ACTA CONSTITUTION

The final draft copy has been received from our lawyer Rigby Cook. All these persons and clubs that had input, I thank you for your help and in particular Mr Peter Shepherd from the Monarto-Alexandra Club for their very useful contribution.

Copies will shortly be sent to all clubs and State Associations. I now look forward to your support at the 2005 AGM for final acceptance.

2003 AGM FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The issue of the loss shown for the Trading Account on the Financial Statement 2002 raised at the 2003 AGM by the Gold Coast Club has been the subject of a rigorous investigation.

It has been discovered that an incorrect stock take figure has caused the error, so that in fact the Trading Account did show a modest surplus.

My thanks to the Gold Coast Club for their vigilance in this matter, which is now closed.

ACTA JUNIOR DEVELOPMENT

It is with regret that I advise the resignation of Bill Iles as Head Coach for the Junior Development Camp. This most successful idea first promoted by the late G Michell has been operational for 4 years. Some 125 Juniors have taken advantage of the "vast experience" Bill has accumulated. The camp staff 2 Cooks Alan and John, 3 Coaches Bill, Peter and Bill and Andy doing the organising have all given their time and effort "free of charge" and I say to Bill on behalf of all Juniors "Thanks!".

Patent No. AUS 699440, NZ 314304, USA 5,771,874 the product label on the "Gemini" machines clearly identifies that fact.

All patent where granted to the Inventor Ludwig Kohler during 1997-98 with a priority date of the 27 February 1996.

All Patent are current and remain so until the year 2017- 18 .

The only individual or company licensed to make use of the Patent, is L.K. Precision Eng. P/L

Abstract

Summary of the Invention

It is therefore an object of this invention to ameliorate the aforementioned disadvantages and accordingly there is disclosed a machine for launching clay shooting targets, said machine comprising a target storage magazine, a delivery plate adjacent the base of the said magazine, a user controllable delivery means adapted to unload either One or a Pair of said targets from the magazine onto a plane of the said delivery plate in a side by side configuration, a throwing arm adapted upon release to move across said deliver plate from a cocked position behind said targets to a discharged position whereby said targets are simultaneously catapulted into the air from the said delivery plate, wherein a leading surface of said throwing arm is curved so as to be in contact with or sufficiently closely adjacent to said targets when in the cocked position to avoid target impact breakage upon release and also provide close flight trajectories for said targets,

Preferable said User operable delivery means comprises a pickup plate which upon activation by the user is adapted to lower said pair of targets through an aperture in the base of the magazine of the said magazine onto the plane of the said delivery plate.

It is further preferred that said delivery means be also adapted to unload one or a pair of said targets at the option of the user.

*Best Regards
Ludwig Kohler*

Andrew Sanders, National Executive Officer, pre-sented Julian with the Cec Herbert Perpetual Trophy, Royal Blue Sash and Gold Australia Badge.

THANKS

Firstly my thanks go to Don Power the hard working shoot marshal who took on the job for the first time. Don thought he had bitten off more than he could chew, my advice was chew harder. Job well done Don.

Thanks also to the office staff their behind the scenes assistance ensured that the carnival ran very smoothly. Also to my hard working ground staff who made many a trap adjustment ensuring that the targets were shootable.

I look forward to seeing everybody at the National Ground in November for the 2004 Skeet Nationals.

October shoot at Mathoura

Conrad Rob 1st SB

Mathoura Gun Club hosted three squads of shooters on Friday night the 24th October, all keen to get into the placings on a mild night and no wind at all which was well appreciated, as night shooting definitely tests all shooters skills.

Shooters travelled from Deniliquin, Echuca, Moama and local areas to compete. Event one was a ten target points score, and after all had shot there was only 2 shooters clean on 30/30 being Harry O'Conner and Murray Roberts to share the cash trophy.

The main event was next being a 25 target points score, and after the competition there was only 1 shooter clean on 75/75 taking out Overall and A grade, Ben Kerslake, collecting a sash and a meat trophy. B grade was Bens' father Roger Kerslake on 70/75, and Eric Lucic took out C grade on a 60/75.

Event three was a 15 Target single barrel with 1st, 2nd and 3rd placings on offer. Conrad Robb showed all shooters the way with the only possible taking 1st and a tray of meat. Meat trays were given for all trophies and were well accepted. Shooting 14 out of the fifteen targets to take out 2nd was Shane Howe, and third after a very short shoot-off between Ben Kerslake, Ian Phillips, and Murray Roberts was Ben on a score of 15/17.

With a smoothly run shoot and a very pleasant night all shooters were pleased with the night and appreciated an early finish at 10-15pm.

World Cup Final, Rome

Oct 15 - 19, 2003

Coach: Greg Chan

Trap: Adam Vella, Nessa Jenkins.

Double Trap: Russell Mark, Adam Vella, Susie Trindall

Skeet: Lauryn Ogilvie

The annual World Cup Final brings together the top 12 shooters in each discipline for the year. The invitations are extended to the defending champion; the three medallists from the world championships and the top eight qualifiers based on points received for performances at the world cups during the year. It is a highly prestigious tournament and just to qualify is an achievement in itself.

The team departed for Rome via Singapore and Frankfurt on the 12th October and arrived minus guns, which is becoming the norm lately. Rather than sit at the airport for five hours to wait for the next plane, we decided to check into our hotel and return for the guns later.

Our hotel was the Duca D'Este, which is situated around 20 minutes from the shooting range and 45 minutes from the centre of Rome.

Women's skeet silver, Lauryn Ogilvie.

The range was built in 1999 and is simply a magnificent complex. The clubhouse sits on the top of a hill and overlooks eight Olympic trap and skeet ranges, five of which have ZZ ranges superimposed. Six of the eight ranges are connected by a tunnel that runs some 350 metres so the shooting is never interrupted by officials or trappers entering the bunker and the skeet houses are on rails to enable them to be moved out of the way when shooting ZZ's. This discipline is very popular in Italy and a recent tournament at this range attracted over a thousand competitors for one event.

The entire range is covered in grass and this provides a terrific background with the only drawback being that it faces slightly west making it difficult to see targets later in the day. For local events it does not appear to be a problem, they simply turn on the lights and continue shooting into the dark. This actually happened while we were there. In conjunction with the World Cup Final they ran the Grand Prix of Nations and had to shoot under lights in the rain to complete the first days trap competition.

Adam shot off for the final and was disappointed with his score, but with the year he has just had he should feel satisfied and confident for next year. Nothing can be taken away from the winner Pelliolo of Italy. The targets were hard, but his win by six targets was a fantastic effort and shows him in the best form of his career.

What a great performance from Lauryn. Her consistent 24's in qualifying put her into the final in second place and gave her the highest placing and personal best result of her career.

This World Cup Final was a well-run tournament contested on one of the best ranges anywhere in the world. Rome could well be in line to host world cups or other international events in the future.

The World Cup Final rounded off the international season for our clay target team and they should be pleased with the effort that saw record numbers of qualifiers and more Australian shooters near the top of the world ranking's than ever before. Four Olympic quotas were won on the open circuit and with the Oceania Games to win more quotas Australia is well placed to have a large contingent of clay target shooters at the Athens Olympics.

Newcastle Lake Macquarie Clay Target Club

On the 1st & 2nd November Newcastle Lake Macquarie CTC held it's annual 2-day skeet shoot.

Clear skies but strong gusting winds greeted shooters on Saturday morning resulting in lower than average scores being shot, Neil Newbury (NLMCTC) being the only one to bring out the red chalk.

Event 2 the 50 tgt Championship saw some good shooting, particularly from the lower graded shooters given the tough conditions with Graham Gosling (NLMCTC) 45/50 holding it together to take out the trophy.

The 3rd event, 50 tgt Doubles really sorting the men from the boys, this normally challenging event being more so, the eventual winner being Bob Clifton (NSW) 43/50.

Sunday dawned and we were again greeted to gusty winds for the start of the 50 tgt Handicap, scores reflecting the tough conditions and after a short shoot off all 5 places were decided with David Groves (NLMCTC) being a popular winner.

A change in the weather conditions and a tickle of the traps saw the start of the main event for the weekend the 'Cliff Ferguson Memorial'. 50tg's later and an improvement in scores, Colin Sim (NSW) has his name on this most prestigious club trophy after defeating Jim Wilberforce (Taree/Wingham) 2nd & local shooter Grahame Gosling 3rd in the shoot off.

In conjunction with the weekends shoot the Lake Macquarie Games were held (sponsored by Lake Macquarie City Council), with the following shooters taking home the medals.

Gold -Jim Wilberforce (Taree/Wingham)

Silver- Kevin Weatherall (Tamworth)

Bronze- Colin Sim (NSW)

Thankyou to all travelling shooters we appreciate your attendance and look forward to seeing you next year.

Thankyou to all who assisted in organising, running and catering for this weekend. All that attended appreciated your efforts.

Marconi Marathon 100

The Marconi clay target held its annual Marconi Marathon 100 on Sunday the 10th of October 2003. Competition got under way promptly at 10am in reasonably good weather, and everyone who attended on the day had a good time.

The club is very grateful to shooters turned out in big numbers with 15 squads lining up to contest, not only at the main double barrel event (100 targets), but also to contest the teams event. There was strong contingent from the New South Wales gun club and it wasn't long before shooters were out there in earnest trying to clobber those targets. At stake were some excellent prizes which included both a prize and a sash for high gun as well as prizes and a sashes for overall and first place as well as worthwhile prizes for second and third places.

Prior to shooting the 100 double barrel event (Marconi Marathon 100), there was the Pointscore eye-opener, which saw some very happy shooters collect very good cash prizes in each grade.

Generally the weather held out and was mainly fine although at some stages it was very windy with the occasional cold stiff breeze. Mid-competition there was also a threat of rain and storms hanging around so the shooting was challenging at times. Luckily the weather held out and generally the shooters enjoyed reasonable conditions that returned to sunshine later in the day.

At the end of the shoot there were many shooters who came up and commented that they had thoroughly enjoyed the events. They also commented on how well the shoot had been run. As you know these types of shoots just don't materialise from nothing. There are many people behind the scenes who sacrifice their own time to help ensure that the shoot runs smoothly, and that includes all the bits and pieces that go with great shoot and are put in place for the shooters to enjoy. In this regard the club has to thank our hard-working office Lady Pam Trew for capably doing a lot of the hard yards that go with squadding the shooters and keeping their scores. Equally the club is thankful to the Ladies in the canteen (led by Fulia Gei) who provided an excellent meal for the shooters. Of course there are also some hard-working committee members who also made it all happen, as well as the shooters themselves who also got in and provided a helping hand.

There were lots of winners but the day belonged to Arty Del Ben (133/134) who cleaned up fairly well taking the prizes for Overall and High Gun. The teams event saw the Sydney CTC team of A Ziad, M Nsar, M Nsar Jnr and Nick Hatzianagnostou (364/400) take out first place which enabled them to share in a cash prize pool that totalled $440. The New South Wales Gun Club team also shared in the prize pool after taking second place.

Marconi is hoping to make the Marathon 100 even more enjoyable next year and encourages shooters from all clubs to field a team next time around.

WA JUNIOR SPORTS STAR AWARD

The Western Australia Shooting Association recently held its annual Sports Star awards at the magnificent Whiteman Park

International Shooting Complex. The award categories are for Junior, Veteran, Open and International, which cover all ballistic sports within Western Australia.

Nominations from the WA Clay Target Association for the Veterans category was Robin Bailey, Open category was Michael Howley and the Juniors category was 15 years old Darren McMichan.

It was a tough decision for young Darren as he was also nominated for the Junior sports star of the year at both the WA Shooting Association held in Perth and his home town Geraldton for the Mid West region with both the presentations being held on the same night. His decision to travel to Perth proved to be the right one where he was awarded with the States Junior Sports Star of the year award in front of his peers. His list of achievements during the past year was impressive with 3 National Junior Title wins and selection in the Junior Oceania Skeet team to name just a few. Darren is an inspiration to young people and a fine ambassador for our sport. He is also supported by the WA Department of Sport and Recreation through the "Smarter than Smoking" funding.

South East Zone Q.C.T.A. TRAP CARNIVAL

GOLD COAST 18th & 19th OCTOBER 2003

The Gold Coast Clay Target Club was host to the South East Zone QCTA trap Carnival on 18th & 19th October 2003. The weather was a mixture with overcast conditions, variable winds, and some heavy showers.

Seventy shooters contested the first day's events. The first event was a 25-target cash divide and a total of eighteen possibles were recorded.

This lead into the second event, the South East Zone Double Barrel Championship. The conditions had deteriorated a little and the expected long shoot-off did not eventuate.

Overall went to Vince Vaina of the Gold Coast Club 54/54.

John Maxwell (Maryborough) on 63/64 was first in AA from George Sckaf (Gold Coast) 62/64.

A fast improving Junior shooter, Glenn Wyatt (Maryborough) 39/40 took A grade from the veteran Ian Hedger (Gold Coast) 45/46.

Roger Hoffmann (Toowoomba) 24/25 was first in B grade from Mark Hounding (Brisbane) 23/25.

Mike Swale Jnr won C grade with 24/25 from Mark Chounding (Brisbane) on 22/25.

Vince Vaina Winner SEZ D.B. C'ship with Zone President John Mack.

Event 3, the South East Zone Single Barrel Championship saw only one possible recorded.

Gold Coast shooter featured in all but two of the nine positions.

Willem Smits won overall with the only 25/25.

Ivan Litvinov (27/28) was first in AA from Graham Leech (26/28).

Jim Edmonds (Toogoolawah) 24/25 won A grade from Lynne Thompson 22/25.

Eric Kratzer 27/31 was first in B grade from Don Palmer 26/31.

The last Event of the day was the South East Zone Double Rise Championship of 15 pairs.

Colin Witt (Gold Coast) finished an indifferent day (by his standards) with a fine 28/30 to claim overall.

The quiet, retiring, unassuming Tony Bradshaw (Maryborough)

Willem Smits - Winner SEZ Single Barrel C'ship with John Mack SEZ President & Tom Meadows.

52/60 triumphed in AA from Marius Venter (Warwick) on 48/60.

Jamie McIntyre (Gold Coast) 42/50 proved too strong in A grade for Karl Nasarenko (Sunshine Coast) 39/50.

Barry Wiseman (Redcliffe) 25/30 was first in B grade from Arthur Page (Toowoomba) 22/30.

Shane Titmarsh (Warwick) 18/30 won C grade from Brian Fairweather (Gold Coast) 17/30.

Sunday dawned overcast with showers. The first event was a

Medley of 15 targets Double Barrel followed by 15 targets Points Score.

John Maxwell shot the only 60/60 to take overall.

Mike Swale 79/80 was first in AA from George Sckaf 79/80.

Geoff McMillan (Gold Coast) 58/60 edged out Clay Zapantis (Brisbane) 57/60 to win A grade.

Poits Score C'ship.

C grade went to Claude Rockford (Gold Coast) 55/60 from Shane Titmarsh (Warwick) 54/60.

Event 6 was the South East Zone Points Score Championship and Tony Bradshaw won overall with a fine score of 96/96. Col Tanner (Redcliffe) 77/78 was first in AA from the recently promoted Glenn Wyatt 74/75.

A grade was won by Frank Robinson (Central Burnett) 75/75 from Karl Nasarenko 86/87.

Steve Szabo 74/75 edged out Roger Hoffmann 73/75 to win B grade.

Michael Swale Jnr 66/75 won C grade from his brother James Swale on 64/75.

The Zone Team was chosen over Events 2,3,6. The team to represent the South East Zone in 2004 is Glenn Wyatt 120/125, Col Tanner 120/125, Willem Smits 120/125, George Sckaf 120/125, Col Witt 119/125, and Graham Leech 119/125.

The Meadows Transport Shield was then shot off between the Gold Coast and Brisbane Clubs as the top two qualifiers. After the shoulder-to-shoulder shoot-off, the Gold Coast Team of George Sckaf, Mike Swale, Col Witt, Ivan Litvinov and Geoff McMillan were victorious with a score of 356/375 from Brisbane 355/375.

The final event was the 25T South East Zone Handicap. The race for the High Gun was on with several strong contenders. Three possibles were shot by Ivan Litvinov, Col Witt and John Mack (all Gold Coast).

Ivan Litvinov 33/33 was first from Col Witt 32/33 and John Mack 25/26. Graham Leech 27/28 took fourth from Mike Swale Jnr 30/32.

Colin Witt (Gold Coast) proved the truth of the adage that Double Rise and Handicap win High Guns when he came from behind to snatch the sash for Overall High Gun with 254/265.

AA grade High Gun went to John Maxwell (Maryborough) 249/265.

A grade High Gun went to Glenn Wyatt (Maryborough) 243/265.

B grade High Gun went to Roger Hoffmann (Toowoomba) 225/265.

C grade High Gun went to Mike Swale Jnr (Gold Coast) 225/265.

Ladies High Gun went to Meredith Page (Gold Coast) 226/265.

Junior High Gun was Glenn Wyatt (Maryborough) 243/265.

Veteran High Gun was the sprightly octogenarian Arthur Page (Toowoomba) 224/265.

The presentations were made by the new South East Zone Q.C.T.A. President, John Mack, assisted by the outgoing President, Tom Meadows of Brisbane.

State Coaches and State Coaching Coordinators Seminar held in Melbourne 23rd - 26th October 2003

This year the 2003 National State Coaches and State Coaching Co-ordinators Seminar was held over 4 days in Melbourne. It was decided from the outcomes of the 2002 coaching seminar that Coaches would need two full days at a Gun Club to put forward ideas and demonstrate structured standardised coaching procedures.

Metropolitan Clay Target Club at Epping was an excellent choice of venue as it created a very relaxed and workable environment and those who attended were made most welcome by the Club President Mr Cliff Milroy.

Those present at the 2003 seminar:

Glenn O'Brien Chairman Coaching Council
Len Cook, Coaching Council
John Holder, Coaching Council
John Harmer, South Australia Zone Coach
David Fox, Western Australia Coaching Director
Sue Green, Western Australia Coaching Co-ordinator
Jim Niland, Northern Territory Coaching Director
John Doyle, Northern Territory Zone Coach
Colin Witt Queensland Coaching Co-ordinator
Stuart Browning, Tasmania Coaching Director
Glenn Woodhatch, Victoria Coaching Co-ordinator
David Coleman, NSW Coaching Co-ordinator
Elaine Bennett, Tasmania State Secretary
Greg Chan ASA Elite Shooter Program Coach

We discussed the achievements of last year and why some people felt coaching appeared to stall. Perhaps coaching did stall in some States but I believe that coaching has consolidated in most States, which is partly attributable to the outcomes of the 2002 Coaching seminar. It became obvious very early the major problem experienced by the group has been a lack of communication and information dissemination. We are looking at a number of ways to improve all levels of communication as we consider this to be the vital link to a successful program.

After our 2002 Coaching Seminar I attended a meeting of all ballistic sports convened in Melbourne. The purpose of the meeting was to develop a "generic" Level One Coaching Manual to cover all shooting sports with Sport Specific Units inserted for Clay Target shooting.

Armed with the outcomes from our 2002 conference we were well prepared for the meeting with documentation of recommendations that our sport wanted to include in the new Level 1 Coaching Accreditation booklet. Consequently most of our suggestions from the 2002 seminar were adopted.

However one specific area not adopted was the acceptance of a two tiered coaching accreditation system. This was a recommendation from the 2002 seminar and was not considered suitable by the other ballistic sports. (You can't win them all)

The new Level One Manual has now been released and was available at the 2003 seminar for State coaches to assess. General consensus is that it is a modern publication that fits today's needs for the Level one coach.

The accompanying booklet for the level one coach is the Basic Coaching Manual, this booklet was also found to be wanting in a number of areas. The group discussed the publication at length and following a significant amount of work an updated Basic Coaching Manual is almost complete.

The Level 2 Accreditation course is also currently being dissected and up-dated for a first draft copy to be ready for vetting by each state coach in the very near future. Plans to "fine tune" the "Introduction to Clay Target Shooting" booklet which is given to all new shooters are also under way.

The Coaches Corner in the CTSN will continue. Although not strongly supported it will now be used for the Coaching Council to air coaching issues and to also publish articles written by State Coaches on a rotation basis around the country. Feed back from shooters will be most welcomed.

The single element that constantly recurred over the entire seminar was the need to keep the coaching procedures simple. A number of articles around these procedures have been written by the State Coaches and will be published in the CTSN over the next few months. We once again identified the 3 areas of coaching. Novice, Beginner and Advanced. We felt that the elite shooter is at a stage where he or she has developed their own network of coaches that can help them.

One aspect of the communication issue that was discussed at length was the importance of the club using the State association and particularly the State Coach to assist Zone and club coaches and keep these coaches updated with the latest information available. The idea of Coach the Coach sessions was discussed and generally thought to be a worthy concept. However given the reality of some states having to cover large distances between gun clubs the idea of a "Trouble Shooters Guide for Coaches" was raised.

The purpose of this booklet is to offer support to the newer coach with suggestions on how to deal with a problem. All Coaches are asked to send in their coaching problems and associated helpful suggested solutions for publication in this booklet.

Greg Chan the ASA elite shooting coach spent the Saturday with us and from his presentation the group gained some very valuable information. He spoke about how ACTA, ISSF, and ASA could strengthen the bonds of co-operation to ensure the continuing success that has been achieved at an International level. Greg sees the ACTA as the "talent pool" for identifying a potential elite shooter to take into the ASA Elite Shooter Program.

He would like to see a program operating in each State that will identify and groom a talented DTL / Skeet shooter to eventually take up a place in the ISSF/ ASA Elite Training Program. This talent identification plan would not be limited to junior shooters but would target any shooter that has suitable attributes to make an elite shooter.

From this initial presentation we are now discussing the availability of funding such a program through the ASA and if successful will become another vehicle coaching can utilise.

The Coaches / Co-ordinators who attended this seminar are all enthusiastic and are working towards improving the network of coaches and getting coaching out to the clubs and to the shooter. I would like to sincerely thank all those who participated in the seminar and I can assure all Shooters that the time spent by these dedicated individuals has been a very worthwhile experience.

From the seminar a basic standardisation in coaching principles has been developed, dissemination of information and support for our Coaches will continue to grow and the systems we use in coaching are well into the process of being updated and streamlined. All of these outcomes auger well for the future of coaching within the ACTA and will ultimately make our sport stronger.

VISION

The first thing to understand is which is your dominant eye and this is easily accomplished by pointing with your index finger or making a circle with your index finger and thumb. With your arm out stretched, with both eyes open, point at an object or look through this circle at the same object somewhere in the distance. Now close one eye and if your finger is still pointing at that object or you can still see the object through the circle then this is your dominant eye. If not try the other.

The next thing to check is if your dominant eye corresponds to the same shoulder you shoot off. ie Right eye, right shoulder. If they correspond then seeing double may mean equal strength in both eyes and this may have shown up doing the dominant eye test. If they don't correspond, then obviously all the strength in your vision is coming from the eye that is not looking straight down the barrel.

Depth perception and peripheral vision are the two main losses in using one eye only against clear and concise sight pictures. The ultimate in shooting targets is to see a true, clear and correct sight picture (the end of your gun in relation to the target) every time. Once you have ascertained how you achieve this goal then using one eye only or both eyes is purely a personal choice.

Without seeing you personally, the short answer to your question is; if you have equal vision or a wrong sided dominant eye, stay with one eye only for the above reasons. If you wish to use both eyes, providing your dominant eye corresponds with your shooting shoulder, ease into shooting with both eyes by firstly patching your non-dominate eye. (Attach a small opaque patch on your shooting glass lens in a position to cover your pupil's view of the foresight) when in the shooting position.

Your local coach will be able to assist you with this and help you understand the above answer to your question.

HAVE YOUR SAY - FEEDBACK WANTED

From the recent National Coaching seminar as part of our standardisation of coaching practices we would like to put forward what the State Coaching Directors considered to be the 10 basic principles of shooting. We are asking for comments and suggestions from shooters as the final layout will be printed in poster format for distribution to all ACTA clubs. This will assist coaches and shooters in general, as "the basics" are always the best place to start or return to when a problem arises.

The 10 Basic Principles of Shooting - The 10 F's

1. FEET - positioning
2. FORWARD LEAN - transference of weight to the front leg.
3. FIREARM FIT - gun mount, fit to face, free and easy, no force
4. FRONT OF TRAP - gun hold position
5. FOCUS OF EYES - out past trap.
6. FINGER ON TRIGGER - firm pressure, feeling first joint of index finger.
7. FORGET OUTSIDE INFLUENCES - your call for the target should be a flowing forceful fierce call (due to the Phono-pulls) NOT faint, feeble or faltering. Be flexible, relaxed but alert.
8. FIRE AT TARGET - Focus on target, not foresight in front, target may break if behind, forever flying! (See the target move - shoot the target)
9. FOLLOW THROUGH - Go to next station for your first target of the rest.
10. FEED BACK - self-assessment.

Psychological Skills for Shooting

TIME MANAGEMENT

Last month I started looking at a book that Ray Mack gave me at the NSW State Carnival on mental training for shotgun sports. This month I want to examine this book a little further. Because this article will be appearing in the January issue I wish to deal with those aspects of mental training that need to be taken into account at the beginning of each season.

Unfortunately, our sport does not have an off season; there are always shoots happening somewhere but each year at some point each of us needs to look at a point in which we say; that was last year and now I'm going to prepare for this year.

So what sort of preparation needs to occur. Firstly, you need to set goals. Regular readers of this column can go back to October, 1999 when I looked at how to set goals. Briefly goal setting involves looking at what you want to achieve and developing steps that will help you achieve your goal. The first step is to look at your lifetime goals; what you want to have achieve throughout your life. This is basically your vision of where you want to go. Next look at where you want to be in five years time. This can be in sport, health, finances, relationships, career, etc. Then, look at what you want to achieve this year, and finally look at what your doing this month. Your goals for this month should be directed at achieving your yearly goals and your yearly goals should be focused towards achieving your five-year plan and your five -year plan should be working towards your lifetime goals. Basically, what you are doing in practice and competition now should be part of a bigger picture. My goals for each shoot I attend is to shoot the possible in the event. If I can do that then I stand a chance of winning, and it will help me shoot a possible at the next big pressure shoot I attend. But to shoot a possible, I have to break the my goals down even further to "shoot this target." Because if I can "shoot this target" every time I face it, I can go on to shoot the possible and then continue on in the shoot off.

Michael Keynes, the author of Mental Training for Shotgun Sports, takes the issue of goal setting and achievement a little further and includes chapters on Keeping a Shooting Diary, Time Management, Developing a Training Plan and dealing with procrastination. There is also a chapter on winter goals and planning which would be an important component of competing in the northern states of America.

Keeping a Shooting Diary is an important part of being able to monitor your performance, successes and not so successful shoots (I have intentionally avoided the word failures). Keeping a diary can be as simple as monitoring your registration book or it can be more complex. The amount of detail you wish to keep is up to you. A good example of a diary is the page developed by Jim Shepherd, Level 3 coach from Victoria.

This is a simple to use single sheet that can keep most details that are relevant. But just don't keep a record of shoots, keep a record of practice as well, because the diary can become an important part of mental skills exercises in its own right because you can use it to problem solve and as a monitoring of events, facts, weather, range conditions and feelings. Don't forget to monitor your feelings, thoughts and physical conditions, for example, tiredness, jetlag, hangover, etc.

In the chapter on time management, Keynes examines the use of time to set a realistic and productive training schedule. Keynes argues that people waste time because they have no idea of what to do next. Therefore it is important to be organized and remain on task. He details some simple rules. Firstly, concentrate on one thing at a time. Secondly, know when to stop a task or training procedure. There is a difference between learning a task and maintaining it. Some things do not need to be practiced once you know how to do them; over practicing an individual component will mean that you will never learn to shoot without thinking about it. Thirdly, keep things simple. This has to be the golden rule in life as well as shooting. Complexity invites indecision and splitting of concentration. Next, insure your practice sessions have a purpose and a time limit. Finally, document everything, because unless you know where you've been, you wont know where to go next.

So as the new year approaches, evaluate where you were this year and plan where you want to be at the end of the next year. Your plan may not be to win the National High Gun it may be to increase your average and move into a higher grade. Keeping pushing for personal bests; be they breaks, championships or state or national titles. Because each time you reach a new personal best you are moving towards achieving your next goal.

I would like to again thank Ray Mack of Earmold Australia for donating the book, Ray's add often appears in the CTSN if readers are interested. I would like give one reader the opportunity to win this book. If you would like to go into the draw for the book write to me, Michael Kruger-Davis, PO Box 576 Narrandera, 2700 before 15th January, 2004 and put you name, address and "book prize" on the back of the envelope. I will send the book to the first name drawn out.

It is with great sadness that the Geraldton Clay Target Club (Inc) and the West Australian Clay Target Association (Inc) advises the shooting fraternity of the passing of our member and friend John after a sudden and courageous battle with cancer.

John was the President of the Geraldton Club 1998-1999 and 2002- 2003, Vice President of WACTA for 2003 and Foundation member and Vice President of the Three Springs Sporting Clays Club.

John was born in NZ and was a member of the Golden Bay and Queenstown Gun Clubs and had a passion for all shooting sports and excelled in all disciplines. Made the WA State Open Skeet team in 2002 and was the State Title Point score Champion for 2000.

For those of us who have ever been to the Geraldton Crayfish Carnival would remember John as an excellent competitor, a quiet achiever, and a great mate to so many. John was without a doubt a true gentleman and a great bloke.

JACARANDA PURPLE

It is a recognized fact that Grafton (NSW) is an enchanting place around November with the Jacaranda Festival atmosphere, the purple carpet of flowers and the Grafton Clay Target Club's Jacaranda Open Classic.

2003 was no exception when an almost perfect dawn broke to a typical textbook Jacaranda day and the trees at the Clay Target Club presented their majestic splendour for the 36 competitors who arrived for their day of friendly competition and typical Grafton hospitality endorsed by the sponsorship of the local Branch of the Commonwealth Bank.

The first event of a 25 target double barrel cash divide showed just what the day would be like when almost a quarter of the field recorded possibles. The expectation of excellent scores was foremost with all shooters.

Second event was the demanding 30 target Jacaranda Mixed Classic of 10 target each of double barrel, single barrel, and pointscore. Regular visitor Barry Finch from the Glen Innes Club blew the opposition apart with a perfect 50/50 to take the overall sash. Barry with his typical generosity had offered to cook prawn chips for all the competitors and families and one wonders just what was in the ones he kept for himself. The prawn chips were great and much enjoyed by all but Barry wouldn't divulge his secret ingredient.

2003 Jacaranda Princess Sharna Knox sashing winner of the Jacaranda Double Barrel Championship Michael Hickey at the 2003 Grafton Jacaranda Open Classic.

Last event was the prestigious 50 target Double Barrel Jacaranda Double Barrel Championship and after the first round there were 5 competitors sitting on possibles. It was then that a devious wind blew up and at the end of the second 25 another regular visitor, Michael Hickey from the Glen Innes Club and local shooter Rus Wesslink were even with a perfect 50/50.

The 2003 Jacaranda Princess Sharna Knox and Matron of Honour Helen Weatherstone arrived in time to watch the shoot off for overall with Michael quickly coming out the winner and taking the overall purple sash.

Our Jacaranda Party were then invited to distribute the large array of excellent prizes to the winners whilst afternoon tea was served by the dedicated ladies of the canteen.

As this was the second day of a highly successful combined two day weekend shoot with the Coffs Harbour Club there was only one job left before going home and that was for Princess Sharna to draw the winner of a Television Set for all competitors who had shot the full program at both Clubs. An air of expectancy hushed the crowd as Princess Sharna drew out one purple ticket to reveal that Kevin Bourke from the Guyra Club would be welcomed home that night.

Ah! Grafton at Jacaranda time is a special place.

Warrnambool Clay Target Club

The gentlemen pictured (photo courtesy of "The Warrnambool Standard"), have given 121 years service to clay target shooting at the Warrnambool Clay Target Club. Howard Durbidge was the first president of the club and held this position from 1959–62. Since then Howard has been on the committee and still holds that position today. Over the years Howard has attended many Nationals and is well known by shooters around the traps in Australia. He has won many sashes over the years and is still taking home many prizes today.

Ted Henry joined the club in 1959 and in 1963 took on the position of treasurer and he still holds this position today. Ted is a life member of the club and at our last shoot received an appreciation award for his unbroken 40-year term as treasurer. Ted puts in many hours of service at the club and is responsible for the many trees and shrubs planted around the grounds. He also assists with the training of students from the Brauer Secondary College.

Harry Brooksby started clay target shooting in 1968 while teaching at the Maryborough Technical School. Harry was promoted to Warrnambool in 1971 when he joined the Warrnambool Club. He was president from 1977–79 and then took on the position of secretary and still holds that position today. Harry has held the position of SWZ coach and in March 1984 was State Coaching Director until promoted to the TAFE system in 1986. While teaching at the Warrnambool Technical School he conducted the SWZ schoolboys/schoolgirls championships for many years.

Howard Durbidge and Harry Brooksby were both presented with Life Memberships by President Mal Dyson.

Dear Sir,

In my declining years, I have taken to wandering around Australia accompanied by my wife and dog. Armed with a selection of state program books, it is possible to arrange a travel itinerary where our arrival in a town will often coincide with a shoot.

We often stay at the local gun club and park our small motor home on the grounds. I have found all gun clubs to be friendly, generous and accommodating. We enjoy this sort of travel and it is interesting to see how other gun clubs operate. Much can be learned from quiet observation.

Earlier this year, we travelled slowly from our home in North Queensland to attend the Trans Tasman Masters Games at Newcastle. This trip was undertaken largely on the recommendation of Tom Harris of Tumut (ACTA ambassador-at-large). This was a big shoot extending over more than a week. It was well run, and the whole of the membership of the Newcastle Lake Macquarie Gun Club seemed to be determined that everyone would enjoy themselves. Unfortunately, as a result of a bit of skin cancer surgery gone wrong, I found myself with an annoying ulcer on my shin and a reduced capacity to enjoy the event. To make matters worse, at the end of the games, the doctor who was treating my condition, strongly advised rest, and even more strongly advised me against travel, until there was some definite improvement in the wound.

I talked to club management, and without hesitation, they told me to stay as long as was necessary and not to be worried about anything until I had the clearance to travel.

I write this letter to publicly thank to Newcastle Lake Macquarie Gun Club and assure them their generosity was appreciated and will not be forgotten.

Mansfield Clay Target Club

The Mansfield Clay Target Club has recently invested in a Canterbury voice release systems for both DTL layouts and new Gemini trap. They received their first work out at the July shoot and everything seemed to work smoothly which got everyone through the program in very good time. We hope that these welcome additions to the all-new grounds will help attract more shooters to our monthly competitions.

The Club has managed to draw 7 or 8 squads to most of its events since relocating to their new grounds and membership has swelled to more than 50. The competition seems to be getting stronger all the time and we have a good number of junior shooters in the ranks who are all improving rapidly and continually showing up the more 'mature' competitors. We have enjoyed the support of many visiting shooters each month and combined with a lovely lunch that the ladies put on for us, we seem to end up having a pretty good day all round.

EUROA WOOL WEEK FESTIVAL SHOOT

The Euroa Clay Target Club conducted their Annual Wool Week Festival Shoot on Saturday 25th October with a program designed to encourage the fun side of competition without the feeling of shooting for the big prizes. Five events were on the program, all 10 target events with the expectation of large numbers making the shoot-offs but most found ten targets just as hard to hit as the more usual larger number with just six making the Single Barrel Gift final as an example.

Within a few targets it was down to Tony Plum and Ken Maurey. The final outcome was Tony congratulating Ken "Bluey" Maurey on his fine victory with a score of 40/40.

Other results appear in the regular results' section of the CTSN

John King - Secretary

Cessnock Clay Target Club - Annual November Trap Carnival.

Friday afternoon and Saturdays rainfall reduced attendance at the carnival to eight squads for the Saturday program. However those who did take to the layouts and could contend with the rain were presented with almost windless conditions which led to some very high scores and competitive shooting. The Carnival consisted of 6 events with shooters competing in three individual events each day.

Overall High Gun - David White.

Event 1. Pointscore Elimination was won by Vince Gatt from Sydney

Veteran High Gun - Wall Rae.

Event 2. Double Barrel classic was won by Dubbo's Peter Fitzalan after a lengthy shoot off with John Sleightholme from Tamworth.

MATHOURA HOSTS VIC NEZ NIGHT TOWER TITLE

Shooters arrived from a wide area on Friday night the 28th of November to try their skills against each other for the Victorian North East Zone Night Tower Double Rise Sash and Trophies on offer. Mathoura Gun Club committee were pleased to see shooters from Castlemain, Kerang Shepparton, Echuca, Moama and local districts attend.

Four squads of shooters meant that it was going to be a latish night with twenty pair of tower targets included in the night's program.

Event One a double barrel eye opener and seven shooters were on target hitting all and collecting a cash dividend. M Roberts, A Hearne, D Honebone, G Armstrong, R Kerslake, R Adamson, G Bradley.

Event Two a fifteen target Handicap, and only one shooter managing to nail all fifteen targets, D Honebone from Castlemain taking out first place with three others on one target down. Murray Roberts, George Bradley, and Roger Kerslake, shoot off for minor places. George finished second on 25/26, and Roger took third with a score of 24/26.

Event Three the Victorian North East Zone 20 Pair Night Double Rise Tower event. Targets were extremely hard to catch up with, so overall scores were not high. Local shooter Bill Simpson took the Overall Sash and trophy and the B Grade on a score of 28/40, A grade was Murray Roberts on 27/40, and C grade was Ed Lucic on 17/40.

Presentations were over by 11pm and all shooters declared it an enjoyable evening and were looking forward to the next shoot.

ECHUCA HIGH SCHOOL ON TARGET

Monday the 24th of November and two full squads of year nine boy students arrived

At Echuca Clay Target Club for a period of gun safety and use tuition gladly given by members of the club.

After a short discussion on the safety and correct use procedures, the students were then moved to the clubs two Skeet layouts for some practical clay target shooting.

Mitch Castles of Echuca, lining up on a target.

A full ten targets each was on the agenda with individual coaching for all students.

Considering the fact that most of these boys had never held a shotgun before it was a credit to the behavior and attention they gave to the coaches, that almost all ended up with very good scores at the end of the session.

David Pearson and students.

Correct hand eye co-ordination is something that usually takes some time to acquire yet these boys showed some very good ability, some ending with scores of nines, andsevens, which for the limited time available for coaching, were excellent scores.

Echuca Clay Target Club wishes to thank the Echuca High School for their interest in promoting gun safety and the use of firearms in sport.

Club members would also like congratulate the students on their behavior.

ECHUCA HIGH SCHOOL ON TARGET WEEK TWO

Monday the 1st of December and High school teacher Mr David Pearson arrived at Echuca Clay Target Club with thirteen year nine students keen to improve on their previous weeks scores.

After a short revision on gun safety and use, the boys were taken out to two Skeet layouts to see if they remembered how to line up and bust the elusive clay targets.

Coaches for this week decided to allocate five targets off the low house skeet and seven targets off the more difficult high house skeet.

With individual coaching the scores were improving and at the end of the clinic overall scores were of a reasonably high standard considering the boys were shooting single barrel only.

Enthusiasm amongst the boys to consider clay target shooting as a sport was very apparent, as they discussed how much was involved in putting together a good score.

Jake Morgan

Talk between the boys on stance, foot position, and correct gun position, also hand eye co-ordination, made it quite clear that they had listened to the coaches.

Top scorer for week two went to Master Jake Morgan with a very credible ten out of possible twelve targets, with four others on a nine, and an eight, and several with a score of seven.

Echuca Clay Target Club committee once again wishes to thank the Echuca High School for its interest in allowing the students to learn firearm safety and the use of firearms in sport.

All schools in the Echuca Moama area are invited to contact members of the committee at any time if there is an interest shown amongst their pupils to participate in a coaching clinic. The thought uppermost in all committee members' minds is that our future Olympic, Australian, and State Shooters must come from our junior ranks.

Murray Roberts.
