23/25 off the hip on a skeet layout and he was just as efficient at double rise. Remember, he'd given you that cheesy grin of a scoundrel and his famous words were - "watch this" - closely followed by his peculiar laugh. The duel between Colin and Adrian finishes halfway around the skeet layout on station 4 - Col has a target lead and Adrian states - "I think you better call him off". Roo wins the first days championship, Burty wins the next day and High Guns the whole event and the next year Adrian fairly disgraces any opposition and later on becomes Australia's best skeet shot and world champion.

Some of you may not be aware of this but Colin was Australia's No. 1 - he was Mr. Exception - he was the very best and unequalled as the nations loudest snorer!! So bad that when Col and Roo were at a Sydney location and were sleeping apart on a verandah - that Roo got so esaperated he tossed his boot at Burty - there was a slight silence momentarily - then Burty recommences snoring - Roo reaches for his other boot and hears "Don't throw that one at me" as he pretended to be asleep.

At an event in Griffith his snoring was so atrocious his camper van was reverberating. The lads decided it would be best to relocate it a further 300 yards away and guess what - Burty didn't miss a beat.

It is now 26-10-1985 - at least he has someone to love and care for him - Burty marries Jenny Etheridge - she endeavors to form Col into some organizational standard, however not a thing changes. Her patience still persists and Col would have definitely been overwhelmed with her dedicated effort. He'd forget his lunch, his appointments and his arrangements - but never Club shoots and definitely not the Dog.

On 26-4-1988 he gained his level 3 coaching Accreditation and was 1 of only 4 at that stage in Australia. He also served on the NSW Clay Target State Executive for almost 20 years and held various responsible positions including Vice President and Handicapper. He was also the State Coaching Director for 5 years - not only that - there is more.....

Burty was the King of the Kids - Hal and Shirley Burke's daughter Kate - when she was about 16 or 17 - not that far back-expressed how she would like to go to the show - so Col sympathetically volunteered when she stated that she had nobody to take her. Not much time had elapsed when they both returned. Hal and Shirley - bewildered at their early arrival and Kate explains - Col got sick on the rides!

Well, back home on the range he provided his professional coaching services to a couple of young boys who are real keen and puts in countless voluntary hours for a close mates sons. His good mate was Col Barton - but he was always "mongrel" to Burty - but I knew he didn't mean it. The sons of course, Clive and George. His time and dedication eventually pays off as they represent Australia at International events and enjoy extreme National success also. Further and supplementary to his coaching he seeks local sponsorship to assist Clive with his financial burden towards his overseas success. In 1996 Colin flew to Kuala Lumpur to watch Clive compete in the Commonwealth Games - a trip Burty self subsidized.

You know Burty was also a difficult contender on a snooker table - anything that demanded eye movement or any form of alignment he was the master.

But Learner Days - they were the best value of the lot. When new shooters showed interest in learning clay target shooting - the Down-The-Line layout would be used and Col would hide totally out of sight around the side of the skeet layout which shared common ground and hit their targets for them - especially if they missed - or even before they fired!

With his shooting he had exceptional psychological discipline - he never detracted this focus from the next target procedure. If you would have asked - say through a 25 target trap event how many targets remaining - he would have had to count his shells left to provide the answer.

Recently in Wagga he achieved National Champion in Skeet Shooting - he had won titles of most forms of clay target shooting and at various Zone and State Levels. His trophy room is indicative of his immense talent and his success too numerous to mention.

I enjoyed a lot of rifle shooting expeditions with Colin and one night in the spotlight he shot a duck in full flight using his unsighted .22 rifle like a pistol. Some 12 years back I contacted him to see if had a bit of spare time to assist me in the new found art of using a shotgun. He would always down tools or whatever and state - "It wont take us long - or it's not far to the gun club".

A thoughtful, considerate and unselfish man - a perfect and true inspiration to mankind - but step well aside if you ever stood on his toes.

On a more serious note, in the mid 90's Col is diagnosed with cardio myopathy - and in 1996 receives a pacemaker to keep him fired up. Prior to this he had warning signs when he blacked out one day whilst at work. It was medically revealed that he was in trouble and options were short on.

This new artificial addition never impeded his drive or determination, as hard work was never considered an obstacle. His life obviously was somewhat lengthened but a magic wand could not be waved.

From May 1999 he made tremendous structural improvement and additions to the ACTA National Shooting Ground at Wagga. A brief return to Tamworth for a break caught him up on accumulated odd jobs at home and then he returned to Wagga on 9th February for another final stint - which was to last about 2 months.

Regrettably someone superior decided that he was needed elsewhere for a well earned rest as he had put the equivalent of nearly 96 years in down here and given his all.

Please be thankful for the fulfillment he has provided, how he has served, the various ways he has successfully achieved, the lessons we have so generously learnt, the laughter we have shared with his humorous and jovial interaction with us during his existence.

From all of us Col, Good Luck, God Bless and Farewell on your new journey - you are 110 out of 100 - you could never be duplicated - your memories will be forever immortalized - our lives have been so much more enriched by your being.

Thanks mate for what we have all received - and Dear Lord, because he is so special could you please take good care of him for us.

Dear Editor

I write in response to Mr L Crema's letter as published in the "Your Say" section of the Feb 2000 Edition of the News.

I agree with Mr Crema, that the Targets thrown at State and National Championships should be of suitable or best quality, and not just what can be brought at the cheapest price. No one in business just blindly accepts the cheapest quote. What is needed is the BEST price for a suitable or acceptable quality. I contend that the only acceptable quality for competitors, who are paying top dollar at these Championships, is the BEST POSSIBLE TARGET QUALITY. If the ACTA buys cheaper targets that prove to be unacceptable, then the ACTA can be subject to criticism for that decision. No Club or Organisation has the right to throw a substandard target (perhaps ESPECIALLY the governing body).

I do, however, strongly disagree with Mr Crema's approach to the issue of the suitability of the newer Traps (and also to Mr Cousen's article in the December News), and I do so for the following reasons:

1. Between them, they have not put forward a scrap of evidence on the facts of this matter, even though between them there is over half a century of, so called, experience.
2. The newer Traps, including those at Wagga Wagga, use the same principle of a drive motor and linkage to oscillate the trap as was the case in what appears to be their fondly remembered "good old days".
3. The computer in the Traps at Wagga Wagga, or as Crema calls it, the "electronic means", does not determine the position of the nest target. I have again looked into it with the Manufacturer today, and it is clear that Mr Crema does not understand how these traps actually function.
4. My wife Janenne, has accumulated first hand evidence from the Traps at our Club that shows that the spread of Targets is not biased in any particular direction. We would be happy to provide that information if necessary. This data supports the advice and data given to us by the Trap supplier.
5. When Messrs. Cousens and Crema remember the 'Good old days' of continuously oscillating Traps, (or do they mean those traps fitted with an interrupter) are they remembering or were they watching the traps that leading shooters used to "read", with an associated higher percentage of straight-aways, or do they actually have any facts to put forward?
6. While Mr Crema may have stated 32 years "involvement" in the Sport, I question how much of that has been actually competing, down on the firing line, looking closely at the targets, in the last decade or two.
7. Most shooters in NSW know what brand of Trap is installed on the National Ground. I am surprised that the ACTA would allow the unproven and unsubstantiated attacks on the very basis of that Company's product by Mr Cousens and Mr Crema through your shooting news.
8. Those same Gemini Traps have been installed at my Clubs Grounds (Sydney CTC) (where they are used every Wednesday, every Friday, some Saturdays and every Sunday). Apart from some issues with the springs, I have to say that, from my observations, they have behaved well, are unreadable by the cheats and we have proven, at least to our satisfaction, that they do not throw with any bias (of either too many targets favoring any one angle, or not enough targets to any one angle).

Yours sincerely
Geoff Kidd

Dear Editor

Thank you for the series of articles published under the heading "Cuzzo's Ramblings". I'm sure that like myself many readers find Adrian Cousen's uncommon sense and thought provoking style of writing both enlightening and refreshing.

The February article regarding rule variations and chivalry amongst the top echelon of shooters are fine examples of how our sport should be.

Yours faithfully
Tony Edgar

Dear Editor,

If I am the woman referred to in the letter from Bill Attwood in the February Edition of your magazine, as the person who went to Japan without having "won the right to wear" the Australian Jacket, I write to correct this statement.

Like many other competitors, I have spent countless hours in training and many dollars in my quest to achieve the highest performance I was capable of. Before representing my Country at the Olympic Games, Commonwealth Games, several World Championships, and many World Cups, I was averaging between 15 and 30 hours a week in training. At the time I was also holding down a fairly demanding full time job and rearing three children single-handedly.

Thanks to the support of my family, coaches and the training I did, I was privileged to win nineteen International Medals, mostly in World Cups, but including gold and silver at one World Championship.

Since retiring from competition, I have coached shooters, taken teams away as either a manager or coach (sometime both) and promoted all forms of target shooting in any way I can.

As the nominated Section Manager for Shooting at the Sydney Olympic Games it is a requirement that I travel with Clay Target shooters as a manager. Whilst I am a newcomer to Clay Target, apart from nearly shooting off a cruise ship many years ago, I believe I have earned the right to wear the Australian Jacket.

Yours sincerely
Yvonne Hill.

Dear Sir/Madam,

With reference to Cuzzo's Ramblings in the December 99 Clay Target Magazine, and Mr Crema's letter on page 18 of the February 2000 Issue of the CTSN.

I for one would like to congratulate the NSWCTA and the ACTA on their choice of traps installed at the Wagga Grounds. For the first time in their history they have been able to provide an absolute level playing field for the DTL competition. As a result of their choice no competitor attending future State or National Titles held at Wagga is disadvantaged. Coming from me, the statement may be biased, but that does not change the fact that it is true.

The fact that these machines do not require a trapper for the throwing of double rise targets is an added bonus, but it may well have been the deciding factor in why the where purchase.

Congratulations to everyone concerned.

As far as Mr Crema's statement as to how these machines functioned, nothing could be further from the truth. As he was given a 9 page document some 4 years ago explaining how they functioned, the following is relevant "you can lead a Horse to Water, but you can't make it drink".

Before I go on lets name these machine at Wagga. They are the Gemini Clay Target throwers, and by naming the place, (as most shooters know what is installed at Wagga) the letter and the article have identified the machines and their statements are directed toward one product only, so lets stop kidding yourself.

Cuzzo's Ramblings in the December 99 Clay Target Magazine.

None of the statements, assumptions and conclusions drawn by the author or anyone else in the article with respect to the throwers has any bases of fact. In the way the article describes these machines the reader is entitled to come to the conclusion that the Gemini machined used at Wagga are totally unsuitable for the purpose that they were designed for.

The article serves only one purpose. It gives support to all the unsubstantiated existing rumors and creates some new ones about the Gemini throwers. In order to limit the amount of damage (and the phone calls tell me so), that the article has and will cause in the future, I have no option but to reply with a factual lengthy detailed article in the next Issue. Because of the details required I will be forced to disclose factual propriety information that was never intended for public consumption, as a result, other manufacturers will gain valuable information as to what makes the Gemini machine tick.

In paragraph 6 & 7 with reference to pick-ups the author continues as he started, jumping to conclusions without any facts.

In order to draw any valid conclusion he needs to know the answers to all the following questions: Total energy required breaking a target? Distance from the gun to where the target was hit? Velocity of the shell being used and the choke of the gun? Shot size being used? Angle of the shot pellets relative to the target were the marks made? Which side of the spinning target were these marks made?

Unless he can walk on water, (in Wagga I observed him wearing gum boots, just a bit of insurance I hear you say), there is no possible way to know the answer to any one of the above questions.

In coming to these non-factual conclusions he maligns a perfectly good product. What was the intention of his article?

Reading between the lines of the article he seems to suggest (and I may be wrong), that a shooter that places 3-4 stray pellets on a target out of a possible no of 365 (28gr. load) deserves to receive a score of (one) for that effort.

Finally I wish AA's like Bill Iles could teach all of us average shooters, how to put the pattern in the middle, the subject of throwers and hard targets would never arise.

Kind regards

Ludwig Kohler

Sunshine Coast Clay Target Club

Last Sunday, the 20th February, the Sunshine Coast Clay Target Club (SCCTC) held their monthly Shoot. 30 keen shooters participated in very good shooting conditions. "Seeing" conditions have improved somewhat after a recent bushfire burnt out the majority of the dead trees in the background. The length of one shoot off in particular highlights the quality of the shooting conditions.

The main event for the day was the Championship Event, event three, 25 targets points score. At the completion of squad shooting, three shooters were required back on the walks for a shoot off after posting 74/75. After a short shoot off, part time shooter Dave Reynolds was victorious after hitting his last target with a very skinny second barrel. The other shooters not able to stay with Dave were Craig Morris and Karl Nasarenko.

Event three produced the best shooting for the day. Four 49/50 scores were posted requiring a three way shoot off to determine the AA grade winner. Phil Grove dropped out at the 88th target leaving Wayne Murray and Quinto Porfiri to continue on. Another 40 odd targets were required before Quinto missed his 132nd target leaving Wayne Murray the AA grade title. Three scores of 48/50 were recorded in A grade requiring a shoot off to determine second in this grade. Terry Crowson dropped out first followed by Frank Robinson (Mundubbera) one target later leaving Kev Howard the spoils.

For a change, the Overall High Gun was not won by Quinto Porfiri but by a regular visitor to the club, Karl Nasarenko from Caboolture. Karl's shooting appears to improve when he is not busy assisting in the office. Wes Humphreys shot well to take out the AA grade high gun. A shoot off was required to decide the A grade high gun winner. Terry Crowson being the eventual winner from Scott Trafford. Two other visitors to the Club took out the B and C grade high guns, Lex Stolberg from Gympie and Rob Smith from Toowoomba.

SPRINGSURE GUN CLUB

Our Annual Two Day Shoot was held on February 12th & 13th, and once again was a very enjoyable weekend. Although there were not the number of shooters we have had in past years the quality was certainly there. Saturday saw Bauhinia 100, with two shooters on 99. After the shoot off Peter Henderson and Grant Barton placed second and third in AA. Bill Scarborough, Karl Srb and Eddie Bates all on 97 shot off for A Grade, and they finished in that order. B Grade went to Ray Copping 94, second Warren Jensen 92, and third Dan Sykes 89. Loretta Larsen shot 93 to be the C Grade winner with Ken Copping second and John Young third.

On Saturday night our new catering officer, Zarah Powell, along with her willing band of helpers, organised a delicious meal of corned beef and vegies as well as sweets. Then with full bellies and thirst completely quenched, everyone retired for the night.

Handicap winner Max Barton.

First event on Sunday was the 25 Target Points with Ladies Silver Bracelets as trophies. Al Grimshaw shot the only possible taking Overall. Trevor Meaney was first in AA and Pat Bredhauer second after a shoot off. Bill Scarborough picked up his second win from as many events, with Richard Woolcock taking second in A Grade. Warren Jensen turned the tables on Ray Copping in B Grade and Ross Shield collected the C Grade Bracelet from John Young.

Ian Mohr from the Sunshine Coast shot his Single Barrel superbly, not dropping a target through the 25 and into the shoot off. He was the Overall winner with AA going to Bruce Powell and Pat Bredhauer second. Peter Henderson also shot his 25 and won A Grade with Ken Mackay second. Peter President, Drew Smith and Ken Perrett shot off for the B Grade trophies with Drew being the winner. Ross Shield made his trip worthwhile with another win from Ken Copping.

The 25 Target Handicap saw nine possibles and after a fairly long shoot off Toowoomba's Max Barton was the Winner of the Television. Bill Nixon took home the microwave for second. Paul Maguire, Richard Woolcock and Peter Field filled the other placings.

We had an 18mtr Double Barrel as the last Event so that I could get the paperwork finished up. Peter Filed was the Overall Winner, with Leon Dodd and Al Grimshaw first & second in AA. Norm Keech shot a possible to win A Grade with Bill Pavy second. There will be no excuse for no meals at Barton Downs with Warren Jensen and his partner Katrina Cutting winning the camp ovens for B Grade. Loretta Larsen continued to shoot well to win C Grade with Ross Shield second.

The weekend had seen some very tidy shooting and when the totals had been added we finished with outright winners for all the High Guns. Grant Barton dropped only four targets to win the four man tent for Overall. Pat Bredhauer and Peter Henderson both shot 245/250 and in doing so won the swags for AA and A respectively. Ray Copping took the B Grade High Gun and took the step up to A Grade. Loretta Larsen must be congratulated on her shooting over the weekend taking out C Grade. Loretta has been shooting for only twelve months. The Veteran winner was Cliff Grimshaw. Junior went to Ross Jamieson and Katrina Cutting won the Ladies High Gun making it four High Guns to Springsure.

Congratulations to all trophy winners, and thank you to everyone who attended making our shoot successful. I must mention trap boys, Tyson Bliss and Bryan Vincent who worked tirelessly over the two days and kept clays flying. Thanks too, to everyone who cooked and helped in the kitchen and bar.

I cannot close without thanking Bryce and Margie Smith for their years of service to our Club. They have taken over the local butchers shop and we wish them every success. No doubt both of them will look forward to leaving the Club when they want to and not when everyone else does! Bruce Powell has taken over the President's position this year along with Janine Mahady as our new Treasurer.

We look forward to welcoming old shooters and new to Springsure throughout the coming year. Our Club shoots are held on the second Sunday of every month starting at 10am, so come along and enjoy yourselves.

CUZZO'S RAMBLINGS APRIL 2000

I'm a great believer in the old adage "tell it like you see it". I try hard to live by that rule and I firmly believe the world would be a better place if everyone else did the same. However, although it allows you to be very liberal with your constructive criticism, and to dish out plenty of stick to those you believe are wrong, it unfortunately requires you to come clean when you're the one who's in error. So this month, for a nice change, instead of examining areas where I think other people are wrong, I want to focus on some areas where I have recently been proven incorrect. Let's start with my oscillator theory on Trap Machines.

Back in last December's magazine, I elaborated at length on several ideas that Marc McInnes and I had in trying to explain the lowness of the scores at the NSW Trap Carnival. One suggestion was that the recent change from manually loaded White Flyer machines to automatic Geminis may have caused an adverse change in the ratio of swingers to straight away targets. I theorized that changing the drive angle of the oscillator mechanism from 180 degrees on the White Flyer to 270 degrees on the Gemini might produce this effect. Guess what? Nice try Cuzzo, but not even close!

Ludwig Kohler, the manufacturer of Gemini Trap Machines, phoned me one night after the article was published to discuss this and several other matters with me. He very politely and patiently explained the whole situation to me in layman's terms so that I could understand it. My first error was not in the observance of the Gemini throwing more swingers than straight-aways, but in not realizing that I have been watching White Flyers do exactly the same thing for years without noticing it. My second error was in theorizing that changing the oscillator drive angle could alter this effect, which it clearly can't. I am now totally convinced that all machines that derive their oscillation from a random circular crank mechanism, which both White Flyer and Gemini do, will produce an identical pattern spread of targets.

Furthermore he explained why he elected to utilize an oscillation system driven by a separate intermittent motor and precisely how that system worked. That understanding has also totally convinced me that Leni Crema's theory on the adverse affect of Ludwig's intermittent oscillator is as erroneous as my own, and that the Gemini system will produce exactly the same target pattern as the continuous oscillator on a White Flyer. However, the advantage of Ludwig's system is that it makes the trap theoretically unreadable, which is not necessarily the case with a White Flyer, particularly if the interrupter is disconnected, as most of them are, due to being mechanically troublesome.

It's now also clear that changing the arm drive from a coil spring to a leaf spring can have no affect on the target once it leaves the arm, and as the trajectory is fixed by the rulebook, launch velocity variations appear to be out as well. So the only other obvious area where the change in machines could affect the competitor's ability to break the targets is a potential difference in the spin rate generated by each individual machine design. Ludwig claims that his machine imparts a rotation speed on the target which is very similar to that of the White Flyer, and that he is in the process of documenting quantitative evidence to support that claim.

Given that fact, the only other major area I can see which would affect scores is target "hardness" or breakability. I personally think this is most of the problem and as I said back in December, I believe it stems from our decision to try to shoot Trap and Skeet with targets which are just too hard for the job at hand. Anyone who has been to either the Grand American Trapshoot or the World Skeet Championships will attest to the fact that the targets they shoot over there are much softer and easier to "puff up" than those which we shoot here in Australia. Most first time visitors to the U.S. spend the first couple of days wondering how their chokes got so much tighter on the flight over.

The obvious answer is to revert back to "softer" targets here in Australia. However, such a solution is fraught with other dangers and may not provide an instant trouble-free "quick fix", except perhaps where manually loaded White Flyers are used. Because our Traps have enjoyed the luxury of hard targets for so long, even the more sophisticated hopper-fed machines, which lower the target onto the throwing arm with a lifter plate, may need some fine tuning to accommodate softer targets. And some of the more cost effective machine designs, which drop the target onto the arm, may be even more difficult to adapt to American style targets.

I had a first hand experience with this problem recently at Tamworth's Annual Two-Day Skeet Shoot. They decided to use a batch of Olimpyc's new "improved" targets at the shoot and the machine breakage rate was definitely above par. However it was not bad enough to spoil a great shoot and I'm sure that with some maintenance work on the traps, they'll soon get that problem under control. The flip side though was better scores, bigger shoot-offs and longer breaks. Many people recorded personal bests, at least three 200 breaks were shot and the National Skeet Long Run Record finally tumbled after almost 15 years. And not a ventilated pick-up was to be found. Well done Tamworth Gun Club! They now hold the National Record in both Trap and Skeet.

And my personal congratulations to Olimpyc. They clearly had some serious quality control problems recently, resulting in some very hard targets, but they certainly seem to be making up for it now. I spoke to Alan Kenny some time ago about controlling target quality and he believes we need to develop a target quality specification and then devise a method of testing targets to meet that standard. I couldn't agree more. I also spoke to Bill Jones and his thinking is very similar to Alan's. Bill suggested that our rulebook should not only dictate the physical dimensions of the target but could also include a relative density standard and/or some sort of measurable crush test.

I'm told the ISU rulebook originally had a type of target crush test where a specific weight was dropped from a certain height onto the target. Although workable, such a method seems a bit crude and would have only provided a "go-no go" type of result. A much more quantitative measurement would seem to be easily and economically attainable. After a little tinkering I have devised a simple portable crusher where the force is applied to the dome of the target by a hydraulic jack and a spring damper. The applied force can then be measured by either a pressure gauge on the jack, or a linear indicator on the spring.

During the developmental stage of the design process I came up with another of my theoretical brainwaves that turned out to be a fizzer in practice. I figured that a more realistic simulation of the breaking force of the pellets could be achieved by putting four rounded prongs the same diameter as a #7 pellet on the end of the crusher. Unfortunately they simply punched neat holes through the target and thus emphasized once again the important part that centrifugal force plays in the breaking of a clay target. Please give this whole matter some thought and feel free to contact me if you have any suggestions. Between the whole twelve odd thousand of us, surely we should be able to come up with some sort of simple viable testing standard.

Enough technical stuff, let's get back to my blunders. How about Decembers STQ. Who was the last left handed shooter to win the National Double Barrel? Well now I can tell you who it wasn't. It wasn't Gary McDonald! How do I know that? Because half the shooters in the Northern Territory have called up to set me straight. So how could I possibly have made such a faux pas? Well, I considered thinking up a good story to explain it away, but eventually I decided to go with the truth, no matter how much I hate it, so here it is.

When I originally typed out the question, it had just popped into my head and I had no idea who the answer was. I guess I figured that later on I would glance down the list of previous winners and work it out, because I was pretty sure that I would recognize each name well enough to be able to bring the person to mind. However when everyone that responded suggested it was Gary, I fell in, hook line and sinker. Anyway, now I'm going to have to make amends. Gary McDonald already has his prize, and he's too big to get it back from, so that's out.

Fortunately I still have a couple of unclaimed prizes left over from last years budget. For a start we had better give one to Victor Fertiklis from Darwin, because he really did outshoot all the big boys in the Double Barrel down in Tassie a few years back and unfortunately for me, he is a molly-duker. Why couldn't his mother have cracked him over the knuckles at a tender age and made him carry his Teddy in the other hand. And while we're at it, we'd better give another one to the much traveled Gary Quan Sing, because he was the first one to ring me up and inform me of my error. Congratulations boys and I hope to see all three of you in Wagga in a couple of weeks, shooting the National Double Barrel at my expense.

Vale. The 2000 Skeet Nationals will see the second consecutive occasion when the reigning National Skeet Champion will be unable to defend his title. It will also mark the second consecutive year that I have suffered the painful loss of a very near and dear friend. Col Burt was one of the nicest blokes I ever met, in or out of shooting. He conformed to the dictionary's definition of a gentleman and to my definition of a true sportsman: humble in victory and gracious in defeat. He was a great shooter, a great competitor, a great friend and a wonderful ambassador for our sport. He dedicated the last year of his life to building a magnificent facility for all of us to enjoy at the National Shooting Ground, and I am hopeful that our organization will see fit to honour that achievement in some way. The shooting world will miss him. The world in general will miss him. I miss him already. And in closing I must also add my condolences to Mark McInnes, who lost his wife Kim the same week we lost Col.

This month's Shooting Trivia Question. I have won the National Skeet High Gun five times. The highest score I ever shot was 398x400. On only one occasion was I equaled on that score and forced to shoot off. Name the other shooter? Mail your answer to Shooting Trivia, P.O. Box 265, Bairnsdale 3875, to arrive by 25-04-00. The first correct answer drawn shall receive a free entry to this year's National Skeet Championship. The correct answer to February's STQ was: By winning the C of C in 1951 and the Skeet 29 years later in 1980, George Biggs became the shooter whose individual National Championship wins in Trap and/or Skeet spans the greatest number of years? The first correct answer drawn was submitted by Carol Betteridge from Home Hill in Queensland, who wins a free entry to the National Pointscore at Wagga later this month. Congratulations Carol. If anyone has a good trivia question or an interesting subject for discussion in this column, please forward it to me at the above address.

Hope to see you at the Trap Nationals . . . Adrian Cousens (0418-516395)

ISSF Elite Junior Development Camp

On Friday 21st January, 2000 we assembled Juniors from Victoria, South Australia, New South Wales and Queensland, some 22 in all, with coach John Maxwell and me as the Camp Manager, at a training camp which was held in conjunction with the Australia Cup at Cecil Park Gun Club.

Our accommodation for the weekend was at the Hunt's Motel complex at Liverpool and our transport was a 12 seater bus and some private cars, this proved 'oh-so-squeezy' both to and from the airport with all of our luggage. The accommodation and recreation area which included a swimming pool and tennis courts was quite good and I had an apartment near the pool where we could do our breakfast cooking for those who wanted it in the mornings. We also had the use of quite a large barbecue that the motel loaned to us and some extra bowls and dishes where we had a barbecue both Friday and Saturday nights and I must thank Dot Trindall, Maria Rahman, Sophia Psarakis and Susie Trindall for making up all of the salads, cutting up rock and water melons, etc, etc, and to Andy Sanders for cooking the barbecue on Friday night. These two evenings were quite special where we even utilized the rubbish bin for eskies and I believe everyone enjoyed themselves whether swimming or playing tennis till it was "lights out" time at around 11 o'clock each night.

The venue for the Training Camp was the Sydney International Shooting Ground (Cecil Park Gun Club) where we joined in with the Senior Australian Training Squad and the Olympic Shadow Team who were competing in the Australia Cup.

The reason that we had combined the two events was to enable John and I to observe the Juniors in a friendly competitive atmosphere and I believe that the Juniors themselves could learn by shooting alongside and observing the likes of Michael Diamond, Russell Mark and Deserie Wakfield-Baynes, some of the best shooters in the world, seeing how they prepare themselves, their stance and how/where they held their guns. Watching is learning.

Most of the Juniors shot both Trap and Double Trap so we could see which discipline they may be best at whole. Those who shot Skeet mixed in with the Australian Team and the shooters from the Netherlands who had come out to do some training with us.

John worked tirelessly throughout the 3 days on multiple coaching and one-to-one coaching and maybe we did not get as much done as we would have liked, one thing that I learned was that we will need more Coaches and helpers at future camps. All of the participants were given a commemorative polo shirt and a book on the history of the A.C.T.A. to those who wanted one.

At the completion of the event on Sunday afternoon, John and I named the 10 person Team that we selected to go to the New Zealand ISSF National titles. This team was not necessarily selected from the scores that were shot during the camp but those Juniors whom we believed would get the most benefit out of a competition of this nature.

John and I could not fault the behavior or the willingness to learn of any of the Juniors and while the A.C.T.A. has young shooters of this caliber coming through the ranks, I believe the future of clay target shooting is looking very bright.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the A.C.T.A. for sponsoring this event and especially the Shooting committee and Bill Jones of the Finance Committee for making all of this possible.

John and I would like to see all of the Juniors from this first camp, participate at another camp, in the near future.

The Sydney International Drugs in Sport Summit

~ Pure Performance ~

Key nations representing all regions of the world have come together in an unprecedented move to get drugs out of sport.

Governments have demonstrated their pivotal role in ensuring all athletes compete on the level playing field of natural ability in the lead up to the Sydney 2000 Games and into the new millennium.

The latest moves flow from the International Drugs in Sport Summit held recently in Sydney and initiated by Australia.

The Sydney communique issued after the conference showed the governments' determination to root out the dopers: the 25 nations represented at the summit advocated a system of "internationally applicable and equivalent sanctions across all sports, such as a two-year minimum ban for first-time offenders".

They committed to establishing national drug testing programs, including year round, no notice, out-of-competition testing.

Delegates also stressed that athletes' rights would be protected throughout the sample collection, analysis and result management process, with the right of appeal and arbitration. In other moves, the rights of athletes would be protected by promoting the ethics of doping-free sport.

They agreed drug testing will be conducted in accordance with internationally accepted procedural standards, specifically the International Standard for Doping Control.

Policies will include an independent system for prior approval to use substances from a predetermined list when there are genuine therapeutic reasons and no therapeutic alternatives, and such use is permitted by the rules of the athlete's sport.

As a result of the Sydney Summit nations are also expected to boost their border controls to help stop the traffic in anabolic steroids and performance-enhancing hormone preparations and will review penalties for trafficking in anabolic steroids to ensure they adequately reflect the governments' strong anti-doping policy. Governments will also review processes to enhance the flow of intelligence information between regulatory and enforcement agencies and anti-doping agencies.

The delegates agreed that priority must be given to research into detecting endogenous substances such as growth hormone and EPO, and that researchers must increase levels of cooperation, collaboration and information sharing.

Education programs for athletes will be stepped up and there will be an increase in the number of bilateral and multilateral drug testing agreements.

The summit also addressed the issue of the World Anti Doping Agency recently established by the International Olympic Committee (IOC).

Australia's Minister for Sport and Tourism, Jackie Kelly, pointed out that before the Sydney summit, there was no agreement about how a world anti-doping agency could truly enforce "pure performance" in sport on a global basis.

"Thanks to the pressure from world governments at this summit a new standard has been set for the effective operation of the world anti-doping agency," the Minister said.

In an unprecedented show of international co-operation, all nations represented unanimously agreed to boost the accountability, transparency, independence and global representation of the new World Anti-Doping Agency.

The summit agreed to set up a consultative group drawn from the governments of the world to ensure that the commitments made at the summit are carried through. The group will also work with WADA to ensure that it has equitable geographic representation on its board.

The WADA board of members will be selected from public authorities from all geographic regions. The consultative group will also make recommendations on several other issues raised regarding WADA, such as its location, governance and decision-making processes.

"Recommendations on these aspects were agreed on at the Sydney Summit and have already been passed on to the WADA Board," Minister Kelly said.

"We will continue to discuss these issues with the IOC and the WADA."

In the declarations from the Summit, the governments agreed, in the interests of all athletes and youth, to work with WADA to pursue an effective, world-wide concerted campaign against drug abuse in sport. As well, long-term educative strategies will be developed based on sociological research and targeted at all levels of sport.

Sports drug testing laboratories should be accredited by an independent agency and accreditation standards will assess laboratories on the basis of their scientific capability, quality management and ethical standards. The delegates agreed this function should be the responsibility of the WADA.

These moves are expected to intensify and co-ordinate the fight against drug cheats to levels - and bring in a hard-hitting systematic approach - never seen before.

Two top Australian athletes attended the Sydney Summit, rowing gold Olympian, Kate Slatter and St. George - Illawarra star hooker, Nathan Brown.

"Everybody in the sporting world I've spoken to is right behind the nations' pro-active stance," Kate Slatter said.

"There have been too many drug-related scandals in sport and all the countries of the world have to pull together; we all have to make sure the determination shown at the Sydney Summit is carried through into action," she stressed.

"Drugs are a huge problem in the general community as well; sporting people are a role model for young people and must show the way by example."

Kate, from Adelaide and in training at the Australian Institute of Sport in Canberra, represented Australia at the Barcelona and Atlanta Olympics.

"I hope to be able to be proud to represent my country at a totally drug-free Olympics in the year 2000 and it's great to see Australia at the forefront of the effort to stamp out the drug users; we all want to be harder, faster and better in our sports - but on a level, drug-free playing field.

"The best-practice organisational structures and protocols I saw being put in place at the Sydney Summit will ensure that all the world's Olympians will respect the rules and abide by them.

"The Sydney Olympics will be the best ever for world sport and for clean competition free from the stigma and shame of drug abuse - the kids out there deserve nothing less," Kate said.

Australia has put drug cheats planning to attend the Sydney 2000 Games on notice.

Top scientists are being enlisted to fine tune the most sophisticated methods ever devised to detect drug cheats.

In the world of the dopers, their drug-induced performance has depended increasingly on synthetic EPO (erythropoietin) which works by increasing the number of red blood cells, lifting oxygen levels to boost performance.

Often used in plasma replacing the body's entire blood supply, synthetic EPO has taken doping techniques to new heights and has been difficult to detect, but with the attention of the world on the Sydney Olympics, all the forces of legitimate science are being marshalled to try to ensure the Sydney Games are clean.

During the summit Minister Kelly pledged Australia would provide $1.5 million to validate a way to test for EPO, subject to the IOC accepting an Australian submission for funding support. The IOC subsequently announced its support for the Australian research project on 9 December.

Minister Kelly told the summit that researchers from the Australian Institute of Sport and the Australian Sports Drug Testing

Laboratory have found "foolproof and demonstrable scientific bases" for detecting synthetic EPO in blood samples.

The joint IOC/Australian Government funding will help researchers to undertake "validation studies" during the next six to nine months to ensure the EPO test is "reliable and robust".

The Australian study will be done in collaboration with scientists from France, Canada and Norway and with sports institutes and authorities from China, France, Italy and the United States.

The IOC has already given its approval for blood samples to be taken from athletes competing in in Sydney for the Olympics. If a reliable method for detecting EPO is determined samples will be collected to detect use. If it is not found, the samples will be taken from athletes on a voluntary basis and used for research.

Minister Kelly said the IOC decision to support the Australian research project gives us a critical boost in our efforts to try to develop a foolproof test in time for the Sydney 2000 Games.

"The IOC's support sends a very loud and very welcome message that it is as determined as we are to keep sport drugs free," she said.

Top Australian and world athletes have thrown their support behind these unprecedented international efforts to get prohibited performance-enhancing drugs out of sport.

In Minister Kelly's words, everything possible is being done to ensure the Sydney Olympics will be "pure performance".

"Enhancing drug detection research to keep up with, and where possible keep ahead of, the latest doping practices is a key part of the Australian Government's Tough on Drugs in Sport strategy.

"We're totally committed to getting drugs and drug cheats out of sport," the Minister stressed.

World sporting and government leaders agree the International Drugs in Sport Summit in Sydney has made a level of progress never seen before by achieving a global breakthrough in the war against drug cheats.

Their deliberations will result in the broadest range of obstacles ever faced by sport dopers.

High quality national drug testing programs will be set up in conjunction with national sporting organisations and drug testing resources will be applied strategically world-wide to maximise the attack on problem areas.

"Australia's Tough on Drugs in Sport Strategy is all about doing the right thing by our kids; it's all about showing them the right way," Minister Kelly said.

"Hosting the summit has demonstrated Australia's commitment to drug-free sport and recognises our position as a world leader on anti-doping issues.

"I am delighted it resulted in other governments committing themselves to establish comprehensive national anti-doping programs that are modelled on the Australian approach set out in our Tough on Drugs in Sport strategy.

"This includes strategies for government action in a range of areas including policy, protection of athletes' rights, sanctions, drug testing, education and information services, research, supply, control and international collaboration.

"It proves that governments the world over have a strong role to play in the fight against drugs in sport."

From the past!

The photo shown turned up when going through my late husband Scotty Gibson's papers. It was taken at the Perth Nationals in 1980 and the story as I remember may be of interest to readers.

Doug Smith, a winner of many Championships, and Russell Mark at that time was still a Junior, were in a shoot off for the Double Barrel Championship.

Doug was using factory loaded shells given to him to use. As the shoot off progressed, these shells produced a third misfire and the result "lost target" from the Referee was as per the rule: a rule that was introduced when home-loaders' shells were frequently producing misfires...due to the lack of precision and care in putting together their home-loads!

The rule did not differentiate between home load and factory load.

The decision created consternation amongst some of the officials. Pressure was put on the Shoot Marshall, Tim Catling, to bend the rules for this important Championship. Even Russell's Dad expressed dismay that Russell should win such a technicality, however the final decision was as per the rule. Doug who accepted the decision without question did comment to Tim, "this decision would be tough on one who had never won a major trophy".

When it came to the presentation, Russell had to be persuaded by Tim to come out of the tent he was in, to accept the Sash and Trophy that were rightfully his.

The Referee was Scotty Gibson, well known for his - knowing the Rules...and sticking to them!

Just an incident from the past!

*Yours
Nancy Gibson*

Behold the shooter

(from a shooter News possibly in the 60s)

He spends much time, energy and income attempting to do something that he already knows is well nigh impossible.

He clutters up the home with such oddments as guns, cleaning gear, gun cases, loaded and unloaded shells, every conceivable piece of reloading equipment, rags, oils, shooting jackets, badges and patches, to say nothing of books newspaper cuttings and magazines - all about guns and shooting.

He goeth to shoots full of enthusiasm and hope, spends more than he can afford, and brings home either nothing or at best a trophy that his wife and family have no use for.

He sometimes takes his wife and family to a shoot, then sets about ignoring them while discussing with other fanatics such interesting subjects as loads, swing, breaks, lost birds, chokes, high combs and patterns.

There is no hope for this person, as invariably he threatens to 'give it away' and systematically sets about repurchasing another gun and more gear (by this time it has all advanced in price), and from then on, much more shooting occurs and more strife on the home front.

When he finally enters Heaven???? his password to St Peter will probably be "Pull".

-Gunsmoke Wife-

This would still be apt today, I'd say.

Are there others with tales to tell? (Scotty in the 60's diddo!!)

The oval oak dining table with four holes bored into it to take the reloader of the day!!!

The wooden clothes horse with a large sheet of brown paper pinned to it used....to pattern the gun!!!!

Is it still full of holes and no doubt lead shot!!!!
