Evolution

In 1866 target shooting was just getting started around the world. The inventor of this game, Charles Portlock, is the one person all of today's shooters can thank for this exciting sport.

These glass balls were much harder to break the "most" clay targets of today. Some will say that today, certain brands of clay targets are as hard to break as the original glass balls. That's not the case when it comes to White Flyer Targets.

If you want to see your scores improve, ask your club to throw the world's best, White Flyer Targets. Manufacturing the world's finest target for over 100 years, White Flyer continues to evolve into the most innovative manufacturer of targets worldwide. White Flyer Targets help shooters win championships and break record scores. Our targets undergo a minimum of 27 quality control steps that keep White Flyer Targets consistent in weight, composition and dimensions.

Used recently at the following major championships with new records set:

NSWCTA Single Barrel Championship 2009 – 169/169

NSWCTA Champion of Champions 2009 – 350/350

NSWCTA Handicap 2010 – 100/100

ACTA National Double Barrel Championship 2011 – 900/900

More and more clubs are switching to White Flyer Targets as their preferred target. Try them and see what all the talk is about and watch your scores improve.

National President's Notes

It is with great sadness that I have to report on the passing of well known member and former ACTA major sponsor Mr. George Sckaf, at the young age of 55 years. His death follows a long illness. George had been hospitalised since August 2011. George through his company G&N Gun supplies was a very generous and undemanding sponsor, he just loved his shooting. He will be remembered as one of the great personalities in our sport, and also as the most persistent ticket seller of all time. Not many said no to George. Personally I could not thank George enough for the support he gave to my home club, Roma during its development and during major events conducted at the club. George was a great supporter of many clubs. "Pappa", we will all miss you greatly. I extend our condolences to George's wife Mirna and his three children, Nicholas, Ashley and Sarah.

The ISSF Nationals have just been completed at Newcastle and the club must be congratulated on their facility and hospitality. Generally I do not support the duplication of expensive facilities that are in reality rarely used to their capacity, however it is also important for the Association to have a choice of venues to host its various titles. I congratulate Newcastle on the facility it has developed and for the extra choice it now offers to the Association. Congratulations to all the winners and a special mention of the excellent score shot by Clive Barton 147/150 in the Mens Skeet.

The ACTA would like to see as many members as possible attend the DTL Nationals at Wagga during the week the 24th to the 31st of March. The new prize payout format allows newcomers to "have a go" for a greatly reduced nomination. With extra powered sites now available, and a new ablutions block at the western end camping is now becoming the accommodation of choice for many and no doubt also helps keep the cost down. Being able to camp and with the reduced noms it is now cheaper to attend the Nationals per day than most Annual shoots. Please avail yourselves of the facilities as much as possible, and if you intend to camp please contact the office.

The World DTL Championships are being held later this year in Wales, and teams in Open, Womens, Veterans and Junior sections will be selected in March at the DTL Nationals. Australians, Darren Nicholls and Jack Collicoat are the reigning Open and Junior World Champions respectively, and hopefully they will be able to attend and defend their titles. The teams selected at the Nationals are very well funded and uniformed for the event. I cannot recommend to you enough the experience of attending such an event as either a Team member or as an individual competitor.

The Association auditors are currently in the office carrying out the Annual Audit. Early indications are that the Association has again made a sizeable profit which will allow the completion of more projects. The website is currently being upgraded and some things may be a little confused for a while. New templates are being produced for the Hall of Fame area of the site with much more information being made available. Please bear with us until these changes are completed.

Until next month,

Robert Nugent

Executive Officer's Report

We are fast approaching what is the biggest, in terms of shooter numbers, of our National events, the Trap Championships. This event is to be conducted from the 26th of March to the 1st of April. Most members are well aware of the changes made to the competition in terms of cost and target numbers. These changes result from a decision made by the Executive which are designed to encourage more shooters to attend, and to increase participation in, the National Championships.

The reduction in entry fee, based on removal of the prize pool, was introduced to reduce the cost for the many shooters to whom the prize money is not relevant or their reason for attending. This has reduced the cost of most events by $25.00. The reduction to 50 target events also provides the opportunity for a greater range of shooters to compete. National Championships are an opportunity for shooters from all over Australia to meet, compete and enjoy the company of many people who they may only see on rare occasions. While I believe that we need continuity and consistency of format to allow members to plan their future shooting programs we do need to be prepared to make changes to improve events and to try new initiatives to improve things for shooters. The effectiveness of these changes will be seen in attendance numbers over the next few years. This is the opportunity for shooters to show their support for the changes.

Dates have been listed on the ACTA website for the Junior Camps to be conducted this year. Camps are conducted during the School Holidays of the major States where possible and where they coincide. The camps will be for 12 shooters, both male and female, and preference for attendance will be given to the highest grades. The ACTA will request nominations from State bodies to assist in selection of the attendees. Content of training will include shooting skills, sports psychology, nutrition and fitness, and time management. The ACTA covers the cost of staff, accommodation, food and ammunition. This is one of the ways the Association works to improve the standards of shooting and to prepare young shooters for future national and International competition.

I look forward to seeing those of you who attend the National Championships and wish you all the best for your shooting in 2012.

Chris Gibson

ACTA Insurance Coverage

As members are aware the ACTA has a Broad range of insurance coverage for members and Clubs. This article will hopefully provide a better understanding of what is and isn't covered by our policies. Listed below are the policies which are held and effect Clubs and members.

Public Liability

The public and injury coverage covers members, voluntary workers, Coaches and Instructors, temporary members and visitors attending clubs and authorized activities and approved ACTA shoots.

Coverage does not include liability for injury or damage to drivers, passengers or motor vehicles being driven or operated if the driver does not hold a licence to operate that vehicle or they are not seated within the vehicle and wearing a seat belt or protective helmet on a motorcycle.

Corporate Travel

State and national Team Members are covered with a range of benefits in the event of accident when on approved travel representing the ACTA or the State to National events.

Group Personal/Voluntary Worker Personal Accident

This covers Members, voluntary workers, coaches and range staff whilst participating in events arranged by the insured (ACTA and Clubs and State Associations) including shooting, travelling to and from activities, and voluntary work for the clubs or associations.

It should be noted that there is an excess on some of these policies similar to your own insurance policies.

In the event of an incident which may result in a claim the club is to submit an incident report while the information is fresh in the mind. Details are on the ACTA website.

A question has been raised about liability in canteens with food poisoning. If the catering is outsourced the caterer should provide their own insurance. If the Club is catering they are covered but they would need to show that they the required Food preparation hygiene standards when making a claim.

As is to be expected these explanations of policies are not complete as the policies are detailed and cover a range of areas. Any specific questions should be raised with the ACTA for further clarification.

NATIONAL ZZ TITLES

10th & 11th December 2011, Bendigo CTC

After a long 9 hour trip down from Sydney with the ZZ trailer in tow, Neale Guy & Vince arrived at Bendigo CTC with the automatic ZZ traps for the National ZZ titles.

OA John Tannous

2nd Dave Demasi OA winner
John Tannous & 3rd Vince Gatt

Saturday started off in fine weather and it took most of the morning to set up. Thanks to the 10 shooters that came along to have a small comp & shoot practice. Also Bobby Lambevski, Anthony Panetta, Bryan Rafferty for helping with the clean up of the targets to be ready for Sunday morning.

After practice on Sunday we had 25 shooters on the board. 25 going into the Calcutta, 11 taking up the normal sweeps & 14 taking up high roller optional super sweeps. Auctioneer for the Calcutta was Norm Basile who did a great job making the Calcutta exciting and raising over $2460. It was a beautiful day, everybody attending had a good time, with the targets being shot from 27m for the National Title and the fence being set at 21m. Due to a slight breeze the targets weren't fast but tricky.

1st Sweeps: 10/10 competitors in the normal sweeps as well the high roller sweep

Sunday: 1st sweeps 10/10 Dave Demasi, Lee Fitzgerald, John Tannous & high roller sweeps. 2nd sweeps 10/10 Craig Fitzgerald & high roller sweeps. 3rd sweeps 10/10 Vince Gatt, Vinny Vigliature, Andrew Brady & high roller sweep. 4th sweeps 10/10 Louie Presani & high roller sweeps.

O/A National ZZ Champion John Tannous 21/25 +

In practice Craig struggled. It looked like he would be lucky to get a sweep let alone O/A. He didn't even bet on himself in the Super Sweep but brother Lee had faith in him and took it up to get lucky, good come back Craig, well shot.

O/A 2nd place Dave Demasi 21/25 +

Thanks to Bendigo President, Glenn Woodhatch and his wife Jan for the canteen on Saturday & Sunday. Also Rodd Flower for his organising and support. Thank you also to John & Mick Tannous, Louie Presani, Vinny Vigliature, Robert DeMaria, David Calandro, Craig Fitzgerald & wife Deb + Boy, a special thanks to Neale Guy for his great help over the weekend and all who attended.

Till next time, Vince & Shelly

The decision by ACTA to hold the Championships at NLMCTC has been vindicated with the successful completion of the event over 16th to 21st January. The weather was kind to the competitors with very bearable

Successful Rich River Classic

Twenty full squads of six shooters arrived at the Echuca Clay Target Club on Tuesday the 27th of December to compete at the Rich River Classic Annual Shoot. That number being over 20% higher than the previous two years, was very pleasing for the club's committee, after the amount of effort everyone had put in, buying excellent trophies, preparing the traps, and grounds, to picture perfect condition, and for the ladies, planning and preparing for a day of varied and well presented food and drinks for the shooters, and their family members.

If each person that attended had wished for good weather for the shoot they could not have received a better result, with a temperature of 27 degrees, a clear blue sky, and the lightest of breezes for the entire day, shooting conditions could not have been better.

Echuca shooters fared well, with Drew Healey taking out first place in the 25 Target Classic Handicap, putting his hand out for the $500 cash trophy and 1st place Sash, and Craig Fitzgerald after a lengthy shoot off, mainly with Hay shooter, Brian Doyle, Brian missing his 90th target, and when Craig shot his 90th, he became the Overall Winner of the 25 Target Classic Double Barrel Championship. Craig, who survived the double barrel shoot off that started with a full five squads of shooters having shot the 25 targets, insisted on having his photo taken with his new member of the family, his Labrador pup "Nugget". Werribee member, William (Bill) Preston, had a day out, winning the Overall Barrel Championship. Even so the entire shoot and all presentations were finalised shortly after 7.00pm. A very smooth running and well organised shoot, that considering the weather as well, virtually all who attended would have to enjoyed, and the Echuca Committee thank all for their help throughout the day, also a big thank you to all the sponsors of the shoot.

Full results are as follows:

Possibly setting at least an Australian record, winning the second event, the 25 Target Classic Single Barrel Championship, was Hay Member, Mitchell Iles-Crevatin, Mitchell, who is not only a AA grade shooter, but also is only twelve years old, survived the shoot off after being pushed by Bill Preston who dropped his 38th target. Mitchell won the Overall Winners Sash and 1st place in AA Grade on a score of 38/38. Congratulations, I am sure from everyone at the shoot, on your mighty effort Mitchell!

Other High Gun Winners were, A grade, Lyndon Piastrri, B Grade, Echuca member Andrew Calandro, C Grade, Echuca's G Rathbone. The Junior High Gun Sash was won by Corowa member, James Willett.

Geraldton Crayfish Carnival

ONCE AGAIN THE HOTLY CONTESTED two and a half day Geraldton Crayfish Carnival was upon us.

This year was the 30th year anniversary of our ever growing shoot. This event has grown from strength to strength over the last 30 years to become one of the most prestigious events on the annual shoots calendar. This is largely due to the work put in by past and present members and of course the sponsorship we receive from the local and non local people and companies, some of which have been sponsoring this events for as long as the shoot has been running.

There were some great prizes with 2 shotguns on offer and with $1000 cold hard cash for each overall event winner. There was sure to be some great competitive shooting over the 3 days with a total prize pool of $31,000.00

To all of our sponsors, the Club would sincerely like to thank you and your continued sponsorship in the future.

This year we had a record number of shooters that travelled interstate 73 in all and one shooter from New Zealand. Many thanks for your patronage.

This year we ended up being just shy of 200 competitors. A great effort.

Friday came and with the weather being fine and with two events on offer shooters started to nominate. It took a little while to get things happening as all the interstate travellers were filling up on the seafood luncheon which has become a bit of a tradition. They seem to move a bit sluggishly when full of prawns and lobster.

Event one 25 targets points score sponsored by Kalbarri Motor Hotel, Broadsword Marine & Fishtrade International. Overall winner was Troy Braun from Carnarvon with a great score of 131/131. With the traditional wooden spoon (the first loser) going to A grader William Preston. A great effort. AA Grade 1st Terry Thurkle 109/112, 2nd Geoff Faulkes 108/109, 3rd Chris Brown 92/93: A Grade 1st William Preston, 2nd Gary Taylor 114/115, 3rd Robin Bailey 109/110: B Grade 1st Linden Cowley 86/87, 2nd Peter Arbaci 74/75, 3rd Graeme Laing 73/75: C Grade 1st Hammer Throwing Legend Tom Birt 73/75, 2nd Justin Hale 69/75, 3rd Jaymon Dunnet 68/75: Veterans Lex Shipp 74/75: Ladies Renae Birgin 74/75: Juniors Jack Wallace 72/75 from Melbourne with an outstanding score of 211/211 bearing in mind that a lot of these targets were shot under lights. Well done Jack.

Wooden spoon for this event was the founder and presenter of the wooden spoon and much to the delight of all that have been on the receiving end of one all sought revenge on who was going to present it to Michael Boschetti. AA 1st Michael Boschetti 210/211, 2nd Neil Pratt 200/201, 3rd Alex Dallas 175/176;

With that all the shooting over that was it for the Saturday's program. We could now get onto the serious business of the traditional Saturday Night Barbeque and Calcutta auction.

A big thank you to Tiny Holly our auctioneer who does an outstanding job and after just a few minutes all the shooters learnt to refrain from waving and the Italians stopped talking with their hands.

After it was all said and done there was $ 20,000.00 in the prize pool which was going to make it an interesting event for the final event on the 2011 program.

A great night of food and fun was had by all and with percentages dropping with every beer the chances of the Calcutta were getting better for some and worse for others.

Only Sunday will tell.

Sunday dawned and team Italy were there on breakfast duties bright and early.

The weather was going to hold and for the seasoned travellers they knew we were going to get away with it for another year. Believe it or not our little town can put on some big wind.

Event 7 45 Target Medley sponsored by City of Greater Geraldton, Pages Autos, Horrie & Steves Slipways and Fleet Hydraulics. Overall winner was William Woodward from Victoria. A good win for Billy who has become a bit of a regular to Geraldton. Well done Billy. Wooden spoon winner was again Travis Adams from Albany. Calcutta Winner, Little Tony Faranda with a wad full of Cash and his fellow traveller "and first loser" Chris Brown

Bryan came runner up in the High Gun last year and was very nervous in the last couple of events, knowing he was in line for either the coveted High Gun badge or possibly another large spoon. Bryan held his nerve and produced the goods to take it outright with a score of 306/310.

Well done Kermit!!! Only a mother could love his call.

With all the formalities out of the way it was off to the barby and bar for some tasty swordfish and a few light refreshments.

All in all it was a great carnival where the atmosphere was great and the targets very shootable.

We would like to thank all that attended and hope to see you and more next year.

Before I sign off I would like to make a few special mentions.

To our team of special ladies who look after the catering throughout the weekend. They do an excellent job and are to be highly congratulated.

To our team of devoted members and Committee who put in a mighty effort to keep it all going throughout the weekend.

To Greg Wheeler and Renae Birgin for helping out Justin in the bar throughout the weekend. Greg who comes to our shoot regularly and doesn't even shoot, he comes for the good times and mainly to look after our little mate Johnny Lawrence.

Our team of office workers who made the best of a tedious task. Many thanks

Congratulations to Glenn O'Brien, our President for the work not only at the carnival but throughout the year.

Once again many thanks for attending our 30th Crayfish Carnival and hope to see many of you around the traps shortly.

Improve your shooting posture.

Stance, posture, and balance, are all vitally important to achieve success in the sporting world. This holds especially true for trap shooters.

Like the boxer who balances on the ball of the foot to allow for quick reactions and improved balance. A successful trap shooter requires similar degrees of balance and reaction time.

The Meindl Marksman is a light-weight shoe that assists the transfer of weight from the heel forward onto the ball of the foot. This improved stance offers increased control under recoil and a faster response onto targets.

The Meindl Marksman is available in two models the Marksman 1 and the Marksman 2 in both ladies and men's sizes.

With a skill level way beyond his years!

Sunday 8 January 2012 saw the Albury/Wodonga Clay Target Club host its first shoot for the New Year. The program consisted of 50 target Ball Trap and a 50 target

James Willett with his 2 overall sashes and High Gun trophy

Double Barrel. 10 squads took to the Ball Trap layouts, which was shot in brackets of 25 targets on each ground, with only 1 possible being recorded by junior Corowa clay target club member James Willett big effort well done.

The result for the 1st event was overall and in 1st A grade, James Willett 50/50, 1st in AA grade Bob Leita 49/50, 2nd Craig Ceely 48/50. 2nd in A grade was Bryan Bockman 48/50, 1st in B grade Tom Caldwell 51/54, 2nd Daryl Fraser 50/54, 1st in C grade Colin Wemyss 46/50, 2nd Royce Wojtowycz 44/50.

The second event was a 50 target Double Barrel which saw 4 possibles shot. James Willett, Bob Leita, Anthony Carroll and C grade shooter Kane Bockman who scored his first 50 target break. Kane went on to shoot another 20 targets in the shoot off before missing his 21st, bad luck, but very well done Kane!

Bob was not giving up easily after James got him by 1 target in the Ball Trap. James had to shoot 140 targets in the shoot off to beat Bob who dropped his 140th, (Bob is also the club handicapper) sorry for the hold up with the books, but he would not do them in the shell breaks. Well done!

Leaving James as the overall winner. It was a clean sweep for the young Corowa shooter. Because James shot a possible over the program, he was awarded the $150.00 open order, kindly sponsored by Elk's Hunting & Fishing Albury.

The result for the 50 tgt Double Barrel, overall and 1st in AA grade James Willett 190/190, 2nd Bob Leita 189/190. 1st in A grade Colin Kneebone 51/52, 2nd Bryan Liersch 50/52. 1st in B grade Paul Kovacs 69/71, 2nd Logan Weymss 68/71. 1st in C grade was Kane Bockman 70/71, 2nd Ian Erbacher 62/65.

Overall High Gun went to James Willett 100/100, Best Junior Cameron Wilson 93/100. Well done to all the winners and place getters, with a special thanks to Christine & Emily in the canteen and Judy in the office great job as always. Hope to see you all next shoot.

Browning's Citori Sporter

- a real bargain buster!

by John McDougall

John McDougall takes the Citori Sporter through its paces at his local Sporting Clays ground on Phillip Island, Victoria.

The name Browning is synonymous with one of the most famous of all firearms designers - John Moses Browning. Designs that were penned in the late 19th century are still being used today, as the brilliance of Browning was, in my opinion, unsurpassed. This is high accolade for a chap who had trouble getting recognition in his own country and needed to take his designs elsewhere!

The Browning Citoris shotguns are made in Japan and represent excellent engineering and finish. The materials are of exceptional quality and the finish, even on this entrance model Sporter on review, is very good. Upon unpacking, I was also impressed with the quality of character in the woodwork, for unlike many European manufacturers, who are disguising very basic woodwork with coatings that portray magnificent grain characteristics, Browning simply had a matte polythene finish on a better-than-average piece of wood. Much to my delight, I noted a recoil pad was fitted as standard. Maybe Browning has been listening to my concerns for the past 20 years.

The barrels

Measuring 30" in length and fitted with the Invector Plus interchangeable choke tube system, the Browning Citori Sporter was certainly well designed and ready for the challenge of Sporting Clays or a day out in the field on upland game such as rabbits, hares or quail. The long 30" barrels are preferred for Sporting Clays though, as the barrels maintain enough weight for a smooth swinging action.

Interchangeable choke tubes offer options for varying shooting or hunting opportunities and I prefer them for sporting shotguns for this reason. The greater the versatility offered, the better the gun I say! The supplied choke key was quite basic, similar to what Browning used years ago, but I sometimes need to remind myself that the gun was an entry-level model. The solid side ribs contributed to the weight of the barrels and the gun's overall balance. I also find vented side ribs a nuisance to keep clean and so preferred the solid ribs.

Topped with a parallel rib typical of Browning design, with two sights fitted, one at the muzzle and another halfway down the rib, to effect correct barrel alignment, the gun pointed extremely well. I appreciated the mid-sight, which always enables the shooter to ascertain whether they are 'canting' the gun (tipping the barrels off vertical), for the sights should align in a figure 8. A good way to check gunfit and barrel alignment is to mount the gun with your eyes closed. Then, when you open your eyes, if the sights are not aligned, stock adjustments may be required. The Citori Sporter mounted perfectly for my purposes and body build - I suppose that gave me no excuses for any missed targets during field testing!

The finish on the Citori Sporter was faultless. Browning uses a much darker blueing finish, almost black, compared to what can be found on European guns, but over the years, this has become a Browning characteristic. The finish appears to be very resilient, having passed the test of time; indeed, I have not known of any Citori barrels to suffer from surface rust.

The chamber end of the barrels was very interesting. In fact, I had to have a second look when I checked the chamber end, for the forcing cones had been significantly lengthened. Chambered for field shooting 3" shotshells, the barrel bores each measured 0.737", which is a little tighter than the 0.74 to 0.742" that I have found with other models. The bore differences are really inconsequential, although larger bores tend to provide less resistance to shot and wad charges, resulting in marginally faster velocities. This was proven by American Stan Baker.

My concerns with barrel bores are related to the relative differences in bore diameter to choke tube constriction, which determines choke. This was demonstrated when I measured what was labelled an improved cylinder Invector Plus choke tube supplied with the gun to find it measured 0.736", which means the difference between the bore and choke constriction was only one-thousandth of an inch (or 'one point') and this actually represents a cylinder choke! Improved cylinder is usually around 10 points of constriction, which meant the respective choke tube should have measured 0.727". This was not such a concern for me, for knowing the relative differences meant that I could select the appropriate choke tube for my purposes. Perhaps Browning may have gone to lighter choke constrictions to compensate for the tighter patterning often resultant from lengthened forcing cones.

The white front-sight at the muzzle was not John McDougall's preferred type; fluoro optics seem to provide a better option. These can be added at a very affordable cost if preferred. The entry-level Citori Sporter is still exceptional value though!

I recalled being entertained for several hours many years ago with a Browning gunsmith at the World UIT Championships held in Western Australia in the early 1990s. He explained that Browning did not advocate lengthened forcing cones at the time, as such modifications interfered with pattern performance. It was interesting to note their change of direction with this model. I feel sure Browning would have well and truly done their research and development with this modification to ensure optimal pattern efficiency and terminal ballistic performance.

The mid-sight was an appreciated addition to the gun, which will enable the shooter to check and correct gun mount and avoid 'canting' or tilting of the barrels from vertical.

The tried and proven two-piece ejectors were fitted to the Citori Sporter and performed as to be expected - perfectly!

The receiver

The receiver was silver in color, which made the gun well suited to upland game, as well as Sporting Clays. Engraving about the receiver was sufficiently and tastefully completed, without being overdone. Remember, this is an entry-level model with the best Browning can offer for the minimal price.

All metal-to-metal surfaces and wood-to-metal borders were finished well, to the point of being without fault. This is a great effort by Browning with their CNC machinery. Even many guns that I have seen from European makers are not so well finished, having noticeable gaps between metal surfaces, especially those selling for less than $2000.

Browning utilises an underpinned jointing system by which the barrels are attached to the receiver. This concerned me a little, until I recently found a similar Citori GTS quite comfortable to shoot. While shooting lower profiled, bifurcated jointed guns for almost 20 years, I always found the higher profile from underpinned guns a little ungainly, as they have a higher centre of gravity and never seemed to point as well. Since returning to a Browning Citori for my own personal gun, I have noticed little difference in handling characteristics and can shoot just as well with my Browning

The Citori Sporter comes with three Invector Plus choke tubes and a choke wrench. John McDougall recommends the purchase of a Browning T-bar wrench or Briley 'speed wrench', as he found the supplied wrench slow and cumbersome to effect fast changes.

Browning has long used two-piece ejectors on its shotguns. These operated with precision timing on the review gun.

SHOTGUN SPECIAL

now, as I did with my previous Italian guns. Anyway, the Citori Sporter came up beautifully, swung smoothly and had me looking straight down the barrels, so I could not ask for much more.

The top lever of the gun was well adjusted and comfortable to use. It operated the bottom trapezoid wedge, which slides across the floor of the receiver to lock the gun. Its adjustment slightly to the right, which allows for some wear over time, is standard. Also located on the top tang was the barrel selector-cum-safety catch. These were well designed and positive in operation. Browning seems to take as much pride in the quality assurance and adjustment of its entry-level guns as its more expensive models, which is comforting to know.

With the safety catch pushed forward, the gun was ready to fire. The barrel order of either 'U' for under barrel or 'O' for over barrel could not be selected until the gun's safety catch was returned to the 'safe' position. The firing mechanism was also based on an inertia cocking system, whereby once the firing mechanism is initially cocked by opening the barrels fully (breaking the action), the recoil from firing the first barrel selects the second barrel ready for firing. If you have a misfire in the first barrel, the second barrel cannot be discharged unless you manipulate the barrel selector very quickly. This is standard with all Browning Citori models and there are very few shotguns these days that offer mechanical trigger systems.

The triggerguard was generous and would accommodate shooters wearing thin leather shooting or golfing gloves. The triggerfoot was quite basic and non-adjustable, although it was comfortable to the feel. The trigger releases were well weighted and smooth in operation. I had no problems with 'freezing' on the trigger, which can sometimes happen when using unfamiliar guns. This indicated that the trigger adjustments for release were perfect!

This take-down view of the gun shows the lug beneath the barrel, which couples with the pin across the front of the receiver. Also shown is the rearward lump, which fits into the bottom of the receiver, and its rearward trapezoid 'bite' that locks and secures the action.

The stock and fore-end

The stock and fore-end were of standard Sporter design and configuration. The fore-end had a Schnabel tulip at the head and was well covered with chequering to afford a comfortable and firm grip. The chequering was quite precise at around 18 lines per inch and was obviously laser-cut by automated CNC machines. Inletting of the fore-end latch was just as precisely completed as other inletting about the gun. Design of the fore-end latch was typical of Browning, with the same mechanics as their more expensive Citori guns.

The stock on the Citori Sporter had a factory-fitted recoil pad, which I will reiterate, delighted me to no end! I hope we have seen the end of plastic buttplates and Browning can now focus on fitting recoil pads to its guns, especially its Sporting Clays guns. Correct gun mount is essential and I have found over the past 30 years as a gun writer that a rubber recoil pad is essential, particularly for overhead shots where the gun is held almost vertically. The recoil from the first barrel used to dismount the guns fitted with the older plastic buttplates, but thankfully, this is no longer a concern. I have also found that the expense of having a stockmaker or gunsmith fit an aftermarket pad is one that is easily absorbed by the manufacturer, rather than the individual shooter getting left with a $125-$200 bill after you have acquired the gun.

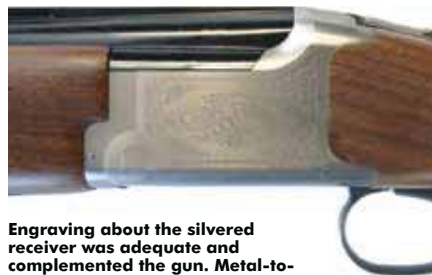

Design of the stock was excellent. The dimensions of length of pull, drop at heel and drop at comb are all included in the accompanying Specifications table. I was very impressed with the newly designed pistol grip, which was a far cry from the semi-pistol grip found on earlier models, while the palmswell (for a right-handed shooter) was another pleasant surprise. The revamped design of the pistol grip with

The rear of the barrel set, showing the split ejectors and highly polished receiver top. Browning has successfully used this rib design for years.

The top tang is of typical Browning design, with the safety catch-cum-barrel selector incorporated and located thereon.

BROWNING'S CITORI SPORTER

Engraving about the silvered receiver was adequate and complemented the gun. Metal-to-metal and wood-to-metal surfaces all met well.

A generous triggerguard was provided with the gun. Despite having a non-adjustable triggerfoot, the trigger felt comfortable and suitably adjusted. Trigger releases for each barrel were firm and positive.

palmswell is certainly a winner.

In the field

I took the Citori Sporter to my local gun club on Phillip Island for a couple of rounds of Sporting Clays and found it to be excellent. I fitted the half and three-quarter chokes (due to the differences in constriction of bore compared to chokes) and found that my scores continued to improve as I became more familiar with the gun, eventually shooting a 20/25 on my final round.

The balance of the gun was excellent. Its weight was more evenly distributed than my regular Browning GTS. This is a huge improvement, as my Browning GTS, more suited to game and target shooting, sold for around $3700 when originally released, compared to around $1900 for the Citori Sporter on test. I am almost tempted to sell one for the other, as I was so impressed with the new model!

The inclusion of interchangeable Invector Plus chokes is also a bonus and provides greater versatility. As mentioned earlier, the improved cylinder choke measured 0.001" of constriction, which equates to almost cylinder; the modified choke measured 0.009", which equates more to improved cylinder; and the improved modified choke measured 0.017", which equates to a light modified choke. By installing the modified and improved modified choke, I was actually shooting quarter and half choke, which suited the ground well and even distant targets were evenly broken using the Winchester 28g Sporting loads supplied for testing with the gun.

One of the most noticeable features of the Citori Sporter was the huge reduction in recoil, which I am attributing to the lengthened forcing cones. As well as the supplied Winchester 28g loads, I also used some Winchester 325 Trap 32g loads and some heavier reloads. The gun handled the recoil exceptionally well, with the recoil on the 28g loads barely perceivable and the heavier loads well tamed.

Summary

Overall, I found the new Browning Citori Sporter to be well made. Specifically prepared for the needs of the Sporting

The walnut stock wood looked great for an entry-model gun, while the matte polyurethane finish protects the woodwork. Chequering was faultlessly completed at around 18 lines per inch and the full pistol grip was a winner.

Clays shooter, it represented excellent value for money as an entry-level gun from Browning. There were three choke tubes supplied with the gun, along with a wrench, extensive instruction book and warranty card from Winchester all packed in an ABS case.

Whether it is a strengthening Australian dollar or better pricing from Browning, the Australian distributors, Winchester Australia, certainly appear to have a winner in the Citori Sporter. At around $1895 and with a 12-month warranty from Winchester Australia, the review gun is exceptionally well priced and I believe there is no better value in a such a quality shotgun. ●

The walnut fore-end was perfectly designed for Sporting Clays. It afforded a full and firm grip, supported by extensive chequering.

Canberra International Sporting Clays

January Sporting (like our Skeet) was shot in cold blustery conditions.

One shooter was heard to say that he thought Global Warming was hiding somewhere in Queensland. Despite the forecast of showers, 26 shooters attended, split evenly between Comp and Birds Only.

Our normal Coordinator Rodney Kneipp was away travelling shooting skeet in preparation for upcoming major skeet events and the range was set by a number of willing volunteers. Care was taken to simulate many of the typical game shots. Gustly winds and the occasional shower tested the shooters but some good scores were shot.

Congratulations go to Bill Warriner with a High Gun score of 92/100. Other winners were B Norm Simms 85, C Simion Ward 85, Ladies Marg Warriner.

Again our thanks to those stalwarts who turned up early to help set up the range and get us underway at the advertised starting time. (Plus those who stayed behind and picked up the range). Our new Shooter Sunday which has been running for twelve months is beginning to bear fruit with a number of new faces giving the discipline a go.

New Shooter Sunday slots are booked until April and we anticipate more new faces over the next 12 months.

MYTHS ABOUT HAPPINESS

In the last article, I explored the concept of happiness and basically reviewed the opening chapter of Russ Harris' The Happiness Trap: Stop Struggling, Start Living.

Happiness could be defined as either a sense of pleasure, gladness or gratification, or living a rich, full and meaningful life. Both of these definitions presuppose that we are enjoying our life at the moment: that it is the present or the "here and now" that is important. Over the years I have talked often about the past, present and the future as being important in improving performance: the same goes for everyday living and happiness. Briefly, if we focus on the past we make judgements about our previous performances and/or judgements about ourselves based on those performances. If we focus on the future, we develop anxieties and worries about what might happen. Both these judgements and worries get in the way of our staying focused on the present.

How do we set the Happiness Trap? Popular culture doesn't help. In fairy tales and movies: "... they lived happily ever after." Feel good endings, where love conquers all, good triumphs over evil and the hero wins reinforce a romantic notion of how life should be: all joy, fun, peace, contentment, and everlasting happiness. But is this everyone's experience of what life is really like?

What are the four myths that make up The Happiness Trap. According to Harris, they are:

Myth 1: Happiness is a natural state for all human beings.

If we believe this myth, we run the risk of thinking that everyone else is happy all the time. But look at the statistics: one in ten will attempt suicide, one in five will suffer from depression, and others will suffer from significant psychiatric disorders. But even if you don't have a psychiatric illness there are still misery causing problems such as loneliness, divorce, domestic violence, social isolation, bullying, prejudice, low self-esteem, anger, grief, lack of meaning or purpose in life, that still makes us feel unhappy. Life is full of peaks and troughs and most of us move up and down regularly: what makes us happy is that pleasurable experience that we are enjoying at the moment.

Myth 2: If you're not happy, you're defective.

This logically follows from Myth 1, that is, we in the west, believe that mental illness is abnormal. Your unhappiness is therefore seen as a weakness or illness. The label: being depressed, or anxious, doesn't really help because in describing the symptoms it presupposes that the symptoms are 'You', rather than just describing how you are behaving. As a therapist, I often have clients who come to therapy due to grief. When a love one dies, we can be confronted by feelings, thoughts and reactions that we have not experienced before: anger, depression, denial, etc. What clients find interesting is that what they are going through is normal. For them these thoughts and feeling are out of left field and that when they learn they are normal, you can see a great weight lift from their shoulders.

Myth 3: To create a better life, we must get rid of negative feelings.

Living in our feel good society we are constantly being told that to find happiness we must eliminate negative feelings and accumulate positive ones to put in their place. It makes sense because who wants to be unhappy and have negative thoughts. The irony is that what we long for often brings with it both pleasant and unpleasant feelings. When we embark on a meaningful project it often brings feelings of excitement and enthusiasm as well as other feelings of stress, fear and anxiety. So if you believe this myth you are in trouble because it is impossible to remove the unpleasant feelings within our life.

Myth 4: You should be able to control what you think and feel.

If only life was this easy. We believe that we have ability to control what we think, where in fact we have very little control over our thoughts. We do have control over the way we act and behave. Most self-help programs, according to Harris, subscribe to this myth. That is, we are told to identify negative or inappropriate thoughts and replace them with positive or appropriate ones. The argument here is that if we replace the negative and unhelpful with the positive and helpful, then we find happiness. If this were true, I would be out of a job. As a shooter, try to change your thinking from negative thoughts to positive ones: and you will still miss. This is because thinking is much more than either good or bad. It involves tense: past, present and future, as well as internalising the thoughts as beliefs: about our ability, about our self and about our worth. The other factor affecting our ability to remove negative thoughts is the level of stress: the more distressed we become the harder it is to get rid of the negative thoughts. If you are upset, angry, annoyed, scared, etc it will be even harder to get rid of these thoughts. Because this belief is widely believed, it is easy for us to feel inadequate if our attempts to control our thoughts and feelings fail.

These four myths together with thousands of years of evolution have established the framework for the happiness trap. According to Harris, these myths and evolution set us up for a struggle that we can never win: the struggle against our own human nature.

As humans we have an enormous advantage over the other animals because of our ability to plan, analyse problems, share knowledge, learn from past experiences and conceptualise the future. Normally we can control the things that happen to us in our external world: if we are confronted by danger, we avoid it or deal with it. In our internal world, those dealing with memories, thoughts, emotions, urges, etc, we are unable to control, remove or avoid those things that are unpleasant.

As an experiment, to show our inability to control thoughts, spend a minute thinking about a camel. Picture a camel in your mind, the size, smell, feel, the look of the camel. Now forget about the camel. For one minute don't think about a camel.

How did you do? It is hard to stop thinking about the camel.

Try one more experiment: stare at the shape below and see if you can stop thinking for 60 seconds. For one minutes, stop thinking about anything, do not let any thoughts whatsoever enter your mind, especially any thoughts about this shape.

Hopefully, your now getting the point that thoughts, feelings, physical sensations, and memories are hard to control. It is not that you have no control, it is just that you have a lot less than you thought.

Rather than try to control thoughts and feelings you should enjoy the experience. Focus on the here and now, what is happening to you at the present moment. It is the enjoyment of the experience, what is happening to you now that is the essence of being happy.

Mixed Shooting at Echuca

January the 8th was the first shoot for 2012 at the Echuca Clay Target Club, and the mixed events on offer for the day attracted five full squads. Considering the rain that was falling, and the gusty wind at times, that was a surprisingly good roll up for a shoot that normally is low on participants because of the time of year.

Brian Doyle

Craig Fitzgerald

Stephen Atkins

A 25 target Ball Trap Championship was first on the agenda, and even in the poor shooting conditions for this difficult discipline, three shooters managed to score a 24/25, Peter Sing, Craig Fitzgerald, both Echuca members, and Hay NSW member, Brian Doyle. Peter dropped his third shoot off target, Craig dropped his fourth, and when Brian shot his fourth he became the Overall Winner, and also claimed 1st in AA grade with his excellent 28/29 result.

Twenty five targets of Handicap shooting was the next event, and after Craig Fitzgerald and Glen Rathbone both shot all 25 it only needed three shoot off targets to produce an Overall First, and that was Craig who shot a clean 28/28 shooting off the maximum 25 metre mark, well shot Craig! Glen shooting off the 15 metre mark claimed 2nd place with his 27/28 result, and Andrew Calandro who shot off 18 metres and scored 24/25 claimed 3rd place, making the three places an all Echuca member result.

Event Three was a 25 target Double Barrel Championship, and although quite a few shot all 25, it finally came down to a battle between Stephen Atkins of Echuca, and Brian Doyle of Hay. When the 71st targets were thrown, Brian missed his, and Stephen shot his, making him the Overall Winner, collecting the Sash, and the trophy for 1st place in AA grade, the result of his 71/71 score. Excellent shooting in these poor weather conditions Steve!

The last Event was the popular, Echuca Club Mug, shooting off graded meterage marks, and after shooting the initial ten targets, the shooters having shot all ten would begin to move back a metre at a shot, finishing movement but continuing shooting at the 25 mark. Finally the last shooter still with a clean score collects the entire purse, which today was $120, and that shooter was Craig Fitzgerald, congratulations and good shooting Craig!

A very enjoyable shoot for all, with mostly every shooter missing the rain as the Ball Trap is shot from under a roof, and after that the rain had virtually stopped. The shoot finished at 4.30pm, allowing all that attended an early run home.

Full results are as follows.

Clay Targets Australia

OUR NEW TARGET IS ECO FRIENDLY, DEGRADABLE AND ACTUALLY WORKS AS A FERTILISER

As quoted by The University of Qld (UNIQUEST)

CTA Target is not a dangerous or hazardous good and will degrade over a period of time, also fertilising the ground for beneficial use in plants. Properties show that clay targets containing sulphur will not auto-ignite at ambient temperature, or even hot atmospheric conditions

George Sckaf 5.12.1956 – 17.1.2012

It is with deep sadness that we must bid farewell to George Sckaf, our friend, mentor and a true gentleman. George passed away peacefully on Tuesday evening 17th January 2012.

George joined the ACTA in May 1985 as a member of the Brisbane Gun Club and soon after joined the Gold Coast Clay Target Club where he quickly settled in as a valuable club member. We were honoured to appoint George as the Gold Coast club Patron, and he was a major sponsor who generously supported shoots at club, State and National level. He was renowned for his ample donations to club raffles and his resourcefulness at extracting contributions from all comers to support clubs and charities through his raffles. He particularly liked helping smaller clubs and often raised sizeable contributions on their behalf through his sponsorship and fundraising.

George was proud to be an Aussie while remaining deeply respectful of his heritage. In 1992 he married his beautiful wife Mirna and together raised their 3 children, Nicholas, Ashley and Sarah. George was an extremely devoted family man and counted his happy family life as his most gratifying achievement. A supremely proud father he always valued the time spent with his children. George and Mirna celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary just last week.

George's interest in shooting was not restricted just to the competition and he gained considerable satisfaction from helping others, particularly junior and novice shooters. There are many shooters involved in the sport today who are there solely because 'Poppa' George encouraged, supported and coached them, and as an individual would be easily recognised as one of the most significant contributors to the advancement of clay target shooting in Queensland. Most importantly George always gave from the heart and those who benefited from his advice were fortunate to experience this special brand of generosity.

The back of George's car was always a gathering point at club shoots, dispensing guns, ammo, advice and conviviality. There was nothing that George didn't know about firearms and it pleased him to be able to share his knowledge with others. As a competitor George could be unbeatable and has an impressive list of achievements to his name.

George won a number of Queensland State titles during his shooting career, including the State Handicap event in Brisbane, the State Double Rise championship in Toowoomba in 1995 and the coveted State Double Barrel title in Townsville in 2000 which he won with a score of 225/225. George was also a member of the Queensland Open Trap team in 2000, and the Mackintosh team in 2001.

In a change of discipline and to prove to himself that he could do it, George not only earned a place in the Queensland Open Skeet team in 2008, but qualified as team captain with a top score of 199/200 – shooting the carnival gun down! He rounded out the competition by taking the title of Queensland Skeet Champion 2008.

To those who knew him George was larger than life. A warm-hearted, sensitive and loyal friend, his generosity was second to none. George could not abide meanness or intolerance in others and in his compassionate way felt that people should simply be kinder to each other – a lesson we could all learn from George. An honest, genuinely caring man we will miss George's unique wisdom, his sense of humour, his companionship and his huge capacity for understanding. His loss will be profoundly felt throughout the shooting community.

Along with Mirna and their children, George leaves his brother Nadim and his wife Gretta and family, and his loving mother Nellie. A successful businessman, George also gave selflessly to his church and his community. A big man with an even bigger heart, George leaves big shoes to fill in the shooting world. It will be hard to imagine our lives without him.

*There is no death.
The stars go down
To rise upon some other shore,
And bright in heaven's jewelled crown
They shine forever more.* J.L. McCreery

George, our dear friend, forever in our hearts.

Debbie Young, Colin & Gael Witt and John Mack

The committee and members of both the Gold Coast Clay Target Club and the Brisbane Gun Club sincerely wish to thank those who sent condolences and messages of sympathy on the sad passing of our Patron and dear friend George Sckaf.

Our clubs and George's family were inundated with calls, posts, emails and tributes from shooters and clubs across Australia – a testament to the many lives George has touched.

Your kind thoughts were very much appreciated.

We will always be grateful for George's enormous contribution to our sport.

Tommy Alaimo – 1931-2011

The Mornington Clay Target Club is sad to announce the unexpected passing of life member Tommy Alaimo at age 80

A keen duck shooter in his younger years, Tommy changed direction and took up clay target shooting in Frankston in 1953. Unfortunately for Tommy, this new hobby soon gave way to make time for opening the fruit shop in Mornington with brother Manny in 1958.

With a few more decades under his belt, a successful business now grown and his young family established, Tommy returned to clay target shooting though this time with the Mornington Clay Target Club in 1982. From hereon until his passing, Tommy was a regular fixture at the club and could be seen every second Saturday making his way up to the traps to donate more lead to the paddock out the back. Never a championship shooter, a few of the Cerberus blokes thought they'd have a bit of friendly fun with Tommy one year by presenting him with a bespoke '30 Break Badge' after a particularly successful shoot you can bet it took weeks to wipe the smile from his face. Tommy loved his club and never hesitated in donating his precious time and money to get the fledgling up and running. If you look carefully you can still see the Alaimo brothers' names affixed to the lanes to the left of the clubhouse in recognition of their sponsoring of that construction.

It's always sad for a small club like ours to lose an elder member, especially one like Tommy. Our sincere condolences are passed to his wife Marie, his children and grandchildren, and especially to his brother and companion life member Manny who is still a regular at the club but who has sadly lost the pleasure of his brother's company to complete their beloved monthly ritual.

Rest in peace mate.

IT'S YOUR CALL by Bill McCarthy

You are the appointed Referee for a 30 target event which is to be shot over three traps. Eg. 10 targets on trap 1, 10 targets on trap 2 and 10 targets on trap 3.

This is the second event of the day for each shooter, so no eye opener is involved.

No 3 shooter prepares for his first shot and has an apparent malfunction. You examine his gun and determine that the safety catch was on. You quite correctly rule "No Target" under Rule 1.06(viii).

You complete that set of 10 targets and move to the next two traps in turn to complete the full 30 targets. However, No 3 shooter has repeated his indiscretion in that at each of the two traps he subsequently visited, you find that his safety catch had been applied for the first of his shots at each of the next two traps.

What do you rule in each case?

It's Your Call

If you ruled "No target" on each occasion you would be quite correct.

Rule 1.06(viii) says that "No target shall be allowed for the first target of any visit to a trap if a safety catch is engaged. While many may argue that the intent of this rule is to apply to only the start of the event, the rule is quite clear as it is printed.

The Squire reports from West Wyalong

If anyone was just thinking of going to the West Wyalong Clay Target Club's Boxing Day Hangover Trench shoot the downpour, thunder and lightning at about 7:00am made up their minds for them so the attendance was down.

Clive Foster and Wayne Ambrose went out early and pumped water out of the trench layout so that by starting time everything was in readiness for the shooters who had arrived.

Trench shooting is a tough discipline but it has a devoted band of followers so there were shooters from Parkes, Forbes and Narromine who journeyed to West Wyalong.

Light conditions were variable and when for a short period there was bright sunshine with a dark cloud in the background scores improved markedly.

Everyone was in a relaxed mood and overall it was a very casual day and only a few of the shooters winced when the first shots were fired indicating that not everyone present had a hangover.

Overall winner on the day was Don Turner 83/100, Greg Buckley 79/100 won B Grade and James Turner was the C Grade winner 75/100.

Narelle Ambrose supplied a lovely Christmas cake for a leisurely afternoon tea which was enjoyed by all.

As the cash was being handed out Don Turner collected for both himself and James, but James soon ambushed Don with his hand out.

Two Day Skeet Carnival at Cecil Park

On the weekend of the 12th & 13th of November, Cecil Park Clay Target Club held it's annual 2 day Skeet Carnival. On both mornings we were greeted with slightly cool conditions and overcast skies but were lucky enough not have been rained on.

Some shooters that attended travelled some long distances, including places like Queensland with one in particular (Pat Dury) coming down all the way from Townsville, a couple of shooters from Victoria, and from varied places around NSW.

With the help of my good friends, Michael, Jessie, Wayne and Tony we had the targets on four layouts flying as near to perfect as possible and thanks to the incredible work done on the traps by Peter Vella the targets stayed that way (except for a couple of minor adjustments) for the two days.

When all the nominations were in we had eleven squads of shooters for the Saturday and that was followed on the Sunday with ten squads. Now, to get 'em going, I have experienced over a long period that a lot shooters are reluctant to volunteer to get the first waive under way by means of refereeing and or scoring. Well, people, if you don't help out, shoots would never start and don't forget that you don't have to do it again when next your turn comes round.

At around 15 minutes after the advertised starting time we finally got under way with the first event which was the Michael and Marina sponsored 50tgt Skeet Championship, the results are as follows: O/A winner John Guberina 89/89, AA 1st Peter Vella 88/89, AA 2nd Mark Fanning 57/58, A grade 1st our very own President Vince Gatt with a perfect 50/50, A 2nd Pat Dury 92/93, B grade 1st (just to get back some of his sponsorship money) Michael "nugget" Maloney 60/61, B 2nd Dennis Savage 59/61, C grade 1st Robert Wade 47/50, C 2nd Elton Chetcuti 46/50.

The second event, which has proved to be very popular was the 50tgt Skeet Handicap, this event was generously sponsored by Anthony Anneckchini. After qualifications were completed there were six squads to shoot off for the 1st to 5th prize money on offer. The results after lots of rounds of shooting, were 1st Elton Chetcuti 116/125, 2nd Tony Hickman 121/125, 3rd Peter Papps 90/100, 4th Frank Cooper 99/100, 5th junior shooter Jack Kerfoot 90/100.

Sunday morning and we were under way ahead of time (yeeaaahh) with the 3rd event which is the Ross Dawson Memorial 50tgt Skeet Championship. For those of us that remember Ross, (Dawso, to some of us) we have some great memories of one hell of a stirring, cheeky, buggar of a guy that you just could not help to love (we miss ya mate) Results were: there was a shoot off for O/A between Stephen Bell and Mark Fanning and I happened to be the referee for the shoot off and there was some doubt in my mind at station 4 low when Mark was shooting, with that in mind I offered to reinstate the target but Mark being the gentleman that he is was adamant that he missed the target and refused to have the target again, and so it goes. O/A Stephen Bell 109/112, AA 1st Mark Fanning 108/112, AA 2nd Peter Vella 61/62, A grade 1st Tony Hickman 74/74, A 2nd Ian Stewart 49/50, B grade 1st Michael Maloney 58/59, B 2nd Jack Cunningham 49/50, C grade 1st Robert Wade 55/58, C 2nd Joshua Cunningham 51/55.

The fourth and final event was the Seb Cavallaro Memorial 50tgt Championship. Seb was another of the very, very popular characters of skeet shooting and on his day could foot it with the best. We were fortunate to have four members of the Cavallaro family present, including Carina, Seb's wife (who's a pretty handy shooter in her own right) Seb's son and two granddaughters. We thank them all for giving up their time to make the presentations. Results were: O/A

Peter Vella 105/106, AA 1st Shane Bennett 88/89, AA 2nd Michael Buttigieg 61/62, A grade 1st Ian Stewart 104/105, A 2nd Ronald Satara 77/79, B grade 1st Reg Clarke 48/50, B 2nd Dennis Savage 47/50, C grade 1st Robert (becoming a habit) Wade 48/50, C 2nd Joe Haddad 47/50.

The graded High Gun and section winners were: Junior High Gun Joshua Bell 192/200, Ladies High Gun Lorraine Hughes 194/200, C grade High Gun Robert Wade 186/200, B grade High Gun Tony Hickman 193/200, A grade High Gun Neil Dimick 195/200, AA High Gun Shane Bennett 198/200, O/All High Gun Peter Vella 199/200.

Thanks to our three juniors who, under the watchful eye of Steve Bell, did a great job of keeping the traps full. Thank you Vivian in the canteen your food was sensational, the ladies in the office Maria and in particular Shelly, who had to battle computer glitches and came out a winner great job ladies. To my mates who are always willing to give me a hand, (you know who you are) thank you so much guys. To the sponsors, where would we be without you, on behalf of all the shooters, thank you so very very much. And last of all but certainly not in the least to our Club President, Vince Gatt thanks mate for all that you do for us not only in skeet but clay target shooting generally. We at Cecil Park believe that the Skeet Carnival was a great shoot and will endeavour to maintain our high standard.

*Hope to see you and your friends next time round,

FINED FOR SUNDAY GUN CLUB SHOOT

At Portarlington Court yesterday, 10 men were each fined £2 for carrying and firing firearms at the Nagoondy Park Gun Club, near Portarlington, on Sunday, May 17.

Only two of the men were from the Geelong area – Henry William Robert Jorgensen, 53 years, of Portarlington, and John Ford, 58 years, of Marshall, via Geelong.

The others were from Melbourne suburbs and Echuca.

Police evidence was given that following a complaint by the Chief Secretary's Department, officers visited the Gun Club, where a clay pigeon shoot was being held.

The charges were a result of their investigations.

Jorgensen told the court he considered he had not committed an offence as one could shoot at gun clubs close to Melbourne on any Sunday without police interference.

Champion Marksman Downs Mad Bull With One Shot

Champion shot and well-known game hunter, Mr R. Jorgensen, claimed another bull's-eye at 5 a.m. yesterday morning – he killed a mad bull with a single shot at 50 yards at Clifton Springs.

The bull, which had been running wild around the Portarlington-Drysdale-Clifton Springs district for seven days, knocking down fences and chasing people, had over 20 bullets in its skull and hide.

Last Sunday the bull chased a man up a tree and the man fired several .22 bullets at it, but the bullets only went a quarter of an inch into the animal's thick skull.

Aggravated

Mr Jorgensen thinks that those bullets, and others found in his hide, aggravated the animal even more.

At about 4.30 a.m. yesterday morning a local farmer and another man called on Mr Jorgensen's Portarlington home and asked him to assist them in tracking and killing the wild bull.

Hunters Out

Touring the district in a truck, the hunters found the animal about a quarter of a mile from the Clifton Springs Hotel.

Before Mr Jorgensen could get a bead on the animal with his specially imported 12-bore shot-gun – which fires slugs, capable of killing an elephant – the wild beast knocked down two fences.

50 Yards

Then from 50 yards Mr Jorgensen shot the bull through the eye, killing it instantly.

Mr Jorgensen said afterwards: "The bull had about 20 .22 and .44 bullets in its skull and several more in its hide.

Winch Used

"I doubt whether those bullets really hurt him, but they certainly must have aggravated the animal.

"After I had shot it, we used a winch to put the body into the back of the truck.

"It was a massive animal, and it did a lot of damage around the district – it could have even killed someone."

VALUABLE GUN AND DANGEROUS CARTRIDGES STOLEN

A well-planned theft has robbed one of Australia's leading shooters of his prize-winning shotgun and hundreds of valuable and unique cartridges . . . and he has appealed to the thieves to return his invaluable shotgun.

The champion shot, Mr R. Jorgensen of Portarlington, said that he was not so much concerned about the cartridges – although some of them were museum pieces – but the shotgun valued at about £150, could not be replaced.

The shooting equipment was stolen from his house and store-room at Portarlington between May 3 and 6, but the theft was not discovered until 48 hours ago when Mr Jorgensen returned from a rabbit-trapping trip.

Detective John Barrow, who is in charge of the investigations, said that the thieves got away with more than 3000 cartridges and the shotgun.

"They stole only the cartridges and gun, leaving behind valuable trophies and other articles which were in the house," he said.

Knew What They Wanted

Detective Barrow said that the theft looked like a well-planned job, the thieves knowing exactly what they wanted.

The property was valued in all at about £300.

Mr Jorgensen said that his gun, a Browning repeater, was altered to his own specifications and that it had won him hundreds of prizes.

"There is not another gun like it in the world", he said.

Dangerous

Some of the cartridges which were stolen, were rare and highly dangerous, including big game cartridges and Boer War relics which were first used for experiments.

"Some are collectors' items", Detective Barrow added.

All gun dealers, pawn shops and gun clubs have been warned to be on the lookout for the stolen property and any information regarding the equipment should be forwarded to Detective Barrow, Geelong C.I.B.

THE GUN

The Portarlington Gun Club held its club single barrel and Bellarine double barrel sparrow championship on Saturday.

First event: 10-bird P/S won by A. Halls (Broken Hill) 30-30 points.

Also a huge thank you to Vivien and all her little helpers including my wife, Mary, in the canteen, in the office thank you to Frank Auditore, Maria, Mary Rapley & Gracie Bartolo. To all the Junior Development program kids for keeping the traps full over the 2 days. To all the people that helped with refereeing and scoring & also a HUGE thank you to all the people that refereed & scored the first waive. To our co-shoot marshal Arty Del-Ben, again thanks mate for giving your time to help with running the shoot. To everyone that helped in any way at this shoot, thank you.

DTL AT CECIL PARK

On the 7 January 2012, with 26 shooters in attendance the DTL Monthly Competition for January 2012 was held. The weather was fine with a light breeze.

Many club shooters travel away at this holiday time of the year, and that was reflected in the numbers that turned up at the Monthly DTL.

competition. Even so, 5 squads enjoyed a brilliant day for DTL with 100 targets being offered comprising of 50 D/B and 50 D/B Cont.

Joe Camilleri took out O/A with a fine 99/100 and a lot of shooters were not far behind him. Full results appear elsewhere.

I have to thank Vince Gatt (CPCTC President) for all his efforts in promoting the resurgence of monthly DTL competition, keeping the noms at $40 and guaranteeing the prize money. Thanks to the volunteers and the office/canteen staff for making these days such a great success.

Also congratulations to all the winners and placegetters.

100 Target Double Barrel at Wonthaggi

A hot summer's day greeted Wonthaggi on the 1st day of 2012. Thirty-nine competitors were in for a treat with fine weather & new targets to start the year.

The 100T DB championship was the event which saw 16 shooters score 97/100 or better. Thirty-five red stars (25t possible) dotted the scoreboard proving conditions were in the shooter's favour.

Three competitors managed to score 100/100. Wayne Hawker, Charlie Gales & Wayne Parks all took a share of the $495.00 jackpot, then were ready to do battle for Overall. Surrounded by "Waynes", Charlie succumbed to the pressure leaving the 2 W's to fight on. After 50 Tgt DB in the shoot off it was decided to shoot Points Score to obtain a result. Four targets in, Wayne Hawker pulled a 2nd barrel to shoot 154/154, but finished runner up to Wayne Parks 154/154. Fine shooting by all 3. A grade was won with 99/100 with none other than veteran Tony Rowe taking the honours. Tony's grandson Uriah Moloney, missed his last target in A grade to finish 98/100, with 2 others, Mathew Tout & Michael Pook. Pooky was successful in the shoot off finishing with 106/108. B grade visitors Keith Lewry & Anatoly Volkoff shot 97/100 to set the scene for a keen contest seeing Keith victorious on 116/119.

Wonthaggi's Mike Hopkins shot an incredible 96/100 to blitz C grade ahead of newcomer, Paula Elstrek on 88/100, which proves "practice makes perfect" welcome to B grade Mike.

A great day was had by all finishing off with a feed of prawns.

CANBERRA INTERNATIONAL CTC JANUARY SKEET

What a start to 2012. Normally we would be shooting in thirty degrees plus with a liberal layer of suntan cream. Not this shoot. The weather was cool with a chilly wind that sent people searching for tops plus making the targets unpredictable.

However, this did not worry recent member to the club David O'Sullivan who High Gunned the 100 target event with a nicely shot 100/100.

Our congratulations go to David and the other winners: AA Rodney Kneipp 95/100, B Ian Latter 96/100, 2nd B George Bailey 94/100, C Andrew Burley 83/100, 2nd C Norm Simms.

In addition to our 18 skeet Shooters, five shooters took the opportunity to sharpen their skills at Trench for a major upcoming tournament. Our thanks go to Coordinator John Pethybridge and Mat Dwyer with providing us with a trouble free, pleasant days shooting and Terry Forrest who attended particularly to staff the Canteen.

Good Shooting for 2012.

Hot conditions suit Terry Walls at Wangaratta

A hot days shooting at the Wangaratta Clay Target Club still encouraged 45 keen Down the Line shooters to attend the January DTL Championship event. The club ran two 50 target events, which seem popular with shooters and considering the uncomfortable weather conditions, some excellent results were achieved.

The 10 tgt eye opener resulted in 7 possibles shot. The next event a 50 tgt Single Barrel Championship was taken out by AA grader, Terry Walls with a perfect tally of 50/50 and 2nd place by David Luelf on 49/50. John Gemmill won A grade with 49/50 and 2nd by Ben Antonello with a score of 47/50. Local enthusiast, Neville Bussell won B grade by shooting 47/50, ahead of Jim Kelly on 42/50. It was great to see lady shooter Jo-Anne Ford win C grade on 36/50, with 2nd place won by Ian Fraser on 29/50.

The next event was a 50 tgt Double Barrel Championship which saw Terry Walls win again with the very impressive result of 201/201 very well done! Neil Cracknell kept up the pressure throughout the shoot off, taking out 2nd with another brilliant score of 200/201. Considering the oppressive heat of the day, these results were truly remarkable. A lot of sweat would have been expended shooting under these conditions and concentration levels tested. Roy Ellis shot 60/61 winning A grade, ahead of Kevin Kirley on 59/61. Top lady shot, Shawnti Coolahan shot a perfect 50/50 to win B grade, ahead of Neville Bussell on 48/50. Another expert lady shooter, Inge Esplin won C grade on 45/50, just ahead of Jo-Anne Ford with 44/50.

High Guns were presented to Terry Walls as overall winner on 109/110, Ladies to Emma Cox on 103/110, Juniors to Mitchell Iles-Crevatin 104/110 and Veterans to David Luelf with 107/110. Daryl Hunt was also presented with a plaque for achieving the 2011 Champion of Champions DTL High Gun award.
