NATIONAL PRESIDENT'S NOTES

Bill Jones

Another year has gone. Is the Association in a better position than 2004? I believe so. The Registration figures are on the incline. There are more Juniors competing than ever before. The National Ground Development is almost ready for the World DTL Championships. A big project for so few.

Whether you agree or disagree where would we host 800 competitors for 10 days and generate such income.

We will be under the "spotlight" from a number of overseas visitors and need to demonstrate to them our Association is capable of world class standards.

Please come along, compete if you wish to, or just lend a hand. Your Association needs you all.

I am pleased with the Junior Development program, which will continue in the New Year. I would urge all State Associations to support their Juniors and this program. Take a look around at the major competitions and check the successful Junior competitors. All credit to head coaches Russell & Laury Mark and the staff. Look forward to a major announcement in 2006.

I would once again thank our sponsors for their support for 2006. They have guaranteed the Association will have a successful year.

"Please support those who support us"

New Tasmanian Record

Phil Turner Shoots 680 DTL

The November shoot at Cressy is usually a big day and 2005 was no exception. With the promise of good weather, sixty five shooters travelled from all over the state for a chance to pickup a sash & have their name on the honour-board for one of the three championships held at this shoot each year.

The day began with the Fred Blake Memorial Championship and twenty five shooters shot 30/30 to qualify for the over-all shoot-off, setting the tone for the day.

Rowan Atkins, 14 year old son of Tim Atkins won B grade after reaching 70 in the shoot-off. (Tim missed his first target ) After 90 targets, the shoot-off was reduced to 5 shooters who appeared to be settling into a nice rhythm so the rest of us left them to fight it out in front of the club-house and went off to play on trap 2!

The second event was another 30 target D/B in memory of a previous club president, Mr Jack Hill and the shooting progressed steadily, with referees & scorers swapping in & out of the shoot-off as needed.

The plan was to allow the shoot-off to continue until the "Jack Hill" was within 2 squads of finishing & then convert to Pointscore. This happened at 315 when the shoot-off was down to just three men. Steve Glover was first to go when he missed a target at 318, then Phil Turner pulled a second on his 327th leaving Bernie Smith victorious.

After a quick pat on the back, they were sent off to trap 2 for their 30 "Jack Hill" targets. Meanwhile, the shoot-offs for event 2 were under way. It was now well into the afternoon and with another 23 possibles being recorded the committee reluctantly decided to revert to pointscore after 100 targets. There were five shooters left at this stage; Shane Yates, Derry Freeman, Steve Glover, Phil Turner & Bernie Smith. Shane emerged the winner at 151, but Phil Turner & Steve Glover were still clean after each pulling a second. (For those of you keeping count, previously the club DTL record was held by Rex Meikie on 447. By now, the figure conscious were starting to mutter about state records, agreeing that the Tasmanian DTL break record was 511, shared by Greg Peck & Stuart French) Other noteworthy performers were Steve Taylor who earned a 75 break & a promotion to A grade. Relative newcomer Greg McBain gave a hint of his potential with C grade wins in each event. Graeme Brain had a wonderful day, winning A grade in both these first two events and shooting himself into AA with a 150 break.

The Presidents Trophy was the feature event of the day and having now concluded the "Jack Hill" shoot-off we could thankfully run over both traps.

Dawn, the canteen lady had done a bread & milk run so she could go on making toasted sangers & we settled into the event with the sort of determination that is brought on by the threat of fading light.

Eight men shot the 50 clean; 5 from AA, 2 from A and 1 from B grade. By now, the sun was getting very low and to complicate matters, 5 shooters had shot the program clean to be tied for High Gun.

After discussions between management and the shooters it was decided to resolve both matters together but the shoot-off would be allowed to run its course without reverting to pointscore. It was agreed that darkness would soon put a stop to this nonsense!

At 140 there were 5 shooters left. Bernie Smith, Tim Atkins, Phil Turner, Steve Glover and Tim Bryan. The sun had now disappeared and the secretary, who knows about these things said wisely, "They'll drop like flies now the light has gone." At 165 there were still 5 left. (But it was so dark now, we sent out an extra pair of eyes to help referee! At 190 there were still 4 amazing people left and it was so dark the people at the fence could hardly distinguish between target and sky. At 199 Bernie and Tim left together At 202, Tim Bryan missed.

So, after shooting 680 targets in a row and establishing a new state record, Phil Turner finally managed a win. Congratulations on your amazing achievement, Phil.

Dear Bill,

Thankyou for your recent letter regarding my complimentary membership and invitation to continue membership with ACTA.

Firstly, I would like to pass on my appreciation to ACTA for providing complimentary memberships as this was an ideal way for me to start in a sport that I have been wanting to do for many years. I have been a shooter/hunter since childhood and have owned a shotgun for about 20 years without ever having shot clay targets. Now at the age of 43 I can't get enough of it and regularly compete at both the Southern and Monarto/Alexandra clubs in SA which are relatively close to home. I was fortunate enough to find out that a friend who I have known for about 5 years was a clay target shooter and member of the Southern Gun Club and when he found out my interest he invited me to the next meet where I signed up with the complimentary membership.

I would also like to compliment ACTA and the affiliated clubs for their professional standards and dedication to improvement and development of their members. I will certainly be continuing my membership with the Southern Gun Club and will also compete at other clubs whenever I can.

Thankyou for your support and I look forward to future association with this sport and ACTA.

Cheers

Dear Your Say

In Reply to Mr Rackermann, reference nuisance firearms that are ported, I have been told that many Australians have paid the ultimate sacrifice for our freedom of speech, CHOICE etc.

Even though that seemed to be lost when I served in the forces, we weren't given the option of choice, (sorry we were, time in the military or the same in jail).

Mr Rackermann choice is to use a release trigger gun, but condemns my choice to use a gun with the bottom barrel ported, my reason for using a ported gun is to hold it down onto my stump.

He suggests that modified guns be put in the same squad, does that apply for release trigger guns, as well. I will not object if he is put in the same squad as myself.

I am known around the traps as wingy as I lost my right hand whilst serving in the army.

Dear Your Say

I refer to the December issue of the ACTA news and some previous issues regarding shoot offs. But first, great to see Ross Walsh and Arty Del Ben on the front cover of this issue, but one seldom, if ever sees C, B and struggling A graders taking out similar wins even though they are major financial contributors to these events.

High gun events 99% of the time only benefit AA shooters and a small minority at that. These sorts of large cash prizes should be split amongst the grades and not just for the top shooters to constantly collect the cash. This type of distribution system does not encourage increased member enthusiasm.

Prolonged shoot offs are boring and costly to clubs in money and time. When we drop the odd target that means we are out of that event and the first thing we think is what is the next event because shooters travel to shoot, not watch others and worse contribute to the cost of it. This does not encourage new shooters or lower grade shooters to regularly attend carnivals and compete in competition. In fact they despair and drop out as disinterested members.

Starting earlier is impractical and charging for shoot offs clays, although a good idea, would not prevent lost time and I'm sure shooters would prefer an extra event rather than watching others. A system of changing, to single barrel after 25 targets and in addition the next 25 a 3 metre handicap with an extra 2 metres for each addition 25 Would create far more audience interest in a shoot off and cut out these marathon and costly time wasting shoot offs, whether they be Zone, State of Commonwealth shoots,

I notice in world soccer in the event of a tie they (get down to a lone goalie and single kicker and a quick result is achieved. With today's better-designed guns and softer shooting, conditions we too must tighten up on shoot offs or members loose interest. The rule book should be specific and state this and not leave it to a club decision.

I read too, member Richard Rackerman moaning about noisy ported guns. Dear dear, he should stay home with mummy and take up knitting. He then won't have to worry about litigation and those guns going bang.

We are now 2006 and we have to consider any change to keep pace with current trends to ensure our sport remains viable, mutually enjoyable, interesting and equitable,

Rules and Grading.

To whom it may concern.

I would like comment on the letter which appeared in the November 05 Shooting News from Gary Jenkins and Russel Mark's column in the November 05 issue of Sporting Shooter magazine. Both these writers outlined criticisms of the DTL grading system and the angles and the distances the targets are thrown for this discipline.

I would totally agree with them that the settings currently used for DTL targets are far too easy and has resulted in distortions that are negatives for the sport. As matters stand, too many shooters who are perhaps really a B grade are now aggregated into the higher gradings, where given that the relativities of abilities still exist, they have little chance of successfully competing against some of the similarly graded top shots. This undoubtedly serves to discourage those so affected but it also makes protracted shoot offs more likely to occur, which particularly in the context of a minor level of competition, does nothing for the profitability of the club conducting the event.

It is good of course that shooters can achieve high scores but when this occurs too frequently and in relatively low level competition it merely serves to pander to the egos of a minority of top shooters. It is not unreasonable to say that any DTL break badge achieved under 2005 rules does not constitute the same achievement as those obtained in the days when targets were thrown harder and at wider angles. Might I suggest that the targets should be thrown a few metres further and out to angles of 35 degrees. This could I believe go some way to positioning shooters in a grade more appropriate to their abilities.

The issue of grading is a perennial and vexed question but I do not agree with Mr Jenkins view that gradings should be scrapped. If a one level of competition situation were to be implemented, then I find it difficult to imagine that the average shooters would nominate for an event if their assessment of the opposition indicated the chances of success somewhat remote.

I readily acknowledge that the grading system has faults in that contrary to the spirit of sportsmanship some individuals will manipulate it to seek advantage. It is always the case that some will abuse the rules but this is not sufficient reason to abandon the system, and if done, would I believe alienate many lesser shots and have them leave the sport. Whatever the shortcomings, I do not see any alternative to applying some form of ability grading if the objectives of equity and fairness are to be maintained.

In concluding I would suggest that the issue of limiting the extent of down grading be reconsidered. I understand the intention is to try to foil the cheats but it contradicts the overriding principle that gradings are essentially a function of scores shot. Scores should be the primary determinant of gradings and not some arbitrary limitation that assumes a lower level of performance is indicative of an artifice employed to unfairly gain an advantage. There are many factors contributing to lower performance that must be considered in regrading and unless there are good reasons to do otherwise then scores should be the basis of making a determination.

It is sometimes good to experiment and modify rules to see if a change is beneficial as without experimentation no progress can ever be made. The objective of a change should, however, be to encourage and if it doesn't achieve this then it is pointless to persist with it.

Yours sincerely.

Let's fix an ongoing problem

I can only speak of experience at my club, and do not know if the problem exists at other clubs.

It appears that in the past the problem has not been seen as of any consequence. But let me assure you it is going to be, unless we as shooters show a little respect for our sport and the people working behind the scenes to make a successful shoot.

At the recent Nationals held at Cecil Park Clay Target Club, the problem of fired cases left on the ground was compounded, by a lack of volunteers.

Even with bins provided I observed one shooter carefully remove the fired cases from his gun and then proceed to throw them about 3 metres in front of him. Still other shooters I think delight in seeing how far their ejectors can throw a case.

The cleaning up of fired cases has always been seen as a job some volunteer(s) from the host club would do.

The trouble with this line of thinking is that the cost of time is increasing, to a point where it is becoming very hard or nearly impossible to find volunteers, because the ordinary man in the street can not afford to take the time off. And if he can get the time off he wants to shoot.

This of course leaves it to 2 or 3 of the old blokes! Who are usually at a point in their life where bending over is damn impossible, and if they do they are usually out of action for the next week recuperating.

I am talking from experience, it took 2 of us 3 hours each day to have the layouts ready for the next day. I will not be volunteering; to do manual labour for an extended period again, it is not worth it. I love to shoot too.

This of course will result in an increase in the cost of shooting because labour will have to be employed, and/or expensive equipment purchased.

The solution to me seems simple, have the shooter be responsible for their own equipment (including pods) and if they do neglect that responsibility then perhaps they could be penalized in some way, maybe a target as I believe they are in some overseas countries. I see no reason why even an auto shooter could not pick up their shells after the squad has finished their round.

Sure we can enforce this requirement at a local level, but unless it is looked into at a national level then what's the point.

Psychological Skills for Shooting

by Michael Kruger-Davis

CHANGE

The one subject that will fuel a great deal of discussion and debate is coaching. Now I do not want to say what system should be used or what programs should be adopted but there are a few essential features of coaching that I wish to examine.

Firstly, I think coaching is vital. The problem is when a new shooter arrives at a local club there is not always a formal process in place that can assist the shooter to learn the basics properly. Usually, they have a few goes, think the sport is great and start competing. What happens is that the new shooter usually learns to compete before he/she learns to shoot properly. If he/she stays in the sport long enough, then they start to look beyond the fundamentals of turning up to a shoot with a gun and some shells. They get a gun that fits ammunition that is appropriate for the task and get some help usually from someone they recognise as a "good shot". Whilst this is a start, effective coaching is much more.

Secondly, I believe we all have a responsibility to improve so we can enjoy our sport more. That's the reason why these articles appear each month, to help shooters improve their shooting through an awareness of the psychological aspects of the sport.

The coach faces two main problems: firstly, the adult learner, and secondly, the persons reaction to change. On a one to one coaching session, adults are more responsive but when part of a group, adults are more likely to sit back and observe rather than ask questions, explore new ways and take risks. Group coaching sessions need to be structured in a way that participants have the opportunity to take risks in a safe learning environment that does not challenge their dignity. Adult learners need to take the learning at their own pace. Trying to rush or get through too much without the skills or concepts being generalised may lead to participants saying they know or understand when really they don't. This creates anxiety and interferes with further learning.

Humans don't like change. Changes in the workplace, health, relationships, family, finances, ability, etc all have the ability of developing anxiety. Yet some people do not develop anxiety, they take the changes in their stride, see them as an opportunity and move on. In my practice; teaching, coaching and therapy are often one and the same thing. For most part I use a solution focused brief therapy approach as taught by Michael Durrant from the Brief Therapy Institute of Sydney. The principles of a solution focus approach are as follows:

a. Focus on what's working. I am often heard to say at shoots, "yes you missed one, but what did you do right the other 49 times". Look for differences that are positive. Don't dwell on the missed target but try to be mindful of what you were thinking, feeling, smelling, hearing, etc when you shot the other targets well.

b. Focus on future success. Ask yourself questions, "How do you want things to be?", "How will you know when you are a confident trap or skeet shot?", "If your world were perfect what would be different to tell you that everything was going well?"

Let's imagine that this difficulty is solved.....what will be happening? How will you know? It is important here to develop a PICTURE in detail of what it will be like.

c. Assume movement and change. On a scale of zero to ten, where 0 is "I can't do this" and 10 is "I'm on top....." Where are you now?

What will be happening when you are one or two steps higher up the scale? Who will notice? What will they notice?

In a solution focused approach there are some basic assumptions about change.

1. There is not necessarily a logical relationship between the problem and the solution. This is important because you don't have to know what is wrong in order to fix it. If you can see a better way of doing it then do it differently, and enjoy the success.
2. The client, who is the shooter in this case should define the goals of the coaching session. Coaching is about helping the shooter get to where they want to go, not knowing what is best for them.
3. People have within their experience a wealth of skills, resources and strengths, both known and unknown to them, the coaches job is to get the shooter to recognise these skills and strengths and how they can be used to facilitate improvement.
4. Problems are a way of describing things, they are not you.
5. Look at solving the problem rather than working out why the problem exists. Knowing why you've got a problem doesn't help you solve it.
6. Change is inevitable. You cannot stop change but you can act to increase your number of choices.
7. Change happens by people experiencing themselves as competent and successful. We often get stuck, and coaching can help us see ourselves, or the solution, differently. We then maximise opportunities for experiencing or noticing success.
8. Motivation is more likely when we view ourselves as competent. If we view people as competent they are more likely to behave that way. People cooperate when they believe they have a say in the change process.
9. If it work's don't fix it.... If it doesn't, do something different. Encourage others to do more of what is working and less of what is not.
10. A focus on the possible and changeable is more helpful than a focus on the overwhelming and intractable. Don't focus on the past (problem), look at what is happening in the present (exceptions) and focus on future for what can be different.
11. Complex problems do not necessarily require complex or lengthy solutions. Look at changing a small portion of what is happening, examine what is different and move towards further change.
12. Focus on the future without a problem is more helpful than a focus on the past with the problem.

If these assumptions are part of the learning process in coaching then the shooter being coached may feel more empowered and motivated to change and embrace new skills and knowledge with the goal to seeing an improvement or some difference in his/her performance.

World Cup Final

Dubai September 2005

Alexi Alipov
(RUS - Silver)
Giovanni Peliello
(ITA - Gold)
Adam Vella
(AUS - Bronze)

Trap Men: Michael Diamond, Adam Vella

Trap Women: Stacy Roiall

Manager / Coach: Valeriy Timokhin

The World Cup Final brings together the top performed shooters from the world cup series for the year in an invitation only head to head showdown.

Michael qualified via his second place at the Korean world cup, Adam by winning the Rome world cup and Stacy through her third in Rome as well.

Dubai, contrary to what most people understand is a modern city that is expanding at an enormous rate to become the business capital of the Middle East.

The shooting range is set in the grounds of a luxury hotel, which caters for all walks of life and made for a great atmosphere to host such a prestigious tournament.

Trap Men

1. Peliello G. ITA 123 + 22 = 145
2. Alipov A. RUS 123 + 21 = 144
3. Vella A. AUS 122 + 21 = 143 (25 25 24 23 25)
4. Fabrizio M. ITA 118 + 23 = 144
5. Diamond M AUS 119 + 19 = 138 + 6 (25 25 23 22 24)
6. Gurkin P. RUS 121 + 17 = 138 + 5

Adam won the bronze with a great effort in an all class field.

The three medal winners were the same shooters to win the Athens Olympics medals as well as the 2004 world cup final places. The final six at this event consisted of two shooters from each of Italy, Russia and Australia and these countries now rank as the top three in the men's trap discipline. Michael started very strongly but faded a little on the second day. Finishing in fifth place in this field is no mean feat and shows he has lost none of his class and will be a real force in the run up to Beijing.

Trap Women

1. Tkach E. RUS 70 + 22 = 92 + 2
2. Gao E. CHN 70 + 22 = 92 + 1
3. Laricheva I. RUS 68 + 20 = 88
4. Liu Y. CHN 68 + 19 = 87
5. Roiall S. AUS 68 + 17 = 85 (24 21 23)
6. Stefeckova Z. SVK 68 + 16 = 84

Stacy shot well in qualifying, but a substandard final put paid to any chance of a medal. Again to simply qualify for this event is an achievement in itself and to make the final a real measure of one's standing on the world scene.

The team's immediate focus now switches to the Commonwealth Games in March in Melbourne where they will be keen to give their record breaking effort of Manchester in 2002 a big shake.

FIREARMS REGULATIONS IN NSW - LICENCE CHECKS

Due to new conditions of the NSW Firearms (General) Regulations 1997, all entrants in ACTA run competitions held in NSW MUST present their shooters licence to be able to participate. If the entrant does NOT present their shooters licence, they CANNOT participate. This regulation applies to ALL persons shooting or in the possession of a firearm at a NSW range or on club premises.

In addition to participants producing their shooters licence for inspection, the licence must satisfy clay target shooting as a genuine reason, known as Target Shooting. For example, if your licence states Primary Production or Recreational Hunting only, you cannot participate in clay target shooting events.

Officials will only allow participation in events run by the ACTA on the production of a valid shooters licence.

ACTA highly recommends all shooters carry their shooters licence at all times when carrying or using firearms.

Open Day at Darwin Clay Target Club

Interested onlookers watching Suzy smoke a few at double trap

Darwin Clay Target Club currently has about 82 members of whom only about four are women. The Committee decided to hold an open day in an attempt to increase membership and redress the imbalance between men and women in the club. A Come and Try Day aimed primarily at women and juniors was held on Saturday 3 December 2005.

The NT Government came to the party by approving a "Grass Roots" sports development grant of $2315 to assist with costs. Olympic gold medallist Suzy Balogh kindly agreed to come up here to host the event. A lot of work went into pre-publicity including sending flyers to over 6,000 private letter boxes in the greater Darwin area, hand delivery to over 800 homes and delivery of flyers to a wide range of businesses, youth hostels and motels. The local media gave us great coverage and there was much interest in the fact that Suzy was in town.

Despite being disgustingly hot and humid, 95 people signed the Club's visitors book. About 70 had a go with everyone hitting at least one target. About 80% of the visitors were women and visitor reaction was overwhelmingly positive. Of course one of the attractions was that the event was entirely free. The NT Minister for Sports and Recreation, the Hon Delia Lawrie came during the morning. We were pleased to see her, as Delia has been supportive of the club since she assumed her portfolio earlier this year. She opened our annual shoot in July and also approved the grass roots development grant mentioned above.

Suzy Balogh did a magnificent job of welcoming visitors, talking to groups about her experiences along with gun safety and shooting techniques. She also staged shooting demonstrations at both double trap and trench. The dozen or so club members were kept flat out introducing people to the fine art of clay busting at the two DTL and the two skeet layouts. Suzy directed proceedings and indeed her input was the key to the success of the day.

Local ABC radio sports commentator Charlie King covered the event as well as the ABC TV film crew. We featured on the ABC TV news that night with Suzy showing a local girl how to shoot. This prime time media coverage capped a great week with promotional articles appearing in the daily NT News, the weekly Darwin Sun, the Palmerston Sun (which featured a colour photograph of Darwin member Rachel Fox on the front page) and in the rural Litchfield Times. Announcements were made on all Darwin radio stations community notices during the week.

The open day was to run from 9am to 12 midday and, amazingly for laid-back Darwin, about 60 people arrived right on 9am. One of the problems with running an open day is that it is difficult to process large numbers of people in a reasonable time, without compromising safety or the experience for the visitors. We had long lines of people waiting to have a shot at each of the layouts. We speeded up the process somewhat by having members show people next in line how to hold the gun etc before they came up to the mark so that the person supervising the shooting just had to put a cartridge into the gun and say "Shoot the target". Nevertheless it all took time and we would be interested to hear how other clubs have managed open days as we now intend to make this a regular event.

Most of the visitors took away membership application forms, a club brochure and a fact sheet on Suzy Balogh. Many promised to come along to our

Wednesday night practice sessions and join the club but it remains to be seen how many new members we actually get. Nevertheless, the positive exposure of the sport to those people in attendance and those that have seen or read the media was well worth the effort. Of course we now face an even bigger challenge of developing and retaining those people in the sport. Effective coaching and club ambience will be critical and both these will be priorities for the 2006 committee.

On behalf of Darwin Clay Target Club I would like to express our sincere thanks to Suzy Balogh, the Minister for Sports and Recreation the Hon Delia Lawrie, our Publicity Officer Rachel Fox for all her hard work, and to all those Club members who pitched in and helped. Y'all did good!

Rhys Hendrickson

Tyagarah Ken Gibbon Memorial Shoot

The shoot was held at Lismore C.T.C. grounds as Ken was widely known & we knew there would be a lot of people turn up. Tyagarah is a small club with 1 layout.

Ken must have been shining down on us as we had a perfect day for breaking clays. The weather was great, all be it a bit too hot, and some good scores were shot making the competition for the prizes pretty fierce. 8 squads started the day with some squads having 6 shooters in them, so we were very pleased so many people remembered Ken.

A shield was donated by Ken's wife of 62 years, Betty & daughters, and 1st & 2nd in each grade now have their name on it. The results are: AA Ray Turner, 2nd Matt Maolney, 1st in A grade Ernie Balogh, 2nd Neil Nugent, John Black was 1st in B grade with 2nd going to Chris McDowell, C grade winner was Shane Westbury, 2nd Russell Courte, Junior 1st Shane Westbury, 2nd Dean Caldwell, Vets Peter Smith, 2nd Vets Barry Cameron, Ladies Shana Reichmann, Encouragement Award Ian Sullivan.

There was also a raffle run in conjunction with the shoot & was drawn on the day.

Thanks to Rob Schawyer for donation of the Lightforce kit which was 1st prize. Funds raised from the raffle & the days noms. will be used to complete wheelchair access to the layout.

A great day was had by all and plans for the event next year are already underway.

Shana Reichmann Secretary Tyagarah Clay Target Club Inc.

VALE

Kenneth Victor Gibbon

It is with great regret that we advise of the accidental death of Life member of Tyagarah Clay Target Club Inc. Kenny Gibbon. Unfortunately, Ken was killed in a tragic car accident on January 20th 2005.

Born in 1921, Kenny was the epitome of the larrikin knockabout bloke who could turn his hand to just about anything. Fisherman, builder, farmer and champion DTL shooter, he loved his friends and was always there to lend a helping hand.

Kenny helped pioneer the Macadamia industry in the Northern Rivers area of NSW and single handed cleared 10 hectares of scrub land to develop his own farm with Macadamias.

As well as being a member of the ACTA for 30 years, and life member of Tyagarah Clay Target Club, Ken was also a member of Lismore Gun Club. Always in bare feet, he was an amazing storyteller, always ready with a joke even if he was the butt of that joke.

Taken before his time, Ken is sadly missed by all who knew him around the traps in northern NSW and he will be fondly remembered for a long time to come.

It's Your Call

By
Bill McCarthy

Whilst refereeing a Pointscore event a shooter appears to have a malfunction in his first barrel and breaks the target with his second barrel where it was possible for the second barrel to be discharged.

What action do you take and what rulings would you make in the following two scenarios:

1. In the first instance you examine the competitor's gun and note that there are components of the load in the first barrel. Do you rule "One" ie 3 Points or "Two"?

2. In the second example you examine the competitor's gun and note that there has been no discharge of the cartridge at all. The primer has not fired and the cartridge is fully intact. What then do you rule?

IT'S YOUR CALL.

In the first instance You would call "Two" under Rule 1.12(b)

In the second instance you would call "One" i.e. 3 Points under Rule 1.12(a)

Rule 1.12 talks specifically about abiding by the result in any type of event. It is clearly stated that where the malfunction occurs and a shooter elects to shoot with his second barrel he must abide by the result. Shooters should note that they can place themselves at a disadvantage where they elect to shoot at the target with only the second barrel. A legitimate malfunction in the first barrel will give them the opportunity of using both barrels again, (provided they haven't had 3 previous malfunctions in that event) because if they miss the target with the second barrel then the target would be scored as "Lost".

When we then look at Rule 1.12(a) some of us may find it difficult to understand the rationale behind the award of a first barrel hit. Clearly, there must have been a malfunction of some description in the gun. Hence, one could argue that there is no difference between the two scenarios. Nevertheless, our rules state quite clearly the procedure we are to adopt.

If you have any questions regarding rules or situations where you were unsure please write to the ACTA. I look forward to hearing from you.

Camel Hill Clay Target Club Charity Shoot

Below: High Gun winner Darren Smith

Camel Hill Clay Target Club at Sandy Hollow held their Annual, Invitation Only, Charity Shoot on Saturday 29th October. With King Camel (Frank Seve) overseeing everyone, the members had worked hard to have the grounds in great condition and even slashed an area for the visitors camping for the weekend. They came from Brewarrina, Moree, Gunnedah, Tamworth, Cessnock and Upper Hunter clubs.

The weather was fine but as the day passed it grew warm and humid and the 50 shooters found it challenging on the lanes. Lunch of chicken and salads was nicely presented and served in the marquee by some of the members' daughters, ably assisted by Sue Turner, and was enjoyed by the shooters and their families.

As a small club we were honoured to have 11 women shooting on the day and they gave the men a run for their money in all grades. (see attached photo)

The results for the day were:
High Gun: Darren Smith Singleton King of the Hill 2005.

AA: 1st Paul Turner Cessnock, 2nd Gary Carlyon Gunnedah, 3rd Peter Holmes Tamworth. A: 1st Ben Norris Camel Hill, 2nd Ron Wakem Upper Hunter, 3rd Alan Raisbeck Camel Hill. B: 1st Bernadette Seve Camel Hill, 2nd John Whalan Camel Hill, 3rd Alan Morton Camel Hill. C: 1st Roslyn Roughan Camel Hill, 2nd Vicky Norris Camel Hill, 3rd Alex Wyllie Camel Hill. Ladies High Gun: Helen Gay Camel Hill. Junior High Gun: Adrianne Gay Camel Hill. Veterans Shield: Ray Daniel Camel Hill.

The raffle of beautifully quilted tableware set by Ros Roughan was won by Col Barton.

The shooter to watch is Ben Norris from Camel Hill. Only 14 years old and a Junior, he beat the older and more experienced competitors, as well as his Mum and Dad, to be in the shoot off for Overall High Gun, and won 1st place in A grade.

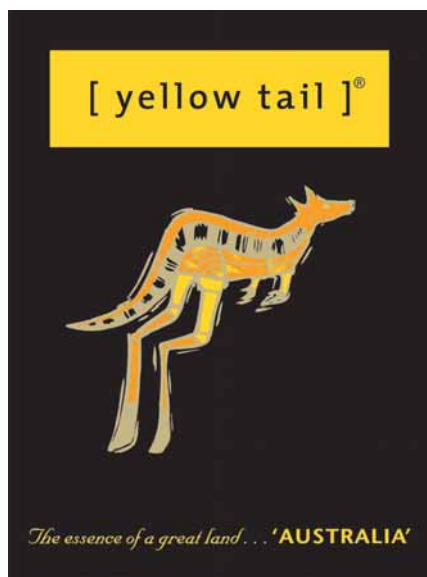

With the guns locked away, the presentation of medals and prizes over, and a barbecue tea eaten, the serious business of yarns and stories about "the clay that got away" began, and everyone settled down to a night of friendly rivalry.

King Camel now has months to de stress before it all starts again. The money raised helps our small community and the recipients of the 2004 Charity shoot included Sandy Hollow School, Sandy Hollow Rural Fire Service, sponsorship of junior members, sponsorship of a university student and promoting the education and safety of the sport.

Sunday 30th was our normal 5th Sunday shoot and they fronted up for another go at the prizes. Seven people shot the same score and after an interesting shoot off the results were: High Gun: Tony Norris Camel Hill. AA: 1st Tony Norris Camel Hill, 2nd Cliff Overton Brewarrina, 3rd Gary Carlyon Gunnedah, A: 1st Ron Wakem Upper Hunter, 2nd Col Barton Tamworth, 3rd Alan Raisbeck Camel Hill; B: 1st John Whalan Camel Hill, 2nd Phil Allen Upper Hunter, 3rd Bernadette Seve Camel Hill; C: 1st Ros Roughan Camel Hill, 2nd Emma Roughan Camel Hill, 3rd Don Frasca Camel Hill.

It started to rain during the shoot off and as the presentations and lunch finished, a torrential downpour sent everyone running for cover. It did nothing to dampen our spirits everyone agreeing it had been another great weekend of friendship, competition and fun. The travellers said goodbye, asking for an invitation to come back next year. These shoots do not run themselves. There is a lot of organization and work beforehand for events to run smoothly. A big THANK YOU to our sponsors, Two Rivers and Collingrove, our committee and members who behind the scenes and during these events King Camel and especially his long suffering family.

Mt Bogong Clay Target Club Wins Corsivia Promotion

Over the last few months Rio Oceania have been running a special promotion which enabled one lucky club, anywhere in Australia, to win a free pallet of CORSVIA CLAY TARGETS.

Entries were received from ACTA, Field & Game and Sporting Clay Clubs and the lucky winner was the Mount Bogong Clay Target Club.

The promotion proved to be popular with many clubs entering. The correct tally of clay targets to be counted was 659.

Riverina Ramblings

The adventures of a couple of ordinary blokes in the Eastern Riverina

It is unlikely I will ever live this down.

Pee Wee, who has this strange fetish for exotic firearms instead of using something manly and solid like a Beretta, has not stopped laughing since last Sunday at Narrandera when I was able to fluke the B grade shoot off for the double barrel continental.

Having dropped four birds out of the 50 targets in the double barrel, I had cleaned the 682 and put it back in the case and was actually in search of fluid replenishment (read beer) when I had to saddle up for a shoot off against Sam Papisidero

Instead of being sensible and putting the 682 back together I grabbed Pete's gun (Pee Wee doesn't bother cleaning his gun) bludged a few GB Shells off Michael Kruger-Davis (I don't think he trusts my home loads since those fizzers at Wangaratta) and Sam and I wandered down to get a crack at a few free ones.

The first bird comes out of the trap, a gentle right quartering bird, pretty much standard height, I thought "ripper" I had picked it up pretty well, bang, oops, pull a second to good result.

I was a bit shattered by this as the sight picture looked spot on. Sam, goes pull, bang, puff.

I go pull, bang, bang, chip (small chip)

This goes on for half a dozen targets and the peanut gallery, watching, is laughing and making that much noise that Sam is distracted and misses one.

Pee Wee, had a major halo slip as he was laughing that much the tears were running down his face. (supposed to be registered coach) I actually felt he was in danger of crashing into something and hurting himself. Lucky he had a few mates to hold him up.

There are a couple of saying that are relevant, "You live by the sword and die by the sword" or that "You reap what you sow". Pee Wee has had a field day explaining to the wife and anyone else who will listen for that matter that I needed a "Girls Gun" to win anything. Great!

All that being said, what a great day at a terrific location. If you get a chance get along to Narrandera, good club, great people.

A chap called Warren Brett-Schneider who many would know came to the shoot and he is an avid collector of both metal and cloth badges from gun clubs, (not only from Australian clubs but internationally). Should you have a spare badge or patch, put it into an envelope and mail it to the West Wyalong club. Warren has a collection worthy of the museum, it is a fascinating history of the shooting sports in this country.

Cheers, keep knocking chips off 'em

The Lakeside Classic - Golf or DTL?

While the name may suggest a golf tournament, the Lakeside Classic is an open, two day DTL competition held at the Newcastle Lake Macquarie Clay Target Club on the first weekend in March (4th & 5th this year) every year. There are some similarities between this competition and a major PGA tournament, for starters, the Overall High Gun will receive a green jacket, the trophies are substantial and like last year it will probably be covered by the local media, but that is probably where the similarities end.

The Newcastle club has excellent facilities and is located very close to the shores of Lake Macquarie, a great place to relax and do a little fishing after the competition is over. The club grounds have ample space for campers with a fully tiled amenities block that offers hot showers. But if you would prefer to "camp out" in a motel and visit the local RSL or Workers Club after a hard days shooting, they are all available at Toronto, a 5 minute drive from the range.

The program this year includes 50 target events in Double Barrel, Single Barrel and Pointscore. As well as this, there will be a 30 target Handicap event and a round of Deauville Doubles where you get to choose your partner and compete for a big cash prize. For more detailed information on events and start times, please refer to the full page advertisement in this issue of the magazine.

The trophies for this competition are great. There is a shotgun on offer in the handicap event, as well as a pile of quality Express ammunition, thanks to both Horsley Park Gunshop and the folks at Milperra Marketing. A big thank you also to Nioa trading who have supplied 5 rifles, including a new model Weatherby Red Mist in 22-250, for the Double Barrel event on the Saturday. On offer also are electronic appliances such as digital cameras and a DVD player from the Power Barn at Glendale and practical outdoor prizes like Acubra hats and Jackets from Divine Equine and much more including cash.

At last year's event, there were lots of juniors competing, so in an effort to continue to foster the participation of our younger shooters, junior nomination fees will be reduced by more than 50%. Of course, there will be discounted nomination fees also for ladies and veterans.

Make sure you mark this event in your calendar now. There will be plenty of good competition, the prizes are great, the food tasty and there will be plenty of shooters you know there as well. If you would like more information, please don't hesitate to contact the club secretary, Graham Gosling on 0403 201 390 or the club president, Ross McLean on 0414 924 638.

Christmas Shoot at Echuca

Echuca Clay Target Club workers were pleased to see nine full squads of shooters arrive for the Christmas 2005 shoot, most with the rest of the family along to appreciate the lavish afternoon tea, and excellent dinner meal presented by the hard working and much appreciated ladies committee. The weather was very kind to all on the day at about 30 degrees temperature with a mild breeze. Christmas shoots are predominantly fun days with a variety of events ensuring most competitors end up with a prize on the day. In this case they did, sharing a huge amount of hams, large chickens, and puddings. With free food and drink all day, an excellent program to shoot, and ending at 6-30pm for all to sit down to dinner, everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Ron Traill presents Peter Sing life membership

The serious side of the day's shoot is the competition to find the Echuca Clay Target Clubs, "Champion of Champions"; eligible shooters must have won overall in an event at Echuca throughout the year. With 35 points available in the mixed target event, Craig Fitzgerald (Echuca) took out the honour with a score of 34/35, becoming the Echuca Champion of Champions for 2005. Craig was very lucky that another Echuca member that shot all 35 points clean, Rob Viney, had not won an event overall for the year, making him ineligible.

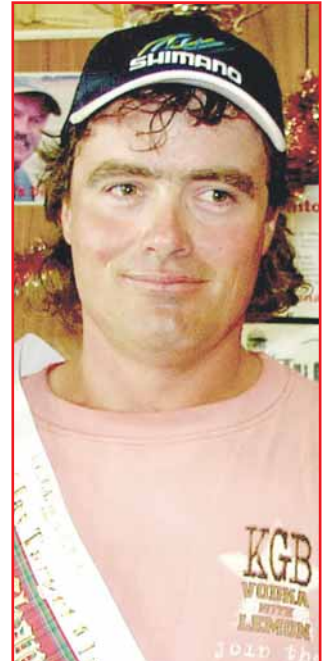

Steve Atkins acting as Echuca Clubs coach, was kept very busy during the day coaching an ever increasing number of junior would be champions, keen to have such a good marksman as Steve show them the finer details of becoming proficient in this sport. Clay Target Shooting has become more and more popular in recent years, and clubs are of course pleased, because some of these juniors will be tomorrow's representatives for Australia.

A pleasant duty for President Ron Traill on the day, and a popular decision appreciated by all, was for Secretary Peter Sing to be made a Life Member of the Club. Peters' hard work and efficiency as a secretary/treasurer is equalled by none and this presentation must be seen as an indication of how much Peter is appreciated. Ron also thanked all who attended, wished them a happy Christmas, and good, safe and prosperous New Year. P.S. Good shooting to all for 2006.

Secondary College Students at Echuca

On the 15th of December 2005, fifteen Echuca Secondary College students arrived at the Echuca Clay Target Club grounds, to have an afternoon of coaching in the sport of clay target shooting. And it was immediately apparent to the club members that most of the students were apprehensive about both the recoil and noise of the shotguns. But after an explanation of the strict safety rules employed, the light, low recoil cartridges used, and the use of earmuffs, almost all were assured that their fears were nothing to worry about.

Christmas Shoot at Mathoura

Friday the 9th of December and five full squads of shooters arrived at the Mathoura Gun Clubs end of year Christmas shoot. Perfect weather for the competition, cool without being cold, a little wind early, then calm for the rest of the night. A big evening, with three events and a huge dinner for all, plus a requirement to finalize the Single Barrel Tower Championship from the November shoot, cut short because of a spectacular lightning storm, that severe, that all agreed it was unwise to continue with the event.

Event One, a ten target Double Barrel, and six shooters lined up for a shoot off all having downed all ten targets. Rob Collicoat proved to be the stayer taking out 1st place on a 34/34, George Bradley, 2nd on 33/34, and John Croker 3rd with a score of 24/25. Now it was time for everyone to enjoy a superb meal supplied by Jenny Kerslake and her band of helpers, with that much variety and quantity of delicious food that almost everyone had seconds. A very big round of applause to the ladies committee for the effort they obviously put in.

George Bradley Club Champion
& A 1st 25 DB

Event Two, a ten target Pointscore with two shooters clean on 30 points, Mark Everitt and Graham Hall. Graham used a second barrel on the first target out which gave Mark 1st place 33/33, Graham 2nd on 32/33, and Peter Kerr having to go a lot further in his shoot off to capture 3rd place with a 62/63 score.

The conclusion of the November Single Barrel Tower Championship event was a shoot off between Bill Simpson and Laurie Fitzpatrick. Bill dropped a target giving Laurie the Overall & C Grade 1st Sash on 24/26, Bill collecting A Grade on 23/26, and Roger Kerslake picking up B Grade on a score of 20/25.

Event Three, the main event of the night a 25 Target Double Barrel including the Club Champion sash for the winning Mathoura registered member. George Bradley showing his staying power taking out A Grade 1st and also collecting the Club Champion Sash being a Mathoura Club member on a score of 47/47, Bill Simpson picking up B Grade on a 24/25, and John Croker collecting C Grade with a 22/25 score. President Roger Kerslake thanked all who attended, especially those that travelled large distances, and all who helped make this a very enjoyable night.

An example of this was obvious in student Lisa Sinclair, slight of build, she was very worried about recoil, only to find after a few shots at targets that her fears were groundless. In the finish she had gained in confidence to the point of actually hitting four out of ten targets, which speaks well for her determination to persevere, as did all the other students.

Although almost all had never even handled a firearm before, the committee members were impressed with the good behaviour, and the attention the students gave to the coaches, resulting in everyone scoring some target points and three managing to hit seven out of ten. Bridget Booth, a student, who last shoot scored a dismal one, really concentrated this time to equal the best score of seven targets shot. Well done Bridget, and well done all students on the day.

Club President Ron Traill thanked the teachers and the school for taking an interest in the sport, also the members who volunteered for coaching and assisting, to make the day successful.

Briley Small Gauge Skeet Extravaganza

Small gauge Skeet shooting will be the main focus at the Sydney Olympic facility Cecil Park on 12th & 13th November 2005.

State 28 Gauge Gil Farish

With the overhaul of the National Shooting ground Wagga in preparation for the World DTL Championships next year, a change of venue was required for the 2005 Skeet Nationals. Cecil Park was selected. A change of program for the Skeet Nationals saw Saturday 12th November free of competition and with no Pre National program the NSWCTA saw the opportunity to promote Skeet with the commencement of two new Small Gauge Championships.

A 28 Gauge and 410 Gauge NSW State Championship both of 50 Targets will be shot on Saturday 12th, to follow on the Sunday 13th will be the 7th National 20 Gauge Skeet Championship of 100 Targets. This gives Skeet shooters the chance to shoot 200 Small Gauge targets over the two-day weekend.

A High Gun over the 200 Targets has been sponsored by Mialls Gun Shop Frankston. The trophy donated is a full set of Briley Side Kicks with 410, 28, & 20 Gauge. This is a tremendous trophy and should increase interest in the event.

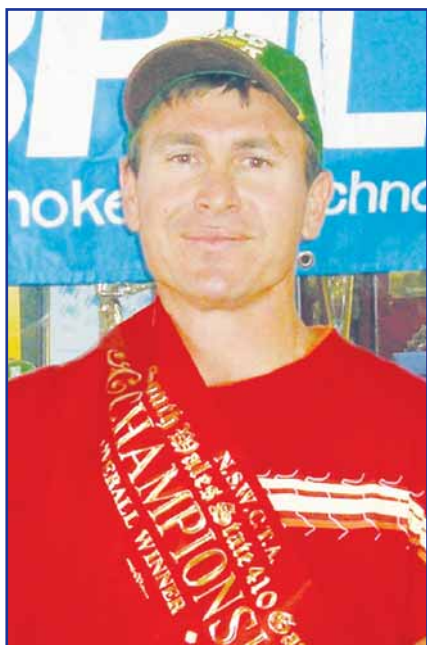

Winchester has agreed to sponsor the two NSW Championships and Winchester Small Gauge Ammunition will be used as trophies for both championships. Winchester Small Gauge ammunition will be available at the ground.

Shooters who don't have small gauge guns will have the opportunity to compete in these events as a pool of guns will be available for shooters to use.

If you require the use of these guns please contact David Coleman on 0417 929131 or 02 69314454 to make a booking. Also if you have small gauge guns you are prepared to add to the pool also make contact.

On both Saturday and Sunday Traps will be available for practise giving shooters who don't shoot the small gauges time to fine tune for the Nationals program.

All that remains is for Skeet Shooters to support this new promotion. The organisers sincerely thank the sponsors Briley/Mialls Gun Shop and Winchester for their continued support and involvement in Clay Target Shooting.

Southern Gun Club

What a wonderful weekend of shooting took place at the Southern Gun Club's grounds, Saturday 26th & Sunday 27th November.

There were so many highlights and fantastic scores over the weekend. We were thrilled to have a visitor from Broken Hill who has won many national titles, Ross Walsh.

The team shoot was a real cliff hanger with the Southern team winning the perpetual shield by one clay from the Southern Gun Club team 2. This team of 5 shooters had the two youngest shooters of the club, Luke (age 16) and Dwayne Schubert (age 14) in it, and the score for the team 229/250 was a surprise in the very windy conditions.

The two day High Gun was won by Ross Walsh 165/175 narrowly beating Peter Hendy and Rodney Schubert on 158/175 to get his name on the silver rose bowl, donated by Alwyn Thissleton.

We would like to thank Ray Leake for the beautiful glass items events 3 and 8 and Peter Dunn for his wine and other donations.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank all our sponsors for their much-appreciated donations to the Southern Gun Club over the 2005 year.

Annoying isn't it?

You have seen the chip, other shooters have seen it, but the referee hasn't. However, it happens and it's a distraction or sometimes even worse - an argument you don't want to have.

If this has happened to you, chances are you weren't shooting at White Flyer targets. Why?

1. White Flyer doesn't skimp on expensive binding ingredients. Our binding is designed to be strong enough to throw reliably, yet break decisively when hit.
2. White Flyer has led the market in the development of target breaking serrations<sup>(1)</sup> that ensure targets break, rather than chip.

The bottom line is, that as the world's largest producer of clay targets, we back ourselves with the world's largest R & D budget to ensure that what you hit, looks hit.

This investment in research and development has also resulted in White Flyer being chosen for the World's largest Trap, Skeet and Sporting events and in the development of biodegradable targets with benefits for shooter safety and club environments.
