Australian Clay Target Association Inc.

PRESIDENTS ANNUAL REPORT 2004

It is with pleasure I bring to you my 2004 Annual Report, my second as President of the Australian Clay Target Association.

2004 saw our Association produce gold medals in Olympic and World DTL competition. National championship standards are first class and with a modest financial surplus our net assets now total in excess of 1.3 million. This gives us a very strong base for 2005.

These results are only achieved with the help of each and every member, in particular the clubs' volunteer workers' who help to keep the Association going. I congratulate you all and look forward to your continuing help.

During the year we experienced some staff changes with Tina Hoban returning from maternity leave and Maureen Ryan joining the ACTA in the receptionist/typist position. To Andy and all staff another great effort.

Many hours of tireless work is put in by our National Executive members to ensure the best for all. During the year we experienced several changes within our National Executive and I would like to extend sincere gratitude on behalf of our members and the National Executive, to Mark McInnes (NSW) Peter Field (Qld) and Nanette McCallum (Tas) for their service to the ACTA. Similarly, I welcome their replacements to the Executive in Mr. Daryl Pasfield (NSW), Mr. John Mack (Qld) and Mr. George Pinner (Tas).

Our membership numbers have shown an increase for the second year running. This trend is continuing and it is hoped that new shooters, old friends rejoining and our current members will be able to continue to enjoy this sport for many years to come.

Our international representatives have continued to display the form we have become accustomed to. Suzy Balogh's Gold Medal effort at the Athens Olympics was no doubt the highlight of the year. Adam Vella is also to be congratulated for his Bronze medal and World Cup Final wins. The remainder of the ISSF teams also producing world class results at the various World Cups throughout the year.

Our World DTL team that travelled to England was also successful with Brendan Burgess achieving Junior World Champion status. Ray Collinson shot extremely well to be placed 3rd overall. Our teams also placed well with the Veterans and Juniors team placing first in their respective sections and taking out the Gold medal. The Open team placed third and took the Bronze medal with only a few points behind the eventual winners. This is a reminder to everyone of the highest standards our representatives continue to achieve.

Our National Championships numbers continue to grow and scores obtained in all disciplines are first class. The introduction of new grading percentages is causing some concerns and you should talk to your state delegates should you wish to have your voice heard.

2004 saw the introduction of the ACTA Hall of Fame and the first inductees. We were delighted to induct Mr. Fred Burns (posthumously) Mr. Newton Thomas (posthumously), Mr. Jake Blake, Mr. Warren Charlton and Mr. Doug Smith at a gala dinner where some 290 members attended. Russell and Brian Mark entertained the members during the evening and I extend my thanks for their efforts.

The Hall of Fame has been established largely due to the effort of Mr. Mark McInnes (NSW) for which I thank him on your behalf. It is the intention of the Executive to establish a purpose built Hall of Fame building in or around the National Office site as a permanent tribute to our high achievers.

I am an enthusiastic supporter of junior development for the future well being of our Association. To this end all three camps conducted in 2004 were well supported by juniors and their families. We were able to secure the services of Russell and Lauryn Mark as head coaches who together with the established staff make these camps a delight to attend. I am reminded of Russell's comment to me when approached to help. "I will do anything for juniors". Words we could all do well to follow.

Development on the National Shooting Ground continues to progress, as funds become available. All 15 DTL and 9 skeet layouts are in the process of being re built and re-fitted ready for the 2006 World & National Championships.

The possibility of a major sponsorship agreement between the Association and one of our sport specific businesses is presently being discussed. I look forward to an announcement as soon as the agreement is in place.

Whilst I understand not all shooters are in favour of the National Shooting Ground the decision has been taken and I therefore urge you all to lend your support towards the future of our sport. My thanks to Fred Rapley and Dave Jocelyn for their effort in the re construction work.

I have endeavoured to keep you all informed of the continuing saga of the Australian Shooting Association constitution. Various discussions have taken place throughout 2004 between the major Affiliates and the Australian Sports Commission. Several constitutions have been suggested and finally a new draft constitution was produced in December 2004. This document names the "First Full Members", one of which is the ACTA, together with 5 others. There is to be six directors together with one ASA Athletes Committee nominee. You will be informed when an agreement is reached. My thanks to Elaine and Glen for their help and advise in this matter.

Insurance continues to be a matter of concern. Costs continue to be high at $150,000 per annum. However, these costs have stabilised somewhat in the last 2 years. Insurance is an essential part of our sport at ACTA, State and Club level. The ACTA will continue to bring our members the most cost-effective insurance available.

In conclusion, I am confident our Association is well positioned to grow and move forward. With each and every members support we will continue to be the premier shooting association in Australia.

AUSTRALIA CUP 2005

WERRIBEE CLAY TARGET CLUB

The Australia Cup Conducted at the Werribee Clay Target Club was the second of the selection events to determine the World Championship team for 2005 and the Shadow Commonwealth Games Squad. Entry was restricted to those shooters who had won selection points at the ISSF National Championships in January.

Each discipline contested two events, and points awarded to each shooter according to final placing and score plus placing in the high gun.

The weather was typical Melbourne with 30 deg one day and 20 the next. The one thing that did stay consistent was the wind it pretty much blew the whole time, making high scoring difficult.

AUSTRALIAN YOUTH OLYMPIC FESTIVAL

Sydney Jan 19 - 23, 2005

Coaches: Greg Chan, Kevin Perkins

Administrator: Glenniss Lawrence

Liaison Officer: Suzy Balogh

Team: Brendon Burgess, Matt Rocco, Brent Cooper, Daniel Allam, Robert Smith, Emma Eagles, Kate Cassar, Melitta Northausen

The Youth Olympics is conducted every two years in Sydney and is the Australian Olympic Committee's contribution to the development of youth in sport. 14 Olympic sports are contested and for the first time shooting was included in the program.

The idea is to give young athletes the opportunity to experience a mini Olympics with all facets of the real thing.

The athletes were all accommodated in a village with athletes from different sports, with meals in a common dining area, sharing all facilities and replicating what happens at the Olympics.

The opening ceremony was quite spectacular with some 10,000 spectators and athletes treated to a lively 3 hour display of song and dance that was very much aimed at the young athletes (read very loud and noisy). The highlight for us was the official opening of the games by our very own Olympic gold medallist Suzy Balogh.

The competition was held on the Sydney Olympic range with pistol and rifle also competing.

 5. Melitta Northausen AUS 16 14 18 21 21 = 90

The new single barrel final caused a few heartaches but Brendon Burgess shot extremely well to win from Matt Rocco and Brent Cooper giving Australia a clean sweep in the medals.

Our team had a couple of days after the competition to watch other sports and interact with athletes from the different sports, as you would at the Olympics.

They also attended a group session with Suzy and Greg who were able to give them the benefit of their experience at the Olympics and give them some advice on a future in the sport of Olympic clay target shooting.

The AOC spent quite a large amount to host this competition of some 1300 athletes, but consider it well spent to give our champions of the future a taste of the Olympics in their developing phase. We trust our team learnt a few lessons from this opportunity.

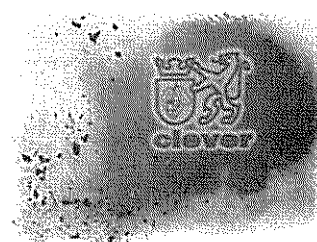

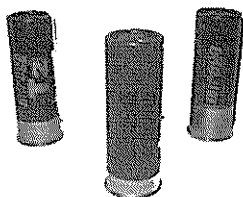

Thanks must go to Glenniss Lawrence our team manager and "mother hen" and Kevin Perkins our assistant coach. Both gave freely of their time to assist with the team as both have the belief that without our young shooters, we have no future.

The ACTA is proud to announce the finalists for The Doug Smith Medal

SPORT SCIENCE

Providing our athletes with a competitive advantage Travel and monitoring athlete wellness

Travelling regularly to compete is not a foreign concept to our national ISSF shotgun squad. With four World Cups, a World Cup Final, a World Championships on every year and the Olympics and Commonwealth Games thrown in every 4 years our athletes certainly need to learn how to travel in order to compete at their best.

Monitoring athletes on a daily basis can be an effective tool to minimise the impact of various things on performance once you arrive to compete.

There are many things you can monitor and the following is a list of things that we tracked prior to the Athens Olympics for one international event. We used the data to gain a greater understanding of some of the demands on the athletes, to educate them on effective strategies to reduce any impact on performance and also to plan for support services.

Wellness database

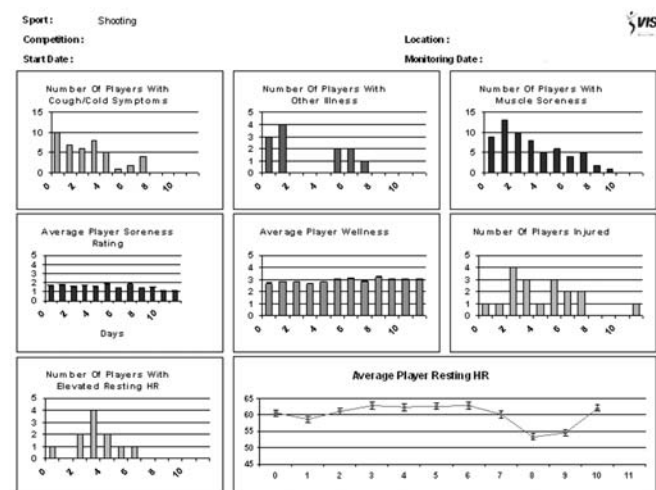

- * daily cough cold symptoms (special focus following the long haul flight)
- * muscle soreness (both athlete numbers and severity)
- * general illness
- * injuries
- * general wellness
- * resting morning heart rate
- * dehydration (morning urine sample)

How is it administered?

On the trip where we collected data daily from each athlete with a small diary and a simple daily survey. The survey was a tick box type survey, with yes no responses to illness or levels of soreness and overall wellness rated on a scale from 0 - 5. The diary along with a morning hydration urine sample (discussed last article) was given to me just prior to breakfast.

The results

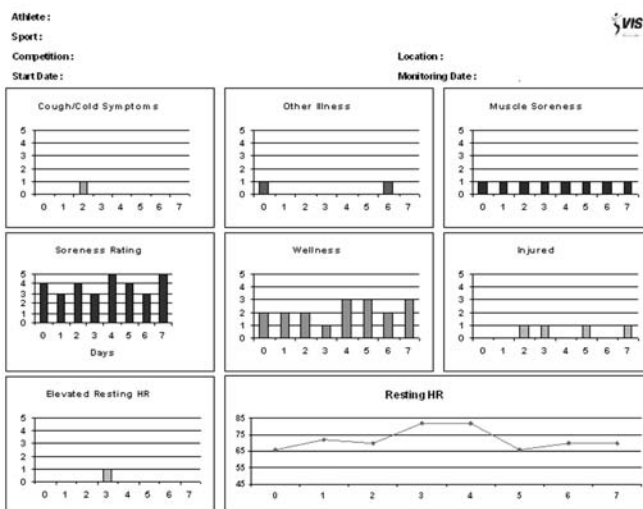

The first display page shown here is a summary of the team data that we are able to view on a daily basis as the event progresses but also as a review tool after the event is completed.

The second page is a sample page showing an individual athletes' data highlighting the individual issues encountered by this athlete.

Issues addressed

By considering the group and the individual athlete data these were some of the issues we were able to address:

- * make a concerted effort to direct athletes to massage services in the 24-48 hours after the flight
- * encourage physical activity on arrival to reduce stiffness and soreness
- * target hydration during the flight and test immediately after the flight (data not displayed)
- * monitor any sick athletes to aid recovery and limit contact with rest of touring group to minimise cross infection. We actually had to isolate an athlete in the Olympic Village for 3 nights after arrival
- * morning heart rate in order to see which athletes were coping with the physical demands of travel. The heart rate is usually elevated for 1-2 days post travel (from baseline collected for a week before travel) and then settles. If the heart rate continued climbing we had a good idea the athlete would become sick or was not recovering well from the trip, as shown in the athlete data displayed
- * from individual comments pages we understood the increased physical demands of the Athens range on the Athletes. With all the stairs and limited lift facilities athletes were forced to carry heavy gear long distances and over stairs causing soreness. Some fitness programs were altered to account for this
- * get athletes to take their own pillows on tour to reduce neck soreness and disrupted sleep

The management of athletes whilst travelling is a critical role of the coach, team manager and sport scientist. With a simple monitoring tool such as this we are able to document issues that may arise and address them in a meaningful way for the group or for the individual immediately or on return home. For example whilst on tour the data can be shown to support staff, say the masseuse/physio to speak to those who have sore spots or injuries that have flared whilst travelling. Many athletes might not generally seek out treatment as it is only a minor issue but left untreated may escalate and impact heavily on performance.

The ASA and the VIS would like to thank David Milne for his work on this database monitoring system.

Nick Sanders is a Sports Scientist working through the ASA and the Victorian Institute of Sport. He assisted the national teams in preparation for Athens and is now helping to prepare the teams for the Commonwealth Games Melbourne 2006.

Conditions were excellent but quite windy, making the competition reasonably difficult. However the three days were nice sunny days. An excellent turn up saw 167 shooters compete over the weekend. This was one of the most successful carnivals held for many years.

The carnival was shot over 5 new Canterbury automatic traps. There were 45 shooters from the mainland in attendance to keep the locals honest and from all indications they would all like to be back next year if possible.

Some very good competition was seen, a total of 40 people shot the 50/50 in the State Double Barrel Championship culminating in a marathon shoot off between Greg Peck of Hobart Gun Club and Stewart French of the Tasmanian Gun Club.

The eventual winner was Greg Peck with a very creditable 489/489. This is a new record for the State Double Barrel event.

Both shooters managed to break over 500 targets straight. Greg went on to shoot another 23 in the Pointscore event which followed the Double Barrel shoot off giving him a total of 512, whilst Stewart had already clocked up 24 Single Barrel in the prior event also giving him a 512 straight. Both are now tied on 512 as the highest break by a Tasmanian shooter shot in an event in Tasmania.

The Overall High Gun for the weekend was won by Tim Atkins with 345/350, dropping only two targets in Double Rise, two in Single Barrel and dropping only one point in the Pointscore event, a pretty good effort all round.

State team eliminations were also extremely tight with 6 points down in 250 needing to shoot off to get a place in the 15-man squad.

Thank you to competitors

To all Competitors at the Tasmanian Clay Target Association State Championships held 28th-30th January 2005

On behalf of the Tasmanian Clay Target Association, I would like to express our gratitude to competitors attending the Tasmanian Clay Target State Championships held at Evandale.

In excess of 50 interstate shooters joined a local contingent of 115 competitors to slog it out over three days, making this the most successful Clay Target State Championship ever held in Tasmania.

Side by side interstate and local competitors set exceptional standards in clay target shooting with two competitors tying with a high break of 512 each.

It was also pleasing to see participation strong across all age groups including juniors, women, veterans and people with a disability.

In addition to setting a high standard of shooting, the Championship marked the first time new automatic clay target throwers have been used in Tasmania. Purchased with funds from Sport and Recreation Tasmania and the Cressy and Tasmanian Gun Clubs, these automatic throwers will enable Tasmania to invite interstate shooters to attend future high quality championships and competitions.

The thrill of the competition aside, this championship also provided a fantastic opportunity for local shooters to mingle with their interstate counterparts, on and off, the shooting range. After three days of competition many firm friendships have been made.

To the competitors, volunteers and organisers, thank you all for helping to make this event so successful. We trust you enjoyed yourselves as much as we enjoyed having you and look forward to similarly successful events in the future.

Yours truly
Allan Kenny, President
Tasmanian Clay Target Association

SKEET DAY AT ECHUCA

Sunday, January the 30th 2005 and Echuca Clay Target Club held a 100 target Skeet Championship with 1sts and 2nds in four Grades.

Echuca has been trying to promote Skeet as a discipline for a while now as numbers attending Skeet shooting nationally have fallen back on earlier years, which is puzzling, as Skeet, as a discipline is a very enjoyable sport.

With virtually perfect shooting weather, 29 degrees, clear sky and a gentle breeze, no shooter could ask for more, and good scores were the result on the day.

Echuca was using the new high dome targets, and they really impressed, with a huge amount of clays simply turning to dust on being hit. With two Skeet layouts available and no trap breakdowns, the four full squads that shot the event were kept fairly busy getting through the 100 targets on offer.

National High Gun Winner, Bendigo shooter, Leigh Roberts demonstrated to all in attendance how its done. He dropped only one target in his first 25 round, and then make sure he dropped no more, giving him an unbeatable 99/100 to take out the Overall and AA Grade winners Sash and trophy.

2nd in AA Grade was H Mountjoy on a score of 94/100. 1st in A Grade was Darren Hansford with 94/100, 2nd in A, John Coombes 90/100. B Grade 1st was B Taylor 93/100, 2nd in B was John Harris 92/100. 1st in C Grade was club president, Ron Traill improving his overall percentage by bringing in a 86/100, 2nd in C was Doug Faulkner on an 81/100.

Apart from Ron Traill, Bendigo shooters took out all the major placing's for the shoot and Echuca thanked them for their patronage.

A popular shoot, run well, catered well by the ladies committee, and an early start, resulting in an early finish, made all that attended very happy with the days outing.

Psychological Skills for Shooting

by Michael Kruger-Davis

PERFORMANCE BREAKDOWN

I subscribe to an American Sport Psychology Ezine written by Dr Patrick J. Cohen, which turns up regularly with my e-mail. Usually it's just a set of advertisements for courses he is running or accreditation programs but in the last few months the subject matter examined what he called "performance routine breakdowns".

I have mentioned in previous articles the dangers of distractions. Distractions deny us the opportunity to pay attention and concentrate. Distractions come in two forms: external distractions and internal distractions.

External distractions include noises from behind, the loudspeaker, a shooter coughing, tapping the Phono pull, throwing empty cartridges on the ground, etc. When you are in the zone and focusing well, external distractions are not issues. The targets seem like dinner plates and your gun seems to just seek them out. However, when you're not shooting well everything seems more difficult and you see and hear everything that is going on and it just feels more and more difficult to focus your attention.

According to Cohen, internal distractions are the ones that cause us most of our problems. Internal distractions or negative thoughts such as doubt or indecision can ruin a focused routine. A doubt or negative thought can derail confidence and sabotage trust. Doubt and confidence are polar opposites. If you are completely confident, you are not having doubt. If you have doubts about your ability to perform, you are not fully confident. Cohen believes that an important strategy in dealing with internal distractions is to have a "pre-match routine" to concentrate your focus on the task at hand and if necessary a "during match routine" to help you regain your focus. The main purpose of the routine is to help you feel confident when you execute your performance. When you have a doubt during the most important phase of your pre-performance routine, you are undermining your ability to perform. Some doubts are very straightforward while other doubts are more subtle.

What are the common types of internal distractions? These are not new and regular readers of this column will have heard some of this before. The first type of internal distraction is indecision. Indecision is a common breakdown. Cohen sees indecision as wavering between two or more possible courses of action. Indecision starts from a lack of resolution or decisiveness in the planning and programming phase of the routine. Anytime you have two options about how to perform; your body becomes confused because you have not committed to a clear plan of action. For example, when a golfer cannot decide on what club to use to hit and is vacillating between hitting a seven or eight iron, he is indecisive or undecided. If indecision remains until you execute the shot, it will lead to an indecisive swing. This can change the tempo and timing of the golfer's swing all because he is undecided about the club he has selected. The same is true with shooting; changing chokes, adjustable combs, shot size, cartridge speed, etc all equate for the shooter what the golfer goes through. The indecision leads to uncertainty and doubt which in turn tightens up our muscles and makes our movements less fluid.

The second type of internal distraction is fear or anxiety. This, according to Cohen, is a mental breakdown that can disrupt a focused routine. Most fear stems from thinking about the results of your action such as missing a shot, striking out, and allowing a score to occur, or losing a match. As I have said in the past being fearful puts you either in the past, where you can think about previous losses or missed targets on projects you into the future where you think about missing a target and therefore missing the prize. To deal with fear you need to stay focused in the here and now.

Cohen believes that over analysis can certainly cause a breakdown in your routine. Thinking too much, analysing your game, focusing too much on technique, and worrying about the conditions or the environment are all examples of over analysis. In sports, trying hard does not always help you perform better. In the Inner Game of Golf, Tim Gallwey said "trying fails". This is important to realise because we are often conditioned as children to believe that if we don't succeed at first we should try again. Sometimes trying again will not help and instead we need to do it differently. If you need to analysis any part of your performance then you should be analysing what you are doing right so that you can keep doing it.

The next internal distraction according to Cohen is rushing. Rushing your routine can also cause a breakdown as you may skip important components in the routine. Rushing can happen for many reasons, but the most common are when you are anxious and want to get your performance started or finished quickly. Rushing means that you are not fully focused in the here and now and that you are not focusing on the process involved in completing the shot.

Finally, Cohen sees laziness as an internal distraction. Laziness or a lack of mental discipline during the routine not only can lead to a breakdown but often results in not having a routine at all. This is less common with high-level athletes, but necessary to mention. You might have heard of the phrase "going through the motions," which falls under a lack of discipline. When you are going through the motions in your routine, you are executing the physical parts of the routine, without intensity or focus. You are present physically, but not mentally dialled into your routine.

It is important to be in tune with the ways you personally get sidetracked when you are performing. Knowing what your personal routine is will help you identify if you are on track or sidetracked. Knowing what is normal means that you're able to recognise when things are abnormal and you can start your refocussing. In individual sports such as shooting, refocussing can be hard after a missed target but it should be practiced so that you are able to regain yourself and not slip further behind.

Cohen says the first step is to list the top three or four ways that your mind may wander or gets distracted during your pre-performance routine so you can recognise when it happens in competition. The next time you do become aware, do something about it instead of going ahead anyway with your performance. The last step is to use your refocus skills to refocus on the fly as needed or restart your routine from an earlier stage to clear your mind of the distraction and get back on task. For the shooter an example of this is when you shoulder your gun and it doesn't feel right; do not think it will be OK, stop, and start again.

Cohen uses a simple three-step method to help you remember how to refocus. It is called the Three R's for Refocussing;

- Recognise that you are not on task or are out of your mental routine.
- Regroup and break the current distraction or thought.
- Refocus on the task-relevant cues of the next play, shot, or routine.

Again, the refocussing process requires that you recognise when you are not following your regular routine. Ideally, you want to catch yourself before you start to execute so you can regroup and refocus with a clear mind on the task. Recognising you are distracted is only for the purpose of helping you refocus on the task and engage with your routine.

Mount Gambier Gun Club

Mount Gambier Gun Club recently hosted their Annual 2-Day Supershoot, which attracted over 100 shooters from SA, Vic, NSW & QLD. Both days the weather was excellent for shooting conditions around 25- 27(C, sunny and calm just as Mount Gambier is in the sunny south east in summer.

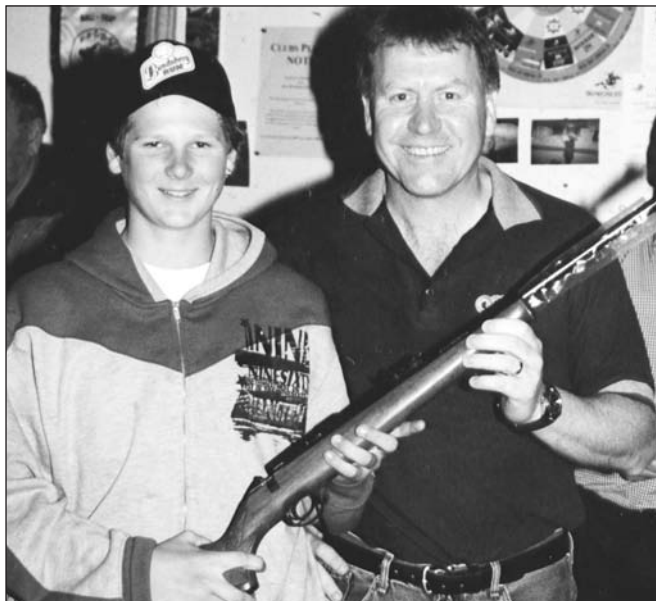

Saturday morning shooters eagerly nominated for the big 2-day events with $8500 in prizes waiting to be won. These included 4 Stirling European Rifles with Scopes, 4 Poulan Chainsaws and a supply of excellent Zema Wines from Coonawarra. Prizes were down to 5th and High Guns. Overall being a Car Fridge, Beer and Crayfish.

Dear Your Say

At the recent Skeet Nationals the sun was a problem during shoot offs. Not with standing the rule that the sun is a natural hazard, if this situation can be avoided then it should. As I understand it medical opinion is firm in that looking directly into the sun can result in serious eye damage.

I believe that this problem can and should be avoided by adoption of one of the following:

A) Move the Skeet Nationals to a time when the sun is in a different position.

B) Shoot offs to be doubles at 3,4 and 5 thus avoiding looking directly into the sun.

C) Fluro targets to be used throughout the program and shoot offs started at say 5.00pm when the sun is not a problem but still bright sunlight. The lights to be turned on at the same time and the shoot offs to be continued until finality. By doing this, the transition from daylight to dark is seamless. Such a system is used successfully in day/night cricket and at the World Skeet Championships. This system both avoids the sun hazard and an uninterrupted shoot off. How often does such an interruption - when the shoot off goes over to the next day - result in an anticlimax to the event. This could also be useful in the Trap Nationals (?)

I favour C. One of the major advantages of the National Grounds specific location is that being in an industrial area it is or should not have its use limited by unreasonable restriction during National Championships.

Dear Your Say

Having just read the comments by Geoff Ervin (March CTSN), I must say I totally agree with most of what he wrote.

The percentages for two of the four grades were quite OK until the Rules Committee (chaired by Mark McInnes) and the National Executive decided that wasn't good enough, and the goal posts had to be moved after 22 years of some resemblance of sanity for the top two grades at least.

The only problem with the percentages of the four grades, prior to the rule changes effective 01 Jan 2005, is the point where a C grader becomes a B grader. This should have been raised from 87% to 89%, leaving the other grade percentages as they were.

This would have made the percentage ranges for the top three grades much more realistic, instead of the new percentages where AA & A have a 3% range and B have a 7% range.

Under the pre 1983 rules, there were three grades for 15m common mark shooting, but their percentage ranges were excessive, which was probably why the rules were changed by elite shooters who were in A grade and looking after the elite, whilst completely ignoring the lower grades who, I might add, make up the majority Of ACTA registered shooters.

Monarto-Alexandra Clay Target Club

The Monarto-Alexandra Clay Target Club held the 51st Birthday Shoot of the old Alexandra Gun Club on the 21st November 2004.

Upholding the tradition of shooting for all the team shields competed for over a two-day shoot, Club members, helpers and shooters were kept on their toes for the program was shot over just one day. A program of 125 targets, and the unexpected crowd of 57 competitors kept us busy, and we still managed to finish the competition in sunlight. Congratulations to all concerned for your efforts. The first event on the program, the 25 target Bill Quinn Skeet Shield Team shoots saw some 7 squad's line up for the competition. Overall went to Frank Albanese (Barmera) who shot a 29/29. The team from SAGC won the Quinn Shield with a score of 68/75 - team members were P. Quire, C. Jacobs and N. Praino.

A short break in the competition saw Club President, Peter Hendy, welcome Peter Lewis MP who officially opened the new automatic trap being used on layout 2. Our Club had sought the endorsement of the local parliamentary member for a government grant for a new trap, something he had been only too willing to do being himself a shooter of long standing. Following a brief speech he was asked to shoot at a couple of targets, both of which he hit. Several Club officials then entertained our guest to the sumptuous lunch that was being served.

Competition in the meantime had resumed and Dino Oliviero (International) who shot the perfect score of 50/50 won the Ian and Phillip Campbell 50 target Double Barrel Team shoot. A great battle for first and second placing in A grade saw Dallas Auger (International) and Peter Kay (Monarto-Alex) shoot off with Dallas finally winning with a score of 113/114 over Peter who shot a 112/114. Other news of note in this event was the good shooting by veteran Wally May - a 46/50 saw him elevated out of C grade into B grade. This did not deter him for he went out in the next event and shot another 25/25, which gave him B grade first placing. Well done Wally. The Monarto-Alexandra team who shot the great score of 244/250 won the Campbell

Shield. Team members were P. Hendy, R. Clark, A. Mules, P. Mules and P. Kay.

Dino Oliviero following a shoot off with Andrew Mules again won the third event on the program, the 25 target Double Barrel Woodrow Shield. Dino shot a score of 62/62. The Woodrow Shield also went to the Monarto-Alexandra team with their score of 121/125. Team members being P. Hendy, R. Clark, A. Mules, P. Mules and A. Famiglietti.

The last programmed event, the 25 target Single Barrel Don Fleetwood Memorial was taken out again by Dino Oliviero who continued to shoot well throughout the day even in the windy conditions. His score was 30/30.

The competition over, shooters headed for the Clubrooms to get in out of the cold southerly wind. It was pleasing to see the attendance we had for presentations - thank you shooters.

None other than Dino Oliviero could only have won the High Gun - he had only dropped 3 targets for the day and those were lost in the skeet event. Well done Dino on your 122/125.

The Jim Forbes Senior Memorial trophy, which goes annually to the C grade High Gun winner, was won again this year by Club member, Scott Bormann.

Thanks go to the following for their help. Peter Hendy (Club President) and Rob Clark (Vice Pres.) for keeping the shoot running so smoothly. The Forbes family for donating the sashes used on the day. To Ian Campbell for providing the badges on his event. Thanks also to the referees and scorers for their assistance. To Peter Harris for the handicapping and score board keeping and to Ruth Bretag for her raffle ticket selling (done under trying conditions with a "not well" toddler in tow - thank you Ruth). Thank you to all Committee members who helped at the work bee prior to the big day. Lastly thanks must go to the ladies who helped in the canteen on the day - a veritable feast of beef stroganoff, rice and salads followed by fresh fruit platters, which kept everyone well fed. Thanks Annette, Barbara and Donna. A great day - some excellent shooting, good company and good food - what else could we ask for?

Coffs Harbour Club

The National President, Mr Bill Jones, praised the Coffs Harbour Club on hosting its 43rd Annual two day shoot on the 1st and 2nd January with 84 competitors each day.

Fine, hot and still conditions made the score board a sea of red, with eight applications for break badges being received. Competitors from state and interstate battled for each event, with shoot-offs being the order of the day.

Former high gun winner, Tamworth's Geoff Lancaster, returned to Coffs Harbour and proved he is still full of concentration, taking out the Boambee Industrial Supplies 50 Target Double Barrel Championship with a 319 break over David White and Tom Harris on the Saturday.

Then in the Sunday I B Insurance Brokers Double Barrel Continental Championship Geoff did battle with Bill Jones and Frank Robinson with another 200 targets. Bill Jones showed he is a tough competitor, going from boardroom to field to take out the event from Geoff Lancaster and Frank Robinson 3rd. Junior Morne Vinter from Warwick was all smiles as his shooting improved over the 2 days with a 3rd in event 3, 2nd in event 5 and 1st in event 6.

This left his dad lamenting that he was only 4 targets down for the weekend, but could not win a trick. The ladies were well represented with Dimity Boydell winning the C Grade High Gun and Tania Marshall the Overall. President Mr. Bob Aitchison thanked sponsors for their support, saying without their involvement these events are difficult to host.

Special mention must be made about the Overall High Gun, which required a shoot off between Garry Rootes and Gary Carylton. Both shooters were only one point down over the entire weekend. Full details in result section.

Skeet & Trap Shot at Echuca

January 9th of a brand new 2005 and five squads of shooters arrived at Echuca Clay Target Club on an excellent day of 28 degrees and a light cool breeze.

Perfect conditions for competition which enticed virtually all shooters to enter the first event of 25 target Skeet, although some had no Skeet guns with them, they elected to use their trap guns for the occasion, and still put up good scores.

Handicap Winner Jeff Lowndes.

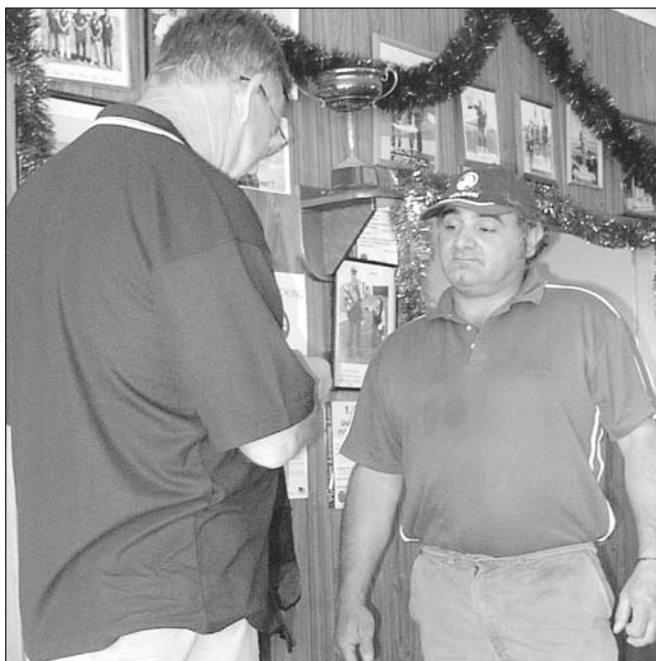

Craig Scott OA A DB 1st.

Being run as a cash divide there was no shoot off required and two on clean scores of 25 shared 60% of the money collecting $24 each being Andrew Roberts (Bendigo) & Steve Atkins (Echuca), Steve Trill (Echuca) on a 24/25 picked up $20, & two on 23/25 Craig Scott and Greg Norris both of Echuca collecting $6 each.

Four events were on for the shoot, and event 2 was a Graded 20 target Single Barrel. Echuca members swept up the first three grades with Craig Fitzgerald taking AA on 22/23, Ryan Atkins taking A grade on 19/20, and Peter Jamison collecting B grade on 19/20, Melbourne shooter Jarad Appleby picking up C grade on a 12/20.

Event Three was a 20 target Handicap, and a very keen shoot off between two shooters, Jeff Lowndes of Mornington and local Peter Sing, with Peter dropping his 37th target giving Jeff the Overall Sash, money, and a penalty of a 1/2 meter on 37/37. Peter taking 2nd, Jamie Elliott (Walmer) 3rd on 33/34, & local member Lee Fitzgerald with a 32/34 score taking out fourth place.

George Calleja Life Member.

Event Four, was a 20 target Double Barrel Championship, which, with the perfect conditions for shooting, looked like turning into a marathon with two squads on a full score to shoot off. After 100 targets were shot and most had dropped out, the Club and the remaining shooters agreed to finish the shoot off from the 20 meter mark. 20 meters made the difference only needing another 13 targets to elect a winner. Echuca shooters made a clean sweep of this event winning all grades. Overall and A grade went to Craig Scott on a very well shot 113/113, AA grade was Craig Fitzgerald with 112/113, B grade taken by Peter Sing, having a good day of shooting with a score of 19/20, C grade Steve Scott on a 17/20.

Recently the Echuca Clay Target Club committee elected to bestow a Life Membership on one of our hard working team, George Calleja, who was taken completely by surprise at receiving the honour. George who does very little shooting throughout the year, but puts in a lot of work at the club, is much appreciated by all.

Murray Roberts.

February Shoot at Echuca

Echuca Clay Target Club committee knew it was going to be a long day, when six full squads of shooters turned up for the February program, which included 25 targets of Olympic Trap in with the other three events for the day.

Considering all the events that were on in Echuca for the weekend, the Southern 80, the Car races at the new Velodrome and various other attractions, the Club committee were very pleased to see so many competitors turn up for the shoot.

Conditions for target shooting could not have been better with a clear sky, 29 degrees and a gentle south breeze, all set up for big scores, and the shooters replied in kind. Knowing it was going to be a big day the office staff got the shoot started on time.

Event 1 was the 25 tgt Olympic Trap run as a graded cash divide. A grade was shared between Tim Robinson (Echuca) & Ray Peatling (Kerang) on 22/25. Echuca lady shooter Melitta Northausen took out B grade with a 21/25. Mathoura shooter Roger Kerslake collected C grade on a top score of 24/25.

Event 2 was a 25 tgt Double Barrel Continental and it took some lengthy shoot offs to organise the winners and seconds for four grades. Overall winner and AA grade was Jamie Elliot (Walmer) on 104/104; AA 2nd was Steve Atkins (Echuca) 92/93. A grade 1st Ken Bruns (Echuca) 103/104 giving Jamie Overall by missing his 104th target, A 2nd was Steve Traill (Echuca) 68/69. B grade 1st Peter Jamison (Echuca) 29/30, B 2nd Alex Gobbo (Echuca) 28/30. C 1st junior, Jack Collicot (Deniliquin) 24/25, & C 2nd junior, James Peatling (Kerang) on 20/25. It is good to see juniors coming up and getting a draw in a tough event.

Event 3 was a 20 tgt Handicap, and Overall 1st, after a reasonable shoot off was Steve Landsborough (Walmer) on 51/51, with Allen Johns (Colbinabbin) collecting 2nd after missing his 51st target, 3rd was Echuca shooter Peter Gobbo on a 47/48.

Event 4 was a 20 pair Deauville Doubles, a fun event really, which brings shooters to rely on each other to bring in a good score. Five pair of shooters did shoot well to show 20/20 scores. Finally it was down to Craig Fitzgerald (Echuca) & Jamie Elliot, and Ron & Steve Traill (Echuca). Craig & Jamie succeeded at 66/66 pair, taking 1st. Ron & Steve picked up 2nd on 65/66 pair, good shooting by all in this event.

A very good day of shooting enjoyed by all, running into overtime a little, but with such big scores shot by so many, no club could do it any different.

Echuca Club wishes to thank all that attended especially those that travelled.

Vic Zone Title at Mathoura

Mathoura Gun Club hosted five squads of shooters on Friday the 28th of January 2005 all of whom were eager to win the Victorian North East Zone, Night Pointscore, event that was on offer.

With storms threatening and patchy rain about, five squads was a good roll up of shooters for the night shoot.

Included in this shoot was the Club Champion for 2004, which is normally held in December, but was cancelled because of torrential rain during the last event January proved to be luckier with storms all around but Mathoura was spared. As it turned out the weather could not have been better for the whole shoot.

Event 1 was a 10 target Pointscore Cash Divide eye opener. Just what was needed for practice for the Zone event, which was on next. No one was able to shoot the event clean. There were two on a score of 29/30, being Jack Collicoat (Deniliquin) and George Bradley (Mathoura) both collecting $10, and three on 27/30, Peter Kerr (Echuca) Keith Perry (Shepparton) & Leigh Knight (Bendigo) each collecting $5 for their effort.

Event 2 was the 25 target Victorian North East Zone Night Pointscore; to total 75 points. G Bradley was victorious, after a shoot off with two other shooters, taking out the Overall Sash & Trophy and A Grade, on a very good score of 117/117. Another Mathoura member Trevor Berryman collected B Grade on a 67/75, and C Grade club member, Shane Howe with a score of 55/75.

Event 3 was a 25 target Double Barrel shoot incorporating the quest for the Club Champion for 2004. After a fairly short shoot off between Murray Roberts and Ben Kerslake, both on a score of 23/25 and with Murray dropping his 7th target, Ben took that honour. Leigh Knight led the way in the shoot by shooting a clean 25/25 to collect the Overall and A grade trophy. B Grade once again was taken by T Berryman after a one shot shoot off to end on a score of 23/26, Trevor has been putting in some scores of late and A Grade may be lurking fairly close for him. C Grade was collected by Bert Knight (Bendigo) after a two bird shoot off ending in a score of 23/27.

Club President Roger Kerslake was proud to be able to congratulate his son on winning the 2004 Club Champion Title, and thanked all for attending.

Night Shooting at Mathoura

Friday evening the 25th of February and four squads of competitors arrive at Mathoura Gun Club to shoot in the three events on offer for the night.

Graham Hall OA & A Tower

George Bradley 1st Single Barrel

Clear sky and about 24 degrees with a gentle southerly breeze meant it was going to be a very enjoyable night of competition. Warnings of a mosquito plague seemed to be unfounded, possibly because of the breeze keeping them at bay.

Five shooters found the eye opener 10 tgt Double Barrel an easy task, being Murray Roberts (Echuca), George Bradley (Mathoura), Phill Hart, Rob Colliccoat, & Glen Higgins all from Deniliquin, all scoring 10/10 to share the cash divide.

Graham Hall (Mathoura) demonstrated to all how to shoot night tower in the second event a 25 tgt Double Barrel tower, being the only shooter to down all 25 targets to collect Overall & A grade. Shepparton competitor Alf Hearn after a one shot shoot-off collected B grade on a 24/26, and local member Harry O'Connor, (under the watchful gaze of the handicapper), Harry (Snow) shooting tower so well lately, collected C grade on a very good score of 24/25.

The last chance to collect a trophy, event three a 15 tgt Single Barrel, and G Bradley demonstrated how it should be done by downing all 15 to take out first prize. Rob Colliccoat after once again, a very short shoot-off, of three targets collects 2nd place on a score of 17/18 and G Hall 3rd with a 16/18 score on the board. Very pleasant conditions, a friendly atmosphere, and a good time was had by all.

Dear Your Say

I haven't seen much in "Your Say" for a bit so thought I'd pop in, say G'Day and hit you with a hot little topic on "Popular and wide spread cheating".

I want you to visualise this scenario. The shoot is on, anything from a State or National to your own monthly comp. A lot of hard work has gone down to get you into this shoot off. Now it's your turn, you call the bird flies up, your ready, swings good nice rhythm on line leads right NOW click! Nothing - panic attack! Bird lands down range unhurt. Your hand fly's up. Refs coming over. "Yeah!" says your mate "I heard the gun click. It's a dud primer, a bad shell, gun malfunction (whatever)". The shooter - he knows his B25-D5G has never malfunctioned and never will.

The voluntary and maybe inexperienced referee who doesn't want an argument with a line of experienced shooters, agrees. Ok, reload and try again. This shooter, with a little test should have got a LOST bird. Most all of these so-called malfunctions are nothing more than a shooter failing to load correctly, by not dropping the barrels all the way down so that the cocking rods can rotate the hammers back to their second groove. The sears are pinned to the top of the frame waiting to click in and hold the hammers.

What is happening? The hammers almost go right back, but don't. Then they return. The sear can only slide along the curved top and drop into the closer slot holding the hammer into a half cocked position. At trigger pull there's NOT enough distance to generate the inertia hit on the firing pin to reach the anvil in the primer. You have an impression on the primer but, not deep enough for a detonation. You can never get enough hammer speed from half cock. So, most times the trophies are going home with the wrong people, after a malfunction decision. At our club's last monthly comp shoot Doug Mitchell collected four live shells from refs who in turn took them from shooters who had apparently got away with it. Doug was intending to dispose of them safely when I found out the circumstances and after sighting the much smaller indents on the primer face I said: "Dougie you have just been conned. Put them in your bag and shoot them off there Ok". Doug wasn't convinced so we put a gun together and went out on the tracks. Every one of those so-called dud shells fired more than perfectly. We are now going to modify procedure dealing with malfunctions during competition.

1. Never open gun. Failure = Lost target.

2. The shooter will be instructed to drop barrels fully until pivot is stopped mechanically to our satisfaction then close and shoot over trap. If it now fires and it will. Too bad. Bring the colours down. Lights out = Lost target.

So what's happening at your club and what are you going to do about it. For those who have not read the RuleBook for the definition of a lost target, better do it. Have a great year in 2005 and good shooting.

Dear Your Say

I would like to say that I do agree with Geoff Ervin's remarks on our new grading system (March Issue).

I can honestly say that I have not spoken to one member of the ACTA who agrees with the new Grading Percentages. As Geoff said "the old percentages worked fine".

I have heard it said the reason for the change is that the distance and angels now make the targets easier to hit. So why not put the distance and angles back where they should be instead of playing around with the percentages.

Miracles do happen at MAJURA PARK GUN CLUB

Friday 4:00pm it was here!
The computer box to run our Trench day.

For the last 6 weeks it has been a go to get our newly acquired trench traps in working order for our 1st trench shoot at our club.

Allan Wilson has been madly making hoppers, Sam Amey made a neat job of plumbing all the air outlets & Matt Patmore has been keeping an eye on the project.

At one minute after receiving the Computer box from New Zealand panic set in, by 3:00pm SATURDAY it was the time for the first test firing...IT WORKED! Those guys over at Canterbury voice release gave us some white mans magic, that little green box did everything that we hoped for considering we had to incorporate an Ibis trap in the set-up.

Allan Wilson checking the IBIS trap before the shoot

Resting & waiting

5:00pm Saturday we were confident that all was a go for to-morrow, we did envisage a few hiccups, so with a few tools set out at strategic places in the layout we were ready.

By 10:30am we had 3 squads ready to go, & considering that West Wyalong had a Central Zone Trench Carnival we did well.

As predicated we did have a few hiccups but with the shooters knowing that this was the 1st, lets say test run, they were very happy to go along with the slight delays.

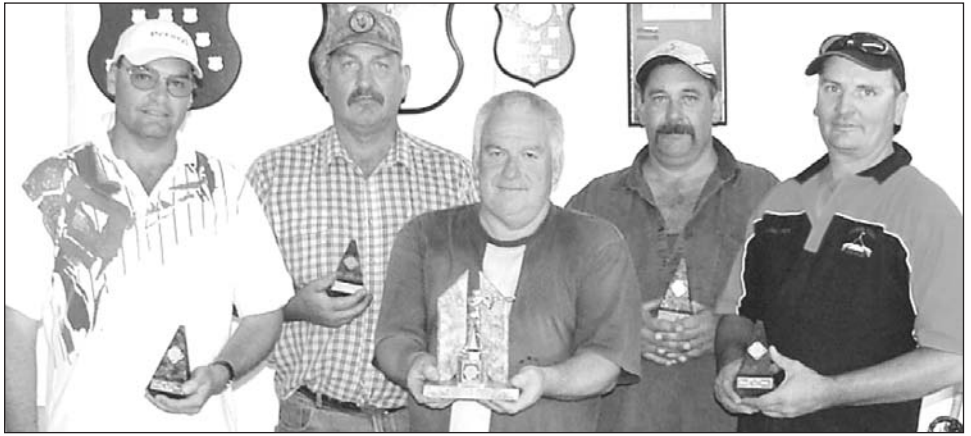

Our next MAJOR shoot is on SUNDAY 29th May but if we can organise the Saturday prior for practise we will advertise this in the CTSN

To all those local shooters & the ones who travelled, thanks for making it a beaut relaxed day.

March - 2005

World Championship teams are all sorted. At the end of the Australia Cup we have seen Michael Diamond win the overall High Gun, becoming the number 1 ranked Olympic Trap shooter in the country. Adam Vella made second & Tom Turner third. Russell Mark top qualified for the Men's Double trap, bouncing back to number 1.

Junior Men's trap has seen Brendan Burgess get to the top, but had some stiff competition from Todd Malone, who came home with a wet sail. I can see a couple of great shooters in the future. The Junior Doubles saw Nicholas Kirley out in front.

Women's trap saw Stacey Roiall come to the fore, and clearly take out top spot, pushing Athens Gold Medallist Suzy Balogh into number 2. Suzy however is the top ranked female in Double Trap.

Junior Women's trap saw Kate Cassar placed first and Lisa Cameron in second. Lisa shot a travelling score in Brisbane at the Nationals and will be eligible to shoot at the World Champs mid year.

Men's skeet saw Clive Barton in the top spot. I happened to be present when his brother George needed a perfect 25 in his last round of the Australia Cup to earn a travelling score. This was no mean feat, as the conditions at the Werribee range were tough on all disciplines. George dug in and walked away with the 25 giving him a 117/125, an amazing effort.

Women's skeet saw Lauryn Mark take number 1 and Natalia Rahman in second. Good effort from Lauryn, who hasn't been feeling the best lately due to her pregnancy.

Well done to everyone who competed, and good luck for our teams for the 2005 year. For everyone else, me included, we always have next year, and plenty of months to prepare and push for selection. I would also like to congratulate all the DTL shooters who turned up venturing out of the "MUD PIE" comfort zone and having a red-hot go. Some did really well and made the training squad for Commonwealth Games Selection.

ARE YOU FAIRDINKUM??

When will the ASA come up with a suitable selection criteria?? The farcical points system is just not working. We have competitors that do not have to shoot all events and can still make teams & training squads. Surely targets broken makes more sense & will make people compete in all events??

The USA team uses the targets broken system, and they have no trouble picking teams and the country's best shooters!! So why has the ASA adopted this points system? During the 5 events making up the selection for teams this year, there was no explanation anywhere of how the points system works? At the end of each event, shooters were given points and didn't know where the points were earned?? Pretty ridiculous situation. Also we had the problem in some disciplines that the travelling scores could not be reached because of weather conditions. Another situation that makes no sense. We all know that the weather can severely hamper scores. So why don't we come up with something more suitable - like the CCR in golf? If we just ran the average at every competition and adjusted our "Travelling Scores" to what the competitor's results are in each event, then we would not be in a situation where some disciplines were struggling to get shooters to qualify. Surely this is not too difficult a proposition, unless there is an ulterior motive???

WAGIN'S SALT BUSH CARNIVAL

Once again it was time for the Saltbush Carnival, the Wagin Gun Club's annual 2 1/2 day shoot. It is called the Saltbush Carnival because the gun club is situated on a very "picturesque" salt flat. Well maybe it isn't the best area for a post card but it certainly is one of the best spots for a gun club.

Koonac Cup - Nita De Garis from 4 Farmers presenting sash to Glen O'Brien

The carnival kicked off on the Friday at 2.30pm with the 50 target Double Barrel Agwest Machinery Starter. It wasn't counted in the High Gun, giving those who travelled a long way a chance to stretch an itchy trigger finger. Of the record breaking 66 shooters who nominated on the Friday there were 12 possible 50/50's. It was eventually won in the fading light by Lars Bager with 92/92 of the W.A.G.C with local member Chris Moffat 91/92 coming in second. All commented that the Corsivia high dome targets off the new Canterbury trap were perfect.

Saturday morning started well with a good turnout for a nice healthy feed of bacon and eggs, even though there were a few people a bit late for brekkie after a good night at the local pub with some out all night. There were 103 nominations on Saturday so all the club members knew that they had to be on their toes to get everyone through the three layouts.

The day started with 25 targets DB cash divide and as per normal there were 26 possibles shot but the C grader with a possible had the biggest smile putting a tidy sum in his pocket.

The second event was 15 targets Pointscore Team Poly Past Members Trophy, this year in memory of the late Trevor Booth. One again there were many possibles, with a small event but in the end Esperance shooter Tom Vodden 81/81 took home the trophy from AA grade's Tim Blakeney 78/81 and B grader Wayne Kuser 78/81

The third event was the 4 Farmers, Koonac Cup, a 25 target Pointscore event, with the winner taking the perpetual trophy, gold brooch and sash. After a lengthy shoot-off Geraldton shooter Glen O'Brien 132/132 triumphed over Terry Marsden 129/132 also from Geraldton.

The last event of the day was the 50 target Double Barrel Dohnboullet Special. Once again with 12 possibles the shoot-off took until it was virtually dark. With the only two shooters left being local Sam West and Albany Shooter Geoff Faulkes most people were thinking that with the fading light the young eyes of Sam West (104/105) would win but Geoff Faulkes (105/105) proved once again, that age and cunning will over come youth and enthusiasm occasionally.

Corsivia High Gun - Jim West and V-President Sam West presenting High Gun to Gary Kelly

Team Poly Past Members Trophy - Jock Murray from Team Poly presenting sash to Tom Vodden

Agwest Starter - Chris Moffat President presenting sash to Lars Bager

Dohnboullet Special - Jim West from Dohnboullet presenting sash to Geoff Faulkes

Saturday night after the presentations were complete there were the traditional chops on the barby and wonderful salads, plus the odd can of beer or glass of red, the only tonic for those wanting to shoot well the next day. The great lamb chops were followed with magnificent marinated strawberries in balsamic sauce and cream.

Sunday started literally with a bang with a few thunder clouds rolling around, but most had cleared off by the time the shooting had started. Once everyone had filled up on bacon and eggs the show got under way at 8.30am with 100 nominations for the day.

At the Saltbush carnival Sunday is the big day, with the Wagin Business People's Phil Becker Memorial Cup being the main event shot. It is a 100 target Medley made up of 25 Double Barrel, 25 Single Barrel, 25 Pointscore and 25 Continental.

Taking it down to the wire, coming in right at the end with a very good score of 148/150 was Gary Kelly from Geraldton, with Albany B grade shooter Wayne Drake-Brockman close on his tail with a 147/150. The handicapper will be watching Brocky carefully. Also worthy of mention was a long shoot off between Wagin Junior Nigel Miller 146/150 and Glen O'Brien 146/150 for 1st and 2nd in A grade with Glen eventually winning the grade.

The Ladies High Gun was taken by Wendy Cole 305/345 of Peel and Districts and the Veterans once again by Tim Catling 335/345. With a great field of 9 Junior shooters Tim Steer the Winchester representative was on hand to present the Winchester Cup and Trophies. Winner was Geraldton's Darren McMichan 333/345, 1 target from Wagin Junior Nigel Miller 332/345 and 3rd was the up and coming Michael McDonald from Augusta.

His win in the Becker Cup enabled Gary Kelly 340/345 to win the magnificent Corsivia High Gun trophy. After such a successful carnival with 120 different nominations, we must thank our ladies for their hard work catering for all the shooters and our wonderful sponsors including all the business people of Wagin and major sponsors. Agwest Machinery, Winchester Australia, Team Poly Tanks, 4 Farmers Chemicals, Dohnboullet Merino, Tim Catling, the Shire of Wagin and Corsivia Targets. Finally all the Wagin club members, being small in number for their hard work. This shoot is now a classic on the West Australian calendar.
