National President's Notes

John H. Byrnes

I hope everyone has an enjoyable Christmas and New Year break and that the 2003 shooting year has started smoothly for you.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

As you receive this magazine the ISSF National titles will be just concluding at the Western Australian Gun Club in Perth. In approx 9 weeks time the D.T.L (trap)

Nationals will be underway at the National Shooting Ground in Wagga. We look forward to seeing a good number in attendance, it should be a good carnival and is a great opportunity for you to meet up with old friends.

STATE CARNIVALS

Two States will be holding their D.T.L State Carnivals in the near future. These will be a great opportunity for top competition leading up to the trap nationals.

The Tasmanian Association will be holding their carnival at the Tasmanian Gun Club at Evandale from Jan 25th - 27th 2003.

The South Australian Association holds its carnival on the following weekend, Jan 31st Feb 1st - 2nd at the State Shooting Park at Virginia.

I am sure that both these will be successful and well attended carnivals.

WORLD CUP-PERTH

In 2003 Australia will again host a round of the World Cup, this year at the Western Australian Gun Club in Perth. The dates for this event is March 6th - 15th.

This will be a great opportunity to see some of the best shooters in the world trying to win quota spots for the Olympics in Athens. We wish our Australian competitors well.

2003 REGISTRATIONS

If you have not renewed your registration for 2003 they are now overdue. Costs for 2003 is $75 and $42 for second family members and Veterans, Junior fees are $20. Your club secretary will be happy to assist you with these matters.

World Masters Games 2002

Members of the Victorian Clay Target Association where tasked with the organisation and running of the Clay Target section of the Games. Like all other sports administrators the term volunteer covered every one from Shoot Marshalls to Medical staff and computer operators, all of whom had tee shirts and caps issued, in the colour of light green and white.

The venue was Frankston Australian Clay Target Club, which looked good and a just reward for the extra effort put in by the club members to make it look that way.

Day one the Double Barrel started at 8am over five grounds.

The age groups started 30-34 and went up in five year increments to 80 +, eleven groups had contestants in the male section and only four groups in female.

The pre-squading with a time went like clock work with the final squad (Number 32) walking out on to the grounds right on scheduled time.

The non predicability of the scores a group of shooters like this might come up with, proved founded with twenty possibles and a long afternoon look a possibility, however only one group went more than the first shoot-off squad of 25 targets.

All placed contestants are Victorians unless otherwise designated.

Day two again 8am start over 5 grounds.

The wind was strong and gusting from the north, pushing targets down from their height stick position. The more than testings conditions predictably produced no possibles, but Peter Hendry and Wayne Parks did shoot 48/50 truly gold medal efforts, however there was only one gold medal and after a shoot off the medal was Peters. The trend for the day as a whole was low to very low scores and embarrassingly for some all this information was available on the net, first thing the next morning.

Day three was the Point Score and the weather much much kinder, with the wind only a breeze and by lunch it was a nice day.

The squadding/timing, again was working well with squad 31 shooting at their sighter, right on time at 1.50pm.

On completion of the shoot offs and medal presentation, now with intro fanfare music, the members of Frankston Australian provided a catered BBQ for all those who stayed to enjoy what was fine fair.

Trench Thursday 10th October ISSF Trap

After the three DTL days of 5 layouts and early finishers, the Trench was to be the event that took the most organisational work, with two grounds available and 25 squads to shoot at 50 targets. Originally the last squad was to commence at 6-10pm. So the pressure was on see if it was possible for the later groups to shoot in day light preferably in good light. By 1.20pm the shoot was over an hour in front of schedule and by 4.30pm the event and all but one shoot off had been completed. There was no programmed presentation that day, even though as it turned out, there could have been.

A very busy day for all concerned, this was a great achievement and an indication of the determination of this group, to get the job done properly.

American Skeet - 11th October

Friday and day five, with four grounds available and 132 shooters programmed this was not a day of pressure, in-fact, even with a 9am start the last squad was to shoot at 1.10pm and did. The weather was again good and the event flowed along smoothly. There were no possibles with 49's the main. The 80 + age group put up a great contest with Gold to Doug Ogdon 49/50 and Silver to Alfred Nasar 48/50.

INTRODUCTION

WAGGA WAGGA

Wagga Wagga is one of Australia's leading regional cities. Nestled on the banks of the magnificent Murrumbidgee River, the original inhabitants were the largest Aboriginal tribe in New South Wales, the Wiradjuri. It is from their language the city is named. Wagga means crow and repeating it means crows, hence a place of many crows. From these proud origins to the culturally rich community that exists today, Wagga Wagga has been considered a place for the young and young at heart, enjoying the exciting and yet relaxed lifestyle that exists within the city.

The geographical location of Wagga Wagga is ideal for keeping in touch with the trends that filter out of the major metropolitan cities of Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide.

Wagga Wagga is the ideal base for exploring one of Australia's emerging holiday destinations – the Riverina. An easy day trip in any direction can take you through the extremes of Australia's natural and cultivated environment. To the east rises Mount Kosciuszko in the Snowy Mountains. To the west lies Griffith, the heart of New South Wales' biggest wine producing region. An easy drive takes you to great Aussie towns like, Junee, Lockhart and Gundagai.

To put it simply, there is not much that you can't do in and around Wagga Wagga. You can jet along in the "fast lane" or relax in the easy paced country atmosphere taking in the sights, sounds and serenity of rural Australia.

The following is just a selection of activities available in the Wagga Wagga region. For more information on "what to see and things to do", the friendly staff at the Visitor Information Centre are waiting on the banks of the Murrumbidgee River to "tell you where to go" so to speak.

CUZZO'S RAMBLINGS

February 2003

This month I intend to examine individual shooter versatility in Clay Target shooting, and to illustrate the point I intend to tell a number of stories, that hopefully will be interesting, without being too egotistical, as one of my detractors so eloquently phrased it recently. The problem with egotism is that there is a very fine line between it, and simply "telling it like you see it", provided that the way you see it is fairly close to the way that it actually is.

Unfortunately I am in a bit of a "catch 22" situation with this column, in that if I was Joe Blow from Nowhere, who had never been anywhere or achieved anything of note in his entire life, then I would have great difficulty in holding anyone's attention for very long. However, as I have accumulated an enormous wealth of knowledge and experience in the process of shooting at the highest level in a number of different countries over the past thirty years, I am in a relatively unique position to be able to write numerous widely differing articles that will be of interest to at least some of the people at any given time.

The real trick here, and the tightrope that I try to walk, is finding the point where recounting personal experiences, which involve the achievement of some pretty serious shooting accomplishments, ceases to be meaningful and colourful illustration and does simply digress into a quagmire of uninteresting egotistical propaganda. Having said that, and in line with my personal philosophy on life of "play with your cards on the table" and "tell it like you see it", I think that this is probably as good a time as any to indulge in some serious egotism and tell you all just how good I think I really am.

In relation to Skeet Shooting I believe that I am the least talented, most determined and just plain luckiest son-of-a-bitch that you will ever encounter. With regard to Trapshooting (apart from double rise), as it has a far greater degree of variables and unknowns than Skeet, and is therefore much harder to pre-plan, practice endlessly and conceal ability shortages with timing tricks, my chances of excelling in that discipline are much less likely. My real strongpoint with all forms of ISSF shooting was to know my limitations and stay away from them, and as for F&G and field shooting, see Trapshooting above!

My journalistic talents are probably about as good as you could expect from a truck driver with a limited education. Sometimes I suspect that my competitive efforts were really only a curtain raiser, and that my true calling in the sport is driving the golf cart. Furthermore, I believe that the unique and unconventional approach that I hope to bring to all levels of administration and politics in the ACTA may be just the breath of fresh air that our organization needs, provided my passion doesn't cause me to self-destruct in the process.

Anyway, back to my original quest: examining shooter versatility. By versatility I mean being outstanding in more than one isolated discipline of the sport. I never really thought much about it until the late George Biggs (who was the official ACTA historian, a great shooter in his own right and a very interesting bloke to talk to) once told me a very interesting piece of ACTA trivia.

It was just after the 1980 ACTA Nationals (Trap and Skeet) and I remember it clearly because it was the first time that I ever got into the shoot-off for the National Skeet Championship (finishing fifth behind Billy Iles). Anyway, George told me that by winning the National Skeet Championship that year he had become only the fourth person in history to win ACTA National Championships in both Trap and Skeet (joining Newton Thomas, Ken Lowry and Jimmy Ellis). A couple of other people (including Ray Everett from New Zealand) have gone on to match this accomplishment in the ensuing twenty odd years, but it is still a fairly elite group.

A number of great Australian shooters have shown a degree of versatility within variations of a particular discipline. Russell Mark and Michael Diamond have both excelled in ACTA Trap and Olympic Trench, while Ian Hale and John Summers have accomplished similar things in American Skeet and Olympic Skeet. However, what I'm looking for here is a broader versatility across widely varying disciplines. If I mention Doug Smith, everyone immediately thinks of a great Trapshooter, whereas if I mention Reg Clarke, everyone visualises a great Skeet shooter, but what if I mention Billy Iles or Graham Boyd?

Bill's undisputed forte is obviously ACTA Trapshooting, but at various times has ruffled more than a few feathers at Olympic trap. Additionally, during a period of time some years ago when he was not seeing eye-to-eye with the ACTA, Bill terrorised the established Field and Game shooters all over the country. His field shooting ability is known far and wide, including his alleged prowess for hitting both moving and stationary objects from a mobile shooting platform (read car window). And as for his Skeet shooting ability, I believe he is probably the most underrated Skeet shooter in Australia, so let me add just two things. At the Skeet Nationals each year, I could probably entice a number of excellent shooters to be my two-man team partner, but as I love to win and usually play the odds, I choose to shoot with Bill. And if I had not attended the 2000 Skeet Nationals, he would have won the National Skeet Doubles outright with a record score, and shot off for the Overall High Gun. Enough said!

Graham Boyd is another of those rare multi-talented individuals who has transcended the established boundaries within our sport. When I first met Graham he was one of the best American Skeet shooters in the country and later went on to a similar status in ISSF Skeet, eventually representing both his state and country in those disciplines. However, not content with this, he set about making a name for himself in Trap and Trench as well. He is the only person I know of to have shot in Macintosh teams in all four main disciplines (Trap, Trench, Skeet and ISSF Skeet) and in 1991 joined a very short list of people to shoot in Shoulder to Shoulder Teams in both Trap and Skeet in the same year. It's just a shame that at the height of his career in 1994, when he probably could have won the Trench at the Commonwealth Games, he fell foul of our sport's administration, which caused him to go into total retirement, where he sadly remains to this day.

Wayne Mayes is also a good example of versatile shooting talent. Anyone who read my article a couple of months ago could hardly fail to agree that he is the greatest Skeet shooter of all times. But what I failed to mention was the fact that I shot on his squad the year that he won the World Sporting Clays Championship and that another year, on our way from one Skeet tournament to another, we stopped off briefly at the Grand American Trapshoot. That night I had the pleasure of sitting in the grandstand and watching him win the shoot-off for that day's Trap Doubles event.

Whilst examining overseas shooters, I couldn't possibly avoid mentioning Ray Everett from New Zealand, as a more talented and versatile shooter is hard to imagine. I believe that he has won NZ National Titles in all four major disciplines and I know that he has represented his country in each of them. In Australia alone he has won our National Single Barrel and our Skeet High Gun.

However, the most talented and versatile shooter I ever met was an Englishman, who migrated to New Zealand and spent several sabbaticals honing up his skills in Australia. His name is Lawrence "John" Wooley and his shooting prowess is the result of the best hand-eye co-ordination skills I have ever had the pleasure to witness. Although he was best known for his Skeet shooting accomplishments, both American and ISSF, he was equally at home shooting Trap, Trench or Sporting Clays, excelling at each in turn.

Where John outshone all the other great versatile shooters I have seen, was his adaptability outside Clay Target shooting to just about every form of hand-eye co-ordination activity. He was a natural at all forms of bat-and-ball games and one of the finest billiards players I ever saw. He was also ambidextrous. One evening John and I were helping a farmer with the culling of a rabbit plague, by means of a constantly moving Landrover tray, a spotlight and an automatic shotgun. After killing close to 50 rabbits with two boxes of shells, he took over the light so I could shoot for a while. After expending almost all of my two allocated boxes of shells and having killed less rabbits than you could count on your fingers, John could clearly see that I needed some help.

Shortly afterwards two rabbits broke cover and conveniently ran several yards apart but parallel in front of us. Whilst holding the spotlight in his right hand and directing it at the right rabbit for me to shoot at, he drew a 22 rimfire pistol from his pocket with his left hand (that we had been beer-can plinking with earlier in the day) and killed the left rabbit that was barely illuminated by the light fringe, with his second shot. Meanwhile I emptied the magazine of the jackhammer at the right hand rabbit without putting so much as a scratch on it. It was enough to make you sick and if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes, I would never have believed it.

Another year John and I attended the New Zealand Nationals and shared a room together at a local hotel where a lot of the visiting shooters stayed. On the first day of competition the New Zealand Balltrap championship was contested, which John duly won. The next morning during breakfast at the hotel we were confronted with his picture on the front page of the local newspaper under the headline "Wooley wins National Balltrap". Later that day John shot off for and won the National Skeet Championship. During breakfast on the morning of the third day we were again confronted with John's picture on the front page under the headline "Wooley wins again".

That day they shot the National Double Barrel and after shooting 49 early in the morning, John disappeared from the Gun Club and was not seen for the rest of the day. The next morning at breakfast, we were all taking enormous delight in telling him how much more we were enjoying our breakfast, without having to look at his big ugly mug in the newspaper. Or at least we were until the paper arrived and there, much to our amazement, was his picture again under the headline "John Wooley hits Hole-in-One and wins local Golf Tournament". Fair dinkum, it was enough to make you cry!

This month's Shooting Trivia Question: One of the most sought after but difficult goals in ACTA Trapshooting is the winning of the National Double Barrel Championship. Similarly in ACTA Skeet shooting, one of the Holy Grails is the holding of the National Long Run Record. How many ACTA shooters have accomplished both these great feats? Mail your answer to Shooting Trivia, P.O. Box 265, Bairnsdale 3875, to arrive by 20-02-2003. The first correct answer drawn shall receive a free entry to this year's National Double Barrel Championship. The correct answer to December's STQ is: The only person to ever win the NSW State Double Barrel Championship back to back is Michael Diamond, who achieved this in 1992-93. The first correct answer drawn was submitted by Paul Kruger-Davis from Narrandera in NSW who wins a free entry to this year's National Double Barrel Championship.

Dear Sir

I would like to comment on the article in the December news, regarding the NSW 2002 Skeet Carnival. It appears to blame Coffs Harbour for State Association stuff ups.

To set the record straight, Coffs Harbour applied for and was granted the 25th & 26th of August 2001, for our two day Skeet Carnival. The State Carnival was to be the week before.

The State Association later decided to change the carnival to our weekend. They did not bother to discuss this with us. We asked to be allocated another weekend, but none suitable to us both could be found, therefore, we decided to cancel our carnival for 2001.

The State Association agreed to pay for an ad in the ACTA news announcing this cancellation, I don't think they have done this yet.

We applied and were allocated the 24th & 25th of August for our 2002 Skeet Carnival, only to discover that it clashed again with the State Carnival. More in frustration than anything else, we decided to go ahead with it.

Surely it is up to the State Association to avoid these clashes.

The statement in the article that the Coffs Harbour shoot will cease is particularly offensive. We don't want it to cease, we just want a date that does not clash.

If the date we apply for is not suitable, for God's sake tell us before it gets printed in the blue program book. Is this too much to ask for from a State Association we pay affiliation fees to?

Yours Faithfully
Roley Palmer

Dear Sir

Re: Gun Control

I am a recent member of the ACTA (Dec 2001) and I seem to remember when I joined I had to pay a levy to support a "Fighting Fund".

With all the adverse press the Australian shooting fraternity is getting from all Governments and Anti Gun Lobbies, I was wondering:

Does the ACTA take a pro gun stand?

Does the ACTA have a "Lobbyist" to take up our case?

When can we expect to see some support by our Association for the general firearm owner who is under siege from all sides?

Perhaps it's time for all shooting disciplines to amalgamate in some form of "Political Alliance" to counter the obvious opposition by all political parties, whose sole aim seems to be the destruction of our shooting sports, (whether they be pistol, rifle or in our case shotgun) and deny us the sheer pleasure we get from it.

Kind regards
David Stewart

Only a keen observer at the National Skeet Carnival can really appreciate the views expressed in January's C.T.S.N. Column "CUZZO'S RAMBLINGS."

It seems that the author received "Several Severe Technical Shaftings," Para 14, and the embarrassment to "The National President of a visiting contingent" Para 16, both these, and many more, could have been avoided if the Shoot Marshal had explained to the referees that the new rule book is printed on rubber, thus allowing any rule to be easily bent, twisted and stretched to suit the occasion and/or personal preference.

Many years ago when I was introduced to the "Australian Skeet Shooting Rules" I was very impressed with this stream lined and safe set of regulations. Of late, the changes to our rules did not impress me as a step forward, and now I read our new rules "should only be a guideline as to how the game should be played for convenience" Para 14.

You see, I believe, rules are rules, set in concrete, only this will put all players of any sport on the same level playing field. This is quite apparent in the I.S.S.F. disciplines, no mucking about here, and just possibly why our columnist "hates the I.S.S.F. Rule Book for the way it is written and the way it is interpreted." Thank heaven you can't tinker with that one "Sunshine!"

My New Year's Wish: That someone out there, someone who will "Embark on a Crusade" to restore our "Australian Skeet Shooting Rules."

Good shooting to all in 2003.

CHRISTMAS AT MATHOURA GUN CLUB

Friday evening the 13th of December and five full squads of keen Shooters turned up to enjoy the competition and evening meal. The popular club attracted shooters from as far as Bendigo, Shepparton, Moulamein, Cohuna, with a good number of locals. It was a good indication of the popularity of Clay Bird Shooting to see so many young shooters arrive to compete. The program was arranged to avoid lengthy shoot-offs and proved to do that well.

With perfect shooting conditions resulting in excellent targets the scores were high compared with most night shooting events.

Event One. A 15 target graded meterage points score with AA on 21, A on 19, B on 17 & C off 15 meters. The results after a very short shoot-off were Overall first Travis McCraw (Cohuna) with an excellent 48/48, 2nd Lady shooter Mandy Hart (Moulamein) on 45/48, 3rd was local shooter Trevour Berryman with a 53/54.

Event Two. A 25 target Double Barrel off 15 Meters including the prospect of a club member taking out 2002 Club Champion. Overall and A grade with the only possible shot was Bendigo shooter Lee Knight on 25/25, B Grade was Ben Kerslake (Moama). After a short shoot-off with a score of 28/29, Ben also taking out Club Champion and receiving a sash as well as a trophy, C Grade was S Howe with a 24/27.

Event Three. A 15 target points score with a drawn mystery co-shooter for an aggregate total score, purely a novel event. Overall 1st was K Perry (Shepparton) & W Hart (Moulamein) on a good score of 86/90, with M Roberts (Echuca) & H O'Conner (Mathoura) 2nd with an 84/90.

Ben Kerslake

The ladies excelled with a very tasty evening meal and all shooters expressed their thanks to the Committee for an enjoyable night.

The President of the club Roger Kerslake thanked all who attended and hoped to see everyone next year.

James Norman Miatt

1.10.1916 - 4.12.2002

The Tasmanian Gun Club regrets to announce the passing of an esteemed member, James (Jim) Miatt.

Jim was born in Canada and came to Sydney with his family at a very early age.

He was educated at Sydney Grammar School, and at the beginning of World War II, he joined the Royal Australian Air Force.

He was posted overseas, and spent most of his Air Force career in the British Isles.

His skills with optics and instruments placed him in great demand, repairing and installing bomb sights and aircraft instruments.

After the war, Jim established a successful manufacturing business, making telescopic sights under the brand name "Index". He was also well known for the Miatt Snap Caps, which are still manufactured by his son, Stephen.

Jim began Clay target shooting at the Narrabeen fitness centre in Sydney, in 1968. He then joined the Royal Aero Gun Club at Bankstown, then later the Sydney Gun Club.

In 1971, he obtained the Krieghoff Agency, which he operated until a few days before he passed away.

In 1988 he moved to Tasmania, where he joined the Tasmanian Gun Club.

He competed in nearly all Masters Games, and at the World Masters Games in Alice Springs, he was delighted to have been presented with 5 Gold Medals, by Dawn Fraser.

Jim also had a successful career in competitive wood chopping, travelling to many shows throughout New South Wales.

In Tasmania, Jim established many friendships among the Clay Target fraternity. He was a keen competitor, particularly at Skeet, and did a lot to promote that discipline.

He was a regular shooter at most clubs in the north of Tasmania, and rarely missed Wednesday practice at his home club. Three rounds of skeet, and one round of doubles was usually the order of the day.

He will be sadly missed around the traps, for his friendship, his gentle demeanor, and his fund of knowledge with regard to guns. In the annals of Clay Target shooting, James Norman Miatt will be remembered as one of nature's true gentlemen.

We extend our sincere condolences to his wife Lily, son Stephen, daughter-in-law Marcia, and family.

John Maurice Tyquin

1909-2002

My father John Tyquin passed away on 15 November, four days short of his 93rd birthday. He was a past President and Life Member of the Australian Clay Target Association.

My parents lived in Hobart prior to a transfer to Brisbane in 1955. He was a past President of the Hobart Gun Club; he won the 1940 Commonwealth Single Barrel Championship and the 1946 Commonwealth Double Barrel Championship. He also represented Australia several times in the International Teams Championships.

After moving to Brisbane, he was an active shooter at the Southport and Brisbane gun clubs, becoming President of the Brisbane club in the late 50's. He spent a lifetime as a contributor to the sport, travelling throughout Australia whilst ACTA President.

He loved shooting ducks almost as much as clay targets and made many lifelong friends through his association with the sport. Unfortunately at the age of 92, all of them predeceased him.

His quality of life for the last five or six years had been very poor and this, coupled with the fact all his friends had predeceased him, didn't make for a very contented existence.

Mike Tyquin

shooters were able to get a lot of shooting done in the day.

Almost without exemption every shooter in attendance verified that they had improved their shooting technique and their ability to hit targets on the day, mainly through virtually, "personal coaching."

After most shooters showed good improvement the coaches decided a short spell of ISSF Olympic Trap training was in order to which the shooters were very eager to try.

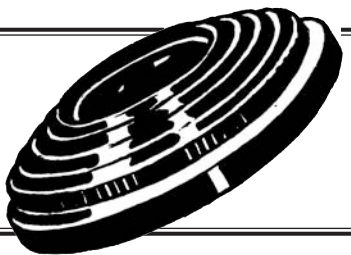

The day was made possible with the help of the annual coaching grant from the Victorian Clay Target Association to which the North East & North West Zones are most appreciative.

The most asked question from the shooters at the end of a very pleasing day was when is the next clinic. Because the day was enjoyed and valued by so many, the organisers hope to be able to run another clinic in the near future, now knowing that even higher numbers could be catered for as the number of shooters was limited at this clinic in caution of the ability of coaches to handle larger numbers.

The two zones sincerely thank all who attended especially the coaches who gave their time and ability. I apologise for not thanking everyone that helped on the day individually but the list would be too long needless to say every ones help was much appreciated.

'The Ultimate Competition Shotgun'

S682E

After years helping countless competitive Trap and Skeet shooters to the victory stand, the Beretta S682E have been revamped and re-designed to make them the most sought after competition over-and-unders available. The new S682E's strong, low profile receiver has an exclusive dual colour finish. Together with the modern ellipsis graphic motif, the contrast between the glossy, matte and gold parts ensures an extraordinary beauty. Beretta's electroless nickel finish provides added protection against the elements. Features: Optima-Bore® barrel profile that reduces felt recoil and improves shot distribution (select models only). Optima-Choke® tubes (also available external version), ensure consistent shot distribution year after year. Top & side ribs are ventilated and the barrels are chrome lined internally and have a deep blue finish. Triggers are adjustable for length pull fit to three positions. All models available with adjustable stock. Supplied complete with ABS hard case, featuring the exclusive double handle.

S682E Custom Gun Fitting is now available at Beretta Australia by our very qualified and experienced stockmaker and gunsmith. For more information, contact your local firearms Beretta dealer or Beretta Australia Pty Ltd.
