Australian Clay Target Association Inc.

PRESIDENTS ANNUAL REPORT 2002

I present the 2002 Annual Report, my third as President of the Australian Clay Target Association.

When looking at the highlights of the year and thinking about who should be mentioned it is a daunting task to not omit someone or an important event. I would like to thank all that have participated or supported our sport in any way.

To my view the highlight of the year has been our ongoing success that our competitors continue to have on the International scene. This helps to keep our profile high and certainly assists the sports reputation in Government circles. We need to focus now on how to better cash in and use the media to better publicise these successes.

My congratulations go to Adam Vella on winning the World Cup final for 2002, a remarkable effort. Michael Diamond finished 3rd, having two competitors in the top 3 is a remarkable achievement. Michael Diamond also finished 2nd in the World Championships and won the World Cup event in Sydney.

The Commonwealth Games saw our competitors win 8 gold medals, 7 silver and 2 bronze. Congratulations to Michael Diamond, Adam Vella, Dianne Reeves, Nessa Jenkins, Lauryn Ogilvie and Natalia Rahman on achieving gold. In DTL we saw Wayne Parkes win the world DTL championship. Wendy Barton the ladies, Travis Vania the Junior and Tim Catling the Veterans to complete a clean sweep at the World DTL titles. In the teams events, we also had numerous successes. The World DTL Open, Ladies and Junior teams each were successful, a fantastic effort. Our World Cup and Commonwealth Games teams also scored several successes.

Our National Championships DTL held in Wagga in 2002 was once again a pleasant and successful carnival. For the last 2 years the standards of scores has been outstanding. We look forward to continuing in the same manner and maintaining the quality of shooting for this year's National Championships. The support for the evening presentation of major prizewinners at the BBQ function has been popular and assists us to give recognition to both our winners and our sponsors.

The 2002 Skeet Nationals were conducted in Western Australia. The grounds and facilities were a credit to the WAGC and WACTA. We thank them for their support and assistance during the carnival. Overall the competition numbers were a little disappointing but the NZ contingent enjoyed the carnival with their competitors successful in several events. Mr Geoff Gallop the Western Australian Premier presented the National titleholder with his sash and displayed a keen interest and knowledge of our sport.

In January 2002 we held the ISSF carnival in its new time slot. This appears to have been a popular move with competitor numbers at Cecil Park breaking records. The 2003 carnival in WA in January also was very well attended. The number of competitors in Ladies and Juniors continues to grow and the standard of shooting also continues to improve. Our success internationally can probably be partly attributed to the depth of standard seen at our own ISSF carnivals.

The World Masters Games conducted in Melbourne in October is also worthy of a mention. The 240 competitors who participated should be congratulated, the atmosphere and comradeship displayed was outstanding and I must give credit to the VCTA for their efforts in organising this event, well done.

The National shooting ground continues to be developed and improved. I am sure that you will all become aware of the ongoing improvements during the course of this year's national titles. I am sure that any Executive member will be keen to hear your views about the grounds and its ongoing development.

Commonwealth Government funding for high performance competitors continues to be paramount for the support of our ISSF teams and their successes overseas. The Australian Shooting Association now controls all aspects for the management of these funds and the selection of teams supported by this funding. The ACTA needs to ensure that clay target components of these teams are supported in line with the successes of our competitors. Funding for other less successful disciplines should not be eroding the support of our teams.

In recent years the spiraling cost of and the availability of insurance has been a major concern. We clearly understand that it is essential for the ACTA to maintain its cover for clubs and individuals, as the alternative of smaller clubs trying to secure appropriate cover would be untenable. This has resulted in us increasing registration fees by $7 to assist in covering the cost, an action we believe was warranted to achieve the outcomes we desired.

We seek at this meeting your endorsement of the new constitution, which will address our future needs. This document has taken 3 years to develop to this point and we hope that it can now be adopted, enabling us to move forward.

I thank all executive members for their work on the various sub committees and particularly thank sub committee chairpersons for their leadership. Some of you have spent countless hours organising your areas of responsibility, often without recognition or reward. The sport needs a large pool of willing workers from club level, Zone and State level through to the National body.

During the year we have welcomed 3 new members to the Executive, Mr Peter Field Qld, Mr Robert Andrews South Australia and Mr Robert Fox for the NT. I wish them all well in their involvement and thank retiring Executive members for their efforts. The all important portfolio of finance has again been managed by Vice President Mr Bill Jones. I again thank Bill for his leadership in this area and for his support as Vice President.

Each year we ask everyone to remember those members who have passed on. The age profile of our sport clearly indicates that we frequently need to remember our friends and their involvement in our sport. Mr Graham Michell, Executive member for 12 years, 8 years as chairperson of the shooting committee and Vice President of the Australian Shooting Association, is a prime example of someone who was committed to our sports improvement. I probably better than most know of the hours of work and dedication that Graham gave to our sport. He would spend hours on the phone discussing aspects of the sport and planning team selection. Graham is a great loss to our sport and he will be very difficult to replace. Thanks Graham for all that you did. A special thank you to all personnel in our National Office for your efforts during the last 12 months. The pressure and diversity of your tasks are not appreciated or understood by many. To Andy Sanders as Executive Officer, thank you for your efforts during the year.

Thank you to all sponsors for your assistance at club, State and National level, your support of our sport is appreciated.

I conclude by thanking all members, Executive and office staff who have assisted me in my role during the last 3 years. I will not be seeking re-election to a 4th term as President in July for a number of reasons. I wish the new President and the Association every success in the future and hope that our sport can continue to move forward in 2003.

John Byrnes

Tasmanian Trap Carnival

25, 26 & 27 January 2003 — Tasmanian Gun Club

The Australia Day long weekend, is traditionally the time for the Tasmanian State DTL Titles, and this year saw some 152 competitors converge on Tasmania Gun Club ground at Evandale. 32 shooters from interstate.

The first day saw some excellent scores in arguably the hardest 2 events of the Carnival, State Double Rise, State Handicap.

The State Double Rise Champion for 2003 was Phil Granger from Victoria, who shot an excellent score of 58/60 after a short shoot off.

The State Handicap was won by John Foster from Tasmania with a good score of 95/95 after a hard shoot-off with Lester McCallum coming 2nd with a score of 94/95.

After Saturday's magnificent weather, it was a bit daunting to rise on Sunday morning to find rain clouds (although very welcome in our drought ridden state) and much cooler temperatures.

The State Single Barrel was the first event on Sunday, was won by Bruce Webb from Victoria with a score of 56/56 after a short shoot-off with Rob Williams 55/56.

The cooler weather did not dampen Stuart Browning's enthusiasm, the shoot off for the Double Barrel started with 32 shooters and had to be completed on Monday morning. By the time the title had been determined, a new Tasmanian record of (481) had been set for the State by Stuart Browning from a very unlucky Tim Atkins 480/481.

The Interstate Teams Match on Sunday was hotly contested and won by Victoria with a perfect score of 125/125, Tasmania 2nd 124/125, NSW 3rd 123/125.

The clubs were just as enthusiastic with their support of the Don Taylor Shield which was won by Hobart Gun Club with an unbeatable team score of 283/300 beating Tasmania Gun Club by 1 point.

Monday morning brought sunshine again and good scores in the State Points Score, which was won by Sox Pillpasids with a score of 243/243.

This event was the "make or break" event for the team selection, and there were many hard luck stories of the one that got away and stuffed my chances of making the team for 2003 around the ground. However many shooters who had not figured in the trophies throughout the Carnival were very much in the running for the Team, more than 8 points down and you did not even rate a mention.

We fielded teams in all categories for the Postal Competition and there were again some excellent scores shot. Congratulations to all Team members.

The TCTA thanks all shooters for their attendance, our Sponsors for their generosity again this year, and the Tasmanian Gun Club for providing the grounds in excellent condition, to enable us to host another very successful State DTL Carnival. Check out all the scores elsewhere in this magazine and mark in your diary, the January long weekend in Tasmania as the place to be in 2004. YOU WILL BE VERY WELCOME.

Dear Sir

I must agree with David Stewart's letter (Your Say, Feb 2003) that the ACTA must declare itself and answer the questions David is asking.

1. Does the ACTA take a pro-gun stand?
2. Does the ACTA have a "lobbyist" to take up our case?
3. When can we see some support by our Association for the general firearm owner who is under siege from all sides?

Being a Political activist and adviser for the last 30 years (I am also a member of the SSAA), I can assure you all that there is strength in unity, and I strongly advise the Association to consider some kind of amalgamation with all other reputable firearm groups and form an effective resistance to the anti-gun groups who are continually pressuring the Government to further tighten up on gun laws. The latest push on handguns which will take effect June/July this year is sure proof that they are not going to stop until we are completely disarmed. Have we all forgotten that the first move just a decade ago was the promise that they were only going to ask us to obtain a shooters licence, and that there was not going to be any advancement on that, in view of what has happened since, surely we are not so gullible as to trust them again, come on fellas, WAKE UP.

Werribee/Victorian Clay Target Club

Werribee/Victorian Club launched their first ever New Year Day shoot and offered trophies to the value of over $7,500. Competitors from as far afield as Hay turned up to try their skill. Most of the visitors found that the local champions were hitting their straps and were hard to beat.

Three events were contested and after the dust settled, Russell Mark was the overall high gun winner with a score of 121/125. AA grade Pat Guida 120/125, A Grade Nick Guida 116/125, B Grade our Commonwealth gold medalist skeet shooter Lauryn Ogilvie 121/135 (God help us if she takes a liking to down the line), C Grade another up and coming lady trenchie Stacey Rioall 110/125, Ladies - another skeetie Wendy Wellam 97/125, Juniors was won in fine style by Ron Green's (long time President of Geelong Club) grandson Gus Burns 109/125 and the never again Ron Garth from down Frankston way won the Veterans overall 113/125.

Overall High Gun Russell Mark and his father Brian.

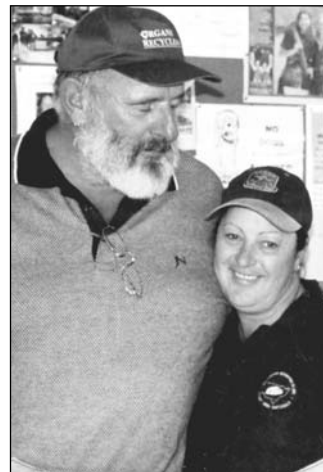

Pat Guida, AA Grade High Gun.

Ron Garth, Veteran Overall

Gus Burns, Junior High Gun and A Grade Points.

G. Young and W. Wellam, Overall Ladies High Gun.

Some of our sponsors that dug deep were Nick and Pat Guida, Brian Mark Real Estate, Robyn Bodger, Ballantyne Ammunition, Biland Trading, Master Wok Restaurant, Retrovision and apologies for probably a few I have forgotten.

Profits of the day are going towards our purchase of the over-shooting rights of the World War II bombing range. Our three traps, which include the latest Mattarelli, performed faultlessly punching out over 5000 clays in just under 7 hours.

The Club is eagerly awaiting the arrival of our new state of the art all electronically operated Five Star sporting traps that should be fully operational by Easter. The Club put on a magnificent breakfast and lunch at no cost to the competitors other than we did sell a lot of raffle tickets in lieu of.

Our major sponsor Nick Guida generously donated all the meat for the BBQ as well as our weekly tray of meat. As if not enough his lovely wife Annette assisted our canteen manager Pauline and her daughter Jenny to keep the food rolling along.

Everyone present reckoned it a great stepping stone for the Club and next year promises to be bigger and if humanly possible, better.

$10,000 IN CASH & TROPHIES ATTRACTS SHOOTERS ECHUCA BOXING DAY SHOOT A HUGE SUCCESS

Echuca Clay Target Club was overjoyed at 29 squads of shooters over two days attending their annual two day shoot. With shooters arriving from virtually all states of Australia to make for some excellent competition shooting.

Day one was shot with a southerly wind and 28 degrees, and day two calm and a pleasant 32 degrees. With $10,000 plus dollars of cash and trophies all shooters were very keen to put their name on a winners prize. A perfect background of cut hay made the black targets seemingly impossible to miss resulting in some very good scores over the whole shoot.

Using a total of six trap layouts the shoot ran fast and ended at early times of day, a pleasant change for most competitors. Most traveling shooters had family along which would have helped local businesses financially and for that reason Echuca Clay Target Club sincerely thank their many local sponsors of the shoot.

The Overall High Gun was shot out to finality by S Atkins and J Vardanega, with J Vardanega winning on a score of 305, taking an Overall High Gun Sash & an American made shooters Belt Buckle.

CUZZO'S RAMBLINGS

April 2003

Whenever I give shooting lessons, one of the most frequently asked questions is "Do you think my gun fits me?" The answer to that question is almost always yes and no! Yes because with the mount and stance that is currently being used to compensate for any degree of "non-fit", it is superficially fitting. But no, with a technically correct mount and stance the gun would not fit and would need some alterations.

Then when I go on to explain the various aspects of gun fit, much of the technology and terminology is not understood. For that reason I wrote an article on Shotgun Stocks and Gun Fit about ten years ago, to explain all the technicalities and concepts involved in this critically important aspect of our sport. I often use this article as a hand-out at my shooting classes. This month I have decided to share my thoughts on the subject with CTSN readers.

The full article is over 3500 words long and thus far too big for one edition, so I have broken it up into two halves. The first, which I will publish this month, is an explanation of mechanics of gun fit, and the second, which I hope to publish next month, gives my ideas and theories on the subject. As I alluded to above, Gun Fit is one part of a three-piece "jigsaw puzzle", which also incorporates Stance and Gun Mount. For my thoughts on the latter two points, please refer back to the article I wrote on that subject in the July 1998 issue of the CTSN.

Almost all shotgun stocks are of the two-part type, comprising a forearm (or fore-end) and a butt stock, which is usually referred to as simply the stock. The size and shape of the forearm has very little to do with the performance or operation of the gun and provided it's construction stays within the generally accepted guidelines, then it's dimensions and style are purely a matter of taste or personal preference. Its main function is to provide a convenient and comfortable handle by which the non-dominant hand can control the direction of the gun.

The stock, on the other hand, although a seemingly simple and rudimentary attachment, is actually a very complex and complicated device, which requires a number of very carefully calculated dimensions in order to be able to serve two very important functions:

- 1) To transfer recoil to the shooter as gently and as comfortably as possible.
- 2) To correctly align the shooter's eye with the sighting plane of the shotgun.

The main parts of the gunstock are:

1) The grip - the portion between the trigger and the comb, which the dominant hand wraps around to hold the gun. Grips come in three styles:

- A) Straight grip - sometimes used on double trigger guns;
- B) Semi-pistol grip - used on some field guns;
- C) Full pistol grip - some field guns and most target guns.

Grips come in two shapes:

- A) Straight sided - traditional shape found on most stocks;
- B) Palm swelled - custom feature found on some target guns.

2) The comb - the top of the stock, which the face rests upon. The front of the comb is called the nose and the rear of the comb is called the heel. Most combs are straight, but some target guns have a variation called a Monte Carlo comb, where the comb is usually higher and straighter than normal but drops away near the heel so that the butt remains in the conventional position relative to the line of sight.

3) The butt - the back of the stock, which rests against the shooter's shoulder. Sometimes the butt is simply the back of the wooden stock, whereupon it is usually chequered. Usually the butt is covered by either a butt plate made from metal or plastic, or a recoil pad, which is made of rubber and will vary in thickness, shape and design, depending upon the usage of the gun. The top of the butt where it joins the comb is the heel and the base of the butt is called the toe.

The main dimensions of a gun stock are:

- 1) Length
- 2) Drop
- 3) Cast
- 4) Pitch

Length is the distance from the hollow of the trigger curve to the centre of the butt and is thus a simple single linear measurement.

Drop is the distance from the extension of the sighting plane to the comb. If the comb was straight and parallel to the sighting plane then this would be one measurement. But as the comb usually slopes down and away from the line of sight then the measurement changes over the length of the comb and is usually expressed by giving two measurements. These are drop at comb (which really should be called drop at nose of comb) and drop at heel.

As the only measurement that is really relevant is the drop at the point on the comb where the face contacts it, and as this point is usually about midway between the nose and the heel, then by deduction the effective drop at comb is about halfway between the two quoted measurements. When a Monte Carlo type stock is measured there can be three possible dimensions. Drop at nose of comb, drop at rear of comb, and drop at heel of stock. However, as the theory behind a Monte Carlo stock usually calls for the comb to be parallel to the sighting plane, this may be reduced to two dimensions - drop at comb and drop at heel.

Cast is the lateral deviation of the butt from the line of sight. Cast off bends the stock away from the face of a right handed shooter, and conversely, cast on bends the stock towards the shooter's face, and is thus more likely to be encountered on the stock of a left handed shooter. Cast can be affected by the thickness of the stock. A shooter who required no cast off with a stock of average dimensions, might need some cast off if he purchased a gun fitted with a custom stock which had been made to generous proportions. Sometimes a stock will be deliberately made with more cast at the toe than at the heel, thus creating a twist in the stock and causing the butt to be at an angle to the gun. This will usually give much the same effect as increasing the pitch.

Pitch is a measurement that is relevant to the angle of the butt from the line of sight. It would be quite simple if it was expressed as such - the number of degrees from square that the extension of the butt line intersected the line of light. However this is not the case. English stock makers don't even use the word pitch. They encompass this dimension by specifying two additional measurements of length - length to heel and length to toe - in addition to the normal length to butt. American stock makers approach this dimension from a somewhat indirect and complicated-to-define direction. They first establish the butt line, and then establish another line at right angles to the butt line, which extends past the top rear point of the action to the muzzle. The pitch measurement is then given as the distance from this extended line to the top of the muzzle. Although this is somewhat complicated to visualize and define it is fairly easy to measure. You simply stand the gun squarely on its butt on the floor near a wall with the trigger guard away from the wall. Then slide the gun towards the wall until the receiver comes in contact with the wall. Now you can easily measure the distance from the muzzle to the wall and this is your pitch dimension. Even though it controls the angle of the butt it is measured at the muzzle.

Most shotguns are used for field shooting and field stocks are designed so that they can be mounted and fired quickly from a gun-down starting position. Over the years gun manufacturers and stock makers have come to a general consensus of opinion as to what the optimum dimensions for a field stock to suit the average person. These are:

Length	14"
Drop at Comb	1 1/2"
Drop at Heel	2 1/2"
Cast	0-1/2"
Pitch	2" - 4"

Up until 1954 Skeet was shot from various gun down positions and thus the optimum field stock and the optimum skeet stock were pretty much one and the same item. However, from 1954 onwards, the rules allowed pre-mounted guns as in trapshooting. Trapshooters had long since deduced that for target shooting with a pre-mounted gun, the optimum stock dimensions were somewhat longer and higher than the ideal field gun. Thus, you would imagine that within a short space of time most skeet guns would have had their stocks altered or been retro-fitted with a trap stock and that most new skeet guns would have started wearing trap stocks. This did not happen for a number of reasons.

Some shooters were simply resistant to changing their established shooting style and continued to shoot from a dismounted or partly dismounted starting position. Others, who eventually conceded the wisdom of shooting with a pre-mounted gun, and thus eliminating a potential self-imposed handicap, were resistant to changing their tried and trusted equipment. Still others, who both conceded the pre-mounted gun and admitted the virtue of trap stock dimensions for skeet shooting, were disinclined to change for practical reasons. Their skeet guns were also used for bird hunting or vice versa, and the fitting of a trap stock would have been advantageous only to the game birds when the gun was used for hunting.

However, as surely as change is slow, it is also equally eventual. Ever since it's inception as a hunting practice exercise, Skeet has been slowly evolving into an end within itself, such that today a great many Skeet shooters almost never hunt, and of those that do, most look at Skeet primarily as a separate entity. Nowadays the cutting edge of Skeet technology is pretty much free to concentrate on breaking higher scores without having to compromise to the attainment of other goals. Thus, whereas the optimum skeet gun of yesteryear was a 7lb. field gun with 26" barrels and very little choke, today the general consensus of opinion on the ideal Skeet gun would probably be a 9lb. trap gun with 30" barrels and an appreciable degree of choke.

The ideal Trap stock and the ideal Skeet stock have now become pretty much one and the same thing and could be just as well referred to as a Target Stock. Thus the ideal Target Stock these days is probably a Monte Carlo comb item with the following dimensions:

Length	14 1/2"
Drop at Nose of Comb	1 1/2"
Drop at Rear of Comb	1 1/2"
Drop at Heel	2 1/4"
Cast	0"
Pitch	1" - 2"

This month's Shooting Trivia Question: How many US visitors have won Open Titles at the Trap Nationals? Mail your answer to Shooting Trivia, P.O. Box 265, Bairnsdale 3875, to arrive by 20-04-2003. The first correct answer drawn shall receive a free entry to next year's National Handicap. The correct answer to February's STQ is: Three great versatile shooters have accomplished the dual achievement of winning of the National Double Barrel Championship and breaking the National Skeet Long Run Record. They are George Biggs who won the NDB in 1953 and broke the Skeet record in 1976, Keith Patterson who won the NDB in 1960 and broke the Skeet record in 1970 and Jimmy Ellis who won the NDB in 1970 and 1975 and broke the Skeet record in 1980. The first correct answer drawn was submitted by Ron Cugley from Deniliquin in Victoria who wins a free entry to this year's National Double Rise Championship.

Wagin Saltbush Carnival

On February 7th, 8th and 9th the Wagin Clay target club held their annual 2-day carnival, the "Saltbush" carnival, named after the salt flat that the club is built upon. The weekend opened on Friday with a 50 target event, the AgWest Machinery starter, as an extra for all the locals and the campers who came a long way to Wagin from such places such as Geraldton, Esperance and even as far away as Port Headland.

Friday was a magnificent day for shooting with clear skies and the odd breeze with around 45 people turning out to shoot. After all the scores had come in the people who shot the possible went out and shot off with Vince O'Brien being the eventual winner on 64/65 from Eric Maley on 63/65.

Saturday began with a bang in more that one way with spectacular thunder booms and a fast shower to settle the dust and lead off the day. One shooter was heard to say, "where do you get that gunpowder from". This was the day the real action started with the scores shot now counting towards the highgun, 76 people turned out to compete for the days events. The first event was the 4 Farmers Classic, a 25-target double barrel event. There were 11 possibles shot with Mick Howley eventually winning the shoot-off with a very well shot 106/106 beating Jim West with 105/106.

The second event was the 50 target double barrel Malbrae and Dohnbouillet Special sponsored by Trevor Booth and Jim West. This time there was 6 possible 50/50's shot and many points of view of who would win the shoot-off. With an excellent 91/91 Barry Kowald from Katanning was the eventual winner beating Mike Daden from Bunbury with 90/91.

The last event for the day was the Koonac Cup sponsored by the generous business people of Wagin & Districts. This was a points score event and the conditions were becoming harder as the day went. Lars Bager came in with a possible 75/75 as well as Sam West late in the round. In the shoot-off Lars dropped his first shot on his first target but hit the 2nd with an excellent second barrel shot after the dropping sun got in his eyes. Sam West, a Wagin junior, won the event after hitting the target with his first shot and took home the prized golden Koonac brooch.

Sunday was not such a good day to shoot on and was very unusual for the Saltbush carnival. It was warm and muggy with a strong breeze blowing the targets around, in fact the light and wind made shooting very difficult. Sunday was the signature of the Saltbush carnival, being the Phil Becker Memorial Cup. The Phil Becker Cup was not shot as a 100 target double barrel event as it has been in past years but this year it was held as a medley of 25 double barrel, 25 single barrel, 25 points score and 25 targets continental. Holding the event like this opened the field up to many more people this year.

82 people showed up on Sunday to compete. West Australian representative Mick Howley with an excellent score of 146/150 won the event. The nearest rivals were Paul Baker and Darren McMichan both on 142/150. This event will no doubt become a classic on the West Australian calendar.

The Highgun winners for the weekend were

- * Ladies Denise Pope, Geraldton 244/330
- * Veterans Tim Catling, Katanning 304/330
- * Juniors Darren McMichan Geraldton 306/330
- * Intermediate Bernie Biddulph Esperance 311/330
- * Overall Paul Baker Narrogin 317/330

Congratulations to Paul on very consistent shooting over the weekend and taking the Highgun even though he did not win anything else but grade trophies.

All together the shoot was a great success and everybody enjoyed the shooting and the hospitality afterwards. Many shooters were upgraded and shot personal best scores. The Wagin Clay Target Club would just like to thank all our generous sponsors, the ladies who helped in any way and all the people who turned out making the day a great success.

Coaches Corner . . .

This will be an on going section in the CTSN. Shooters will be encouraged to send in questions each month, which will be answered by different senior coaches. So if you have any questions please address them to:

Coaches Corner

PO Box 466 Wagga Wagga NSW 2650 or email your questions to Rebecca:
administration@claytarget.com.au and type in the subject line Coaches Corner.

Q: I am a keen DTL shooter and my question is that in every double barrel event I can shoot the whole 25 targets straight single barrel, but in a single barrel event I usually get about 20/25. What am I doing wrong?

A: The mind is a powerful thing!! When you are shooting double barrel the second barrel is your security blanket and because you know its there if you need it you are relaxed, concentrating and letting it happen, so the 25 is easy. When you then shoot a single barrel event you might be tightening up and try too hard due to the perceived extra difficulty.

Possible solutions: - 1. Shoot single barrel in the same way as you would double barrel, 2. Practice single barrel not double barrel, 3. Relax and concentrate on hitting one target at a time and not the whole 25.

P.S: It may have helped to know where in the 25 that you may have missed, ie: is it always in the beginning, end, middle or random. For instance if the beginning you maybe missing due to nervousness or anxiety, at the end by being jumpy, loss of concentration, lack of application.

South East Zone Vic Teams Shoot Update No 1

On Saturday February 8th at Cerberus Clay Target Club we saw Round 1 of the most successful Vic South East Zone Teams shoot. The attendance was an all time record for both the host Club and the South East Zone with 105 Shooters and 22 Teams. It was good to see for the first time Woods Point, Werribee Vic and back after a break Melbourne and Veneto/Abruzzo, in total 16 zone Clubs. Competition was hot all day on the tracks and in the car park, with all the stories about the good old days, with Tony Rowe and Bill Iles keeping every one guessing.

Veneto/Abruzzo Team back after a long break and Shooting Good.

Woods Point's – Wood Ducks in top form.

The last 3 in Double Barrel. Peter Mills, Bill Iles & Neal Rundle.

A full house of Spectators all looking on.

Event No 1 25 Target Double Barrel. We saw 25 shooters with a possible score, into the shoot-off's shooting 10 targets per ground, after 100 targets we were down to one squad of 6 shooters Peter Mills, Bill Iles, Neal Rundle, Malcolm Green, Leon Howell & Luca Scribani-Rossi. As they say in the classics "the rest is history", with first place going to Bill Iles 217/217 and Peter Mills 2nd 216/217.

Event No 2 25 Target Handicap. This was the Zone's first competition under the new handicap rules, we saw the front markers put in a good effort on their new marks of 15M. After the 25 targets, there were 7 possibles, after a further 25 targets we were down to 4 shooters with the winner being David Cross with 68/68 2nd Rob Williams 67/68 and 3rd Leon Howell 53/54. The back marker Luca Scribani-Rossi 46/47.

High Gun Being last shoo-off for the day with some of the competition were itching for a win. Only 3 were able to get together a possible/possible in the Double & Handicap; Stacey Elsley, Luca Scribani -Rossi and Leon Howell. With a very well shot win going to Stacey on 58/58.

Winning team Cerberus No 1 with a Score of 241/250. Team L to R are John Rowe, Hector Crawford, Leon Howell, Peter Mills & Chris Carrol.

Club President Hector & Dick Hammon 1st B.

Series High Gun

This year the competition is strong for the Series High Gun. The highest combined score in the Double Barrel and Handicap. After the first round the placings are tight.

On 50/50 in equal first are Luca Sacibani-Rossi , Stacey Elsley, Leon Howell.

In close second on 49/50 we have B Signorotto, M Rocca, R Williams, N Rundle, B Iles, S Lowery, M Foon, L Lewis, B Barlow, D Cross, A Biggs.

The teams over all are also up for grabs with Cerberus out in front by only 3 Points. The boys will need to stay in form or Metro and Mornington only 4 behind will be in front in a flash, and 8 other Clubs within 9 points. Good luck to all teams.

The Zone Committee should be congratulated on the effort in obtaining such a good roll-up of shooters and the Cerberus Gun Club, for the excellent job in the Canteen, Office and Shoot Marshelling. All squads ran well and on time. And when we had a small hiccup with one of the Traps it was fixed in a flash by Master Technician Chris.

We all look forward to ROUND 2 at Mornington on April 12th starting at 10.00 AM. BE THERE.

Leon Howell
South East Zone President.

'The Ultimate Competition Shotgun'

S682E

After years helping countless competitive Trap and Skeet shooters to the victory stand, the Beretta S682E have been revamped and re-designed to make them the most sought after competition over-and-unders available. The new S682E's strong, low profile receiver has an exclusive dual colour finish. Together with the modern ellipsis graphic motif, the contrast between the glossy, matte and gold parts ensures an extraordinary beauty. Beretta's electroless nickel finish provides added protection against the elements.

Features: Optima-Bore® barrel profile that reduces felt recoil and improves shot distribution (select models only). Optima-Choke® tubes (also available external version), ensure consistent shot distribution year after year. Top & side ribs are ventilated and the barrels are chrome lined internally and have a deep blue finish.

Triggers are adjustable for length pull fit to three positions. All models available with adjustable stock. Supplied complete with ABS hard case, featuring the exclusive double handle.
